TIMES

MONDAY JUNE 18 1984

question was put after the last

do the opponents of British membership outnumber its supporters, by 59 per cent to 41

On the related question of whether Britain has benefited from membership, opinion is much more finely balanced.

think Britain has benefited and 73 per cent think not.

Although Northern Ireland

voters registered a 65 per cent turnout, the level in Great Britain was only 30 per cent,

even lower than the 32 per cent

Exhortations to vote were heard from politicians in all parties, but their words were hardly matched by actions. ITN asked voters if they had been called on by representatives of the parties and found that 9 per cent had received calls from a Conservative worker, 9 per cent achieved in 1979.

Only among Labour voters

European elections in 1979.

Inside

June 19, 1956: Operation Mosaic, the culmination of the British drive for the H-bomb, reaches its last test in the Monte Bello Islands off the coast of north west Australia. Atomic tests were no longer big news, But this one went wrong, and only now has The Times been able to break through a 28-year coverup. The frightening story of blast G2 begins in Spectrum today, page 10.

The state of the s

1 omorrow

Fall-out After the explosion: the secret health tests and the hidden fears

Euro round-up The European election: full British results, plus all other national results so far declared

Wimbledon seedings Rex Bellamy reports on the results of the deliberations of the Wimbledon seedings committee

Uproar at Jewish

terror trial

The biggest trial involving alleged Jewish terrorists in Israel's history opened in uproar as defendants' relatives

ation Organization. The accused, who cannot be named, face a range of charges medicing

L'XIIE AFFESTEG

Legal adverts

Whether solicitors should be allowed to advertise their services and the prices charged goes before a council meeting of the Law Society this week.

There has been strong support for the move

out the legal work

investigation

Rate accusation

Rate rises in England and Wales

could have been avoided if the Government had not cut grants to councils by more than soured relations two weeks before Sir Geoffrey Howe's visit

Leader page,13 Letters: On defence cuts, from

Dr David Owen, MP; on language teaching, from Prof D. M. W. Thody and Mr D. Royce

Leading articles: Defence;

Features, pages 10-12 Bernard Levin on the Morning

Star wars; Clare Dyer asks: Who foots the bill for whooping cough vaccination victims? Spectrum uncovers the Monte Bello disaster, Monday Page looks at the Royal and not-so-

Letters Parliament
Prem Bands
Religion Science
Sport
TV & Radio Weather

cricket; postal ballots Obituary, page 14 Prof E. Hacussermann

Classified, pages 21-23

Page 7

Moscow chill

European Parliament elections

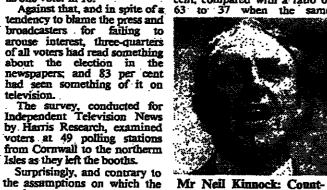

Parties blamed for British voters' low turnout

The low turnout by British their campaigns, the great oters in last week's elections to majority (70 per cent) of those the European Parliament, which who voted said that they would voters in last week's elections to the European Parliament, which brought Labour great gains in like to know more than they do seats at the Conservatives' about the European Parliament expense, appears to be largely and its activities.

the fault of the political parties and of the weakness, or latent interest which deliberate slackness, of their if they cared, This suggests that there is a latent interest which the parties, if they cared, might have campaign planning and organi-

Among voters of all parties those who said that, generally A detailed survey of more than 3,000 supporters of all speaking, they favoured British parties, in every part of England, Scotland and Wales, who troubled to go to the polls membership of the European Economic Community outnumbered by two to one those who on Thursday shows that not one took the opposite view.

The responses to that question were 66 per cent to 34 per cent, compared with a ratio of 63 to 37 when the same equivalent figures were 32 per cent, 30 per cent and 22 per cent, is proof that all three parties could have done better if they had been so minded.

Motivation of voters was analysed in detail by the pollsters, who found that among Labour supporters twice as many said they turned out to demonstrate loyalty to their party than because of approval Fifty two per cent say that there has been benefit, 48 per cent say not. Again, Labour voters disagree with others: 27 per cent of its policies for Europe. Among Conservative and Alliance voters positive approval of their parties' Euro-pean policies came first.

On the other hand, 14 per cent of voters - in the case of Alliance voters, 20 per cent admitted they were casting protest votes of one sort or another.

The survey found evidence that the European spirit, which the Community's founding fathers hoped to conjure, is far from fully grown among British electors, whatever their party.

They were asked if the MEPs they were electing should be more concerned with protecting from Labour and only 6 per cent from someone on behalf of the Liberal and Social Demo-Britain's interests or with working for the future or Ецгоре,

Comparison with the general Two out of three respondents

Sun fails to woo Europeans to poll

Voters in six European Community countries went to the polls yesterday in the second leg of elections to the European Parliament, but viewed largely as popularity tests for national party made direct contact, except by leaflet, with as many as one voter in 10.

Isles as they left the booths.

television.

First calculations put turnout generally lower than in the last elections in 1979, when an average 62 per cent of the Community took part in the first direct elections to Stras-staged a walkout over the presence of an Arab legal observer who, they said, rep-resented the Palestine Liberburg. Parliamentary officials expected centre-right parties to continue to hold a majority of sents in the new 434-member parliament, in spite of possible overall gains by the Left.

It was a slow start in West cent turnout predicted and In a speciacular security operexpected to favour the ruling ation involving much of its Christian Democrats. navy, Uruguay's military

The Bonn Government's Government arrested the popular opposition Rader, Schor Wilson Ferreira Aldimate, when main fear was that its small malition partner, the Free Democrats now in considerable Jisarray, would fail to win five he returned after 11 years in Page 7 per cent of the vote and not qualify for any seats.

In Italy attention was focussed on the Communists. The death of party leader Signor Enrico Berlinguer in mid-campaign and the emotions aroused by his massive funeral could see the Communists emerge as the country's largest party.

An estimated four out of 10 French voters stayed away from the polls, about the same as last time. This low turnout was expected to harm the ruling Socialists and Communists most, both of whom were returning some 600 people.

Voting day for (left to right): President Pertini (Italy); President Karamanlis (Greece) and former Chancellor Willy Brandt (West Germany).

already expected to fare badly in mostly voters, from Patras to the poll. Athens, were derailed near About six million Greeks Corinth. On the Aegean island of Chiios, voters dashed out of voted in hot summery weather to pass judgment on 32 months polling stations in fright during of controversial Socialist rule in a strong undersea earthquake. Greece. That they elected 24 representatives to Strasbourg in

In Belgium turnout was down, although voting is comthe process seemed only incipulsory. The sunshine which covered most of Europe bred Voting was not without risks. "nonchalance", one commen-Six passengers were killed and tator said.

Luxembourg, with only six seats at stake, the Euro-election coincided with national elections which were expected to return the ruling centre-right coalition to power.

In the Netherlands, which like Britain voted last Thursday, the ruling Christian Demoof their current 10 seats in Strasbourg out of a Dutch total

Their coalition partners, the conservative Liberals, were expected to gain one seat

Counting in Denmark and Ireland, which went to the poils last Thursday, does not begin date poser for Turner

From Trevor Fishlock

to stop the blast furnaces and coke ovens from collapsing but The steel workers' union has told members to make local agreements with the NUM on the supply of coal and where these break down to work normally, using such consignments as the British Steel

He met Mr Pierre Trudeau. the Prime Minister, yesterday to discuss the transfer of power. Mr Trudeau is expected to submit his resignation before the end of the month.

Mr Turner and his cabinet will be sworn in on the same

A general election has to be held within nine months. There is a strong feeling here that Mr Turner will want to take advantage of being the new man at the top and go for an early poll. The earliest date possible is at the end of August.

Mr Turner, who is 55, hinted at a summer election shortly after his weekend triumph in the leadership convention here, which ended nine years of political exile.

After a campaign of more than three months, and three days of convention ballyhoo, he won on the second ballot among more than 3,400 delegates, defeating Mr Jean Chrétien, his main rival, by 1,862 votes to

Thatcher thinks she is a president – Pym once more By Anthony Bevins, Political Correspondent

The Prime Minister has Mrs Thatcher's leadership of Mr Francis Pym, the former Foreign Secretary, says in a "dogmatism", "in book to be published next week. and "insensitivity". Extract from his book, The Politics of Consent, published in cies, tone and style, and predict that the political fashion will Grace under pressure: John McEnroe upholds the infallibility of genius yesterday.

McEnroe

let off

By Rex Bellamy

Tennis Correspondent

John McEnroe beat Leif

Shiras in the singles final of the Stella Artois tournament at Queen's Club in London yesterday, but in the process

again made nonsense of the rules that are supposed to govern court conduct. He called the umpire a moron, addressed an obscenity to Shiras, and abused the referee and the

The referee, Jim Moore, and McEnroe had been permitted to summon them on a point of fact (the prerogative of the umpire and line judges) rather than an interpretation of the rules of the game.

Moore said later: "I've been a player myself. Everything they say out there is said in the heat of the moment Jimmy Connors on Friday and McEnroe yesterday reminded us that too many tournament officials are either mable or unwillingly to apply

the rules concerning court

• Football supporters have deservedly won for themselves an agly reputation and a small group travelling with the England team on the tour of South America have added to it

(Stuart Jones writes from Santiago). Of the 27 followers.

10 of them, men rather than youths, have made no secret of their affiliation. Apart from wearing hats emblazoned with huge Union Jacks bearing the initials of National Front, which they unfur at every

Their presence was scarcely noticeable in Rio de Janeiro and in Montevideo once the Football Association had insisted that they should not be allowed to stay in the team's hotel. Before and during the flight to Santiago, however, they openly and fiercely abused

England's two black wingers.

Since the cost of the trip is some £1,500 and the appearance of the 10 would not lead anyone to believe they are affluent, the inference is that they may have been financed by the National Front. Although some of them are unemployed, they claim the money came out

Despite their defeat in the

Le Mans 24-hour race, which ended yesterday, the Jaguar team have indicated their intention to return to the race opposition to Jewish settle-ments in the West Bank, so of their own pockets.

Barnes and Chamberlain.

opportunity.

tournament supervisor.

the supervisor, Kurt Nielson, should not have been on court. ıducine balance of the centre". Mr Pym says: "I belive in a test moments and has ensured its survival as a broad party of government rather than as a narrow and dogmatic faction. In time, the discarded and put it back at the centre of our affairs, where it belongs."

The implicit warning appears that sank the Titanic. riding for an inevitable fall.

turned herself into a president party and government are attmpting to dictate the policy described in turn with words of each Whitehall department, such as "narrow-mindedness". "intolerance", "absorum", "inflexibility" Her policies have resulted in "relative economic failure" and The Sunday Times yesterday, her tone has often sounded contained strong criticism of "unattractive and unsympa-Mrs Margaret Thatcher's poli-thetic". Mr Pym also accuses the Prime Minister of trying to do turn away from the present everything herself. He says: the major departments herself

Detailed dictation particular approach to politics proved impossible and Mrs which has charaterized the Thatcher has therfore been Conservative Party at its grea-forced to construct a govern-Thatcher has therfore been ment within the Government. with her own shadow advisers Mr Pym says: "I object to a system that deliberately pits

Downing Street against individnotion that other people might ual departments, breeds resenthave a valid point of view will ment among ministers and civil reemerge. Meantime, my con-cern is that the flag of Minister into a president". traditional Conservatism is kept He also says: "There is some flying ... so that one day a unease within the Conservative standard-bearer can pick it up Party at the moment. Most of it may lie beneath the surface but the same is true of the iceberg to be that Mrs Thatcher is The Politics of Consent. (Harnish riding for an inevitable fall. Hamilton, June 26. £8.95).

11 hurt as lightning hits parks

Eleven people were hurt Warnock moves when lightning struck during storms which drenched the Health ministers are to come South-east yesterday. Hundreds under intense pressure for rapid of homes were flooded and motorists had to abandon their legislation on some of the key recommendations of the Warnock Committee on articars as the sunshine suddenly ficial reproduction. The report gave way to rain.

Two children were badly hurt is due at the end of the month when lightning struck the tree they were using for shelter at Wick recreation ground, St Albans, Hertfordshire. Seven £50 conveyance other people under the tree were also taken to hospital. Another A company which pioneered the computer listing of proper-ties has launched a conveyanctwo people were taken to Kingston Hospital, Surrey, after ing package for £50 plus value-added tax. Solicitors will carry being struck by lightning in Richmond Park.

North and west London were the worst affected by the storms. The rain made driving hazardous and motorists, in Harrow, Pinner and Northwood, north London, abandoned their cars as up to 3ft of water threatened to engulf £200m, according to an Associ-ation of County Councils Princess Anne was among those who got a soaking. She was drenched while riding her horse Goodwill in a display in Windsor Great Park. The The cancellation by the Russians of a weekend television Queen, watching from the royal box, immediately reached for her camera to record the broadcast by the British Ambassador in Moscow has

The London Weather Centre said most parts of the country would have a dry day today, but one more thunderstorm was ofdizzoa Windsor photographs, Weather plants t forecast, back page cut off.

Steel union to defy Scargill ultimatum

By Paul Routledge, Labour Editor The miners say that just enough coal should be allowed Leaders of the main steel not enough to make steel.

Corporation can obtain.

is broken by lorries.

With both unions standing firm, a sharp battle looks certain. Miners' leaders have also threatened to cut off iron

To do that, they would need further help from the train drivers union Aslef. But further sympathetic action by them could bring them into legal conflict with British Steel.

receive a letter from Mr Ian

McGregor at the end of this week which will try to encou-rage the slow drift back to work

by pointing out the industry's bright future (Barrie Clement

But it is thought that the lefter will not resort to "crude"

The idea of a coal board ballot, favoured by the chair-man, has been shelved after advice that it would be counter-

financial inducements

● All Britain's miners

union, the Iron and Steel Trades Confederation, intend to defy an ultimatum from Mr Arthur Scargill that they should cut down coal supplies to the steel The National Union of Mineworkers has given the steelmen until midnight tonight to seek a national agreement with the miners' national coordinating committee or face a complete blockade of coal and

The ISTC executive meets in Scarborough today for the opening of the steel workers' annual conference, and may be ore supplies if the coal embargo called into special session to discuss the growing threat to the five integrated steel works.

But such a meeting will not take place before Mr Scargil's ultimatum runs out and ISTC leaders were last night bitterly complaining about being placed in such a situation by another union belonging to the "triple alliance" of coal, steel and rail unions. wouldn't accept a deadline like that from the employers so why should we take it from the NUM", one leading official said.

The mineworkers' national executive agreed on Thursday that unless there was a national agreement on how much coal and coke could go into the steel plants then all supplies could be

Canada poll

Ottawa

Mr John Turner, the new leader of Canada's ruling Liberal Party, will this week be deciding the date for the general election, forming his cabinet and preparing to move into 24 Sussex Drive, Ottawa, Canada's "Number 10".

Exile's comeback, page 5

Silver gilt coffee pot with ivory handle. by George Wickes. Date: George II 1743

from the outstanding Garrard Collection of fine antique silver, jewellery and clocks.

Visit Garrard on Stand 44 at The Grosvenor House Antiques fair.

112 REGENT STREET LONDON WILA 201

Husain ready to send troops to defend Gulf states they are threatened", he said.

From Robert Fisk Amman

King Hussain will send Joranian troops to help to defend the Arab Gulf states from Iranian attack if they ask.

him to do so. In an interview on Channel 4's Face the Press programme televised from Amman last night, the King confirmed that he had discussed sending ground forces to the Gulf area during his recent visit to Bahrain and Kuwait.

t 14 ds 26 14 17-20 do 25 "We discussed the situation and the dangers and we are committed to help our brothers at any time, where ever their freedom is in jeopardy or where

Jordan had sent troops to the Gulf states in the past "and it will happen again if they are threatened", he added.

The King appeared both during his interview and in private conversation afterwards as a deeply depressed man. "Disappointed" is the word he used constantly in discussions later, disenchanted with America's involvement in the Middle East and apparently unable to see any movement towards peace in the region.

He expressed frustration with the divisions inside the

Palestine Liberation Organization, which had failed to give hime a mandate to negotiate for Palestinian autonomy on the West Mank,

But during his television interview – with Mr Anthony Howard, the Deputy Editor of The Observer, Mr. Patrick Seale, also of The Observer and with myself – it was made clear that the Gulf war was occupying almost all his thoughts

"Iran is waging this war, I believe, with the aim of creating a rift amongst the Muslims -Shitte and Sunnis - which would not only be a threat to Iraq but to the entire area," In fact, although he did not say so during his interview, received that the Iranians propose to build an oil pipeline that would bypass the Strait of Hormuz, a project which suggests Iran might be think-ing of blocking the waterway to put pressure on the Gulf states without doing any economic harm to itself.

But the King's dismay at American policy in the Middle East was evidently colouring all his thoughts. After the television programme had ended yesterday he listed four specific

US failure to sell Stinger missiles to Jordan after pressure from the American Jewish King Hussain is now very

that US snokesmen now refer to them as "impediments to peace" rather than illegal; the debate in the US about moving the American Embassy from Tel Aviv to Jerusalem; amd America's refusal to put pressare on Israel to allow West Bank Palestinians to attend the Jordanian Parliament in Amman.

The King now awaits the result of this year's elections in America and Israel - where he still hopes Labour will form the next Government - with something more than trepidation.

A pit village determined to ride out hard times

The miners' strike enters its hundredth day tomorrow. In the first of a series of articles on the impact of the dispute, COLIN HUGHES assesses the effect on the mining

The striking pit villages are past the pain barrier and into their second wind, accustomed to the hardship of 14 weeks without pay and expecting to stay out for months to come. Such is the evidence of

Rossington, South Yorkshire, where none of the 1,500 work force has returned to work except the pit deputies, and the miners are surviving on bread. potatoes and a community spirit revived by prolonged

Even there, though, where doubters swallow their anxieties and accept the majority will, the strike is already creating scars which will take a long time to

After the recent years of comparative affluence, empty purses came as a shock to the miners' wives in the first weeks of the strike, especially the young who had never faced such a deeply-entrenched dispule.

Those who at first voiced fears are no longer sapped by the piling debts, dwindling savings, cashed-in life insurance policies or threats to cut off electricity. The moderates who stayed out have now lost too much to go back without a sense of some victory. "They'll not starve us out", is the most often repeated proud assertion Trepidation focuses on the worry that they may not have much of a pit to go back to when the strike is over.

Rossington has enough reserves to last into the next century, but spontaneous comhustion, caused by coal left standing for three months, has already destroyed one face. Management was forced to cement it off, leaving behind £2m worth of equipment and no hope of recovering the coal.

Mrs Beryl Riley, wife of Mr Jack Riley, the National Union of Mineworkers' branch secretary in Rossington, is con-vinced that the strike has wrought permanent change in the mining communities for better or worse. Every individ-ual, including tradesmen and professionals, will be remembered for the stance they took in

In Rossington they have, with varying enthusiasm, accepted that the fate of their business is inextricable from the goodwill of the miners' families. Traders whose custom has been cut by half still contribute funds and foed to the "soup kitchens"

Calm down. union chief tells miners

A union leader asked miners to calm down after violent clashes with the police on Saturday night in a South Yorkshire pit town.

In Maltby, near Rotherham, 29 arrests were made and a police chief was left with a suspected broken nose after what the police described as "an unwarranted attack".

The night before, 16 arrests were made when up to 200 men gathered and stoned the town's police station. Police reinforcements were called in.

The National Union of Mineworkers Secretary, Mr Ron Buck, said: "The smashing up of property is something that the NUM branch totally condemns and we want to dissociate ourselves from it. I am making a plea to all mineworkers to cool it."

South Yorkshire's Chief Constable, Mr Peter Wright, blamed tkbe violence on the frustration of a mining commenity built up during the He said that "unless miners' leaders in the area take some action it can lead to nothing other than us having to do so".

The scenes of Friday and Saturday nights came after disturbances the previous weekend in the town, where about 1.350 miners are employed at the Maltby Main that the community will boycott anyone who turns his back. Mr Bernard Grogan, one of Rossington's butchers, displays

He tells stories of small girls But such poignancy is rare in a No one is hungry in Rossing-stoic society which has rapidly ton. The support of extended become proud of its ability to families, from sons and uncles survive without charity. No-one who left the pit years ago,

Miners' wives joking with Rossington pickets after providing food.

Board. Those who let the council buy their 1930s terraced houses are lucky now. Doncaster is waiving the rent in sympathy.

Anger against those who fail a sign announcing cut-price to volunteer support is ve-meat for the strike's duration, hement. The Yorkshire Eleceven though his sales are down tricity Board has become the by half. "How can I do most hated body, for fitting preotherwise? My life is with the payment meters which give 6p mining community, and there electricity for every 10p fed in, wouldn't be one without the the rest going to pay off overdue

Many families are receiving sent by their embarrassed cut-off warnings, "I'll just be mothers to ask him for a 10p out when they come," Mr Bob bag of bones which he normally Cook, one Rossington picket, sells for dogs, knowing that the said. He is borrowing from his family will use them for stew. father-in-law to stay afloat.

asks for credit in Rossington provides a cushion. Holidays shops. Most of Rossington's miners pit's holiday savings fund

gaged homes, having bought cash to keep the kitchen them from the National Coal stocked.

Mortgage payments are de-ferred and many have debts of more than £500 after nearly four months. Some, like Mrs Riley, have cashed life insurance policies or let them

Local businessman are hit hard. Mr Alan Price, manager of the only village furniture shop, sees his contribution to the miners' fund as the thousands of pounds unpaid on hire purchase, yet remains optimis-tic. "It'll all come back. I've drained all my capital, but we'll recover. The beauty of the miner is that when he's got it, he spends it."

That time, according to Mrs Beryl Hague, the village health visitor is along way off. "It's reached the point where some people will take years to recover. The unemployed are the rich in this village now."

Stories of bargain secondrun by miners' wives, aware hear the responsibility of mort- exhausted as miners with fraw hand sales for consumer goods are more legendary than true: videos have gone, but returned to the rental companies. Cars are off the road, but mostly unsold, and those still running are funded by the union to transport pickets.

Inducements to join the pickets, especially for the young single men who recieive no social secruity benefits, are powerful. The average £2 a day subsistence paid by the union is enough for a sandwich and a couple of pints, and the miner's wives provide lunches and food packs for those unsupported by

At the young mainers' favourite pub, The Poachers, bar staff have been laid off and meals are no longer served. Yet the exclusively male Top Club, where beer has been cut to 50p a pint, is thronged with miners who arrive late and leave early rather than do without their ale. Dr Glen Marshall, senior partner at the village clinic, ence to closed ranks. "Relatives have rallied round and the community has defended itself. They'll never let the kids go hungry.

After 30 years in the village he is sceptical about tales of penury among men who have largely entered the world of middle-class luxuries, while retaining their social values.

The reassertion of traditional village ethics has gratified Mr "The community has drifted apart in recent times, but up against it as we now, the old spirit comes back, and people support each other."

Without that support, and local political sympathy, Rossington would be struggling. Schoolchildren in Doncaster, as in other areas, are protected by a supportive local council.

Free school meals are provided to children of miners on strike and preparations are underway to continue through the summer holidays.

At Rossington Holmescarr

Middle School free meals have risen from 80 to 212 a day, out of 260 diners, Mr Lewis Rowlands, the head teacher, has underlined tacit expectations of the strike stretching on for months yet by indefinitely postponing any discussion of the children's annual trip to France next year.

Home and marital tensions are most severe among the isolated who take no active part in collective relief or picketing. "It's the quiet ones, the ones who don't speak up, who are really suffering. They can't see their way out of it, and shut their minds to what will happen when they go back", Mrs Hague

Elsewhere clergy have felt forced to take a stance on the dispute, but in Rossington the Rev Derek Turnham has won respect by "staying on the fence", in his own words.

The determination to support strikers among people who believe that it is misguided has surprised him. "One old lady who is always muttering against Arthur Scargill came to me and asked if I knew a family that needed food. 'They'll not starve the lads back', she told me.
The woodland round the pit

head is stripped, denuded in the cold days of the strike by miners cutting firewood. Organized theft of coal then was ignored by the police, who seemed content to let the village police itself under the stringent social rules of the strike. Any miner caught selling stolen coal would have soon been cut off from his neighbours.

The social pressures of Rossington contrast starkly with the bitter divisions across the county border, in the neighbouring Nottinghamshire pit village of Harworth, Seven out of ten men are back at work. the remainder ostracized and despised by former friends.

"When you're spat at walking to the shops and people refuse to serve you, you don't forget. It will take years for that bitter-ness to die". Mrs Christine Brown, chairman of the Harworth group, of striking miners' wives, says.
The Harworth strikers have been denied facilities for collective cooking by the church council, the welfare commmit-tee and the parish council: all are dominated by men who have returned to work.

Among the strikers, though bonds have cemented, and the women brought closer to their husbands' lives. Mrs Janet Webber says: "I used to keep quiet never asked him what was happening at the pit or argued with my friends. That's changed for ever.

Ugly divisions in Harworth. obligatory unity in Rossington: the contrast defines splits and solidarities which deepen each day the dispute continues, often overriding the apparent issues of the dispute itself. Pay and pit closures are infrequently mentioned and scabs, the police and the press attract more animosity than the coal board.

Caught between their firm convictions and their haunting doubts about the long-term damage to their livelihoods, the often claustrophobically close communities have forced miners to say where they stand. Few will now move from whichever road they have chosen, at work or out the strike has become a way of life.

Tomorrow: the Coal Board Letter from Wakefield, back

Cheap meat at the Rate rises forced by grant cuts, Tory council says

By Hugh Clayton, Local Government Correspondent

Rate rises could have been avoided in England and Wales this year if the Government had not cut grants to councils by £231m, an Association of County Councils investigation says. Final figures for rating authorities were examined by Cambridgeshire County Council, one of the most vocal Conservative critics of the impact of government policies Domestic rates have risen by an average of 6.7 per cent in England and 9.7 per cent in Wales. Government grants have been reduced while the costs of services have been increased.

Government penalites for overspending will lead to further grant cuts totalling

Union may block ethnic monitoring

By Anthony Bevins Political Correspondent

The Commission for Racial

Equality fears that the largest Civil Service union may block the introduction of ethnic monitoring in the public sector.

The Civil and Public Services Association last month passed a resolution at its Brighton conference, instructing its executive to argue against the extension of ethnic monitoring

Mr Peter Newsam, the commission chairman, has told

Mr Alistair Graham, associ-ation general secretary: "We are extremely disappointed and deeply disturbed at the impli-cations of this decision. For an employer the size of the Civil service, an essential component of any attempt at ensuring an effective equal opportunity policy must be the existence of an adequate monitoring sys-

Ministers are currently considering the results of a second trial experiment in ethnic-monitoring carried out in the North-West and Avon, before reaching a conslusion on the introduction of a system which has been commended by the Government's own Code of

Although the Home Secretary told the Commons in Decem-ber, 1981, that the Government had to "give a lead", not one government department has introdced monitoring. No one knows the actual proportions of blacks and Asians employed in the public service,

through the Civil Service".

local authorities will be cen-trally funded through rate He predicted that the group support grants this year, compared with a peak of almost two-thirds in the 1970s. Mr Jack Barton, director of finance and administration for Cambridgeshire writing in the association's report, said: "Expenditure on education has stabilized. School meals, highways and refuse collection, and disposal expenditure continue to contract. Libraries, social services, fire and police con-tinue their steady growth."

 Sir Trevor Jones, leader of the minority Liberal group on Liverpool City Council, told The Times that the ruling Labour group would not vote through a potentially illegal

Less than half of the cost of budget, in which income would would adopt a heavy rate rise and blame it on the Govern-ment and opposition councillors, rather than risk removal from office. "They like their powerful positions far too much to surrender them." Sir Trevor said that he expected the Liberals' balanced budget proposal to be voted down on Wednesday by the Labour majority.

Labour councillors are to present a budget in mid-July. Sir Trevor said that the meeting had been postponed until then because Labour was defending a council by-election earlier in the Rate capping series, page 5

Attend to grassroots, Basnett tells TUC

By Our Labour Reporter The TUC should be concentrating on the grassroots instead of attempting to influence "the corridors of power", according to Mr David Basnett, a leading "centrist" on its general council.

The recent lack of unity and authority of Congress House reflected a deeper problem about its role, Mr Basnett, who is General Secretary of the General, Municipal, Boilermakers' and Allied Trades Union,

In a statement responding to the official document TUC Strategy, Mr Basnett added: "In my view, the balance between the TUC as a lobbyist to the Government and a TUC as a service to this movement, is

"Both are important, but with an increasingly hostile Government and an increasingly endangered environment tive and would then the TUC should be looking on to Congress House.

is wrong

more towards coordinating and supporting the organization on the ground and less on policy formulation for the corridors of

The detailed response to the TUC document will have to be approved by the union's executive and would then be passed significantly more pressure on the Government to dismantle its monetarist policy. During the last three months there has been little direct pressure on the Cabinet to reflate the economy, partly because of the TUC's boycott of the council over the union ban at the Government Communications Headquarters. But last week's announcement of an inciniers alliance between the labour movement and the CBI to evolve a joint plan for fresh investment in infrastructure has seriously worried right-wingers. Hawks at the Treasury are now anxious that there should be an immediate ministerial review of the council with its abolition as a main option. If that alternative is not considered to be practical politics, then a national economic forum, as suggested by the Institute of Directores, will be promulgated. That would break down the current tripartite relationship, bringing in a wider range of representative bodies under the auspices of the Department of Trade and Industry. It would meet less often than the council keen to kill NEDC

Treasury hawks

By Barrie Clement

Labour Reporter

Growing links between the TUC and the Confederation of

British Industry (CBI) could lead to a joint demand for a public investment package of well over £2,000m, according to the Institute of Directors. The Institute, which has strong right-wing ties in the Cabinet.

believes that emerging plans by lize the National Economic Development Council could put the two organizations to revita-

Russians in appeal to Thatcher

By Michael Horsnell

Appeals for political asylum by two more Red Army deserters have been received by the Prime Minister after the arrival in Britain last week of two Russian soldiers who laid down their arms in Afghanistan after observing Soviet atrocities (Michael Horsnell writes).

Another five soldiers who deserted to the mujahidin insurgents in Soviet-occupied Afghanistan have applied for asylum in other European countries, according to the Soviet Prisoners Afghan Rescue

Committee in London. Mrs Thatcher is believed to have been moved by the petitions for asylum of Sergeant Igor Rykhov, aged 22, and Private Oleg Khlan, aged 21, both from the Ukraine, whose requests were forwarded to her by Lord Bethell, the Conservative Euro MP. The Home Office has granted permission for them to remain in Britain for a

Jaguar sell-off under attack

The Government faces an embarrassing rebuke from a Conservative-dominated Commons select committee next week for its selective approach to privatizing BL.

MPs. are believed to be unhappy that Jaguar, the profitmaking arm, is being sold while the loss making "rump" re-mains in the public sector. The trade and indusry select committee is taking the unusual step of issuing a report and holding a press conference on BL next Tuesday where it is expected to air its fears.

INLA leaders held in swoop

Detectives were questioning three leading members of the Irish National Liberation Army's political wing last night about serious terrorist crime in Northern Irished Time. about serious terrorist crime in .
Northern Ireland. They were among a number of people detained by police in dawn swoops in Belfast and taken to Castlereagh bolding centre in east Belfast.

east Beriast.

Also held was Mr Kevin McQuillan, chairman of the Belfast branch of the Irish Republican Socialist Party.

Gay playwright killed in flat

Drew Griffiths, a playwright who helped to found London's Gay Sweat Shop theatre com-pany in 1975, has been discovered stabeed to death in his flat in Balham, south-west London. He was 36. Police have launched a murder hunt. Detectives in shooting remain on duty

The two detectives who opened fire on two unarmed men found in the back of a north London sub-post office last week are remaining on duty while a Scotland Yard Enquiry takes place.

The enquiry, by Deputy Commissioner Albert Lag-harne, was announced on Friday and will report to the director of Public Prosecutions on various aspects of the shooting. Mr Lagharne, who is responsible overall for police discipline in London is also likely to consider whether likely to consider whether the guidelines on the use of firearms were obeyed and whether there was any breach of police discipline.

Soon after the shooting Scotland Yard said that two detective sergeants in the Central Robbery Squad had opened fire. Yesterday the Yard said the two men were still on duty and had not been suspended.

They are believed to have been equipped with the stan-dard 38 Smith and Wesson revolvers issued to officers on armed duties. Three shots were fired and each of the men was. hit once, and seriously wound-examine questions such as how According to police sources the detectives fired after a struggle, there was a shouted threat to the police and one of the men in the post office reached for a bag. This was considered by the police as a move towards a

The facts about fats

Most medical and nutritional authorities agree that we eat too much fat. A quarter of all the fat we eat comes from butter and margarine - both of which contain a minimum of 80% fat.

	Butter	Hard Margarine	Polyunsaturated Margarine	St. Ivel Gold
Total Fat Content	81%	81%	81%	39%
Calories per 100g	740	740	740	390

St. Ivel Gold contains less than half the fat of butter or any margarine, including polyunsaturated margarine.

St. Ivel Gold is a unique blend of buttermilk and vegetable oil with a satisfying buttery taste.

Half the fat of butter or any margarine. Silvel

Property firm offers all-in guaranteed conveyance for £50

By Christopher Warman, Property Correspondent

A conveyancing package veyancers, and is moving to the which offers a comprehensive second of its terms of reference. service for a fixed price of £50 plus value-added tax has been launched by Homeline, which pioneered the computer listing of properties as an alternative to estate agents.

hawki

The service will be available to buyers and sellers, with all legal aspects undertaken by fully qualified solicitors, and it carries financial and title

Evidence on ways of simplifying and speeding up house sales is being sought by the conveyancing committee set up earlier this year by the Government. Under the chairmanship of Professor Julian Farrand, it was established after the announcement of legislation to allow non-solicitors to carry out has already considered what tests of competence are needed for non-solicitor con-

death in cliff rescue

her death, after going to help a boy aged 18 who was in difficulty on "Wintour's Leap" cliff in the Wye Valley, near Chepstow, Gwent.

Mr Adrian Wadlow, aged 35, from Teignmouth, Devon, was an experienced member of the South Devon Mountaineering

Club. He was climbing with Miss Ruth Alty, aged 24, from Carnforth, Lancashire.

As they neared the top of the 200ft high face on Saturday,

Karl Cloutman, a pupil at Rendcomb College, near Cirencester. Gloucestershire, who was leading a separate ex-pedition, called out that he was

Mr Wadlow shouted back:

Minutes later, after the

"Hang on there till I get to the top, and I'll throw you a rope."

schoolboy had found a way to the top, Mr Wadlow plunged off a craggy ledge. Miss Alty was pulled off the rockface with

It took coastguards and ambulancemen five hours to rescue the schoolboy and reach

Hewitt, an experienced mountaineer, said: Every weekend

this year there has been a fall from this cliff, although these are the first people killed for 12

"It looks a very easy climb, but it is highly dangerous because the surface is so loose and likely to collapse. I think anyone intending to climb this face, which is the most popular in the region, should be warned of the dangers."

Mr Wadlow and Miss Alty. The rescue organizer, Mr Jim

A climber fell 150ft to his death, dragging his girl friend to second of its terms of reference, to consider the scope for simplifying conveyancing practice and procedure.

house-buying chains.

Among the topics under examination will be the use of computer-held information, ways of improving land regis-tration, the speeding up and improvement of local authority practices, the possibility of opening the register of titles to the public, and ways to break

Mr Ian Test, of Homeline, f690. said that the aim of its f50 ht package was to extend the range f40,00 of services to "try to tie together all the priblems of selling a

It is also to launch a service the me for house sellers in which it Homes. does not charge for registration of property but sets a see of £2 per £1,000 with a limit of £98 plus value added tax, if the solicitor's £852.50.

property is sold through Home-

a solicitor, Mr Ian Jefferson, and Mr Anthony Pearce, former owner of Homeline, claims that its "high speed and low cost conveyancing and mortgage broking service" saves about 40 average solicitors' fees.

For home sellers, the firm charges an administration fee of £57.50 plus 0.55 per cent of the sale price and a mortgage valuation with a maximum of

It says that the sale of a £40,000 house would usually cost about £480 plus value-added tax and disbursment by a solicitor, but only £277.50 plus the mortgage valuation by largest housebuilder, has been trying to keep off the screen is to be transmitted tonight. The programme concentrates on homes for first-time buyers. which are sold with a package of extras including legal fees, fitted kitchens, fridges, carpets, and sort of package has complained ago examined the difficulties to the Independent Broadcast-associated with timber - frame

Sir Lawrie Barratt, is to mount in its opposition.

Granada TV's World in a big advertising campaign Action programme on starter aimed at refuting the prohomes, with Barratt, Britain's gramme's claims. Barratt Development, Wim-pey Homes, which also offers a package of incentives, and the House Builder Federation refused World In Action's invitation to take part in the programme.

Barratt's shares, Barratt, which has led other dropped after previous World house builders in providing that In Action documentary a year ing Authority that the pro-gramme is biased and unba-lanced. But after senior members of the Barratt board saw a The World In Action team preview last week, the firm accepts that the subject is "price decided to drop its opposition sensitive", but claims that the to the screening programme is straight forward instead, the firm, headed by and that Barratt has overreacted dumping ground for low ing South Yorkshire.

Danger toys imported

Prosecutions for selling quality goods that many other countries reject", Mr Alexander children's toys, and cosmetics. Fletcher, the minister respon-have increased by more than sible for consumer affairs, will be told on Thursday. A move to persuade him to "stem the ever-increasing tide of dangerous products flooding the UK market" will be backed by Mr Bob Wright, and Mr Gordon Smith, who, are Sheffield-based

Queen's Flight to have Solvent link new executive jets

By Michael Horsnell

Two executive versions of staff quarters and extra radio British Aerospace's new passenger jet, the BAe 146-100, are expected to be ordered soon for the Queen"s Flight.

The aircraft, which normally cost £10m each will replace propeller-driven Andovers. The Ministry of Defence is said to be impressed by the BAe 146, which usually seats 88

The cost of the aircraft will be ncreased by conversion work, equipment for military fre-The first aircraft, of the longer range model, is expected to be in service next year. The BAe 146 is a four turbofan short-haul airliner for which the company has 36 orders plus 45 options.

There has been mounting criticism that the Queen and Royal Family have to use the aging Andovers, which last year The boys were found by which will in clude the con-Robert Fanthorpe's father, Mr struction of a state room and cost the ministry £4.7m to run.

Pressure on for 'test tube' baby legislation Health ministers are to come under intense pressure for rapid egislation on some of the key ecommendations of the Warnock Committee on artificial reproduction. The committee, due to report at the end of the month, has recommended licensing and monitoring of test-tube baby treatment and embryo research, and the banning of commercial surrogate motherhood agencies. Mr Norman Fowler, Minister of State for Social Services, is believed to favour publication of the report next month, shortly after it is received. But ministers do not envisage legislation before October next year because of the need to find both Parliamentary time and a broad consensus on the rec-

Mr Tony Hall, director of the British Agencies for Adoption and Fostering said yesterday however, that legislation to ban commercial surrogate motherhood agencies was needed this

"This is one thing the Government has got to act on speedily before it gets out of hand. The speed with which commercial interests are moving in is extremely worrying. Every time one hears press reports, more and more bizarre cases are becoming involved." On the recommendations of a minority report of the committee that while commercial agencies should be banned, adoption and fostering agencies should take the responsibility for organizing surrogate motherhood in the rare cases when it can be justified, Mr Hall said: "I cannot see any of our members being enthusiastic about that idea."

"Obviously, however, we would have to give serious consideration to any suggestion of that kind".

Agencies, he said, would be worried about the effects of the procedure on both the child and adoptive parents, and about the exploiting surrogate mothers themselves. "We have very severe misgivings about something that is really tantamount to baby farming."

The authors are believed to support payment of a fee to surrogate mothers to compensate them for time given up in pregnancy, not as a fee for handing over the child.

Many of the Warnock Committee's main recommen-dations, as revealed in The Times on Saturday, seemed yesterday likely to enjoy wide-spead support from doctors and scientists.

Bill could limit adult video films to sex shops

Only the 100 or so licensed sex shops in Britain will be able to sell adult video material unless the Government amends the legislation presently making its way through Parliament, the Video Trade Association, the retailers organization, says.

The association is pressing the Government to change the Video Recording Bill so that the video shops can be given a licence to sell the material. Mr Derek Mann, association chairman, says: "There is a demand for the product. They are not taken out by people who thrive on pornography. People look upon the video shop like the off-licence or the fish and chip shop. It is very much a convenience market."

The association claims that if no amendment is made to the Bill people will be forced to go to sex shops for the adult material or begin to purchase it on the black market, which would offer little prospect of controlling the type of material for sale or rent. There are also large areas of Britain without any sex shop. The lost revenue is concerning the association. Adult material represents about 20 per cent of the revenue.

The video market has grown substantially in Britain in the Louise's father to face charge

The father of Louise Brown, the 15-day-old girl reported missing three weeks ago, is to appear in court today, charged with the baby's murder. Miss Susan Pullen, the mother, and an aunt and uncle, have also been charged with knowing or believing that Mr Paul Brown had murdered the baby or committed some other offences connected with her disappear-

Mr Brown, aged 30, a roofer from Streatham, south London, was arrested in Dorset with the other three on Saturday, after police began a search for him and the baby's mother. All four will appear at South

Western Magistrates Court in Battersea, south London. In the meantime, yesterday

officers were searching several places in home counties for a possible body of the child, who suffered from Down's syn-

Soldiers of the future: Lance-Bombardier Shaun Topham (right) wearing battle kit that will be introduced later in the decade with a mock-up of his computer-equipped successor of the year 2000. Both were shown yesterday at the British Army Equipment Exhibition at Aldershot (Photograph: Jonathan Player).

dangerous electrical fittings, On the way down they hit another pupil of the college, Andrew Rontree, aged 17, from Bream, near Lydney, Glou-1,000 per cent in the last five years. About 80 per cent of those cases concerned imported goods, the Institute of Trading Standards Administration will be told at its conference in Blackpool this week.

dead yesterday in a copse near their homes in Birch Grove, Swansea. The police said that inquires were being made into the possible misuse of solvents.

Hotel price rises top inflation cent increase for a single room to £127, pushing the Sheraton higher than average normally

Park Tower into second place. The Inn on the Park's elevation to top place is shown in this year's survey by Expotel, the hotel booking agency of 353 hotels. In general hotels have the property used increased demand as not used increased demand as an excuse to push through neavy price increases.

But the survey shows that the price of a single room increased by an average 7.63 per cent and the price of a double by an average of 7.63 per cent and the price of a double by 6.90 per cent, well ahead of the rate of inflation last year.

The industry belives the increases have been heavily influenced by Trusthouse For-te's pricing policy. One of the biggest hotel operators in the world, it accounted for 70 hotels

The Inn on the Park has used in the survey, and raised ment, increased some of its emerged as London's most prices by between 2 and 5.5 per rates by 15 per cent.

The Sheraton Park Tower control of the survey and raised ment, increased some of its rates by 15 per cent. cent for single rooms.

Rises in the survey that are increased its tariff by only 3.80 per cent to £124.25, partly as compensation for disturbance reflect refurbishment work while a new restaurant is completed. But in general, London prices to boys'

death

From Tim Jones

Two boys aged 14 were found

David Hoskin and Robert Fanthorpe, pupils at Morriston comprehensive, had been miss-

Kenneth Fanthorpe, who had ing since Saturday.

searched all night.

rose by more than those

AVERAGE HOTEL ROOM TARIFFS AND INCREASES, 1983-84

-	g
2-star, London	26.62	9.17	37.64	8.37
3-star, London	39.07	10.68	5.91	8.79
4-star, London	60.93	8.05	78.74	7.52
5-star, London	101.10	10.16	123.60	9.69
3-star, Heathrow	42.69	4.95	55.40	3.01
4-star, Heathrow	54.82	5.78	67.45	4.60
3-star, prov city	38.44	8.13	50.62	8.10
4-star, providity*	43.85	5.87	57.40	6.80
2-star, provinces	33.96	6.06	47.92	4.77
3-star, provinces	37.59	7. 2 3	50.38	5.96
star, provinces	42.26	7.82	57.97	-6.23
8/4 star country			. :
house	39.63	8.11	56.87	7.89

Workers reap reward for Saudi royal yacht Shipworkers' wives were given a VIP tour of floating dows they gasped at gold table palace yesterday. And as thanks legs carved with lions and to the 400 workers at the Vosper eagles, gold light switches and shipyard in Southampton, which completed a multi-million pound refit on time for the staircases to a marble swim-king of Saudi Arabia's royal ming pool which workers said vacht, each worker was handed £500 at a party on board.

Mr Wadlow: Experienced

18 16

The work in secret, took a year. Yesterday the wives said covering the bathroom walls gold fittings including taps costing £1,000 each and gold lavatory paper holders in the bedroom and bathrooms.

Through bullet proof winwooden carvings.

They walked up marble ming pool which workers said was a replacement for one that was installed but disliked. Some workers said that lapis lazuli will also have to replaced Many workers expect to be sails this week

Alarm system for drugs monitors side-effects By Pearce Wright, Science Editor

adverse reactions to medicines. The system is designed to provide a check on drugs prescribed regularly and to facilitate rapid clinical trials for comparing the effectiveness of

The ability to conduct elecmade redundant after the ship second phase in the develop-west Thames area, are covered has received research grants new preparations with existing from industry. Although approval has been given by the The ability to conduct electronic clinical trials is the Medicines, the Department of Health and Social Security is ment of the Sentinal project, hesitating about giving support.

egociant à Beaune, Côte d'Ob Safer drugs should emerge which was devised by general from a scheme to monitor practitioners and computer Produce of France experts Only 400 doctors, mainly in group practices in the south-A case of Beaune Moreauby the Sentinal network, which Fontaine 1979. Only £77.50. The tasting notes for this French bottled medium weight with good fruit and style of Burgundy." At only £77.50 for a case of 12 bottles, it is excellent value.

Please send to:

wine read: "A good Burgundy nose,

COREAU FORTAINS

Champagne. Only £57.00. This yellow label, non-vintage, Champagne has, according to the tasting notes: "A delightful, inviting bouquet with the classic flavour of one of the outstanding Grand Marque Champagne Houses. A superb choice at only $57.00 per case of 6 bottles.

A case of Côtes du Rhône Domaine de Beaurenard 1982, Only £34,95. According to the tasting notes, this Domaine bottled wine has: "A good garnet colour and a lovely honeyed 'violets' nose. A rich, soft, smooth wine." It is highly recommended at only £34.95 per case of 12 bottles.

Council jargon bows to plain English campaign

By Rupert Morris About 500 people found them-selves threatened recently with a £1,000 fine or two years in prison if they failed within three weeks to complete a form which many found almost impossible to understand.

Fifty of them complained to Ealing Council, in west London, about the form, which was described as "infuriating and intimidating" by Mrs Chrissie Maher, organizer of the Plain English Campaign.

The notice said: "Take notice that, for the purpose of enabling the Council of the London Borough of Ealing to make an Article Four Direction relating to property at the above address and to serve copies of the Article Four Direction in accordance with Article Four of the Town and Country Planning General rubbish", which Kaling Council Development Order 1977, the Council pursuant to section 284 was typical of too many local of the said Act hereby require you to state in writing to the Council within 21 days after the date on which this notice is

(1) your interest in that property, whether as freeholder, lessee, tenant or otherwise; (2) the name and address of any person having an interest

(a) whereby he is entitled to receive rent on his own behalf or as a trustee for any other (b) in virtue of which he occupies the whole or part of the property, or state in reply to (a) or (b),

"legalistic

That sort of anthorities, Mrs Maher said. She added: "Fortunately Ealing Council had the good sense to revise the notice before it was sent to other people". Mrs Maher and her partner,

Mr Martin Cutts, were introducing a new service yesterday offering local authorities and companies use of their Langnage and Layout Service,

She said: "Writers sometimes get so tangled in their own jargon that they need an outsider to pull them free".

The Plain English Campaign has contracts with two government departments to appraise their forms. Mrs Maher also cited a number of businesses which had increased their sales by getting their message across ore clearly: The trouble with calling yourself the Plain English Campaign is that your every utterance will be scrutinized for anything which might fall short the highest English stan-

For instance, when urging councils to improve their housing application forms, the authors suggest: "We could liaise with a group of local authorities to standardize the basic form design". This could be a standard to the basic form design." be more crisply rendered: We could help to produce a standard form for local authori-

However, few would argue with the aims of the Plain English Campaign, or with the title of its new booklet, Clarity Begins at Home.

VICTORIA WINE

VICTORIA WINE CO. LTD., BROOK HOUSE, CHERTSEY ROAD, WOKING, SURREY GU21 5BE. TEL- WOKING (04862) 5066

cases of Beaune Moreau Fontaine 1979 at £77.50 per case of 12 bonles (inc. VAT) cases of Côtes du Rhône Domaine de Beaurenard 1982 at £34.95 per case of 12 bottles (inc. VAT) cases of Veuve Clicquot Champagne at £57.00 per case of 6 bottles (inc. VAT)	($77.50 per case of 12 bonles (inc. VAT) asses of Côtes du Rhône Domaine de Beautenard 1982 ($34.95 per case of 12 bottles (inc. VAT) asses of Veuve Clicquot Champagne ($57.00 per case of 6 bottles (inc. VAT)
at £34.95 per case of 12 bottles (inc.VAT) cases of Veuve Clicquot Champagne	ases of Veuve Clicquot Champagne ases of Veuve Clicquot Champagne a $57,00 per case of 6 bottles (inc. VAT)
	1.557.00 per case of 6 bottles (inc. VAT)
	SUB TOTAL	Ţ,
SUB TOTAL		ᆈ.

My home address at an additional $2.00 if my order is under £50.00 My local Victoria Wine shop (see telephone directory) at no extra charge (PLEANE TICK)

Visa America Please debit o	ny acc	ount o	Diners Dreetl	Club y, for	when i home (letiver deliver	v 🗀	uder fr	om th	itti utti	V Access LANE THOS
My Credit Car		ount a	NO. B.		Acco	LINE NO.	I IOF I	omed	diver	v only.)
Mr. Mrs./ Miss- Home Addres					-				(BLO	CR CAPITA	ALS ONLY
Designation	- /:	11
Daytime Iel. I Signature	10. (1)	coilec	ung II	OUR PL	юр)  			_			IOI TRU

Please allow 28 days for receipt of your cases of wine. I understand that I will receive Please 2009 and coays in receipt or your cases or while I understand that I will receive a full refund should stocks be exhausted. Victoria Wine Company Limited. Registered in England No 199193. Registered Office: Brook House, Cherises Road. Woking. Surrey GU21 SBE. Offer closes July 14th, 1984 and applies to UK mainland only

Northern Ireland Catholic bishops attack judge's remarks in murder trial

The nine Roman Catholic Toman, killed with two fellow bishops in Northern Ireland Provisional IRA men when have strongly criticized the Constabulary officers accused of murdering an unarmed Provisional IRA terrorist.

In a statement, significantly issued after the polls for the EEC elections closed, the bishops attacked the comments of Lord Justice Maurice Gibson final court of justice". as "inexplicable and inexcus-

And Dr Edward Daly, Roman Catholic Bishop of Londonderry, accused the judge of making a decision which almost gave people a licence to kill. He believed the judge's decision had done "great, great damage" to the perception that the law should be administered in a fair and impartial manner. When he acquitted the process of the law. officers of murdering Eugene appalling thing to say.

police fired 109 bullets into remarks of a judge when he acquitted three Royal Ulster Director of Pulic Prosecutions for bringing the case on tenuous evidence". He commented the policemen, who he described as "absolutely blameless" for their bravery in "bringing the three deceased men to justice in this case the His comments brought to Britain from Dr Garret FitzGerald's Government whose Minister for Foreign Affairs, Mr Peter Barry, "I think that it is an entirely inappropriate remark for a justice to say. He is saying that the RUC can be their own judge and jury and indeed in without even going through the process of the law. It is an

Britons to get vote election votes begins in the Republic and Northern Ireland result is expected tonight.

this morining. The first Ulster

Social Democratic and Labour

Party, are expected to retain their seats in an overall poll of

where the struggle

Legislation to allow 12,000 British residents in the Irish Republic to vote in its presidential and general elections is likely to be introduced this

Dr Garret FitzGerald's administration will introduce a Bill after the three-to-one yes vote in referendum to allow the Dail the power to extend the vote to

Dr FitzGerald said afterwards that his Government was satisfied with the extraordinary

In the bishops statement which was signed by Cardinal Tomas O Fiaich, Roman Catholic Primate of All Ireland, the clergy said that the judge's remarks had done enormous disservice to the restoration of respect for the law and public confidence in its administration. They expressed "grave disquiet" at his remarks, saying they were inexcusable on the part of a member of the senior judiciary when made in the context of a considered written iudement. Four police officers have been acquitted this year of murder charges which were brought after controversial shooting incidents in Armagh during 1982, in which five unarmed terrorist suspects died. It led nationalists to believe there was a "shoot to kill policy and the acquittals have further angered many of the Roman Catholic community.

Mr John Hume, leader of the Social Democratic and Labour Party, and MP for Foyle, is to ask the Lord Chancellor, Lord Hailsham, to investigate the remarks made by the province's second most senior judge.
While members of the Police

The three sitting European MPs, the Rev Ian Paisley, Democtratic Unionist Party, Mr John Taylor, Official Unionist Party, and Mr John Hume, believe the decision to initiate prosecutions was a matter of political expediency, designed to combat criticism of the security forces, some senior officers were appalled at the 65.42 per cent, which in border judge's comments.

As one officer said: "It was unbelievable that anyone could use such language and it hardly between provisonal Sin Fein and the SDLP is fierest, reached 84.8 per cent.

Skirmish over Boyne battle site

Two hundred and ninety four years after William of Orange triumphed over King James II in the Battle of the Boyne, skirmishing has begun over where the armies actually

Like much else in Ireland, the division is between north and south and seems likely to tax. the researchers and historians. The question is: did the degree in history from a Protestant king inflict a military Canadian university, says: Old defeat on Catholic King James on the north or south bank of the river Boyne in Co Meath in the Irish Republic?

Delaney, from Texas, believes the 30 acres of grassland for which he paid Ir£48,000 a year ago includes the historic site.

emerged on the south bank. Mr Nicholas Coddington, aged 28, claims the decisive battle took place on land surrounding his The Orange Order, for whom home, which along with its contents are to be auctioned breaking a family connexion of 260 years but he is to emigrate to Canada after two raids on his home. Earlier this year, he and his wife were held at guapoint by 12 armed men, who stole Ir£300,000 of paintings, silverware and antiques.

Mr Coddington, who has a Bridge House is the site of the 1690 battle. "As far as I am concerned, it is quite obvious that the Battle of the Boyne On the north bank Mr James took place on the south side of the river. It occurred basically on my front lawn."

The family also believe that o includes the historic site.

But after less than a year of their grounds. Mr Coddington ownership a challenger has added: "I am afraid Mr Delanev only bought the site of King William's crossing point. There phantly celebrated each July 12 crossing the river."

In selling the house and 720 in Northern Ireland, once put acres of land, Mr Coddington is up an obelisk in a field where the battle allegedly occurred. It was blown up in 1922 during earlier Irish troubles.

> claim by pointing to an old painting of the battle showing it taking place on his land. and my feeling is the battle took place on the north bank."

Mr Coddington backs his

However, Mr Anthony Stewart said: "I had a chill of fear going down my spine when I heard of this. I knew I would be asked Dr Michael Dewar, historian the Orange Order, said fighting took place on both banks of the river. "The whole mystique for Protestants is that William crossed the Boyne and he actually did that near Old

"The symbolism is that William came down from the north, from Ulster, and with the Jabobites on the south bank the victory is of such crucial there was a bloody confronimportance that it is trium- tation which he won, then controlled, a model of the former rake who became as well known in Wales as Wesley is the star of an exhibition on chapel architecture. But his sermon cannot disguise the fact that the mighty chapels of Wales are crumbling and disappearing. Throughout the principality they are being only enough to build a reason-knocked down or turned into able frontage - like a Holly-

been converted into a brassiere

give daily sermons in the National Museum of Wales.

Full sized and electronically

bingo halls or garages or store

End of a span: Part of the 80-year-old Redheugh Bridge over the Tyne is lifted away by an 800-ton floating crane, Britain's biggest. The £1.7m removal project will take two years.

The new bridge (background) opened last year.

Exhibition to save the crumbling chapels of Wales

One-eyed Christmas Evans They were the symbols of the would have jumped from his great nonconformist fervour grave, for there is a chapel in which swept the land - centres of the faith and language and culture. Simple in style but strong on salvation they became the Rhondda Valley which has In fact, it appears he has, for also centres of music, culture, the hellfire Baptist preacher to education and trade unionism. They were the pivot of com-

whom even a Sunday stroll was a walk in hell has emerged to munity life. Companies made it clear that regular attendance was essential for promotion and poor people gave their money and their muscle to build them. In the last century 4,000 were built, and at one time there were 40 chapels in the town of Blaenau Ffesti-niog, which had a population of wood cowboy set. This led to some cutting comments: The Trellwyn Methodists have built a church,

Sometimes the money was

The front looks like an abbey, But thinking they can fool the They've built the back part

Other chapels, such as Tabernacle in Morriston, the largest and at £15,000 the costliest built in Wales, were almost grand, and their architecture represented a bit of everything nice from everywhere.

The diversity of style is astonishing, although they all retain the essential elements of free church simplicity.

prepared by Professor Anthony converted into community Jones, director of the Glasgow centres or even factories, as long School of Art, who believes Wales should take stock of the Sermons give way to bingo and brassieres chapel heritage before it disappears. Chapels once filled by the faithful have now become decaying and expensive burdens to small and aging congre-Dr Jones became interested in chapel architecture when he was a schoolboy in Merthyr Tydfil. Since then he has travelled throughout Wales to make a photographic record He believes that some chapels could be saved if congregations could cast aside their fiercely-held sectarian differjust one chapel.

A few, he says, should be protected by the Government as buildings of architectural im-The exhibition has been portance. Others could be centres or even factories, as long as the essential architecture is

Art of the profitable studied by museums

Colony

of badgers to be destroyed

By Alan Hamilton

The Ministry of Agriculture

is starting this week to exterminate a large badger colony in East Sussex in the hope of eradicating outbreaks of bovine

tuberculosis in local dairy

The ministry's target is nine setts housing an estimated 100 badgers near Folkington Bowl. Trials with unbaited cages earlier this month were disrupted by animal conservationists; who claim that it is and that the link between tuberculosis in badgers and dairy cattle has not been

Badgers have been a proected species since 1973 and the ministry is the only body with the right to kill them. The previous practice of gassing has been abandoned in favour of catching the animal live in baited cages, and then adminis-tering a humane killer. Empty cages placed in the area for several weeks beforehand allow the animals to get used to them.

tuberculosis, which can affect milk yields and cause farmers problems in having their milk accepted by the Milk Marketing

Board, have been reported in the area in the past three years.

evidence pointed strongly to a connexion between the disease

The badgers trapped at Folkington Bowl will be studied closely by ministry scientists before being destroyed. The area will be kept free of badgers

for six months, when the setts will be allowed to recolonize

Widespread badger destruc-tion has been conducted in the south-west of England and in Wales for several years in an effort to control cattle disease.

in badgers and in cattle.

naturally.

Only three cases of bovine

essary to kill the badgers,

By David Hewson Arts Correspondent

A new spirit of private enterprise is abroad in British museums and art galleries. It could lead to admission charges being introduced at many provincial centres. The cultural world has been quietly monitoring an experiment at the National Maritime Museum, in Greenwich, which began last April and brought in admission charges of £1.50 with reduced rates for children, old people, and local residents. According to officials at Greenwich, the charges have produced no noticeable drop in the number of visitors, backing up the belief of many in the museum world that people are now willing to pay to see exhibitions of special merit. When the then Conservative Government forced museums and galleries to charge for admission in 1973, attendances plummeted. But the issue of entrance fees is thought to be much less heated today, and a change in government policy towards museums and galleries could make them more profitconscious than ever before. The profit barrier was broken by the Maritime Museum when it reached an agreement with the Treasury that it could keep money from admission fees and other areas so long as the cash was not used to pay for staff or buildings which would increase administrative costs.

A ministry spokesman said yesterday that it was policy to remove infected badgers, on the grounds that all scientific When the Greenwich agreement was announced, the Treasury hinted that it would be willing to extend similar offers to other museums and galleries which have also had to hand profits from successful enterprises to the Government. Most of the national institutions in central London, such as the National Gallery, the Tate, and the British Museum. are opposed in principle to admission charges. But a number are considering using the Treasury offer to introduce money-making schemes, possibly in catering and publishing which would raise funds to support unprofitable areas.

The Victoria and Albert Museum, one of the few central London establishments which may decide that an entrance fee is appropriate, has com-missioned a consultant's report, and expects to ask the Treasury within a few months for a deal similar to that at Greenwich.

Like most London museums the V&A is desperately short of money for the upkeep of buildings. If allowed to keep profits of its private enterprise. might expand the already flourishing publishing section, and lease out halls for private functions

Miss . Jean deputy director of the British Museum, said: "We are very committed to free admission. We believe that a great central London are in a very different position from Green wich. We believe that a great deal of good has been done by people who just want to spend 10 minutes out of the rain."

Mass screening

heart disease The Greater Glasgow H. eith Board is today expected to sanction a mass screening campaign in an attempt to combat the areas's soaring rate of heart disease.

may reduce

Almost half of all deaths in the city in 1982 were due to heart disease, one of the worst records in the world. That year 22.377 people died of heart disease throughout Scotland, a third of all deaths in the country.

The £165,000 screening campaign will form part of a 10 year publicity drive to aler people between the ages of 20 and 50 to the dangers and

Family doctors will test the blood pressure and blood fat levels of an estimated 50,000 people a year, irrespective of whether they have a history of Welsh national theatres project worries actors

By Our Arts Correspondent

The actors' union Equity is until we know what it going to planning a rally in Cardiff happen". an Equity official said. number of existing commit- members." ments to drama companies to theatre groups.

Equity is unwilling to con-demn the plan until it has received official confirmation. While the withdrawal of drama clients, few of which receive grants totalling more than £500,000 could close some of the 23 theatre groups which council's chairman. Sir Hywel receive money from the council. the new companies could create extra work for actors in Wales. "It is difficult for us to say much about this at the moment tomorrow over plans by the "It may end up that more jobs Welsh Arts Council to cut a are going to be created for our But a number of Equity make way for the creation of members have said that they two new "national" Welsh will picket the council meeting in protest at the ending of the council on Thursday and will Some of the council staff are commit it to the formation of also opposed the the new policy, one main company working in and there have been threats of Welsh and a second in English. resignation from its drama panel if the changes go through unamended. The council has in the past funded a wide range of

The decision is expected to be body's policy of funding a large confirmed at a meeting of the number of small drama groups.

Evans, spurred by the arrival of a new director, Mr Tom Owen. argues that the new policy spreads the available finance fewer than 10,000.

By David Nicholson-Lord

Memorabilia of Queen Victoria, many of them owned by the Queen, are being sought by an Australian consortium, which is reating a remarkable memorial to Victorian England and its Sovereign in the heart of

The Queen Victoria building, built as a market in the last built as a market in the last century, is being restored by developers and the Sydney City Council in a £40m scheme. Buckingham Palace officials as century, is being restored by developers and the Sydney City which includes replicas of a Victorian pub and post office, a galleries and antique dealers. copy of the Crown Jewels and a from republican circles but Mr being sought are bronze busts, Neil Glasser, its promotions prints, dolls, quill pens -director, said this week that he anything that is "old, unusual they would prefer a monument 10 Ned Kelly but if there was a referendum tomorrow I believe Australia would be overwhelmingly royalist."

Wanted - Victoriana for Australia

Mr Glasser is visiting Eng-land with more than £600,000 to spend on authentic memorabilia of Queen Victoria's well as London museums. copy of the Crown Jewels and a Among possible loans are Queen Victoria "memorabilia Queen Victoria's sidesaddle and Prince Albert's velocipede, both The project has attracted now thought to be in the some criticism in Australia possession of the Queen. Also being sought are bronze busts, believed most people supported and genuine", with personal it. "There are those who said effects of the Queen preferred. The consortium is also commissioning Madame Tussauds to make figures of Queen Victoria and Prince Albert, and is spending more than £600,000 on an unusual clock which will take six minutes to tell each hour, featuring moving tableaux of England's royal history.

The clock is being made by the old-established London firm Thwaites and Reed, with Mr Denis Morton, a Nottingham sculptor, carving the figures in Mr Glasser is also collecting

The project is due for completion in 1986. The project's address is: PO Box A248, Sydney South, 2000.

50,000 Victorian pennies to be presented to the first 50,000 children who visit the building.

dfield, in West Midlands.

The Edinburgh Royal Infirmary has only two pay beds out of a total of 59, but a memorandum from the hospital administration circulated last March says that frequently as

Scottish NHS officials investigating bed 'abuse' By Nicholas Timmins

Health officials in Scotland are investigating allegations that that "because of the insistence consultants have been using of certain consultant staff to National Health Service beds for private patients at the Royal Infomary, Edinburgh.

The investigation comes after police inquiries into allegations of abuse of NHS facilities at the Prince Charles Hospital, in Merthyr Tydfil, and at Good Hope Hospital, Sutton Col-

many as five beds have been used for orivate patients.

The memorandum suggests admit private patients over the legally authorized limit," the hospital has broken the law.

Mr Ian Puckering, the hospital administrator, says in the memorandum: "I am concerned that, following the recent publicity of police inquiries at a South Wales hospital, the continued breach of the law here may result in investigation of the situation should it bacome known".

Mr John Wilson, the hospital's assistant administrator, said yesterday that officers of the Lothian Health Board were investigating.

Law Society to look at formula to relax ban on advertising

The question of whether and others who will be able to solicitors should be allowed to advertise their services and prices comes before a council meeting of the Law Society this

Strong support for a relax-ation of their rules to allow advertising came from a recent conference of the 300 local Law Society leaders in London, who agreed solicitors should be free to advertise in the press, on radio and television but not through direct mailing.

A draft formula along those lines will go before the council meeting on Thursday. The advertising, it says, should not bring the profession into disre-pute and there should be no touting by solicitors.

The decision is a key one. The prohibition on advertising hy individual practitioners has long been held to be characteristic of the profession.

But young solicitors in particular feel they should now have more freedom to compete with banks, building societies undertake conveyancing when government proposals to end the solicitors' monopoly be-

The International Bar Association maintains it is inappropriate for lawyers to solicit business; and the Union Internationale des Avocats says a lawyer should rely on the quality of his service to distinguish him from others.

But a certain measure of individual advertising is allowed in Canada, Denmark. Norway, and Sweden; in America the Supreme Court has ruled it is unconstitutional to prevent lawyers advertising the availability and cost of routine legal services.

Under American law, advertising by lawyers is held to be a form of commercial speech protected by the First Amemd-

Despite that, only 6 per cent of American lawyers make use of their freedom to advertise.

Both the Monopolies Com- to advertise, should be enabled mission in 1976 favoured to compete on equal terms". advertising by solicitors.

In a comment which seems particularly apt in view of inform clients about the availgovernment proposals on conveyancing, the Royal Commission said: "A solicitor who is in direct competition with non-solicitors, such as banks who are themselves permitted fixed fee for specified work.

Solicitors, the commission concluded, should be free to ability of legal services provided they did not claim superiority advertise the quality of their services, number of staff, income, or fees, unless it was a Tall ship: Guinness Clipper, the first wind-powered, ocean-going cargo ship for half a century, on trials (left) off the Isle of Wight on Saturday. Above, her 97ft mast being carried through Cowes earlier this year. (Photographs: David White and Harry Kerr.

Move to retain jail after care

By Peter Evans, Home Affairs Correspo

probation officers tomorrow, at repeated imprisonment. the start of a campaign to Expressing anxiety about service. The plans are now with statement disturbing in its government plans, the National probation committees and chief reference to after-care.

Association of Probation Officers for decisions.

However, the Association of hope and little prospect of receiving help are likely to Until 1982, officers belonged ation's chairman, said: "because offend again soon afterwards", to the Probation and After-Care of the extension of parole, more

More than 250 MPs and well-organised after-care service peers will receive letters from can break into this cycle of Labour MP for Knowsley North

Service, but the words "after-"A properly resourced and care" were then dropped

Mr Robert Kilroy-Silk and chairman of the Parliamenthe start of a campaign to The campaign comes after tary All-Party Penal Affairs defend the role of that service in last month's announcement by Group, has written to Mr Leon the after-care of released pris- the Government of national Brittan, Home Secretary, saying objectives and priorities for the he finds the Government's

Association of Probation of ers said yesterday in a statement that there was a real danger that the service would be prevented from offering such care.

Without proper after-care, reduction in attention by the from offering such care. "Without proper after-care, reduction in attention by the "Prisoners released with no there will be more crime, re- service to the needs of offenders jobs, no homes, little money, no convictions and overcrowding during and after their sentences.

Mr M. J. Day, the associpeople will be under our control on a statutory basis.

On-the-spot penalty plan for cannabis

By Stewart Tendler Crime Reporter

Customs officers at Britain's main sea and air ports are being instructed to offer people caught with a small amount of cannabis the option of paying a financial penalty on the spot, rather than going to court.

The system has been tried for the past two years at London's Heathrow airport and is considered by senior Customs officers to be so successful in. releasing manpower from court appearances that it is to be extended to about a score of other ports. It means that anyone caught with 10 grams or less of cannabis, either resin or herbal, can escape with what amounts to a fine. The system is applied only to first offenders, and yesterday a Customs spokesman denied criticism that the system meant that offenders escaped punish-

The offender loses his cannabis and is entered on Customs

Grant spending clue to Tories' secret 'hit list'

Rate capping will reach the House of Lords today, a week after the row there about the proposed abolition of the Greater London Council, Much of the abolition programme is known but ministers have given away little about the operation of rate-capping. In the first of two articles HUGH CLAYTON, Local Government Correspondent, looks for clues.

Rate capping has been ob-scured by the clamour over the next year. abolition of the Greater London Council, which reached a pitch

Artoff.

in the Lords last week. ministers to "cap" the rates of high-spending authorities, will return to the upper house today.

Unlike the abolition programme, the rate-capping pro-posals have already been di-luted. However, the Government's concessions have been directed at the reserve powers which ministers say they do not wish to use.

the rates of a small number of cept. councils next year remains in

The list of councils for the first phase of capping will be issued in about a month when the Government makes a preliminary announcement about the levels of grant it proposes to pay councils next

Many of the Government's critics have tried to discover the list in advance, and some claim to have done so. They complain that there can be no objective judgment of "overspending" and that ministers have told their officials to devise a list which will catch the Labour authorities most disliked by Conservatives.

That is hotly denied by ministers. They reply that the extravagent that they come high on the list whatever yardstick is used. The Rates Bill allows ministers to choose a yardstick and say that councils covered by it will be capped next year.

They have already given some hints about the shape of the final list. First, the number will be somewhere between "about 12" and "about 20" and will include the Greater London Council and Basildon Distric Council in Essex. Both auth orities are Labour-controlled. Second, the size of this year rate rise will not be the main yardstick in deciding which councils will be on the list. I might seem tempting to do: that way because of the simplicity of saying simply that the councils with the largest rate

Unfortunately Government, that would exclude the GLC, which has The Rates Bill, allowing reduced its rates this year white being regarded by ministers as the most spendthrift council of Another clue to the shape of rate capping is that the smallest councils will be left out even if they offend deeply against the standards set by ministers. The key factor in selecting councils for rate-capping will not be the simple one of rate rises but a The principal power to curb much more complicated con-

> It is the degree of their overspending above a level which is itself 20 per cent higher than their grant-related expen-diture (GRE) assessment. That is the most complicated clue to the choice of councils for rate capping, but it is also signifi-cant. The table lists the 12 authorities most liable to be rate > capped on this bais. The GRE is the amount which ministers believe a council needs to spend to provide a standared level of services. It is not the same as the target, which is the amount they think a council ought to spend on the basis of its performance in recent years. The one certainty about the criteria to be used in drawing up the first list of councils to be capped is that it will not be

It will be a mixture of yardsticks, so that to be caught a council will have to be spending at a certain level above GRE and at a certain level above its target. Most if not all of the first capped councils will be Labourш

ıd	LEVEL OF SPE	NDING	ABO	VE GR	Ε
מנ	Thamesdown	• •	-: ''		3
ct	Carnden				8
b	GLC .				٤
_	Greewich				. 7
	Basildon		-	٠.
S	S Yorkshire				6
n	Lewisham				54432
h	Southwark				5
Īŧ	Islington	-			4
	Lambeth				4
it	Portsmouth				3
e	Sheffield .				2
					-

Tomorrow: The "hit list"

Sale room

Battle among buyers for fine glass collection

European galss from the four-It is unusual for the main London auction houses to operate at the weekend, but on It has been formed over the last 25 years by Mr and Mrs Fritz Biemann, of Zurich, who have now decided to specialize Saturday Sotheby's took advan-tage of many collectors being in London for the International Ceramics and Glass fair at the Dorchester Hotel to offer a particularly fine collection of more narrowly.

The quality of the collection is indicated by the way in which so many pieces went well over estimate in struggles between dealers and private bidders, for he most part from West Germany and the Netherlands.

Many of the most expensive lots were secured by Hubner, the German dealer, who paid £60,000 for a particularly good and rare example of a seven-teenth century Nuremberg Schwarzlot beaker decorated in grisaile by Johann Schaper with a gypsy scene taken from prints by Jacques Callot (estimate £10,000 to £15,000). A contrasting Nuremberg piece of about 1700 was a tall goblet and cover in clear and amethyst-timed glass which looked a little like a modernistic chess piece. This sold again to Hubner for £33,000 (estimate £8,000 to £12,000).

'Hop off you frogs' complaints rejected

Readers' anti-French jokes fordshire, and Mr K S Farr, published in The Sun were tasteless and puerile but not defamatory, inflammatory and racist, the Press Council said that the newspaper had stirred up a torrent of abuse and hate

'Schwarzlot' beaker which fetched £66,000.

It rejected a complaint from four readers about the two pages of jokes, carried under the headline "Oh La La! Readers tell their Froggie jokes".

The Sun invited readers to say what they thought of the "greedy French" and win a bearing the message "Hop off you Frogs".

The managing editor, Mr Kenneth Donlan, told one complainant most of the many readers who had written about the campaign against French farmers bullying tactics towards British lorry drivers supported the newspaper's idea.

The editor, Mr Kelvin MacKenzie, told the council that it was ridiculous to say the stories were racist, when the campaign was fun.

The readers who complained that the jokes were offensive to French people in Britain were: Mr Mike Cornford, from Balham, south London; Mr Thomas McMahon, from Kentish Town, north London; Mr L published the attack had Dr Osbourne, from Radlett, Hertrarely seen in the British press.

Mr Osbourne said that the campaign plumbed the depths of bad taste and appealed to the lowest instincts of crude, vulgar nationalism, while Mr Farr complained that the feature was racialist and mischievous.

But the council said that it could not agree that The Sun should have been inhibited by ethical consideration from publishing the material.

 The council rejected yesterday a complaint about an article by Mary Kenny in the Sunday Telegraph about the work of the late Dr Leonard Arthur. Its comments had been severe but not intemperate and their accuracy had not been challenged it said.

Dr Jeffrey Scott, from Alexandra, Dunbartonshire, complained that it was improper to publish such a censorious attack on Dr Arthur, the paediatrician who had allowed Down's syndrome babies to die, when the subject could not reply. The Arthur been alive, he said.

Heads win over hearts in Canada leadership contest

Turner comes back from pinstriped exile

From Trevor Fishlock Ottawa

Mr John Turner, who stalked off to nine years of exile among the business towers of Toronto after failing out with Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau, always missed the "big league" excitement of politics.

He was once on the telephone to an MP in the House of Commons in Ottawa when the division belis started ringing and the MP said he had to go. John asked me to hold the phone up. . . He wanted to hear the bells again."

Mr Turner was always the leader in waiting during the Trudeau years. He and his supporters and, most importantly, the Liberal Party establishment, saw the top job as almost his inheritance. it was the only political job

Mr Turner was ever likely to consider after he and Mr Trudeau, two strong person-alities with no great affinity, clashed in the Prime Minister's office in 1975 and Mr Turner quit Ottawa to become a

HOW THE	VOTED
First Ballot 3,437 volus, 1,718 to wis, 2 papers spoked.	Second Ballot 3,423 votes, 1,712 to win, one paper spoiled.
John Turner 1,593 Jean Chrestien 1,067 Donald Johnston 278 John Roberts 185	1,862 1,368 192
Mark Macguigan 135 John Marro 93 Europe Whelen 84

After first ballot Macguigan gave his allegiance to Turner, Munro, Roberts and Whelan to Christian – but delegates who

corporate lawyer and company

Seven men challenged for the leadership after Mr Trudeau announced his resignation in February. But the race that counted was between Mr Turner and Mr Jean Chrétien, the personable Energy Minister, whose charm, Maurice Chevalier English and passionate politics made him very popular. Indeed, in an extraordinary tribute from the leadership convention stage, Mrs Iona Campagnolo, the party President, introduced Mr Chrétien as 'the man who came second, but was first in our hearts". To an extent, the Liberals indulged themselves with Mr Chretien: He represented a certain guisiness and passion, and was widely considered an ahogether warmer character than Mr Turner, seen by many as the Toronto pinstripe who had been kept in ice.

The battle between the two was characterized as one of heart versus head, and it was always more than likely that the party would choose the man it thought better qualified to beat Mr Brian Mulroney and the Conservatives in the general election expected this summer. The Tories' opinion poll lead has narrowed considerably since Mr Trudeau announced his departure. As far as can be discerned in the absence of any concrete policies put forward by Mr. Mulroney, the election contest will be between two men with rather similar economic and business ideas, at a time when the national mood is more Trudeau's successor: A victory wave from Mr John Turner after his election.

Indeed, one the few apparent principal differences between Mr Turner and Mulroney is that Mr Mulroney shares the Trudeau thinking on language

Mr Turner's comeback represents a marked change of direction for the Liberals, who have held power for much of his 55-year lifetime. The new leader is somewhat to the right of Mr Trudeau (the Reagan Administration likes what it sees), favours a toning-down of the Canadianizing of gas and oil, wants strong action to reduce government spending and the federal deficit, an emphasis on helping private enterprise, and seeks a lessenign of Ottawa involvement in laungage policy. There may be tension as the very useful to him

TURNER'S WAY TO THE TOP

Born Richmond, Surrey, June 7, 1929, son of British journalist Leonard Turner and Canadian Phyllis Gregory. Father died when he was three, mother returned to Canada with John and his sister ferumen to Caragoa with John and his sister Erenda. Mrs Turner married Vancouver businessman Frank Ross when John was 16 Educated Ottawa and University of British Columbia's Rhodes Scholar, Oxford, 1949-51, followed by party's "liberal heart" tries to influence him. The services of Mr Chretien, as a leading Quebecker, populist and Tru-deau man, will obviously be graduate studies at Sorbonne. Called to bar. Gray's Inn. 1953, joined Montreal law firm. 1954. Elected MP, 1962. Minister without portfolio, 1965. Minister of Justice and Attorney General, 1968: Minister of Finance. 1972, resigned. 1975; resigned as MP, 1976, joined law firm Toronto, company treatm. Planted English Kidner 1962.

Devaluation angers Zanzibar

Zanzibar - A 26 per cent devaluation of the Tanzanian shilling, announced last week under pressure from the International Monetary Fund, has angered Zanzibar's leaders because they were not consulted on the move (Charles Harrison writes).

It has aroused a fresh wave of dissatisfaction in Zanzibar with the 20-year-old treaty linking the island with mainland Tanzania. The discontent surfaced last year.

Border tension

Rabat - Morocco yesterday sought to lower mounting tension with Algenia after a border clash on Friday, during which the Algerians say two Moroccans were killed and 31 taken prisoner. An official communique published here said that a Moroccan patrol had gone into Algerian territory "by mistake".

Maputo purge

Maputo - President Machel, of Mozambique, after a cabinet purge, appointed Colonel Sergio Vietra, previously Deputy Defence Minister, as Security Minister and Colonel Jose Osear Monteiro, who had headed the Justice Ministry, as Internal Affairs Minister. Internal Affairs Minister.

French test

Wellington. - France yesterday carried out its nuclear test this year at its underground testing site at Mururoa Atoll, in French

NOW THERE'S NO BETTER VALUE ATANY PRICE.

Strange isn't it? Within a few short weeks of our launching the most stunning family car in a long while, our competitors seem to be falling over themselves to offer you special deals and cut

What a coincidence.

The new Fiat Regata.

Happily, you'll find your Fiat dealer has something very special to offer you. Even more happily, he's the only one who can offer you the most desirable new family car in years.

WHAT PRICE PEKFUKMANUE:

The Regata 100 Super's 1600 cc. twincam 100 bhp engine takes you from 0-60 moh in under 10 seconds. That's quicker than the Jaguar XJ6 3.4.

WHAT PRICE STANDARD EQUIPMENT?

The 100 Super gives you a far higher degree of specification than even the BMW 323i. Electric front windows, central door locking and steel sun roof are all standard. Then there's also tinted glass, 5-speed gearbox multi-function check control panel,

I adjustable steering column, 3 rear seal belts, 60-40 split folding rear seat, and a technologically advanced one-touch heating/ ventilation system.

WHAT PRICE COMFORT AND SPACE?

All five Regatas offer you more legroom and headroom than many "bigger" saloons. Also, we believe that a car that carries five... adults comfortably should do the same for their luggage. Hence the Regata's cavernous 18.1 cu. ft. boot (far bigger than, for example, that of the Granada).

WHAT PRICE ECONOMY?

The phenomenally frugal 70 Energy Saver with its unique Citymatic system delivers 54.3 mpg at a steady 56 mph, and 38.2 mpg around town. That's better, even.

Regata. THE NEW FRONT RUNNER

Jewish terrorism trial opens in uproar as relatives stage walk-out

Israeli history opened in uproar vesterday, as relatives of many of the 22 defendants walked out of the specially designed courtroom in protest against the presence of an Arab legal observer who, they claimed, was a representative of the Palestine Liberation Organiza-

There was pandemonium and a fierce exchange of insults when the judge refused to expel the besuited Palestinian attorney, who was in the Jerusa-lem District Court on behalf of the West Bank mayors who were maimed by car bombs which some of the accused are being charged with planting in 1980.

In the dock, often praying or reading religious texts, were some of the most senior figures in the West Bank movement, who faced charges ranging from membership of a "terrorist organization" and murder, to attempting to blow up some of Islam's holiest shrines.

None can yet be named or indentified by anything but a number, under a judge's ruling which has drawn criticism fro sections of the legal profession, and which will be reconsidered later today.

The trial, which is expected to last uniti autumn, could have serious political repercussions for next month's general elec-

Salvadorean guerrillas

step up war

From John Carlin

The civil war in El Salvador

bundo Marti National Liberatton Front (FMLN) this the guerrillas announced, also crop, the country's second most important source of foreign

Meanwhile, the Army has as or wounded so far this month.

Michael Jackson, the black

pop superstar, is a swindle, according to the Moscow cultural paper Sovietskaya Kultura. The twenty-year-old singing and dancing phenomenon, who has sold more than thirty-five million copies of the foisted on pop music fans the world over by brilliant marketing techniques and the genius of Quincy Jones, Jackson's manager and arranger.

"great show business swindles", Sorietskaya Kultura

said. It added that Jackson had once performed original black rock music but had sold his extreme, a vegetarian, sentimental and a religious be-ever", the paper declared, demning the pop star for ever in the eyes of all good Soviet citizens. "He wanted to be a hundred per cent white so much that he underwent plastic surgery", it added.

soul to a white audience. "He is apolitical in the

Both the album and the video tape of Thriller amount to n, Thriller, has been

adio Venceremos, that they

The biggest trial involving tion, and also be a factor in crippling two of them and alleged Jewish terrorists in widening the divide in Israeli blinding an Irraeli bomb society between religious and disposal secular Jews.

bantered with police guards, and received words of encouragement from the scores of not have a conference half because this is not a festival. But, on the other hand, it is not an Eichmann trial either."

What one critic described as the "picnic-type" atmosphere at an earlier hearing has already drawn complaints from the State Prosecutor's office. At one stage vestersay a member of the public could be heard above the hubbub, shouting: "This is not a

The accused, who left the court in annexed East Jerusalem in a police lorry, from which singing could be heard, are among 27 Jewish suspects originally arrested after an unsuccessful attempt in April to bomb five Arab buses.

ing three bombs in or near the cars of three Arab mayors - widening the divide in Israeli blinding an Irsraeli bomb ociety between religious and disposal expert – and also attacking the Islamic College in Despite the seriousness of the Hebron last summer, killing charges, yesterday's hearing was three Arabs and wounding 33.

marked by a relaxed, almost Some defendants are also easygoing atmosphere. The accused of conspiring to blow defendants, not handcuffed, up two mosques on Jerusalem's Temple Mount.

The case, which follows an extensive investigation by the relatives in the courtroom, until Shin Bet intelligence service, they staged their protest and has caused much soul-search-camped out instead in a nearby ing corridor.

A senior Justice Ministry official told reporters crowding the press benches: "We could to the press benches to the press benches to the press benches to the press benches to t zog, the President, have condemned anti-Arab offences, on the extreme right - especially many leaders of the Israelis living in the West Bank - have spoken out in favour of the

At yesterday's hearing de-fence lawyers sharply attacked what one claimed was the "lynch atmosphere" created by sections of the Israeli press

It was also requested that the trial of six of the 22 who are charged with murder be held separately. Judge Yaacov Bazak, who has been strongly criticized in sections of the Israeli media for allegedly being projudiced in favour of Jenich nsuccessful attempt in April to prejudiced in favour of Jewish omb five Arab buses.

Other charges include planthearing without giving any ruling and without setting a date

Sandinistas braced for new onslaught

orities are preparing to face a major offensive from Honduras-based guerrillas in the north. after reported successes against rebels near Costa Rica in the is beginning to heat up again after a period of military calm and intense political activity.

The junta also warned yesterday that it may suspend dialogue with the United States, started two weeks ago.

It would take this step if the US Senate approved $28m in weekend announced on one of their radio stations, Radio Venceremos, a new military aid to anti-Sandinista rebels, it campaign designed to "intensify said. The two countries opened the war". Having offered talks "without preconditions" a week before President Napoleon talks after a surprise visit here by the US Secretary of State. Mr George Shultz. Duarte's inauguration on June

The junta has been preparing 1. the guerrillas have now several thousand troops to face delivered their most aggressive message since just before the a northern rainy-season offensive expected from about 6,500 first round of the presidential men of the anti-Sandinista Nicaraguan Democratic Force (FDN), led by former Somoza The FMLN has warned drivers that it prohibits all traffic, indefinitely, on EI National Guards, and several thousand men from the Demo-Salvador's main roads which cratic Revolutionary Alliance will be mined. Earlier this week, (Arde).

This followed reports from NICAR will forbid the cultivation this bour. Costa Rica, that a weekyear of El Salvador's cotton long Sandinista mop-up in the south had routed several hundred ARDE fighters.

exchange. Coffee, the main Reports from San José, the crop, would be a target of Costa Rican capital, said at least sabotage operations, the guer- 14 bodies had been seen floating down the San Carlos river. According to one ARDE fighter about 300 ARDE men had least 8,000 troops mobilized for withdrawn into Costa Rica so three operations in the east of the country, attacking guerrilla positions. Casualties on both

The government of traditionsides have risen in the past ally neutral Costa Rica, which week, with the guerrillas claim- has no army, planned to declare me well over 100 soldiers killed a national emergency today, by which time about 1,000 Arde

The Kremlin is increasingly worried that what a Ukrainian paper recently called "empty and senseless Western Music" is crowding out "glorious, inspiring, Soviet songs".

Along with Western pop songs come what Soviet young-sters imagine to be Western fashions and attitudes, exemp-lified in T-shirts adorned with the American eagle or the stars and stripes. "We must not let the stars and stripes into our life at this time", one paper said, referring to the new cold

Most Russian pop fans know all about Michael Jackson, including the fact that he suffered second degree burns

when his hair caught fire during the making of a Pepsi Cola commercial. Aware that both Jackson and Pepsi seem glamorous to Russian young-ridiculed the way in which the hair burning incident had overshadowed riots in Miami and violence in Lebanon in the sters.

American media.

Sovietskava Kultura

Managua, AFP - Nicaragua's guerrillas were expected to have hard-pressed Sandinista auth- taken refuge there. They are to taken refuge there. They are to be deported. In Managua, the Sandinista Government indicated the gravity of the threat from the north by barring civilian planes from flying over Nicaragua to "avoid any danger. In the last few months anti-

Sandinistas have organized a number of air raids by light planes on Nicaraguan ports.

The Nicaraguan Defence Ministry said bloody fighting had already raged at the end of last week in the Jinotega region near the Honduran Border, more tha 125 miles north of Saturday Sandinista troops clashed near El Espino on the border with an estimated 300 FDN guerrillas, who later withdrew into Honduras after using rocket launchers and mortars. On Friday, anti-Sandinista commandos destroyed a farm cooperative less than 60 miles from Managua.

The threatened FDN offensive in the north would be the second since March, when it assembled an estimated 6,500 men. Authorities here called the march offensive the biggest in nearly four years of fighting.

One regional commander, eñor Manuel Salvatierra, Señor warned Nicaraguans that a war had already caused thousands of dead and wounded would be long.

The recently-appointed Nica-raguan National Committee to Support the Combatants last week made an international appeal for urgent supplies of Prison wash day: Iranian prisoners of war doing their laundry in the Ramadi military prison, west of Baghdad.

Iraq calls for more Arab help

Manama (AFP) – Iraq yesterday followed up its claim that Iran had violated a partial truce by accusing Arab states along the Gulf of not giving it enough help in its war against Iran

But the general reaction in the Gulf states to the truce, which was made under United Nations auspices remained one of satisfaction, with hopes that it could "change the course of the war". The truce covers attacks on civilian targets. Iraq accused Iran of firing 15 shells on Saturday at the Sayed Sadek district in Iraqi Kurdistan, and threatened reprisals. But Mr Tarek Aziz, the Foreign Minister, in a message to the UN Secretary General, Señor Javier Pêrez de Cuellar, also announced Iraq's acceptance of the truce, and asked him to send observers as quickly as possible. The UN announced in New York on Friday that it would send two teams to check on possible truce violations.

In an interview in the Bahraini daily Akhbar al-Khalij, the Iraqi Foreign Minister yesterday accused the Gulf Arab states of dragging their. feet over help against Iran.

Arguing that security in the Gulf Gulf was "indivisible", he called for the "utmost coordination" between Iraq and the six Gulf Council Member states, which met last week -Saudi Arabia, Kuwait, Bahrain, Oatar, the United Arab Emirates and Oman.

The Iraqi minister added that Iraq, while peace remained its "strategic objective" could not let Iran stop it from using its ports, closed since the start of the Gulf war in September 1980.

● TEHRAN: Hojatoleslam Hashemi Rafsanjani was seelected Speaker of the Iranian

Polish elections

fails, Warsaw says

From Roger Boyes, Warsaw

Claiming early successes against the Solidarity underground, the Polish authorities yesterday nervously staged nation wide council elections, the first popular test of support for the Government in four

Although many workers, students and former Solidarity activists have announced their intention to boycott the poll, official figures showed that the majority of Poles were casting their votes.

The Catholic Church leadership has pointedly ignored the elections and many priests went no further than urging their congregations to go "on long, healthy walks". Father Jezzy Popieluszko, a radical priest in Warsaw, told his flock that they made "the proper choice" by attending church rather than going to one of the 22,000 colling stations.

On Saturday night Cardinal Jozef Glemp, the Polish Pri-mate, hinted that the Church expected the release of some or all political prisoners after the elections. There were respon-sible people in all sectors of authorities" and they knew that the arrested and the imprisored should be freed as soon as possible, he said.

A little-known underground cell, calling itself "Interfactory Soldarity Agreement Union", had called for peaceful demonstrations near four polling stations after Mass yesterday morning. But nobody responded to the call, allowing the Government spokesman, Jerzy Urban to talk of a failure of the underground. In Gdansk, Mr Lech Walesa, the Solidarity leader, attended a service for Mr Bogdan Lis, the recently arrested underground organizer, and later, demonelections should be ignored, went fishing.

A token of the anxiety felt by the authorities came in the early morning, when two journalists, including The Times corresponSteel town march stopped by police

Shouting "down with the Junta", thousands of young Salidarity supporters marched through the streets of the steel producing city of Nowa Huta but they were dispersed by riot police. This was the only major incident during a day that was would boycott the polls, it was clear by the evening that a large majority of Poles had cast their votes.

of the election council about the turnout. At that stage in the Zurawia polling station in central Warsaw, secret policemen appeared to outnumber cent turnout in the whole of Poland and a slightly higher areas. Although this will be lower than the 99 per cent customary in communist elections it should be sufficient for the Government to declare a victory" over Solidarity. The Church hopes that it will give the Government the necessary confidence to release the 600 political prisoners held Polish jails.

The Solidarity underground has devised elaborate ways of checking whether Government turnout figures are falsified. But there is no reliable way of independently confirming the result, as some voters will be going to districts away from their normal neighbourhood and some will presumably spoil their votes.

incident during a day that was billed as a showdown between Solidarity and the authorities. Although many workers, students and young Solidarity sympathizers had said they

Government appear to allow for a 70 - 74 per

Some Solidarity cells have told their supporters to enter the polling station and drop an empty envelope in the ballot box. The actual ballot slip dent, were briefly detained by should then be removed and secret police at a polling station given to a Solidarity representative.

Solidarity boycott

President Mitterrand, in an impressively idealistic speech before the European Parliament, succeeded in striking the pose of a visionary statesman to vhom the British problem was an unworthy irritant. Meanwhile Britain has had an abortive go-it-alone attempt to bring down European air fares, and failed yet again to make any progress in its campaign for free movement of capital and a free insurance market. Other countries have been just as obstructive as Britain through the period, without any risk of finding themselves picked out for comment. It is all a kind of gamemanship.

So Sir Geoffrey Howe goes in to this round of talks in what is becoming his traditional role of the outsider. He could point to the fact that on most important issues like economic important issues like economic policy, agricultural reform, research, budget discipline, foreign policy and security. Britain is very much in the mainstream of EEC thinking, if not actually in the lead.

But the fact remains that however much Britain joins in Community life, it is doomed to be increasingly isolated for as long as the budget problem is

Ian Murray

Crackdown on | Orphan embryos dilemma

Cairo (AFP) - The hijackers of an Iranian military transport plane which landed at Luxor on Friday will leave Egypt as soon as a third country has agreed to compassion and unity.

The President, the ceremonial head of State, told his fully. In Delhi 2,000 Sikhs places had become a refuge for assassination of a great scholar, the city and continued with Giani Pratap Singh, a former priest of the Golden Temple, His life was taken because his deas did no conform to those of the extremists", he said.

the sanctity of all religiuos places", he said. He also managed to take a mark Martyrs Day, in com-memoration of those who died political rival in the Punjab Congress Party, the former Chief Minister, Mr Darbara Singh. Those in charge of the Zail Singh went on television to administration of Punjab canemphasize, as a Sikh, his not be absolved of responsibacking for the Government's bility in this matter", he said. Thanks to a huge police presence, martyrs' day protests gathered at Bangla Sahib Gurdwara the Temple of the "extremists and misguided Residence, built on the site where the eighth guru of the ment had decided most reluctantly to send in the security Krishen, lived. The proceedings began with a speeches calling for remembrance of Sant Jarnail Singh Bhindranwale. The flag of the indepent state of Khalistan which the Sikhs are demanding, Indians had to foster mutual was flown, and Mrs Gandhi was love and affection. "We have to burned in effigy and in photowale's picture.

Sinagar, the capital of Jammu and Kashmir, also passed off without serious incident.

Panjab went on during the weekend. The local secretary of Mrs Gandhi's Congress (I) party was assassinated in Juliundur A Hind monk was hacked to

shots at security forces. GANDHI LETTER: Mrs

Gandhi, the Indian Prime Minister, has written to Mrs Margaret Thatcher in an attempt to curb Sikh separatists living abroad, and has appealed on Australian and Canadian radio for communal peace Officials in London said

Fervent climax to Pope's Swiss visit Pope himself remarking in a greatly stimulated discussion of cluding "the spiritual misery homily at the number of vacant obstacles to ecumenical unity prevailing among young people From Alan McGregor

Jackson cult is giving Kremlin the blues

The Pope's six-day pastoral visit to Switzerland ended with a three-hour open-air Mass at Sion airport yesterday during which he ordained nine young

Sion is capital of the fervently Catholic canton of Valais, the Upper Rhone Valley, and the Mass, attended by 40,000, was sung by a massed choir of 460. 5110w-capped peaks sparkled in the sunshine with which the papal visit has been some othe places was well months. below expectations, with the seats. At Emmen airport wher parking for 10,000 cars was available, little more than a tenth of the space was occupied. The organizeers attributed this apparent lack of interest to some 30 hours of live television coverage of the visit, an aversion to traffic jams and the rival attraction of sports events. Another was the characteristic public reserve towards personality cult manifestations in a country where even the presilessed.

However, the turnout at individual for a maximum of 12

Nevertherless, the visit has

and the situation of the churches in a country with a population of 6.4 million in which Protestants now form the slimmest majority.
When the Pope flew back to

On the mend: Michael Jackson pointing to facial scars left by the filming accident.

In Moscow's discos and night clubs the fans remained mecouvinced,

At one night spot the had heard them on Western resident pop singer gave impec- radio and copied them

Rome last night he took with him a list of questions requiring answers for which his crowded programme had hardly provided the occasion. In addition to such funda-mentals as the Eucharist, birth control, remarriage after divorce and admission of women to the priesthood, the questions put to the Pope also concerned broader issues, in-

in a society totally dominted by money". At both Fribourg University and the Abbey of Einsiedeln the Pontiff had meetings with the theologians and priests seriously preoccu-pied by the inadequacy of their means to confront growing indifference to religion. We suffer from the fact that different forms of worship appearing in the church are either not recognized by Rome or are regarded only with scepticism", as one Swiss-German priest put it. "We wish to remain in dialogue and to involved in the production and hold out a hand rather than keeping it clenched

From Neil Kelly Bangkok Thailand is imposing tough new restrictions on ethnic Chinese and Vietnamese who

Chinese

in Thailand

have lived in the country for more than 30 years. Among the most affected are some 15,000 former members of the Nationalist (Knomintang) Chinese Army and their fami-lies, who fled to Thailand after the Communist victory 35 years They live in 13 villages close to the borders with Laos and Burma. Their areas have become almost autonomous states. Officials, now moving come there to establish Thai administration, say taxes will be imposed where there was none before. Chinese-language schools with text books and curricula form Taiwan are to be replaced with Thai education. Chinese will not be permitted to travel outside their own areas without official sanction and they must surrender all weapons. Some have acquired Thai nationality but they will lose it if they are found to have been involved in drug dealing or other serious crimes.

The Thai Government's aim. officials say, is to climinate drug trafficking and other illegal activities and to strengthen border security. The Knomintang group has for decades been sale of opium and heroin.

Melbourne (Reuter) - Ausin Chile last year has left what trailian authorities are studying are believed to be the world's the legal and moral issues first test-tube orphans.

regarding two frozen test-tube embryos after their parents died in an aircraft crash.

The deaths of Mario Rios, aged 57, and wife Elsa aged 40, memoration of those who died in the Army's seizure of the listeners that the Sikh holy

The agency ordered the checks of the aircraft instru-ment panels on May 25, after a cockpit fire on a Northwest Airlines aircraft. The inventgation of that incident disclosed that part of the wiring had been installed incorrectly. The FAA then ordered airlines now flying the 165 DC10s in service to investigate whether the same wiring error had been made in tration disclosed. ·

Wiring fault

in jets

fire hazard

Washington (AP) - A special inspection programme has uncovered incorrect wiring that could cause fires in 80 DC10 jets being used by US, airlines, The Federal Aviation Adminis-

European

Notebook

hit list in

Euro game

With the European elections

out of the way, negotiations can at last resume on the EEC's longest-running and least savoury attraction, the British budget problem. The show has been resting in the wings for the best part of three months

now, with no government

prepared to say or do things which would undermine its position before its own electors.

But today, the 169th anniver-sary of the Battle of Waterloo,

the foreign ministers meet in Luxembourg to take up the action where they left off in early April. With no votes to be quickly won or lost they will all be the freer to make concessions and less anxious to Mrs Thatcher said last week that there was a great deal of work to do in the run-up to the work left to do. An agree was put on the table at the inconclusive summit in March which everyone could have accepted if the figures it contained had been right. Provided the formula in that agreement is still available no time-consuming detailed nego-tiation remains.

If there is failure at Foutainebleau it will not be for lack of time or understanding of the issues, both of which were factors in Brussels.

Failure will be wilful, with all concerned preferring to face the consequences of collapse to the consequences of an agree-

Although there have been no real nogotiations since April, there has been a subtle tactic employed by France, from the chair of the Council of Ministers, to draw attention to any occasion when Britain falls out of line with mainstream com-

An accusing French finger was pointed earlier this mouth, for example, when Britain alone blocked proposals before the finance and the social affairs councils. It was also found wanting in community spirit for standing against rules to govern misleading advertisment they do not like.

munity thinking.

SCORE DOINTS.

Britain tops | could be a their planes as well. Inspections have been completted on 143 planes and the miswiring problem was found in 80 of them.

Lethal pellet

Rabat - An official enquiry into the deaths in Ben Misk Prefecture, Southern Morocco, of six members of one family has revealed that they died of radiation caused by a small radioactive pellet imported by a local company for industrial purposed.

Biggest dam

Yichang, China (Reuter) -The Chinese Government is studying plans to build what could be the world's biggest hydroelectric project on the Yangtse river, and could soon make a decision on when to go

Queensland title

Sir Job Bjelke Petersen, the arch-conservative Premier of Queensland who was created a Knight Commander of the Order of St Michael and St George in the in the Queen's birthday honours

Zapu ban

Kwekwe, Zimbabwe (Reuter) - Mr Joshua Nkomo's Zapu party has been banned indefinitely from bolding political meetings in the Midlands province, the Minister for Security, Mr Emmerson

Trigger happy

Dar es Salaam (AFP) - Police in Tanzania are having their guns withdrawn after innocent civilians have been killed during routine patrols in the past few months.

Name game

Moscow (Reuter) - A deputy fire chief and his postmistress wife have been jailed for 20 years for using dozens of fictitious names to collect extra fire-fighting bonuses, the news-paper Sovietskaya Rossiya re-

grant - vi li

her \fgh:

der bonst pulling the kl20:25-2:

Spirital Parada

And the beauty of the second o

Application of the state of the

Maril 1

of the Gard med

In contempt

Port Louis (Reuter) - The Mauritian opposition leader, Mr Paul Berenger, has been suspended from Parliament after telling the Deputy Speaker, Mr Yusuf Mohamed, to "go to give them refuge, an Egyptian official said. The plane will be

Refuge sought

Aftermath of temple battle

Sikhs mourn Amritsar dead heal the wounds and maintain

Sikhs up and down India put on black turbans yesterday to Golden Temple of Amritsar. At the same time President action, and to appeal for

He spoke movingly of the procession of scooters through graphs. A few arrests were made of young Sikhs sporting badges with Sant Bhindran-

A similar demonstration in But the spadmodic terrorism which has continued to bedevil death in a village close to Juliundur, and when another village was being cordoned and searched, extremists fired eight however that the letter had not been received.

Uruguay detains popular opposition leader after 11 years in exile

ment dispatched a good portion of its Navy and mounted a spectacular security operation at the weekend to arrest Señor Seregni, for more than eight video defied military warnings. Wilson Ferreira Aldunate, the years. country's most popular oppo-

military aircraft intercepted the commercial passenger liner carrying Senor Ferreira and 500 supporters from Buenos Aires, and a coast guard officer arrested the politician. Also arrested was Senor Ferreira's son, Juan Raul Ferreira, aged 32, a popular politician in his own right, The Interior Minister, Gen-rai Julio Rapela, confirmed later that Schor Ferreira and his son were being held at separate military bases outside Montevideo and said they would be turned over to a military court.

The Government is most at the stress of their leader.

Party sources said they would renew their decision not to participate in political megotiations which the Government is holding with two other parties to set conditions for the electrons it has a premised to the stress of their leader.

The Government is reported to allege that Señor Ferreira has in November this year. committed a series of crimes, including "associating with in politics for life to save face subversives" and "attacking the with hard-line factions in the moral fibre of the armed Army.

Speculation yesterday centred other party leaders claimed his arrest as a victory in their struggle against the government, arrest could cause a split among any in would discredit the the military. General Rapela regime and force the military to said on Saturday that the call elections sooner. politician had his supporters politician had his supporters Delegations of legislators even among top military lead- from the US and several Latin

Urugnay's military govern- to make a political martyr out this week to seek Senor and the presence of tanks and Political sources said it was riot troops in the streets to sition leader, as he returned likely that the government celebrate his return from exile.

Note that the government celebrate his return from exile.

The demonstrations continued Half a dozen ships and two Ferreira within a few weeks, but even after news of his arrest would ban him from taking part leaked out, but no violence was

Party to spurn negotiations reported.

of Montevideo.

"This was a victory for commonsense and for the people". Señor Ferreira said on board the ship after being notifed of his arrest some 20

nautical miles outside the port

"I have never liked farewells.

but this time I am confident I am saying farewell for a much shorter time than in the past",

he said as he was taken into

He was kept under guard until the ship finally made port, when he was handed over to military authorities and

His arrest came near the end of a colourful and adventurous overnight journey across the River Plate from Buenos Aires.

His ship was shadowed by two began manoeuvring nearby and military aircraft made passes whisked away in a helicopter.

The leadership of Señor Ferreira's National (Blanco) Party was meeting yesterday to decide what action to take after the arrest of their leader.

Ironically, Señor Ferreira and

The military have no desire pected to arrive in Montevideo

Under arrest: Senor Ferreira gives the victory sign as he is led away on his return to Uruguay.

British Ambassador's broadcast cancelled

Relations with Russia soured

Diplomats said yesterday that welcomed the Soviert Union as the cancellation at the weekend of a television broadcast by the British Ambassador in Moscow weeks of Sir Geoffrey Howe, the Foreign Secretary.

Sir Iain Sutherland was to have appeared during the nine o'clock evening news to mark the Queen's official birthday with an address to Soviet viewers on the need for East-West dialogue. Soviet censors in 1941, demanded two cuts in the text, however, and cancelled the In one passage the ambassa- prepared to compromise.

dor, who speaks Russian, was to dor, who speaks Russian, was to Television addresses by have referred to mankind's foreign ambassadors in Moscow yearning for peace, saying that are a relatively recent innova-East-West relations would im- tion and are seen as a valuable prove if everyone had accesss to opportunity to talk to Soviet accurate information and if viewers directly. The British accurate information and if viewers directly. The British members of society at all levels Embassy received a large could travel each other's home-number of viewers' letters after authorities apparently objected to the implication that more stringent, however, and the ambassadors of France and accurate information and cannot travel freely, as well as to reference to Britain having the Kremlin the previous year.

an ally in the struggle against fascism in 1941. The Russians rarely refer to the first two years diplomats in Moscow as spics had soured the atmosphere of the second World War, when and provocateurs, a Soviet before the visit to Russia in two Nazi Germany and Soviet paper claimed at the weekend Russia had a non-aggression pact. Soviet propagandists play down the British and American roles in the fighting and recently poured scorn on the D-Day celebrations. Moscow's view is that Russia bore the brunt of

Diplomats said the two passages were not provocative, broadcast when Sir lain refused. and Sir lain had not been the war after the Nazi invasion

Sir lain's broadcast last year.

Censorship has since become the suggestion that there are levels in Soviet society.

The second cut concerned a been politically acceptable to GATIONS: In a further move designed to brand American that a member of the Americam Embassy staff had been caught dealing on the black market. On Saturday the trade union daily Trud named Mr Bruce Rosenberg Second Secretary in the economic department, and also accused him of spreading anti-Soviet propaganda, thereby neatly combining economic and political crimes in the minds of Soviet readers.

Trud said Mr Rosenberg, who is no longer in Moscow. had been forced to leave earlier this year after the authorities complained about his illegal trading in video recorders, cameras, radios and watches.

Several American diplomats, including four from the economic department, have been expelled as CIA agents as part of a campaign to show that the American Embassy is a nest of spies. Trial said Mr Rosenberg had distributed publications issued by Russian emigre organizations. An American Embassy spokesman declined to or more Uruguayan gunboats as soon as it entered Uruguayan three would meet Mr Deng and legislative councils have Hongkong's executive council waters at dawn on Saturday. As the boat moved closer to shore, four more navy vessels

Hongkong (Reuter) - China has invited three members of to visit Peking next Thursday for talks on the future of the British colony, China's senior representative in the colony

Mr Xu Jiatun, head of the Hongkong officials invited to Peking New China news agency bureau in Hongkong, told reporters the Xiaoping, the Chinese leader.

The delegation will be led by Sir S. Y. Chung, who went to London last month to lobby British politicians on a Sino-

Local Chinese members of the colony's advisory executive asked Britain to push for concrete guarantees to ensure the capitalist territory can retain its present economic and social systems after 1997.

Hint by Mondale of female number two nas said the American people were perfectly willing to accept a woman as Vice-President

"As a matter of fact, this is a Francisco. case where the people are substantially ahead of the politicians," the former Democratic Vice-President said. This is a prejudice that I think the American people have put behind them. Mr Mondale was speaking to reporters while standing beside Mrs Geraldine Ferraro, chairwoman of the Democratic Party's platform committee, at a vice-presidential prospect. his North Oaks, Minnesota home on Saturday. Of the the vice-presidency, women in contention, Mrs Ferraro said that the issue did Ferraro is considered to have not come up. "I'm here as head the best prospects of being Mr of the platform committee... Mondale's running mate against the Republican Reagan-Bush ticket in November.

Mrs Ferraro: Hailed as Democratic "star".

Pakistan protest over Afghan border bombing

would be entirely responsible for the consequences if such air violations and attacks were

An official statement issue

here yesterday said that Afghan aircraft dropped seven bombs on Saturday sear a frontier post north of the Khyber Pass. Four bombs had exploded. The dead and injured persons were described as Afghan nomads, known as repeated.

Mr Mondale met Mrs Ferra-Mondale, who ro, aged 48, to discuss policy this week begins interviewing campaign. He said they had prospective running mates, agreed not to discuss the number two position until after the party platform had been completed for next month's nomination convention in San Asked if Mr Ferraro met his qualification to be Vice-President, Mr Mondale said: "Yes". He said that Mrs Ferraro, who has represented the Queens Borough of New York city in the House of Representative since 1979, is "one of the stars of our political party". But Mr Mondale said he would neither include nor exclude her now as Asked if she had discussed Mrs Ferraro is the choice for vice-presidential candidate of Mr Thomas (Tip) O'Neill, the influential Speaker of the Democrat-controlled House.

This week Mr Mondale is also expected to meet Senator Lloyd Bentsen, of Texas, and Mayor Dianne Feinstien of San Francisco, who have often been mentioned as vice-presidential candidates.

The Mayor told reporters in Philadelphia on Saturday that she thought it was a very great honour to be considered for the party's vice-presidential nomination because she was a mayor, a woman and Jewish.
Those are all firsts, and in a sense life is an opening of doors. and those openings of doors stand for all time".

to fight iail sentence

From Hasan Akhtar Islamabad The Pakistani Foreign Min-Idaho Republican Represen-The Pakistani Foreign Ministry yesterday summoned the Afghan charge d'affaires in Islamabad to lodge a strong protest against the bombing by the Afghan Air Force on Saturday in which six Afghan children were killed and a woman was injured in Pakistan's horder area.

15 months imprisonment and fined $40,000 (£28,500) for filing false financial disclosure forms to Congress. A US district court judge sentenced Hansen on four counts of violating the 1978 gressional disclosure forms. Hansen, aged 53, told re-porters after the hearing he was not guilty and intended to win his appeal.

Congressman

From Our Own Correspondent

tative George Hansen has been sentenced to between five and Ethics in Government Act. He was allowed to remain free pending an appeal which his attorneys said they would lodge. Hansen, who won renomination for his eighth congressional term last month, was found guilty of failing to report $333,978 in loans and other transactions on his con-

You can have as much as £55,000 of insurance protection immediately... rising to £100,000 in the 10th year.

Your benefit amount increases at the rate of £1,000 per unit each year Premiums however remain the same throughout the 10-year term of your policy I UNIT | 2 UNITS | 3 UNITS | 4 UNITS | 5 UNITS

I			£11,000	£22,000	£33,000	$44,000	255,000
t	A	ge	Initial Sum	Initial Sum	Instal Sum	Initial Sum	Initial Sum
1	i .	Ass		Assured	Assured	Assured	Assured
1	Men	Women		MO	NTHLY PREM	UM
╢.	Upto30	Upto34	NA*	$4.18	£6.27	68.82	£10.45
1	31	35 -	NA	4.40	6.60	8.80	11.00
1	32	36	NA	4.74	7.11	9.48	11.85
l	33	37	NA	5.12	7.68	10.2 4	12.80·
(34	38	NA	5.56	8.34	11.12	13.90
1	35	39	NA .	6.08	9.12	12.16	15.20
ì	36	40	NA	6.76	10.14	13.52	16.90
l	37	41	NA	7.42	11.13	14.84	18.55
-	38	42	NA .	8.22	12.33	16.44	20.55
!	39	43	NA	9.20	13.80	18. 40	23.00
1	40	44	£5.12	10.24	15.36	29.48	25.60
	41	45	5.70	11.40	17.10	22.80	28.50
ı	42	46	6.33	12.66	18.99	25.32	31.65
1	43	47	7.03	14.06	21.09	28.12	35.15
ł	44	48	7.82	15.64	23.46	31.28	39.10
[45	49	8.82	17.64	26.46	35.28	44.10
1	46		9.7 9	19.58	29.37	39.16	48.95
	47	· 1	10.89	21.78	32.67	43.56	54.45
	48	}	12.23	24.46	36.69	48.92	61.15
[.]	49		13.59	27.18	40.77	54.36	67.95

SUN ALLIANCE GROUP pay here WHAT EU TO THE PINE THE WAY HE IN THE POPULATION. up to Eautuu worth of life cover for around £1 a week.

Designed to give the You can have as much as £55,000 worth of insurance immediately. available under High maximum amount of life cover with the least strain on appropriate premium—with no medical | your pocket. That's the promise of the High Value Protection Plan from Sun It's for families who want to safeguard their future, but find it tough making the money go round. Although the amount of life cover actually increases each year the small premium you started with stays the same. But we can only guarantee this valuable offer for a limited period. So work out from the table how much cover you need and what you can afford. Then send off the coupon without delay.

HOW DO I GET SUCH HIGH BENEFITS?

There's no costly investment or savings element as the premium is solely used to protect your life, and safeguard the future security of your family if you should die during the 10 year term.

CAN IT BE CANCELLED IF I BECOME ILL?

Once issued the company cannot cancel your insurance, provided premiums are paid. Whatever your state of health your policy guarantees full life cover (increasing every year) for the entire term.

WHAT ABOUT INFLATION?

With the built-in inflation fighter your sum assured increases annually by £1,000 per unit. So if at age 32 you select a benefit amount of £22,000 the annual increase of £2,000 boosts your life cover to £40,000 in the tenth year, while your premium remains at just £4.74 per month throughout - just over £1 a week.

IS IT CONVERTIBLE TO PERMANENT INSURANCE?

Yes! During the policy term you are guaranteed the right to convert your contract to alternative cover, such as endowment, whole life or level term assurance, at the then examination!

NO MEDICAL EXAMINATION We guarantee your acceptance during the limited period if you are under 50, can truthfully answer 'NO' to all three brief questions in the application, and sign the declaration. If you happen to answer 'YES' to any questions, you should send the relevant details with your application, and you may still be accepted.

You must disclose all facts which are relevant. Such facts are those that an insurer would regard as likely to influence the assessment and acceptance of a proposal. If you are in doubt as to the relevance of any particular information, you should disclose it as failure to do so may affect the benefits payable.

YOU DECIDE HOW MUCH COVER TO BUY You choose from the wide range of cover When you do there's no obligation and no salesman will call.

You select the number of units suited to your present needs (the cost of each depends on your sex and age).

SEND FOR YOUR SPECIMEN POLICY TODAY

If you can truthfully answer 'NO' to 3 easy questions and sign the short declaration, once the specimen policy arrives your acceptance will be guaranteed for 10 days. Assuming you like what you see, send your first payment and life cover will begin immediately.

> OFFER CLOSES ON 29th JUNE 1984

SUN ALLIANCE INSURANCE GROUP

ADDITORTAL CODA

	Surname	BLOCK LETTERS PLEA
	_
	Forenames to hun
	Address
		Postcode
	Sex: male/female Age_	Date of Birth/
	Name of Broker/Agent (if any)_ I wish to apply for:
	L. 5 Units (max) 4 Units Please tick YES or NO to each question	Wife NO.
)	(a) During the last five years have you ever received, or are you now receiv- ing, any treatment for any medical condition or have you ever been an in-patient in any medical establish- ment?	DECLARATION I declare that I am in good health and that the statements made by me in connection with the application are accurate, complete and truthfly and shall form the basis of the contract of insurance. I consent to the Sun Alliance seeking
	(b) Do you engage in any hazardous occupation or activity (such as private aviation or deep-sea diving)?	information from any company to which a pro- posal has been made for insurance on my life
	(c) Has a proposal made to any insur- ance company on your life been deckned, postponed, or accepted or special terms?	,00 .
	Date S	ignature

Sun Albanco & London Assumance Co. Ltd., Bertholomew Lame, London BC2N 2AB. Reg. in England 894615

tan's border area. A Foreign Office official said that the Kabul authorities oppressive circumstances. The detainees at the Mamak military prison here took turns to meet their fathers for 20 that more deaths were immi-minutes, while the prison nent as most of the 14 authorities tried to make the remaining fasters in the hospital occasion more cheerful with lemonde and biscuits.

However, the meetings were on April 11 by 266 prisoners, far from cheerful, at least in including 26 women, according Istanbul's Metris and Sagmalcilar prisons, where a death fast has been in progress for more than two months. So far two deaths have been reported.

Father's Day break for Turkish prisoners

From Rasit Gurdilek, Ankara

alleged member of the Turkish torture of political prisoners.

ent that a hardcore of prisoners Mehmet Fatih Oktulmus, an their demand for an end to were beyond help. The hunger strike was started to a statement issued by the General Staff Headquarters Since then it became appar were determined to die to back

"Fathers Day" provided a League of Revolutionary rare opportunity yesterday, as Communists, died yesterday in had Mother's Day last month, for Turkish political prisoners hospital, according to sources to meet their families in less close to the prisoners here. Another hunger striker, Abdullah Meral, died last Friday, the sources said, adding English National Opera approach Wednesday's historic opening at the Met in New York in great heart after a triumphant month in the south of the United States:

John Higgins reports from New Orleans

On the way to the Lincoln Center the English National Opera have surely collected more records. The 350-strong team is likely to be the largest English artistic contingent to have visited America, although perhaps there was something in the ast century to rival them - ask Barnum and Bailey. They are reckened to be the first grand opera. company from Britain to have toured Texas. And they are certainly the first European operatic visitors to New Orleans since the war, the previous ones being the Salzburg Opera Guild which had a number of distinguished Hungarian singers) in 1937. And in San Antonio, home of the Alame and the only three-storey Macdonald's in Texas, ENO have ust given the American stage premiere of Britten's Gloriana.

Beyond the Operatic Book of Records lie more important achievements. Over the past four weeks ENO have been giving Texas a taste el an unfamiliar type of musici ensemble opera. Texas for most of its length and breadth is star-struck; no surprise in a state where big tends to be beautiful. Opera, where it exists, is likely to play in limited seasons well eappered with famous names. It is the singers not the songs that sell the

At the end of a performance of Prokodev's War and Peace on the campus of the University of Texas in Austin a faculty member came up to ENO's music director Mark Elder, who is having an immensely successful tour, and said: "You're not ust an opera company, you're missionaries". The mission began three years ago when a group of Texans funched at the Coliscum on the eve of the Royal "cading. A tour was mooted and iouston was the first date to be

Anthony Bliss from the Met fol-lowed. New Orleans had its World

Fair. San Antonio its second arts festival and Austin its campus. The bookings almost chose themselves and local papers started running headlines announcing "The English are coming". And there were jokes

They arrived with 17 container-loads of scenery and a full orchestra.

The latter was something Mark Elder insisted on and there were regular comments in the auditorium of

"Gee, an English orchestra". Indeed in Texas and Louisiana it is

On paper the repertoire seemed strange. Gloriana was personally championed by ENO's managing director, Lord Harewood, and

Patience was selected to give the Met a taste of G.-& S. Both had gone to Vienna almost a decade ago and what was exportable in the Seventies something of a rare species.

date played.

about Paul Revere.

Britain's spectacular

musical missionaries

Lord Harewood: concedes that the tour is one of the mountain-tops of bis achievement

War and Peace was a risk, but it paid off handsomely in Austin, with a 12minute ovation. So was Turn of the Screw and in San Antonio, its only tour date, it returned lesser dividends in a theatre totally unsuited to it. The Joachim Herz staging of Salome was on the original list, but the Met intimated that they had difficulty in selling this one even when Nilsson was around and suggested ENO find a replacement. Placido Domingo was among those who urged the cause of Rigoletto, and as usual he was right. The production is surely going to be ENO's visiting card this year and in those ahead.

Against all odds Gloriana may prove to be a second one. In San Antonio's poorly organized festival of which something in a second article - Britten's erratic opera of moving insights and tedious setpieces conquered its audience by the dazzle of the sets and costumes (Colin Graham and Alix Stone) and the quality of the musical perform-ance under Elder, Sarah Walker's Elizabeth has been rightly praised with Neil Howlett's Mountjoy and Richard Van Allan's Raleigh. But Arthur Davies's Essex, impetuous and emotional, was both new and excellent. Davies has seemed to grow in stature by the day on this

Arthur Davies: seems to grow daily in stature

San Antonio, where promotion

Mark Elder: insisted on taking a full orchestra, s having an immensely financial trouble. The New Orleans ate audiences after the 3,000 houses in Austin. But it did have an naper. The Times-Picarune, runs daily stories about who is going to be paid and who is not going to be paid - the latter group appear to be in the ascendancy. Front page pictures show Governor Edwards either with his head in his hands or with his eyes scanning the horizon for a loan.

So ENO's arrival was a well-kept secret. A thousand posters improbably sent to the Army for distribution - the Recruiting Office? disappeared. There was no money available to open up the theatre for ekend rehearsals and the firstnight Rigoletto was cancelled. Touring in the South has its dangers. So Patience started the week and received an immediate standing ovation. The company is going to find the traditionally appreciative Coliseum audience a little reserved when the 1984-85 season opens.

Again it was the quality of the ensemble that drew the cheers, plus in a guffaw.

Opera in England

ENO's ability to show on stage a face as gleaming as the helmets of Colonel Calverly's men. Patience, like Gloriana, looked as though it had been minted yesterday instead of fifteen years ago. There is one major weakness in the casting, but Anne Collins, Derek Hammond-Stroud and Eric Shilling took New Orleans, or N'awlins as we learnt to pronounce it, back to their favourite days of vaudeville and would have been a credit to the Cotton Blossom itself. Alan Opie (Grosvenor) joined Arthur Davies as one of the fastest tour developers. By the Thursday the word had got around and Rigoletto at last played to a packed house, with Davies and John Rawnsley, who is now as much the Miller Rigoletto as Rupert Davies was Simenon's Maigret, getting special cheers:

On the eve of the Met a season in Los Angeles, where Covent Garden will be in a month's time, looks set for next year, including a couple of for next year, including a couple of performances at the Hollywood Bowl. The repertory is likely to be rather different: The Bartered Bride, The Flying Dutchman, Midsummer Marriage, Manon and of course Rigoletto are among the operas under discussion. That will be at the send of Lord Horswood's tenure as end of Lord Harewood's tenure as managing director of the ENO. Some see this first American tour as the pinnacle of his achievement, but he disagrees. "Let's just say one of the mountain-tops. The achieve-ment, if there has been one, has been to watch ENO move into a higher division and be able to do a Sicilian Vespers or a Rusalka with native singers.

ENO arrive in New York on a high. But they will have learnt two major lessons. The first is the danger of bringing chamber opera to massive theatres and the second is the need to keep more power in their own hands and less in those of the presenting managements. However, this looks like the first of many tours bringing opera in English to the world's most populous Englishspeaking country. Does Lord Hare-wood himself see this as the first move in ENO's colonization of America? Well talking as a descendant of George 10... The rest of the sentence was swallowed

HOW TO GET YOUR RETIREMENT PENSION DOW'S BENEFIT DURING DHSS IDUSTRIAL ACTION

DHSS apologises for the inconvenience caused by continued industrial action at its Newcastle computer centre. Because of this action there are changes in the way some benefits issued from Newcastle are being paid. Please check below to see whether you are affected, then follow the instructions.

- If you get your pension book from a local DHSS office because your retirement pension is combined with a supplementary pension, you will not
- 9 If you have a current order book continue to cash it at the post office in the usual way.
- If your order book runs out you can still be paid on it at the post office. Go there every week as the post office can pay only one week's pension at a time. Talle your old order book with you - and your second book if you have one. If you can't go to the post office yourself, someone else can collect your pension for you - but they must take evidence of their own identity with them.

But you can no longer be paid on your old order book if:

either your book was for widow's allowance (in which case contact your local DHSS office)

- or you have applied to change to payment by credit transfer (see below).
- If you are already paid by credit transfer payments will normally continue to be made to your account at the rate payable when the last payment was made. If no payment is made, contact your local DHSS office.
- If you have applied for payment by credit transfer but no payment has yet been made into your account contact your local DHSS office. Take your old order book with you, if you have one,

Fayable orders cannot be issued from Newcastle during the industrial action.

• If you are normally paid 4-weekly or quarterly by payable order contact your local DHSS office. Let them have the tear-off portion of the last payable order you received, if you still have it.

Contact your local DHSS office:

- if there is a change in your circumstances
- if you don't have your order book
- if you don't have enough money to live on and want to claim supplementary

Please do not write or send your order book to DHSS Newcastle until further

Issued by the Department of Health and Social Security

Così fan tutte

Glyndebourne

This is developing into some-thing of a Peter Hall season at Glyndebourne, especially now that his production of Cosi fan tutte has for a while taken the place of his Figuro in repertory with his new Poppea. But there is no cause here for complaint. For Cost, as for Figuro, Sir Peter and his designer John Bury found a perfect ambience in which this particular music can take place, the difference being that the house of the earlier opera, inhabited by real people, real furniture, real smells, is now replaced by a theatre. There is still a rich texture of in the setting of the girls amid the Jane Austen bourgeoisie, but the slightly sinister presence of a Pulcinello, invoked by Don Alfonso, keeps one from putting too much trust in appearances.

Both operas, however, have the same master of ceremonies. and I refer not to Sir George Christie, whose new honour was: loudly applauded before the performance, but to Claudio Desderi, stepping out from the Almavivas' service to become Don Alfonso. In doing so he has become a good deal more ill-humoured. This Don Alfonso clearly has old scores to settle against women, and hopes to do so through the charade he sets up. There is a hard anger and bitterness in the man, coming out in rasps of sound, or in the riveting stare with which he watches what happens. He has a

Mr Desderi sings and acts this dramatic aspect of the character magnificently, but the more musical Don Alfonso, and in particular the Don Alfonso who must reside at the bottom who acts and sings with winning of this opera's frequent ensembles, is much more palely This could be intentional, suggesting perhaps that Don Alfonso is happy to play the ringmaster but finds it irksome or distasteful to, take his own part in the tricks, but it

hispanic mayor, whose flashig white teeth, arresting good looks and merry whistle in the council chamber would have made him natural casting for Paramount or

Fox thirty years ago. He installed Lord Harewood as deputy Alcalde of San Antonio. "Earl", he commanded, "you are required to boost the beauties of La Villeta [San Antonio's old river quarter] and bring us other cultural attractions." Lord Harevood agreed. In New Orleans, where ENO's

Exposition, there was even less advance publicity, a mistake on the part of the promoters - ENO are fortunately playing for a flat fee. As Neil Howlett commented. "The British tend to resist hype, the Americans follow it". Part of the trouble was that the World Fair, just into its second month, is in deep senters are the Louisiana World does not sufficiently appear so to make the point. There are, however, other ings that more severely upset the balance of this precarious opera. Saturday night was not a happy one for Ryland Davies, who returns as Glyndebourne's Ferrando after a gap of 15 years. It also brought two newcomers to this country who showed understandable signs of nervousness in the first half, though in the second they were appealing. Delores Ziegler has a bright, delicious sweetness well suited to the role of Dorabella, and a fine Mozartian grace. J.

Patrick Raferty, singing his first

Mozart role, also grew into a secure stylishness, while singing with frank, manly strength. But the quartet of lovers was dominated by the Fiordiligi of Carol Vaness. After her outstanding performances . . as Donna Anna and Elettra in the since the part does not seem to suit her so well, either vocally or in temperament: It discloses weakness at the bottom of her voice, which obliges her to use too much chest tone, and there is not the same spine in the character. That lack though. she almost made up in her diefiant performances of the two big arias, where she was able to make use of her thrilling.

old production, is Jane Berbié, stirring chocolate or manipulating her magnets - to the as Verdi never causes him to orchestral music, which is conducted with character by

Paul Griffiths

Falstaff

Covent Garden Midsummer magic has at last touched the Royal Opera's Falstaff. Two years ago in Los Angeles (whither it returns next month), and then in London, it was difficult to say quite what was wrong in the musical realization of Rouald Eyre's first time with the Royal Opera, both much more relaxed and exquisitely conceived new production; but it was easy to sense that all was not right. The fact that at last the production has found itself, its time and its place is due in equal part to the ' as defly as the woodwind's Rolando Panerai:

Sir Colin, like Giulini before him, finds all the especial beauty and tender nuance of Verdi's last, most youthful score; but just as Boito wanted, last two Glyndebourne seasons, for Verdi, to "sprinkle the this is a trifle disappointing, whole comedy with merry love" like sugar on a tart, so every thread of mischief, mockery, hard sense and soft sensitivity is new, vivid detail with the abundant visual apercus of Eyre's production. As for Panerai, anyone who saw his Don Alfonso in the recent Casi would be entirely prepared for a consummate master of ceremonies. This Falstaff is deliciously and nonchalantly aware of his double audience; and, voice: as elegantly and knowingly turned as the minutest defuse: and turn every moment around his big fingers. And, just lose dignity, so there is never a hint of overstatement or cliche in Paneral's quietly individual and authoritative recreation.

He finds his equal in Marta Szirmay's ruddy, wise and utterly eccentric Mistress Quickly: her chestnut-brown voice and lusty appetite for life - and, indeed, Verdi's music seem to owe quite rightly, just as much to Boccaccio as to Shakespeare. Her every minute on stage is a masterpiece of originality and comic timing.

In a cast nearly all of whom are singing their roles for the ensemble has the performance tingling with momentum right up to the final fugue. The three women counterpoint each other conducting of Sir Colin Davis writing and playing Barbara and to the new Sir John, Daniels finding the actressy flair and self-awareness of Alice Ford. Anne Howells beguilingly musical as Meg Page, and Marie McLaughlin as Nanetta, from her first soaring phrase to her brief reign as fairy queen, drawing every vocal line in finest silverpoint.

Against the bright colours of their game-playing. Thomas Allen is a compelling Ford, his jealousy monologue dark-etched, the shadows of Otello not far behind. Jerry Hadley makes a most welcome house debut as Fenton, and Kim Begley's Bardolph epitomizes the painstakingly individual appropriation of every strand of humanity which this production now so affectionately and completely realizes.

Hilary Finch

Television

The Despina, another sur-vivor like Mr Davies from the ardent top register.

Stock feminist responses

"It's not always exactly clear what is happening": article on The Women's Olamai (BBC2) in the Radio Times. You can say that again. The general drift was clear enough, but the finer points were lost in a sea of mud, milk, sacred saliva and Waters of Parturition

Some olamals are better than others said a happy and exhausted participant after the two-week (in our case, twohour) fertility rite, but this particular one had been marvellous. Ole Kopio, the initially reluctant master of ceremonies, had turned up trumps. Had we not noticed, she asked, that special little gesture he made, the way those palm fronds had been placed, and the fact that they had been given honevcombs to kneel on as they drank the waters of parturition? Well, actually, no. Viewers who wondered why it was so good may have concluded that the presence of the cameras had something to do with it, but to admit that on screen would have been to give the wrong impression. The right impression, as the RT eloquently made clear, was that this was Reality uncontaminated by western influences, and unclouded by theoretical interpretation. Commentary had been "deliberately kept to a minimum". Melissa Llewelyn-Davies, progenitrix of this opening episode in her "serious soap-opera" of everyday Maasai folk, wants to give us "the experience of being in a very foreign culture and trying to make sense of what's going on". Just like anthropologists – with Land Rovers, cine-cameras and heavy baggage of stock feminist responses.

During her stay with the tribe Ms Liewelyn-Davies had apparently unloaded much of her own baggage. She had tussled with the ruling class as fiercely as the women did in her film. and had come to appreciate the necessity for their desperately convoluted ploys. "Women have nothing of their own". observed an intelligent, charming and gorgeously bedecked (if shaven-headed) young wife at the film's outset. The iron labyrinth of patriarchal taboos through which the women had to negotiate their right to hold their own ceremony needed no commentary, feminist or otherwise, to point up the simple and terrible oppression.

They used every dodge in the rulebook, and eventually threatened revolt. The men, sage in their fluffy pink blankets, gave in and then whipped them straight back into line."You are only children." Chorus of wives and mothers: "Indeed we are!" "And it's bad if children do what?" - "If they disobey their fathers." But what if there had been no cameras?

The undeniable dramatic pathos came at a price: captions for slow readers, subutting by computer ("Cry, my age-mate, but stop shaking!"), and scenes of raucous hysteria so protracted as to make the head spin. If Spitting Image had not run its course it would certainly, over the coming weeks, have had something to say. Satire is easy - it's a thing that appeals to small talents. Thus Dennis Potter, in conversation with Marcel Berlins, on Questions (Channel 4). This was a piquant confrontation, in which the admirable former television critic kicked some rather too standard enquiries mercilessly round the studio. Michael Church

• E. J. Craddock's Publishing column has been held over for lack of space. Victor Hochhauser presents The incomparable

CHINESE ACROBATS Direct From Chungking

MONDAY NEXT, 25 JUNE UNTIL 7 JULY Ntly 7.30 (Mats Wed & Sat 2.30) 60 FANTASTIC ACROBATS GYMNASTS, DANCERS,

MAGICIANS AND TRICK CYCLISTS BOOK NOW LONDON COLISEUM St. Martin's Label, WC2N 4ES Bax Office $1,3363161 CC Banking rs 220,5252

station's

Exhilarating...impressive 'An uproarious evening' EVES 7.30, SAT MAT 2.00 Barbican Theatre

Multifunctionality by Olivetti.

How to invest in the future without investing ahead.

We call it Line One.

It's a series of multi-functional systems you can start today, and add to as your company grows.

(So you'll never have to crucify your cash-flow by buying a bigger system than you need.)

We'd be happy to show you that 'multifunctionality' is a great deal more than a rather ugly word.

But briefly it means you can have any number of work stations on which you can handle all the key tasks in your business.

Simultaneously or separately.

Research, design, accounts, production planning, stock control, management, data and word processing.

You can handle them all on the same Line One system.

You'll actually have a line of interconnecting processing units with the power to do what you need wherever you need it.

The Olivetti software is helpful, easy-to-use and very friendly.

If you will send us the coupon we will post you more information immediately.

			rie Belfer, British Olivetti, Ion SW15. Tel: 01-785 6666, Name			:
Address
Tel:
Position in Company		_ 01	ivett

SPECTRUM

Twenty-eight years ago this week, Britain was poised to detonate the largest nuclear bomb of the series tested in Australia. But the test went wrong and the full truth of the mishap has still not been revealed. David Watts and George Brock report

Ill wind at Monte Bello

From a distance they looked like dashes of icing sugar on the deep blue of the Indian ocean. Ninety miles off the north-western Austra-lian coast, the air over the Monte Bello islands was hot and still on June 19, 1956. On the mainland, clusters of sightseers peered at the horizon and out at sea, several ships swung round to point their bows to small 100-foot-high scaffolding tower on the islands. Loudspeakers told their passengers and crews to face in the other direction. With the completion of her fifth independent nuclear weapon test. Britain would be poised to move from being a mere atomic power to a superpower with an Hbomb. The countdown was per-formed by a young British scientist from the atomic weapons research station at Aldermaston, Dr (now Sir) Icuan Maddock with the nickname The Count of Monte Bello"

At 10.14am Western Australia time came the flash followed quickly by two massive cracks which could be heard 200 miles away. In the words of of one man on a nearby ship, "the sky was literally burning up". The mushroom cloud appeared over the horizon twice as fast as one a month carlier. It even looked different: the first was salmon pink, while this one quickly became a double-decker dark orange-grey mushroom and was bigger than anything before.

A fireball a mile wide swept up coral dust and fragments into the pillar of gas. The cloud had, after half an hour, taken on the shape of a blacksmith's anvil". It was the first clue to what the men who had detonated the bomb already feared: the wind, which they relied on to blow fallout out to sea, was not behaving as it should. High-altitude winds were blowing towards land.

Secretly, the alarm spread from the British command ship, Narvik and a top secret message of complaint was flashed from the acting Australian Prime Minister to the Narvik and relayed to London.

Because there has been so little investigation of the consequences, we may never know exactly how much damage was done, but we have uncovered evidence of im-mense anxiety behind the official facade of confidence. The story of n Masaid another episode in the row between the servicemen who served at the tests and their governments: Australian civilians were also at risk. This is what went wrong

Since 1952, when Britain had first exploded an atomic device, Aldermaston's weapons scientists had been working towards the thermonuclear H-bomb, already developed by the United States and well advanced by the Soviet Union. Formal Cabinet approval to produce such a device was given in 1954 and a 1957 deadline was set. Nuclear tests in the atmosphere would be banned before long. Time was short. Towards the end of 1955, a secret Whitehall committee known as "Buffalex" was preparing for elaborate tests at Maralinga, in the South Australian desert. Scouting for a future H-bomb test site on the Pacific islands was also under way.

Two new tests were suddenly inserted into the programme.

Aldermaston's scientists were designing the "trigger" for the future H-bomb – the small quantities of additional elements which in combination multiply the explosive power - and needed to put two theoretical designs to the tests. They were scheduled for April of the following year at the Monte Bello islands, site of Britain's first atomic tests four years earlier. They began under the code name "giraffe", later changed by the government committee which co-ordinated codewords to "Mosaic".

The men recall flurries of nervous activity

Although the tests were designed and run by Aldermaston scientists, other services took a close interest in experiments they could perform during the tests. Whitehall's Defence Research Policy Committee had reported to the Chiefs of Staff in 1953 that "the Navy required information on effects of various types of atomic explosions on ships, their contents and equipment". The memo went on to point out that only a very small proportion of the navy's requirements can be met at an inland site".

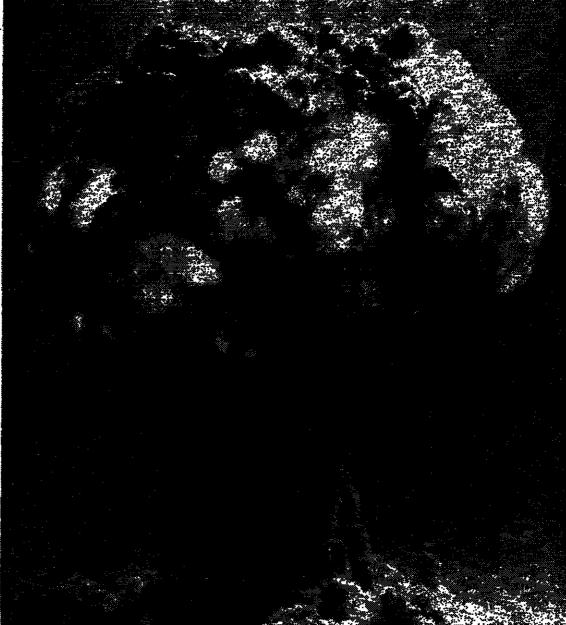

The first studies which had considered the Monte Bellos as a possible site for tests found that judging the weather would be of critical importance. Firing could only take place with an offshore wind and meteorological studies showed that such weather might occur only twice a month and last for two or three days. Certain times of the year were more favourable than others. Every test except the urgent Operation Mosiac took place either in September or October: the Mosiac firings, codenamed "G1" and "G2" were in May and June.

Charts showing the prevailing winds for the whole contintent show why the (English) autumn was preferred. Normal October winds are the least dangerous, both in speed and direction, for both the Monte Bellos and the inland sites. The prevailing (English) summer winds, particularly at 20,000ft and above are strongly from the east and were likely to blow fallout towards the mainland from the islands. Operation Mosaic had to be squeezed between the turbulent winds of January and February and the monsoons in mid-July when the second Mosaic explosion in June was delayed several times because of the weather. Time was running out.

The waiting boredom and iso-lation brought strain. Between the explosions there was a brief mutiny on the Narvik when a group of deckhands refused to obey an officer's order to move a landing craft. The incident was defused and the officer withdrawn from the ship. One scientist was sent home because he was considered "psychologically unsuitable" - and two seamen on the Narvik had breakdowns.

The second explosion carried a far higher risk simply because it was so large. Until very recently the British and Australian governments tried to conceal its true size. The January report of the Australian Ionizing Radiation Advisory Council (AIRAC) claims that "the explosive yields of the tests in Australia were all in the 'low' or kiloton' ranges, this means that in no case was the yield much more than the 20 kilotons normally associated with the nuclear weapons used on Japan.

The author of the AIRAC report, Dr G. M. Watson, told The Times that he had based what he wrote on information supplied by the British government. But in March this year the Government quietly slipped a list of the test yields into the House of Lords library without any public announcement. It shows that the second Mosaic explosion produced a 60-kiloton yield - the largest of any

Tattered souvenir: the official photograph of test G2

Hours after the second explosion. the wind changed. Men from the and relayed to London. It was Narvik recall flurries of nervous addressed to the senior Australian activity as the wind at several thousand feet blew towards the small towns on the coast: Onslow, Roebourne, Dampier and Port Hedland. They had white populations of a few hundred each and large numbers of aborigines. No one knows the number of aborigines involved, since they were not included in censuses until years

Fallout crossed the coast and hasty efforts were made to find out how much. Tests disclosed high levels of radioactivity in one town, but these were attributed to the presence of a uranium mine. An aircraft landed at Broome and a told; no information was given to member of the crew toured the town with a geiger counter. By the time it landed at Port Hedland it was contaminated and flew back to the RAF base near Perth for decontami-

the mid-afternoon a radio

Secondary Cloud?

Port Hadiand

Marble Bar

AUSTRALIA

message was received on the Narvik. official on board and to the senior naval officer, Commander Hugh Martell. According to one man who saw it, it was, in quite plain and direct language, an error of calculat-ing the wind direction had blown the cloud over the mainland. It ended up with something like. What the bloody hell is going on? I wish to make a formal complaint.

"The atmosphere in the office was very quiet and there were some worried looks among senior officers. They were more than put out, they were scared," said the source. Although rumours went round the ship, as few people as possible were the British journalists on board. Interviewed recently by The Times. the scientific director of the test Mr Charles Adams would only say "I can't say whether it comes as a surprise or not".

The acting Australian Prime Minister was Sir Arthur Fadden. who, while sending messages of complaint in private, assured the public that nothing was amiss. The report of the safety committee had concluded, he said, that there was no danger to the mainland.

The Australian Minister of Supply, Mr Howard Beale, issued a statement which admitted that, "at 15,000 to 20,000 feet, some cloud containing minute particles has drifted inland, although it is now tending to drift back towards the coast". This information, he said, "need cause no anxiety". He added that he would make a full report

That report was never issued. After the first explosion a month earlier, the Australian safety comassurance that nothing had gone wrong. This time, six days elapsed before chairman Professor Leslie Martin said that, "there had been no danger at any time". That same day, the committee had held an "enterg-meeting with Fadden and Beale. But by then the only public protests had died out and the press had lost interest

A number of the British officials and servicemen interviewed by The Times said that the wind change put the mainland at risk, while admitting that it did occur. Air Vice-Marshal Stewart Menaul, then the Group Captain in charge of collecting gas samples from the mushroom cloud, remembers Professor Martin saying, "Yes it would do that wouldn't it?" when asked about the wind. "The cloud was too high to do any damage", says Menaul, "and anyway these areas were very sparsely populated." Mr Adams says that there was "concern about the path of the cloud because the fallout might extend further than we thought".

Some fallout crossed the coastline

The Ministry of Defence in London refuses to discuss any details of any of the nuclear tests and appears keen to reduce discussion of them to a minimum. At one stage during our enquiries the MOD initially refused to release a list of contemporary press cuttings which had been prepared by the library at Aldermaston. After denying that the list existed, the ministry eventually released it.

Because the winds went different ways at different heights, there were two fallout clouds. The "primary" cloud had drifted north.

It was the "secondary" cloud which had drifted across the Australian coast.

The AIRAC report of last year says that after both Mosaic explosions "some early fallout crossed the coastline. These departures from an idealized fallout pattern can be explained by the presence of atmospheric temperature inversions...." The report lists the results from air sampling stations on the coastline, which show only very small fallout readings.

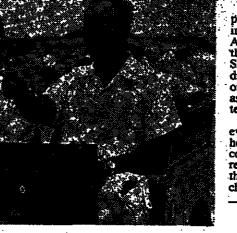

But no statistics are available for one sampling station, Dampier, and they are incomplete for Roebourne. The two stations were in a direct line between the islands and the inland town of Marble Bar. It was there that a miner, Sam Stubbs, took a radioactivity reading with his own geiger counter over 30 times the normal background radiation at three o'clock on the afternoon of the." blast. Two isolated and imusually high readings were taken in Queensland several days later.

Eighteen months after the tests, five members of the safety committee published a technical account of the weather conditions and fallout readings. It attracted little comment. It revealed for the first time that part of the secondary cloud from the first. Mosaic test had also crossed the coast, but contended that all harmful fallout had landed at sea.

The missing readings were only briefly mentioned: "As was capected, a number of mechanical failures occurred resulting in loss of samples."

position tests entirely on the incomplete official readings; the AIRAC report, however, argues that these omissions are insignificant. Since the tests, no surveys have been done to check the subsequent health. of the local populations: it has been assumed that the official readings, tell the whole story.

But if they do not, then the evidence is dispersed throughout the health records of those remote. communities. Nor has Britain ever released the information gathered by the Aldermaston scientists who chased the cloud.

Acting Prime Minister of Australia Arthur Fadden (left). The map shows the test site and operational commander Hugh Martell (right) and scientific director C. A. Adams

AUSTRALIA

Tomorrow The secret health tests

Miles Kington moreover...

(1 food article written after reading too many food articles) Many scientists now think that many of the stains left on our napkins are caused by the food we cat in the West. Surveys on napkins in the East show that (a) they do not use napkins in the East; (b) they are made of paper and thus disposable; (c) they don't call them serviettes, at least. The conclusions are startling and dramatic, accord-ing to a paper published by the

"No, I'm afraid we don't have a copy of the paper left." says its author, Henri of Chez Maurice, "Being paper, it got disposed of. But what we said was this: the main culprits in our dict are grape juice, bectroot Caspar Amino, author of a I'm taking a course of vitamins. This, however, is strongly and gravy, There is also a new new book called The Renais- E, A, D, G, B and E, disputed by Alan Geoffrey-peril: cuisine nouvelle. Many people eating cuisine nouvelle are left so hungry that they lick their plates and the saliva, which is a dilute acid, falls on the napkin and tablecloth and devours it. Ouf!"

Grape juice, experts now think, comes from the grape. It is a small red fruit which is grown in France, Italy and other south-facing countries. The juice is extracted, processed for many years into wine, and sent to England where it is poured over tablecloths, napkins, girls' dresses and men's trousers. Experts now think it would be cheaper to send the napkins out to France to have them stained. or perhaps just stay at home.

sance Diet points out that our forefathers never had this trouble with stained napkins. As evidence he draws up an impressive list of still life paintings of the time in which the linen is still pure white despite the presence of so much larrow is.

"The average canvas of which I'm speaking", he says, "contained one dead rabbit, one pomegranate, one orange and a small guitar. This simple diet not only kept their tableware clean, it also kept them extremely healthy. The vit-amins contained in one small guitar alone would be enough to keep the average Renaissance family well-fed for one month -

Renaissance napkins themselves had no nutritional value This is in stark contrast to recent findings by the Royal College of Dry Cleaners, who have discovered that the average West End restaurant napkin contains enough food values to

The new publication, The Napkin Diet, suggests that food content of napkins had increased by over 1,000% in the last 200 years and that there is more than enough there to keep the hungry part of the world satisfied, especially if they don't mind eating starch and the ink from restaurants' names.

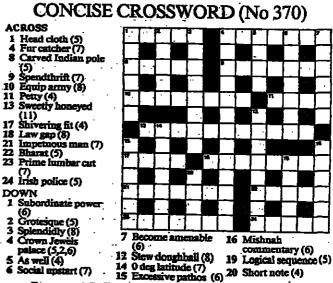

Cannon, author of An Ex-tremely Angry Book about Food Etc, who maintains that all the vitamins in western food have already disappeared down the kitchen sink after being boiled, steamed etc from our vegetables. He says that our kitchen sink pipes are chock full of vitamins which may in time breed a super-race of kitchen pests and that our napkins only contain cheap dye, permitted preservatives and melodies written down in an idle moment by Andrew Lloyd-

"But are these melodies truly sustaining?" he fumes. "I would say not, I would say that, in contrast to tunes written by Mozart and Schubert on the Mozart and Schubert on the and eat the results, he claims, as back of a menu, these modern long as you don't use a napkin.

Валкет.

productions contain only pro-cessed ideas derived mechanically from other sources. That is what I would say. Unfortu-nately, it's probably libelious."

The answer, for most of us, seems to be quite simple. When out in a restaurant, it doesn't much matter what you eat as long as you suck the essential juices from your napkin afterwards. But there is a book coming out next month which may render this theory old-fashioned at a stroke. It is called The Dietbook Diet, by Dr Alan Minestrone, and it claims simply that the average diet-book contains enough fibre and vitamins to see you through for a month. Just cook your book dictionary is the New Collins Concise

Everyday of the week at 4.15pm a Pan Am 747 takes off on a nonstop flight to Los Angeles, arriving at 7.15pm. What's more, there are also daily Pan Am flights nonstop to San Francisco and five nonstop flights a week to Seattle.

In fact, Pan Am has more nonstops to the West Coast than any other airline. Which makes it quite a starin its own right.

Call your Travel Agent or nearest Pan Am office.

Pan Am. You Can't Beat The Experience:

Daily To The Stars

MONDAY PAGE

Growing up down the line

Prince Henry

Younger relatives of the Royal Family are finding life less privileged than princelings of the past.

Alan Hamilton reports

their career prospects

rottic fallouis

the coast

 $A \leq 2$...

العجد من المنا

ames Ogilvy, George Earl of St. Andrews and Prince Edward have been fretting over university examinations. David Linley has been on the hunt for a new joinery workshop in south London, while Helen Windsor has been mastering the curlicues of conversational French at the Institut Français. Sarah Armstrong-Jones has been temping on film sets in India, and Peter Phillips has very naughty on the piano, while Prince William has been mixing with the press and squinting down a television camera.

What binds this motley youthful crew is that they, or at least their parents, are all members of the Royal-Family. The present young generation of Royals, partly through fashion but mainly through necessity, is the first to be making its own way in the world, sometimes through careers that border on the ordinary.

Gone, but only just, are the days when all Royal scions, at least the males, followed a military career, and it is worth recalling that the present monarch did not even go to school, being taught instead by tutors and governesses in her own home.

The tribe of Royal and nearly-Royal that it is now bigger than at any time to make their own independent ways since the days of Victoria. Most have managed to grow up in relative obscurity, a consummation they and their parents have, on the whole, devoutly wished. Some will become the Royal stars of tomorrow, but most

Because of great fecundity at the top of the Royal pyramid, the Queen herself having had four children and her eldest well on the way to his second, the sons and daughters of the present generation of peripheral Royals is unlikely to have much of a public children has increased to the extent role to play. They are being obliged much in the manner of private citizens. Private citizens, indeed, is what many of them are, and will

Mary Princess Royal

Countess of Harewood

The strict limiting of the Royal cachet stems from a shaft of foresight by the late King George V.

King George looked to his German cousins, and saw a tribe that was very much on the increase. Germany in the years before the Great War was awash with far more minor princelings than there could ever conceivably be thrones for them to occupy. It would do the standing of the House of Windsor no good at all, he perceived, if the English shires were similarly overpopulated with third-division Ruritanian royalty.

George could not of course legislate for the breeding pattern of his successors. But mindful of the fact that he himself had six children, he decreed that claims to title by his descendants should be strictly limited, in order that the cachet of Royal association might not become too diluted.

Prince Edward

Age 21

The titles "prince" and "princess", he ruled, could descend from him only through the male line; futhermore, the said titles could not descend further than his own grandchildren, with the exception of the reigning monarch's immediate family.

There are 34 direct descendants of George V living, but only ten can call themselves prince and princess. So Princess Margaret's daughter is a relatively plain Lady Sarah (her father being an Earl) and Princess Anne's son is a thoroughly down-to-earth Master Peter, his father being a commoner.

Even before the Princess of Wales burst upon the scene in the manner of a dazzling supernova, the lesser stars of the Royal galaxy had been moving steadily from the centre of the universe towards the outer darkness of the edges, where only the powerful telescopes of the more assiduous gossip Gloucester, all attend official functions columnists can pick them up. Lady Helen Windsor was born 12th in line of succession to the throne, but has now faded to 18th; James Ogilvy has slipped in his lifetime from 13th.

The Royal Line of Succession

Prince Michael

When Queen Elizabeth ascended the throne in 1952, there was a serious shortage of royal relatives of the right age to help shoulder the burden of public engagements; the royal road-show needs its corps of supporting players. Which is why someone as far down the line of succession as Princess Alexandra was recruited to the rota to open her share of municipal works and greet her quota of obscure provincial

Now, in addition to the Queen herself, a dozen members of her family help to perform the monarchy's public role. The Queen Mother, the Duke of Edinburgh, Princess Anne, Princess Margaret, the Princes Andrew and Edward, and Princess Alice Duchess of

to a greater or lesser degree, and have their expenses paid from the public purse through the Civil List.

The Dukes of Gloucester and Kent and their Duchesses, and Princess Alexandra, also maintain a high profile, but are chiefly funded by the Queen herself. But for the next generation, there are probably enough eligible members of the Queen's immediate family to form a full company of players on the Royal stage.

The foreseeable future unquestionably belongs to the Prince and Princess of Wales and their children, with the Princes Andrew and Edward providing the first line of reserves for public appearance. But the top of the tree is already beginning to look top-heavy with males; a further glamorous Royal female may need to be drawn forward from the background, and the likeliest candidate is Lady Sarah Armstrong-

Will the future permit a second division of royalty? Not even the Bennite left of the Labour Party has publicly proposed abolishing the monarchy, although they would like to transfer its residual powers to the Commons. What is entirely possible. however, is that a future Labour government might abolish the Civil List and restrict public funding only to the monarch. It would be an unpopular move with many, greatly curtailing the public appearances of the Royal circus.

For the moment the present generation of Royal children, some of them already grown to adulthood, continue to exert a great fascination, especially as the necessity to earn a living is sending them into the world in widely different directions. From the future King William down to Marina Ogilvy, 23rd in line of succession, none of them can quite shake off the cachet of being related to the highest in the land.

William last week: a rare outing into the limelight

Prince William: in line to be 63rd monarch

The boy who will be king

Assuming that neither his grandmother nor his father opts unlikely to attain the throne and closeted inner circle much before he is 40, but still at a younger age than that at which his father looks set to succeed. He will become the sixty-third monarch of all England since Egbert of Wessex, the fortysecond since the Conquest, and the most thoroughly British since James I, who was 75 per cent Scots. Debrett calculates William to be 55 per cent

For the moment, however, his parents' principal concern is to keep him out of the limelight as much as possible during his formative years; they will remember that the Queen threatened to take the young

PENNY

PERRICK

Time to join the men?

Club. "Look, Mr President", said the journalist, "I might sleep with them, but I'll be damned if I'll eat lunch with them". Mr President's response is unrecorded but I hope it was a withering look."

If the Silver Moon habituées are prepared to consort with men but not have a cup of upset by the opening of the Silver Moon, the arring revolution, abdi- Charles away from his prepara-

Prince John

Trincess Alexandra

Mrs Angus Ogilvy

alter his awesome destiny. One relatives, like Tamara and day he will be King William V - Edwina Grosvenor, the daugh-or, if he absolutely insists, King ters of the Duke of Westmins-Arthur, King Philip or King ter. The Romseys and the Louis. age, as do the Princess of Wales's sisters Jane and Sarah. for retirement through abdi- So there is already some escape cation. Prince William is for him from the immediate

William is described by his mother as a mini-tornado, a boisterous child with a welldeveloped talent for breaking things in his Kensington Palace apartments and flushing his shoes down the toilet. The Princess is keen that, as soon as he reaches the prescribed age of two and a half, William should commence schooling in the Montessori system of nursery education, originally developed as a method of teaching mentally handicapped children but now de rigeur among the smart young mothers of Sloane Square. The Princess herself worked Cation, or marrying a tory school at Cheam unless the press left him alone.

Arthur Philip Louis, Prince William of Wales, can do to alter his aways are supported by the pression of his parents' close friends and alter his aways are deciring the property of the parents' close friends and alter his aways are deciring the property of the parents' close friends and alter his aways are deciring the property of the parents' close friends and alter his aways are deciring the property of the parents' close friends and alter his aways are deciring the property of the parents' close friends and alter his aways are deciring the property of the parents' close friends and alter his aways are deciring the property of the parents' close friends and alter his aways are altered to the property of the parents' close friends and alter his aways are altered to the property of the parents' close friends and alter his aways are altered to the property of the parents are altered to the property of the parents' close friends and alter his aways are altered to the property of the parents' close friends and alter his aways are altered to the property of the parents' close friends and alter his aways are altered to the property of the parents' close friends and alter his aways are altered to the property of the parents' close friends and alter his aways are altered to the property of the parents' close friends and alter his aways are altered to the property of the parents' close friends and alter his aways are altered to the property of the parents' close friends and alter his aways are altered to the property of the parents' close friends and alter his aways are altered to the property of the parents' close friends and alter his aways are altered to the property of the parents' close friends and alter his aways are altered to the parents' close friends and alter his aways are altered to the parents' close friends and alter his aways are altered to the parents' close friends and alter his aways are altered to the parents' close friends School, five minutes walk for of training for kingship. the Palace.

> break with tradition and send him to a state primary school for a short period. For his secondary schooling he will probably follow his father and grandfather to Gordonstoun, or

Wales coast near Barry. Both schools follow the Kurt Hahn tradition of training for leadership. Hahn, a German Jew who fled from Hitler, set up his first school in the 1920s to train a new generation of German leaders after the defeat of 1918; his view was that academic prowess is by no means the most important requirement for future leaders.

it in Kensington Palace, she is is still likely to dictate a brief likely to despatch William to career in the armed services. the Pooh Corner Montessori still regarded as an essential part

When his father ascends the For his real education, a boarding school is almost Ill or King George V11, William certain, if only because it makes will fall heir to the revenues, privacy easier to maintain, currently yielding well over although his parents might well £500,000 a year, of the Duchy of Cornwall; he will also become Baron Renfrew and Lord of the Isles, but there is not much of a living to made out of either of Doubtless he will also find himself one day seated on a throne on the greensward amid to Atlantic College, an international school on the South the noble ruin of Caernaryon him Prince of Wales.

TOMORROW

The private lives of Peter, Zara David and Sarah

Prince Edward: tipped for a profession

Royal back in the RAF?

Richard Louis, born-third in line of succession, now fourth, and soon, to descend to fifth with the birth of the Princess of Wales's second baby, is destined for a lifetime's role as a minor Royal. He will not be unhapy at that. Prince Edward, now 20, has a quiet temperament more suited to academic study than his poisterous brother Andrew, but he also has those piercing blue Windsor eyes and a manner which friends say can occasionally tend towards the imperious.

been tipped as the first member Festival Fringe in August. of the royal family to enter a profession, but his studies of

He himself has no great relish for an academic career, and admitted after his spell as a house totor in New Zealand that he was not cut out to be a teacher. He would much rather At present on a modest Civil emulate his brothers exploits in List, allowance of £20,000 a the forces: he was one of only 31 year, which chiefly goes to pay out of 2,000 hopefuls to pass the for a secretary. Prince Edward Royal Marines gruelling assessment test in his year, and will in oue course when he should-join their officer training school

ris Royal Highness the he is at Cambridge, under their Prince Edward Antony usual graduate entry scheme. Richard Louis, born He has also taken a short flying third in line of sucthat service entertained some hope that he might be the first royal to join them since the old Duke of Kent, who was killed in an air crash in 1942.

He enjoys sport; he is a good skier, has played second fifteen rugby for his college, and enjoys sailing. And inevitably, his name has been linked with girls, the strongest liaison of recent months apparently being with Some see in him a passing resemblance to Edward Fox's television portrayal of King Edward VIII. ward VIII. glandular fever, Edward pro-Being less in the limelight at duced this year's Cambridge Cambridge than his brother University rag week revue, Charles was, Edward has more "Glitter Ball Prizes", and hopes chance of serious study. He has to take it to the Edinburgh

When younger, Edward archaeology and anthropology managed to achieve a relatively make it difficult to imagine publicity-free adolescence, travwhich profession it would be elling on school trips abroad as Nevertheless he feels a strong plain Edward Bishop. But being commitment to prove himself so high up the ladder of academically, after the mutter- succession he inevitably faces a ings from fellow students that public life in future; indeed he they would never have gained a performed his first official tree-place at Jesus with his offering planting at the age of 14. of 9 °0' Levels and 3 'A' levels at Whether he becomes a career Marine, or whether he becomes "something in the City" like Prince Michael of Kent and Angus Ogilivy, his public duties will occupy a major part of his

at Lympstone in Devon after duties, although it will not be two more years at Cambridge. until he has fulfilled his
The Marines are already minimum three-year compaying him £4,575 a year while mission in the Marines.

Edward enjoys sport: plays 2nd XV rugby

He may also expect a dukedom, although a title in itself will provide him with neither land nor money. Since 1337 all the younger sons of created Duke of Gloucester, at monarchs have become dukes; that time vacant, According to unfortunately history has proved them to be a somewhat unlucky breed. The dukedom of Sussex has long been vacant, and is the likeliest choice for him. The long-standing moratorium on hereditary pecrages has been broken by Mrs Thatcher with grants of title to William Whitelaw and Harold Macmillan, making the climate kinder for the creation of a fresh royal duke.

and the second of the second

Edward is in the same constitutional position as Prince Henry, fourth son of King George V. Henry was created Duke of Gloucester, at the rules created by George V, Edward's children will be granted the title Prince or Princess. But for any of that family eventually to accede to the throne would require a monstrous cataclysm that wiped out the Prince of Wales and all his family, together with Prince Andrew and any family that he plots in order to combat male infamies. So all luck to the new Women's Computer Centre, whose purpose is to help women get on top of technology, to the point where men won't be able to grab all the best jobs available in the field. may have.

It is only right to exclude men from the WCC, since, in the presence of computers, they He would be Edward the turn nasty and very proprieto-Ninth, rial. It is churlish to exclude them from the Silver Moon, for I doubt whether any woman has ever felt threatened by a male cating quiche or buying a Virago Modern Classic. To ban them from the premises is stretching feminism farther than it needs to be stretched for. as Fay Weldon wrote recently and wisely, ideas, once out-rageous about women's rights "have been sopped up into society by the osmotic processe of consensus. They now seem quite ordinary and everyday". Even so, very few days go by without my receiving notice that some woman, somewhere, is still fighting the fight that she has probably already won. I know, we all know, that first women's bookshop and cafe in central Gwen John was horribly put upon and Christina Rossetti especially when I should have been made Poet learnt that its women's only cafe Laureate but that all happened has to be run as a proprietary club to get round the Sex Discrimination laws. before Ms Weldon's sopping-up process began. Now that it has, it would be beneficial to This exclusivity reminds me everyone concerned if women of a reported conversation were to chance their arm a bit between John F. Kennedy and a and start to mingle. journalist about admitting women to the all-male Gridiron

I shall always be grateful to Virago Modern Classics for putting in front of my nose excellent, and out of print authors, such as Rosamond Lehmann, Storm Jameson and Antonia White. But, at the risk of annoying the firm's founder, the redoubtable Carmen Callil. some of the writing that was born again between Virago's beautiful shiny green wrappers coffee with them, they deserve nere is much to be said for women keeping themselves to themselves when the presence of men might inhibit or clark or when there is a need to hatch ago and picked up a William

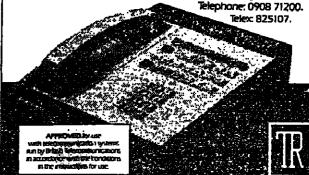

> The New York office of Daniel Manella, the head of Faberge Inc., carries informality too far It has a two-person showe boused in what looks like a grotto, its own cinema and a bar with a chrome-plated robot bartender. A great place for a party, but a weird one for the presentation of an interim

Why can't my phone dial internally and externally, Cathy? Why can't it work hands-free?

And show who's engaged?

Better call Telephone Rentals about a new key telephone system, Cathy.

> The TR816 from TR means a highly automated intelligent phone system for small and medium businesses. The compact TR816, so easy to use. On-hook dialling, visual call status display single-button internal calling, call transfer feature ... and more besides On sale or rent, the 816 can mean no large initial outlay, with the ability to extend and update with ease. Above all, the 816 means the ' reassurance of dealing with Britain's largest company dedicated to business communications; with one of the country's most comprehensive service networks, Write, phone or telex for details, and discover what the TR816 and TR's service could mean to your company. Telephone Rentals plc, Dept. Ti, TR House, Bletchley Milton Keynes MK3 5JL. Telephone: 0908 71200.

PARIS DIARY

Frank Johnson

Top of the apathy poll

By the time these words appear, all countries of the Common Market will have voted in the European elections. But, although the results are not yet in, we can risk forecasting that none of the other contestants will have caught up with the thumping 70 per cent abstention scored by Britain last Thursday. All that is left is for Miss Katie

Boyle to award the Eurovision Apathy Contest prize once more to Le Royaume Uni, Over the weekend a certain amount of disapproval could be heard in Paris at the sheer scale of British boredom last Thursday, At first, some expatriates felt the need to invent justifications. which would appeal to French subtlety. What you must understand, one explained, was the British tradition-perfected over centuries of local government elections-of tactical abstention. A British voter would abstain in order to cancel out the abstention of a voter from another party. Such devices were a sign of a highly political people.

After a while, however, the expatriate adopted a more defiant tone. Britain's 70 per cent turnover was proof of a nation which refused to accept that matters of any importance were at issue. France was no different except that it lacked as many people with the social selfconfidence to abstain. For what points of interest were raised in France during the campaign?

Only two. M Jean Marie Le Pen, the leader of France's National Front, which is essentially the same as Britain's except that it has some support, said that homosexuality, "if it developed", would lead to the end of the world. And Mme Simone Veil, leader of the Conservative opposition list of candidates, who is lewish, said in the last days of the campaign that there were people in President Mitterrand's entourage who had done "worse things" than the newspaper magnate M Robert Hersant. She was replying to repeated charges (for which there appears to be some evidence) that M Hersant was a roaring anti-semite in his Vichyite youth.

First, M Le Pen, "Le Pen says homosexuality will cause end of world" was the only headline of the campaign in France, or probably in any other country participating in the European elections, which encouraged people to read the item

With the headline alone, created an apocalyptic vision of the Soviet Union destroying us, as we all seethed in unnatural vice, Russia being itself destroyed by one of the few American generals with suflicient presence of mind to stretch out a finger from the gay bacchauaha to press the western button. Sadly, scrutiny of M Le Pen's remarks revealed his theory solely to be that if we were all homosexuals no one would have any babies, and thus the world would end.

To return to Mme Veil, Who, in M Mitterrand's entourage, did she have in mind as having done anything worse than that?

True, there is, working as an adviser to the president, the 1960s tigure. M Regis Debray. He oncepadded about the Bolivian jungle with Che Guevara, who doubtless would have introduced his own despotism, had he the chance, into one or other of the several Latin American countries with which he was associated. There are also, in the presidential entourage, people who have helped cause a lot of inflation. although at the moment they are trying to atone for that by causing a lot of dellation. Furthermore, the president's press spokesman, M Max Callo, is said to be an especially intractable novelist. But, perhaps wrongly, none of these activities is generally considered especially bad in France today, or in most other

The Elysee demanded that Mme Veil claborate. She replied: "I am not a denouncer." Soon she was modifying her charge to the suggestion that there were some people who had been reversed by the president whose attitude during the war was "not very honourable". So Mine Veil, in effect, ended up with this rather disappointing implication that M Mitterrand, in the people he tended to receive, was no different from most French citizens of his generation. But apparently there is more to this subject than can be publicly stated. At least she and M Le Pen sought to raise some real issues.

Scouring literature's length and Brecht

Mr Philip Howard has dealt with the quest by the Paris literary magazine Lire, with the aid of the readers of several European newspapers, including The Times, to find the 10 greatest dead European writers. He published the scores on Friday.

More disturbing were the results when Lire asked eight eminent French citizens their choice. Each included Shakespeare. Dante. Cervantes and similar names from the usual team, but four of them put at the head of their list, and therefore as the greatest European writer of all time. Berthold Brecht. This result, if repeated across the country at a general election, would mean that Berthold Brecht would be considered the greatest dead European writer by half the French population. The four Brechtian depressives were an actress, Mme Marie-Jose Nat; an actor, M Michel Piccoli; a television presenter, M Michel Polac, and the secretary of the ruling Socialist Party. M Lionel Jospin. This cannot account for the present liveliness of the French theatre, but it could account for French television and for the European election campaign.

* Morning Star

contemplate the Communist Party,

but the lot has recently been taken.

The party's newspaper, the Morning Star (not to be confused with the Daily Star. except by those who fit the category so memorably defined by the judge in a case brought because of possible confusion as

"only a moron in a hurry") was originally called the Daily Worker, and was founded in 1930. After the war, the CP decided to turn it into a

"front", in the hope (which proved vain) of attracting substantial number of readers from outside the ranks of the party: the paper was provided with an imaginary show of independence when it was reconstituted as a cooperative venture owned by its shareholders and called the People's Press Printing Society.

Naturally, the CP made sure that the shareholders were all loyal party members or faithful sympathizers.

and the paper followed the party line through all the somersaults, zigzags and instant contradictions required

by Moscow, with the result that its mythical separation from the CP did it no good at all: it has declined steadily (as. of course, has the party itself) and now sells not many more than 10,000 copies a day, not surprisingly in view of its appalling quality as a newspaper (irrespective of its views) and an amazing price of

The Morning Star has been insolvent for years; there is a poor

benighted comrade who has the task of appealing day after day to the readers to give money to keep it affoat. It could not exist at all without the massive subvention it gets from the Soviet Union (something in the order of £1m a year), a fact which is itself productive of one of the best jokes of our time, for the money is paid ostensibly in return for the thousands of copies imported daily by the Soviet Union; the joke is that most of these are never put on sale, but destroyed as dangerously subversive - not because the Morning Star cannot be trusted to follow the party line, but because however unswervingly it did so it could not disguise from Soviet readers the fact that the downtrodden British masses are allowed to

At six months, Brendan Hanlon's mother recalls, "he was sitting up in his pram as straight as a ribbon.

saying "baba" and "mama". Eight days after the second of three routine injections against whooping cough, he went into a convulsion.

"His body went rigid, he clenched his fists, his eyes flickered and he

Now at 23, Brendan has a mental age of two or three. "He's a lovely person, he's gentle and kind, but he's hard work. He's got to be helped with everything; bath, dressing and undressing. He's never spent a moment of his life on his own. Our

In a High Court hearing which begins today, the Department of Health and Social Security will deny legal hability for the plight of Brendan Hanlon and six other alleged victims of whooping cough vaccine damage. Behind closed doors - unless an application to have the court thrown open to the press and public succeeds - counsel for the Treasury Solicitor will ask the court to strike out claims against the department and the Secretary of State for Social Services. The department contends, as the legal jargon puts it, that the claims against the government "disclose no reason-

frivolous and vexatious, and an

Legal advisers to the seven handicapped children and young adults claim the DHSS was negligent in the way it promoted whooping cough vaccine. They argue that the government policy of wholesale routine vaccination was misguided.

and that the risks should have been

The department, the Yallege, failed to research and pass on sufficiently early, information about balanced against the benefits.

abuse of the process of the court".

cause of action, and are social life is extremely limited."

became unconscious."

30p a day for only six pages.

A gleeful Bernard Levin explains the background to the internal strife that is rending the columns of the communist daily

the Morning Star

Ernest Roberts: unswerving support criticize their government, to put up candidates in elections, and even to go on strike. Anyhow, the Morning Star went on going downhill, and eventually the CP decided that what it needed was a broader approach; the word "Eurocommunism" (that ignis fatuus designed to tempt the gullible into the swamp of fellow-travelling but destined to perish, like the mule, "without pride of ancestry or hope of posterity") was being bandled about, and the editor (Mr Tony Chater, who has held the post for 10 years) was instructed to follow the

And he refused! As an unreconstructed Moscow-faithful, he was already quite worried enough that the CP had, on one or two occasions, actually disagreed with Soviet policy (nothing serious, you understand), and was not going to dilute any further the vinegary wine made for so many years from Moscow's

No problem, said the party bosses, we'll sack him. And then they discovered that they had been well and truly hoist with their nearly 40-year-old petard; since, legally, the paper is owned by the People's Press Printing Society, only the PPPS can replace the editor and the editor had made sure that control of the PPPS was in the hands of the party faction that supported him rather than the CP executive. (He was thrown off that, because the bosses controlled votes for it at the party conference, but the conference writ does not run in the PPPS.) There has followed a scene of such gorgeous hilarity, such high, ripe entertainment, such memorably farcical matter for mirth and wonder, that I have had to give up wearing waistcoats after bursting so many buttons in laughing that my entire tailoring staff resigned. For the only way the CP could reassert its authority over its errant news-paper was to buy enough shares in the PPPS to take control; but since the shares only cost £1 each, the just as easily, and we have been treated to the spectacle of both lots shareholders' meetings, their

Tony Chater:

But that was nothing to what has followed. The whole panoply of malpractice that we are so used to in the activities of the Communist Party – the packing of committees, the fiddling of agendas, the orga-nized disruption of meetings, the procedural tactics designed to prevent the loss of control, the spreading of slanders - all these and more have been going on now for months, entirely within the world of the CP and the Morning Star, while the rest of us could only roll helplessly on the ground and, in rare moments of coherence, raise a glass in the traditional toast: a good, clean fight and no survivors. The moment I treasure most, and always will, was when Mr Mick McGahey, having been ruled out of order at one of the shareholders' meetings, shouted at the chairman that such action constituted "a denial of rights"; truly, when members of the Communist Party's national executive are announcing that people's rights should not be trampled upon, it is no wonder that Tommy Cooper and Eric More-cambe are dead, for assur edly their comic thunder had been stolen from them for ever. There is only one aspect of the matter that does not provoke laughter, which is the presence on the paper's own Muscovite "slate" of candidates for the PPPS management of a Member of Parliament elected as a Labour candidate; this is Mr Ernest Roberts, who sits for Hackney North and Stoke Newington, and whose un-wavering support of the Communist line is notorious.

He was not elected to the PPPS management, but the editor's slate got a majority, so the situation remains, for the moment, what it was before the row started.

When the American Daily Worker. after Khruschev's "secret speech", began to criticize Stalin retrospectively, the party bosses simply closed it down. Here, the - not that any normal person could tell the difference between the two frantically enlisting people willing to factions anyway - but it is the buy a share and with it to vote, at disobedience itself, rather than the factions anyway - but it is the party leaders, and it is the knowledge - now reinforced - that they do not even have the power to kill the paper that is bringing them so dangerously close to their

TAKE A SHARE IN THE STAR

coronanes. When the British Communist Party made its first (and damned nearly last) criticism of the Soviet Union, I remember writing that it was as though the Pasha's eunuchs had risen in revolt, seized the harem, and raped the occupants. What shall I say, of the present delightful imbroglio, that will keep the metaphor appropriately disgusting? Perhaps that it calls to mind two aged whores fighting on the pavement, rolling over and over as they try to claw one another's eyes out, and each explaining, when separated by the bystanders, that she was expressing her disapproval of the fact that the other was leading an Councillor Coleman of Brent objects (Letters, June 14) to my likening anti-Masonism to anti-semitism. But these poisons share their most significant characteristics: make comprehensive charges against their victims as a group, and both rely on rumour, tittle-tattle and unproven defamations for those charges. If, as he implies, there are Jews on Brent Council who have joined in the anti-Mason activities, they should be doubly ashamed of themselves: Mr Coleman himself, who put forward an unsuccessful resolution for the council saying that "Secret membership of a Free-mason's lodge is against the public interest that councillors and council for the public interest that councillors are considered. officers are supposed to serve ould be trebly ashamed.

He also claims that the items I attributed to The Guardian gossip columnist actually appeared in The Times. This is untrue; The Guardian columnist to whom I referred did include on several days in succession as I said lists of men whom the writer accused of being Masons (the very fact of their affiliation being, apparently, enough to damn them, for nothing else was alleged about them).

can compel manufacturers to compensate victims without proof of negligence, British vaccine claimants face a danning task in tackling the drug companies. Health service reorganization has caused problems in allocating blame to a particular health authority and, where injections were given by family doctors, authorities are disclaiming responsibility, arguing that medical practitioners are independent contractors.

Nor is it easy to prove that a doctor has been negligent. As the Royal Commission on Civi Liability and Compensation for Personal Injury - the Pearson Commission -pointed out in its 1978 report: Under the present law, an action in tort against a doctor who performs a vaccination in the recognized circumstances and using the recognized methods would be unlikely to succeed since he could not be said to be acting outside the bounds of proper practice, and would not be negligent."

Letting the DHSS off the hook would leave the responsibility sitting very uncomfortably with the family doctor", says Professor Gordon Stewart, Mechan Professor of Public Health at Glasgow University, and author of a long-term study of whooping cough and vaccination partly supported by the DHSS. His report, delivered to the department seven months ago but still unpub-lished, is damning in its criticism of the Government's management of the whooping cough vaccination programme. "I think the Secretary of State should remain firmly on the hook. The Government has, quite justifiably, promoted the use of this vaccine, but it failed to take adequate note of the risks and failed to monitor it properly."

Clare Dyer

Vaccine damage: who should pay?

Norah and Brendan Hanlon: 'Never a moment on his own' parents an opportunity to make an nation. Furthermore, they say, the DHSS made no attempts to improve

This is the first time that an attempt has been made in the English courts to pin the blame for vaccine damage on the government. But the legal precedents are not encouraging and a similar claim against the Secretary of State for Scotland was thrown out in 1981. The plaintiff, an eight-year-old Dunfermline boy, Richard Bon-throne, however, is to proceed with the claim against the other defend-ants, the Fife Health Board, his general practitioner, and a health visitor. The hearing, fixed for next January, will be the first trial of a

In most of the pending court cases, the plaintiffs have already received a payment of £10,000 under the government "no fault" vaccine damage compensation scheme. But most parents regard the amount - unchanged since 1979, though its value has been eroded to about £6,000 - as totally inadequate. Lawyers are planning to take the Government to the European Court of Human Rights over, among other alleged faults, the arbitrariness of the scheme, which denies any compensation to children less than 80 per cent disabled. In the United States, several children injured by the vaccine have won multi-million dollar settlements from the manufacturers. But in the absence of US-style strict product liability laws, which

Paradoxically, the word is overused

Journalists, students, and the chattering classes are the pirates of language. We take the stuff, and use it to attract attention, without bothering too much about what we are saying. Having vulgarized a precise word such as "ironically" until it means no more than a grunt. we have now turned our flibbertiggibet attention to the fine old word "paradox", and its derivatives, and are giving them a dreadful mauling.

Paradox, and its family, are enormously popular among students and backs as smart and knowing epithets. With the virtual disappearance of Greek in schools (and we are already ruling the day), most of the chaps and chappesses who use the paradoxical words in their pieces, leaders, and essays, are driving in a screw with a hammer.

New words for old, by Philip Howard

My historian don friend broke off, the other day, from marking a very good essay (on women in Tolstoy), when he stumbled over the following: "Anna's ability to see good on both sides of a question of morality or conduct is what distinguishes her from Dolly and Kitty, and, paradoxically, marks her as a woman of the world 'The time has come to turn our attention to a paradox, a paradox, a most ingenious paradox.

Hoisting the Black Flag of philosophy, let us declare that a paradox, considering the roots, look you, if only you had learnt Greek, means, etymologically, something that is against belief. A full-blooded paradox shakes the foundations of ogic. It happens when, from a number of premisses all generally accepted as true, a conclusion is reached by valid deductive argument that is either an outright contradiction, or conflicts with other generally held beliefs. Your true paradox is a philosophical stinker, both vexing and disturbing.

Let us have some examples of the ugly beast. The most famous and oldest of the creatures is the Liar Paradox. There was this Cretan, called Epimenedes, who asserted: "All Cretans are liars." Is Epime-nedes telling the truth, or not? One or other must be the case. But if it is indeed the case that all Cretans other than Epimenedes are liars, both cases lead to contradictions. Are you still with me? Good. That sort is called a semantic paradox. Put it another way: "This statement is false" seems to be false if true, and true if false.

Another famous brute is Russell's Paradox, named for Bertrand. It is important in Set Theory. Some classes are members of themselves. but most are not. For instance, the class of cats is not a member of itself, since it is a class and not a cat. However and whereas, the class of non-cats is a member of itself, and the class of classes is a class. Is the class of all classes that are not members of themselves a member of itself? If yes, no. If no. yes.

If you have lost contact with me, do not fret. Just remember. Do not use paradox or paradoxical unless you are sure of what you are on about. That is to say, do not use them.

The first transfer of the first transfer of

Ferdinand Mount

Danger: living can harm your health

It has been a bad week. The hand shakes, the eye trembles, the gorge rises. In the House of Lords, the Duke of Gloucester has been leading a mass rally of peers against cigarette smoking in The Times, there has been a hair-raising series about the perils of western food. And in Her Majesty's Stationery Office shop in High Holborn, I found myself staring at a government discussion document entitled Drinking Sen-

The only relief is that Sir George Young has been absent from the scene. Sir George is tall, pale and bespectacled; he cycles; on social occasions he pushes away the halfglass of white wine as if it were meths: when he was Under-Secretary at the Department of Health and Social Security, he led a crusade of truly appalling ferocity against unhealthy practices. Sir George has now pedalled off to deal with the race problem, but his spirit lingers

You know, of course, that the Government is "committed to discourage people from smoking" (Lord Glenarthur, Sir George's successor). The Advisory Com-mittee on Alcholism wants the Government to encourage a disapproval of inebriety. And after Mr Geoffrey Cannon's articles in these pages last week, the Government can scarcely abstain from commit-ting itself to a "disapproval of sticky puddings", indeed, my guess is that in the death-inducing stakes, the real order is 1. sticky puddings, 2. cigarettes, 3. alcohol.

One unsporting trick played by several lords last week was to refer to those of their friends and relations who would still be here today if they had not smoked so much. Curiously, the same tactic is not yet regarded as fair game with alcohol, although it would be just as relevant: "I am sure that Lord Doodle, whom we all remember with such affection, would still be with us if it were not for his insistence on drinking half a bottle of brandy for breakfast." It is also as well for the maintenance of public morality that the same ad hominem arguments were not regarded as acceptable when syphilis was raging throughout Europe.

The objection - though I do not for one minute expect zealots of the anti-smoking campaign. Ash, 10 understand it - is not to the proposition that all these selfindulgences are indeed unhealthy, dangerous and in many cases fatal. Nobody seriously expects that schools should stop preaching against smoking. Still less do I expect the Government to do a Uturn and start promoting excess.

We shall wait in vain for a pamphlet entitled Drinking Insen-sibly. No, what is objectionable is the assumption that smokers, topers (and gluttons are ignorant as well as hell-bent.

From the start, it has been obvious what cigarettes did to you. Everyone quotes James I on tobacco - "loathsome to the eye, hateful to the nose, harmful to the brain, dangerous to the lungs" - but nobody seems to reflect that if he knew only a few years after Sir Walter Raleigh had bought the filthy stuff back from Virginia, it is quite likely that others might have known takely that others might have known too. "Died of drink", "smoker's cough". "cancer nubes", "lungs like ash-trays" — these phrases are familiar to us from childhood, long before ever the Royal College of Surgeons or the Government pronounced. You can feel a Total San Gennaro furring your arteries; strong coffee is like giving the heart a jumpstart; the first real hangover is a foreshadowing of the morgue. People know all right. They just do not want to know.

But doctors and politicians cannot believe that simple folk would cling to their pleasures if they really knew the dangers. So they blame the commercial interests for leading us astray with seductive advertisements. Of course, the poor dears do their best to make light of the risks, but I doubt whether even the Saatchis would claim that advertising is as powerful as that. More unattractive still is the way in which health zealots take the credit for the decline in smoking among men, while not, say, accepting the blame for the rise in smoking among women and children. Post nos, ergo propter nos is the cry, but only when the results are favourable. There is a well-known confusion here. The no-smoking campaign is a symptom, not a cause of the revulsion against smoking. We shall probably see the same phenomenon with fatty foods (it has already happened in the United States). The general obsession with health leads committee-minded people to found or join a campaign for health or join a campaign for health education. Almost everyone gives up or tries to give up. Busybodies try to make other people give up. Meanwhile, perverse groups like teenagers take pride in not giving up. Why the obsession with health? Is it the lack of belief in an after-life that suggests it would be prudent to hang on to this one as long as possible? Or is it part of a characteristically twentieth-century characteristically twentieth-century interests in technique? After all, if almost every other part of life – growing food, learning to read, sex, transport, playing games - can be systemized and elaborated into a technique, it would seem peculiar to leave only the art of staying alive as our area of chaos - like leaving a tangle of nettles and cow-parsley in a herbaceous border.

Anne Sofer

More martyrs in the making

Some weeks ago my area was constantly in the news: the TV cameras zoomed down the Prince of Wales Road in Kentish Town before settling on the red-brick facade of the North London Polytechnic, then joited about to catch a shot of the jeering pickets here, the pompous tipstaff there, and then, always, the lone figure of Mr Patrick Harrington, treasurer of the Chelsea National Front, modestly and courageously claiming his right to education. That, alas, is the way it came over.

I am not accusing the television news programmes of bias. The cameras showed what was happening and interviewed people at the centre of the affair. But frequently I felt beside myself with rage at the idiocy - or malignity or cynicism, whichever it was - of those who contrived to give the National Front this heaven-sent opportunity. They handed, on a plate, more publicity to the Front than it has had for years.

Although this branch of the North London Polytechnic is in my patch, and thus - one might have thought a lucky break for the hard-pressed columnist. I did not write about it while all the drama was going on, and while others, on this page and elsewhere, were pontificating left and right. This was not out of any sense of political embarrassment: with all that gunpowder lying around, I thought it might be unwise to come in bearing a candle, even if only with a sincere desire to

But it is now clear that the whole affair has yet to be properly defused. What few commentators have noted, or known, is that the wards around the polytechnic building in question are ones in which the National Front during its heyday polled worryingly well: not well enough to dent the big majority which Labour always used to get in working-class council estate areas, but well enough to get near to second place. Going right back to the 1930s there have been pockets of fascist support: Jock (now Lord) Stallard, who was MP for the constituency for 15 years and probably knew it better than most ward councillors, could point to pubs and even market stalls where the tradition was strong. I shudder at the thought of the impact those scenes on television, night after night, might be having on those groups of people. We need National Front martyrs like we need bubonic

Now, however, it appears that we are to have competition in martyrdom. If the lecturers who have been ordered by the High Court to identify selected students in photographs presented by the National Front lose their appeal this week, and if they continue to refuse to identify them, they will be in quences that brings. They are caught in a most unenviable dilemma Rut whichever way they decide the temperature will again be raised. Lecturers in prison or lecturers returning to the polytechnic having "betrayed" their students: either way it will be grist to the mill of the Socialist Workers' Party manipulators who have been working away within the polytechnic for years.

on the

S. S. ...

Bearing.

100

WE1 . -. .

water of 1250

A 20 12 . . .

of the line of

 $\mathcal{J}_{\mathcal{G}^{(1)}(\mathbb{R}^d)}$

it no i

A la dig

M. Harris

أحران

Sept March

Of course, lowering the temperature is not the job of the courts. Their job is to articulate principles of law and decide accordingly. Part of the trouble about this is that there are too many moral principles involved. "A principled stand against racism", "the principle of academic freedom", "the principle of adherence to the law", "the principle of trusting relations between teacher and taught". Like parents, principles are necessary to our very existence, but when they start quarrelling with one another, we are perplexed.

For the record my own view of the moral aspects of the matter are these. Mr Harrington certainly has a right to eduction (would that everyone else in his age group also had!). The offer of separate tuition, if he refuses it should not be imposed. Nor should any constrants be placed on what other students are allowed to discuss; the intervention of the tipstaff on his visit to a philosophy lecture was the most bizarre event of the whole saga. The polytechnic can certainly be criticized for not intervening earlier to prevent the student protest from escalating; but for individual lecturers who may have had nothing to do with the whole affair to be placed on the rack because of this failure seems unjust. While professional people, even doctors and priests, can be expected to (and apparently do) identify mugshots in cases of serious crime, a case of this sort is in a different category.

My unease is deepened by the fact that Mr Harrington's solicitors asked for identification for only some of the students in the photographs they presented.
So what, now, should be done?

Everything will hang on the decision of the Court of Appeal. If it finds some way of letting both the judiciary and the lecturers off the hook, there is a chance that the Poly will now take a grip on its own internal discipline: the external forces on it to do so will be strong. In this event, the manipulative opportunities of both the NF and the SWP will be considerably lessened. If the decision goes the other way, we will be entering the Martyr Stakes with a vengeance, and anything could happen.

The author is SDP member of the GLC/ILEA for St Pancras North.

P.O. Box 7, 200 Gray's Inn Road, London WCIX 8EZ. Telephone: 01-837 1234

NATO'S RADICAL CHANCE

Britain pays a higher price for that potential. Secondly, the much smaller armed forces than Nato battle plan which, for any Nato ally. Secondly, owing outdated political reasons is to a persistent refusal by ministers and by the defence establishment to contemplate a serious ground is largely meaningless system of reservist military power, the United Kingdom is condemned to a narrow military base which is unable to achieve the necessary expansion required in an emergency and is forced through budgetary pressure to go on being narrowed even further. The neglect of this need to activate the country as a whole, in manpower and all its other strategic potential, in the nation's security is best illustrated by the fact that, excluding only Canada, Denmark and Luxembourg, Britain with 2 per cent has a lower percentage of its active population concerned in utes to stability. any way with the armed forces than the rest of the Alliance.

Unfortunately, this question is not likely to be addressed in the Commons Defence debate today for a number of reasons. The first is the poverty of ministerial thinking on strategic issues. The second is that the Labour party is not interested in defence as a strategic issue, preferring to use defence arguments more to make points about nuclear philosophy for its internal purposes.

Thirdly, the Alliance, even allowing for the unitaterist frivolities of some sections of the ment. To judge by Dr David Owen's letter on this page today, it is set in a mould of traditionalist and hidebound attitudes to Alliance strategy which contrast sadly with Dr Owen's professed radicalism in other matters of tunity in Europe when the rigidities and absurdities of existing Nato strategy could be decisively overturned. For various political reasons only a horse between the two World British government can seize Wars. It is equally tied up with that opportunity if it has both the political nerve and the intellectual vigour to do so. The prize of innovation and radical in place only by the political thinking would be considerable. desire not to disturb the West At its most modest it would achieve substantial savings in current defence spending without impairing the country's so. If that is the case how can he of Europe, and at a lower longterm strategic potential; on explain that they spend so much running cost, if only Mr Heselout impairing the country's so. If that is the case how can he the contrary, a revised structure less on defence, though nearer of defence with proper provision the front line, than the British for expansion would enhance do?

devoted to an obsessive forward defence concept which on the and accepted privately as such by most senior commanders, would be exposed to the vision and reform. Finally, the West would be able to end wallowing fruitlessly in the troop reduction talks in Vienna, since it would have an opportunity to show, by example, how to lighten the troop concentration on the central front and put pressure on the Soviet Union to do likewise with its heavy garrisons in East Europe. For too long it has been an accepted article of faith in the West that the presence of Soviet troops in East Europe contrib-

The question which should be raised in the Commons today therefore, is not, pace Dr Owen, whether the government should cut its provisions for Trident in order to spend more on conventional forces, but how Britain by revising her own defence structure could initiate active change in the whole of Nato strategy.

In his Mountbatten lecture in May, Dr Owen stated that a quick conventional attack by the Soviet Union could leave a third of West Germany in Soviet hands within a day. He is quite Liberal party, is a disappoint--wrong. The conventional defence of the West against the Soviet attack is adequate in those terms; what is questionable is the machinery for expansion, with provision for more men and supplies to reach the line in time to maintain the position.

This devotion to forward We have a moment of oppor-strategy and the so-called conventional options, which involve a large permanent garrison in Rhine army is not dissimilar from the army's loyalty to the questions of status and career structure. But it is no longer appropriate militarily and is held Germans. As Dr Owen said himself, their influence is "massive and inevitable", and rightly

The orthodox expectation of the course of a clash between the conventional forces of the Warsaw Pact and Nato envisages a three-phased battle: the covering forces in each sector delaying and identifying the direction of a Soviet thrust; the main holding forces checking and destroying such a thrust and, finally a counter-attack to roll the enemy back to the established line between East and West.

Today the first two phases can be carried out with fewer troops, given rapid advances in battle field technology. Surveillance from space and the use of unmanned flying platforms, equipped with a variety of sensors, have changed the tactical balance in the West's favour. It is only the final phase which requires constant application, with reinforcements across the Atlantic and the provision of reserve power in Europe of a kind which should not be maintained on a day-to-day basis.

The ossification of so much military argument about Central European force levels now needs some decisive corrective. That could only be provided by a British Conservative government whose heart on East-West matters is known to be in the right place. The Government should thus initiate a radical programme in defence first by reviewing its own structure, and contemplating the prospect of a decisive cut in the strength of the standing Army which would mostly affect the size of the garrison on the Rhine. It is no longer enough to protest that our men on the Rhine, with all their families, married quarters, schools and hospitals, effectively represent the British commitment to West German security. They do not form part of any sensible military pattern. The allied deployment in Central Europe, which includes all contributions, has no serious battle field rationale. The British could start to stimulate a debate in Nato along these lines by unilateral action which, by extension, should then invigorate tactical thinking which has suffered from years of paralysis. We can do better for the security tine could look up from his management toys and focus on the big picture of the future.

SCRAPING THE BARREL

Floored, humbled, humiliated, the summer as a harmless be starting a three-match series massacred, swamped, slaugh, adjunct to the real thing (like the against the New Zealand women tered, battered, pole-axed tor- new Stock Exchange game comtured, mauled, buried. Not the ing up in The Times). If you Government after Portsmouth want entertainment, watch the South, but England after two powerful West Indies; if you days at Edgbaston, according to the cricket writers.

The performance was awful, shameful, grisly, inept, puny. Mighty England had reached a new nadir, they thought, and they proceeded to scrape the depths of their own barrels of cliches for colourful descriptions. If the rest of the series, even today's performance, con-I tinues in the fashion that most of them think it will, then they will have to dig and scrape deeper.

So will the English selectors. The trouble is that where they have to look, in the younger nurseries of cricket, might not provide a good enough harvest, or one yet reapable anyway. Yet there is a hunger among the crowds for more pleasing play, at least, and for more respectable play, and, of course, at last for victories.

Cricket is a game, first and foremost, whatever else it is and ought to be. It can be played in seems, from the women who will want an exciting flutter, it is Royal Ascot week; if you want an enthralling personal slugging match, wait for Wimbledon; if you want personal and national self-respect, you can do your thing as a contribution to that.

Which brings us back to the selectors, and those who run the nurseries of cricket, one of the games we invented, taught the world how to play and appear to have forgotten. Their real business is building for the future, and so far they have not shown they have made a full contribution. True, a number of the selectors' better options are ruled out because they are still banned, but where are the up-andcomers? -

We will not suggest, yet, that the selectors ought to study those who will be performing at Headingly on July 6 in their search for the hopefuls. National pride may get a bit of a boost, it tourists, but we doubt that the girls are, yet, ready to face Richards.

We will not suggest, yet, that the selectors continue the current fashion for raiding foreign parts for sporting talent. Cricket would doubtless have, or make, tough rules to keep out Zola Budd style head-hunted finds. And we do not suggest, yet, that they seek the muscle from other sports: English rugby and football (Brazil excepted) is nothing to shout

We do suggest that we should all face the facts. The first is that the West Indies are indeed the best thing on the pitch anywhere in the world at the moment. The second is that the powerful Australians are next year's op-ponents. The third is that summer is the season of sporting hyperbole. Meanwhile, let us enjoy the sun and the spectacle and the colourful writing - for which activity we might well have a sports cliche scoreboard, in which England should score pretty high. And meanwhile, good luck out there today boys: England is with you.

POSTING A VOTE

The Government's Trade Union Bill reaches the Lords today with a series of new amendments which ministers hope will satisfy a sufficient number of their critics to contain a revolt in committee on the question of postal ballots. The amendments were tabled last week by Mr Tom King. They spell out the details required of pre-strike bailots before a union could maintain its legal immunities during strike action. They also make provision for individual members of trade unions to apply to the courts for a postal ballot in union elections when they feel the need.

The latter provisions are wholly inadequate, and ministers know it. Indeed they have Mr John Selwyn Gummer, the Minister of State in Mr King's department, on record in the Commons admitting as much. He agreed that postal ballots were the best way of conducting trade union elections. If that is the case, why not introduce them? The lame answer pro-vided by Mr Tom King and his subordinates is that work-place ballots lead to a higher turnout than postal ballots do.

It is a questionable excuse and anyway besides the point. Whatever the turnout, postal ballots are less susceptible to manipulation than any workplace sys-tem of balloting. Indeed a high turnout in a work-place ballot may often be achieved through just that kind of intimidation from union officials which could not infect a postal system. The Government, having conceded the point of principle, now has to hide behind a spurious argument about turnout, when in fact its convenience is inspired by a desire only not to excite senior trade unionists in 100 general an opposition to its policies at any given time. Ministers have already sacrificed their position of principle on the question of the political levy. These half-way proposals about postal ballots represent another unnecessary compromise which can only further postpone the introduction of full and open democratic procedures into trade union activity. Yet without those procedures why should the trade unions continue to luxuriate in the legal immunities for much of their actions which do not appear to be deserved?

Without central registration the way is cleared for all kinds of irregularities at work-place ballots. The recent branch ballot in the CPSA threw up such irregularities that an internal inquiry is now being held. In the current T&GW ballot for General Secretary, there are already complaints that members' voting cards are being wrongly distributed through the union organization. Even NUM pithead ballots are not immune from suspicion, however high a turnover they achieve.

The Government's legislation would impose all the responsibility for challenging these dubious procedures on an individual trade unionist. He would run the risk both of incurring high legal costs, and the opprobium which could in many cases - particularly in the context of a closed shop - lead to his being hounded from work. The Government should protect the interests of independent trade unionists and not those of officials and shop stewards. It is told this repeatedly by members of the Conservative Trade Union Organis-ation, hitherto to no avail. There is still time for second thoughts in the Lords.

and the complete the contract of the contract

From Dr David Owen, MP for will be starting to build up. This Plymouth, Devonport (Social Democratic Party)

Cutback on conventional defence

Sir, Why has The Times not thundered about the dangers of the cutback in conventional defence spending in the late 1980s? Now that the electors in Portsmouth have spoken, perhaps The Times might find its voice.

Why is it that you have virtually ignored the fact that in 1986/87 the first time since the Nato decision in 1978 to increase in inflation-proof terms defence spending by 3 per cent per annum - we will have an actual reduction in the defence budget on the Government's own Public Expenditure White Paper figuring of 0.5 per cent?

If the pay award of 7.6 per cent recently given to the Armed Services is taken into account, plus the escalation in the cost of Trident due to the decline of the pound against the dollar, the reduction could be nearer 1 per cent.

intention by the Government to increase defence spending for the years 1987/88 and beyond. By this time the bulk of the Trident expenditure, already £700m over budget, according to the all-party Defence Committee's report,

There is no sign either of any

Thoughts on D-Dav

From Lieutenant (Reserve) K. A. Chrapowicki

Sir, Commenting on the Bishop sacred to the Alliance.

should, to Poles.

fighting on the right side, too.

Prince and architects From Mr Jules Lubbock

Sir, Modern architecture is indeed in danger of being obliterated; not, as Mr Rogers believes (June 9) by an indiscriminate wave of nostalgia". but as the Prince has implied, because of public outrage over the who insist that they know what is best for the people, who will come to like it eventually. This was Mr Rogers's own stance when he supported the Mies tower at the Mansion House inquiry.

So his heartening admission that "public understanding and involvement" are as important as "enlightened patronage" comes as a elcome concession.

But his history is awry. The classical architecture of the Florentine Renaissance did not provoke an outcry, but was welcomed by the citizens as a revival of their heritage.

Working women

From Dr C. E. Stancliffe Sir, The Home Office is reported (June 13) as arguing against allowing a civil servant to work on a parttime basis, partly on the grounds that, if she were allowed to do so, this might unleash a "flood of claims by women working full-time for the right to switch to part-time".

But in view of the millions without any job, should not all those who would prefer to switch from full-time to part-time work be

Cost of shoplifting

From the Director of Nacro Sir, Digby Anderson's extended criticisms of my recent comments on shoplifting (feature, June 6) are witty but unconstructive.

More seriously, they are based on two false premises. First, he suggests quite wrongly that my argument that shops have a moral obligation to take preventive measures carried the implication that deliberate thieves should not be held responsible for their actions. Secondly, he misinterprets my remarks by stating that they were directed at sentencing practice when they in fact concerned decisions to prosecute. Fear of a court appearance can have a devastating effect on someone of previous good character. More sensitive criteria for prosecution, of the kind recently circulated by the Attorney General, are of great importance in reducing sary distress. Mr Anderson's fundamental point

Falklands fishing From Dr Norman A. Godman, MP, for Greenock & Port Glasgow

(Labour). Sir. In The Times (report, June 6) reference was made to the depletion of fishing stocks in the fishing grounds around the Falkland Is-lands. The report claimed that these fishing grounds were in serious danger of being over-fished by foreign trawlers in the absence of a declared fisheries zone. The report went on to quote Mr Simon Lyster, Secretary of the Falkland Islands Foundation, as saying that the Argentines had at least as big a stake in preserving Falkland fishing stocks as the British or the islanders had themselves.

The once traditional grounds of the Argentinian fishermen around the islands are now being exploited by Japanese, Polish, Spanish and Russian vessels, whilst 2,000 Argentinian fishermen are unemployed must call into question the capacity of the Government to make a serious contribution to the much needed capital expenditure improvement in the European Nato members' conventional defence capacity. In today's defence debate it is an absurdity that the SDP/Liberal Alliance motion is unlikely to be voted on, so the only choice will be a self-congratulatory complacent Government motion or the anti-American, unilateralist motion of the Labour Party. The electors of Portsmouth have spoken for the nation. Surely Parliament must now order its affairs so that it can allow that third voice to find expression through a fair share of Opposition debating time and through the opportunity to voic.

Surely The Times should find the space in its columns to reflect the serious concern of many serving in the Armed Forces - who cannot speak out - about the way that Trident has become the cuckoo in the nest, damaging Britain's forward defence strategy. Yours faithfully.

Alliance activities of the Polish underground Russian front, etc.)

naturally he was present on D-Day, fought at Falaise, defended sea

disembarcation routes in the paratroop descent at Arnhem, was first to enter Holland and complete pincer movement" by reaching the

He remained faithful to the

At the celebrations the Polish flag principles of Alliance as he understood them.

should have been flying amongst the American, British and Canadian, let alone Belgian. Dutch. French and Norwegian. Yet it was not among

The Allies went to war because of Poland. Surely, what we have just witnessed in Nomandy was the wedding celebration without the bride.

Yours faithfully,

K. A. CHRAPOWICKI,

Hatfield, Hertfordshire.

Channel, took part

DAVID OWEN. House of Commons.

Tobruk, Monte Cassino, Warsaw Rising and most beneficial to the Suffragan of Croydon's letter (June 11) although I agree with much that the Bishop said in the opening paragraphs. I feel great unease as regards his plea of showing magnanimity to the mighty but absent warriors ditinguished in other war theatres or to past enemies who at the time did not share in the ideals of freedom and democracy

Be as it may, this "magnanimity" however, have been extended in the first instance, and unreservedly so, to those who took part in Normandy fighting, shared in the ideals of the Alliance, and were prepared to and did die for them: it should have been extended

The Polish soldier, the first Ally, was there at the time, and was Veteran of every European and African war campaign (Poland, 1939; France, 1940; Narvik, Battle of Britain, Battle of Atlantic,

In most cases architects adapted the new style to traditional types of building, and observed decorum is relating new buildings to the old.

(Lieutenant (Res.) Polish Navy). 70 Old Hertford Road.

A wise patron, like Cosimo de Medici, preferred Michelozzo's more traditional design for his palazzo to a sumptuous one by the great Brunelleschi, which might aroused envy important a consideration as quality. These are valuable lessons for modern architects and their patrons.

If he is indeed bowing to public opinion Mr Rogers's letter will change the course of the debate. It is now up to other modern architects, and Mr Palumbo, to show the same humility. Yours sincerely

JULES LUBBOCK. University of Essex Department of Art History and

Theory, Wivenhoe Park, Colchester, Essex

positively encouraged to do so wherever it is feasible?

Those in authority seem to prefer the model of one full-time worker plus one unemployed to that of two half-time workers. This shows callous indifference to the frustration, hopelessness and sheer misery experienced by the long-term unemployed.

Yours faithfully CLARE STANCLIFFE, St Oswald's Vicarage, Durham.

is that a preventive approach to crime inconveniences the innocent citizen. There can of course, be some degree of inconvenience. But would it seriously inconvenience customers if, for example, more shops avoided high displays and blind corners which impede observation by staff, or adopted the practice common in the USA of placing all purchases in a bag and stapling it shut with the receipt attached? In particular, Mr Anderson has no right to criticise me for failing to stress "the serious difficulties shoplifters cause to small shopkeepers and the increased costs passed on to consumers" (he might have added the cost of prosecuting and punishing shoplifters) when my approach would reduce these costs and his would increase them.

Yours faithfully, VIVIEN STERN, Director, National Association for the Care and Resettlement of Young Offenders, 169 Clapham Road, SW9.

and upwards of 8,000 others are unable to maintain their living standards.

A recent meeting in Boulogne between officials representing Argentinian fishermen and officials of the Transport and General Workers' Union, chaired by the ITF, (International Transport Workers' Federation), concluded by calling upon the two governments to negotiate an agreement which would enable the Argentinians to resume fishing in these areas.

Yet, in parliamentary written swers both the Prime Minister and the Baroness Young (Minister of State at the Foreign Office) have repeated their belief that any decision regarding the Protection Zone could only be considered when relations between Britain and Argentina had undergone improvement. Such an approach, I believe, is both unimaginative and unhelpful.

If the British government were to Limited response to language-teaching From Professor P. M. W. Thody From the Director-General of The Institute of Export

Sir. I was glad to see Ian Murray's report in your issue of June 5 that the Government are intending that in the UK all children should learn

at least one other EEC country

This institute has consistently advocated greater attention to the learning of other people's languages.

Indeed. Gallup have recently conducted a survey of our members, mainly professional managers in the overseas trade field, and among the questions asked were two relating to knowledge of languages other than

The replies showed that 54 per make sense of a newspaper cent of those replying to the questionnaire had sufficient French written in that language: 29 per cent had a similar knowledge of German

Replies to a second question about the linguistic achievements of members of a company other than the respondent showed there was a fair knowledge of French but very scanty knowledge of other languages.

even in the largest companies covered by the sample. At least our members are some way on the road to meeting the requirements of the

It is always tempting to suppose that, because English is the most widely spoken language in the world and is frequently known by our overseas customers, we do not need to learn the customers' language. If this perception were ever right it is Within the UK educational system there are now fortunately a number of schemes emerging for teaching and testing languages as practical tools for use in business and other aspects of life. It will help the UK to earn a better living in the years ahead if the ideas mooted in Luxembourg are energetically fol-lowed up and if the new styles of language-teaching and testing are certainly so no longer.

and 16 per cent of Spanish.

language in addition to English.

Sir. Mr Jones's letter on "Keeping in touch with the Continent" (June 12) casts an interesting light on the different attitudes adopted towards language-learning by the private and public sector. In April, 1972, before this country joined the European Community, the then Principal of the newly established Civil Service College, Eugene Grebenik, invited us to put on an intensive, residential course in administrative and legal French, aimed at improving the ability of British civil servants to communi-cate and conduct business both with their French counterparts and with their European colleagues for whom French is a convenient administrative lingua frança.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Since then, 25 such courses have been held at the University of Leeds. all of them under the auspices of the Civil Service College. Four hundred and seven civil servants, from ambassadors to specialists in standards of hygiene in abattoirs, have had the experience of speaking and learning French for 13 hours a day during a course lasting 12 to 13 days.

The support we have received from the Civil Service College, like the attitude adopted by the civil servants themselves to the experience of being totally immersed in administrative French in this manner, has been exemplary. In January, 1984, a comparable course was held in German at the University of Manchester Institute of Science and Technology.

Our efforts to interest businessmen from the private sector in these courses, which have a high commercial content, have attracted two people, one a Dutchman. When, in July, 1981, the House of Commons Foreign Affairs Committee criticised the ability of British diplomats to speak foreign languages, the reaction was immediate. An independent enquiry was commissioned and most of the recommendations in the report. Lunguage Training in the Diplomatic Service, published in June, 1982, are now being put into effect.

Will the private sector do better this time? Yours faithfully. PHILIP THODY. The University of Leeds, Department of French, Leeds.

quickly spread. Yours faithfully. DAVID ROYCE, Director-General. The Institute of Export, World Trade Centre, E1.

Teachers' pay claim

From the Headmaster of The King's School, Macclesfield Sir. I was fascinated to read the Headmaster of Southgate School's letter (June 11) since it clearly demonstrates the underlying uncertainties concerning teachers' roles which bedevil pay negotiations. On the one hand he, in common with many teachers, clearly now believes that staff meetings, parents' evenings, club and society meetings and visits, sports fixtures etc are all undertaken in "unpaid" time and depend on "good will" and that by implication teachers are only paid for classroom contact time and minimal administrative and supervisory duties. That, I would suggest, is not the view held by many parents nor by politicians and that steadily teachers have sunk in public esteem as they have increasingly stridently defined what they believe their paid

Is teaching a professional activity?
I certainly have always thought of it as such on the basis that the exercise of professional skill and reponsibility was related to the achievement of defined objectives and not to the precise time involved and those

Such a council would be responsible for defining the boundaries of professional responsibility and en-suring the maintenance of professional discipline. There would still remain the problem of appropriate professional remuneration, but I would suggest that is best achieved as a consequence of professional respectability rather than a prior objective.

Yours faithfully. A. H. COOPER, Headmaster, The King's School, Macclesfield. Cheshire. June 12.

Bourchier recalled From Mrs Liliana Brisby

Sir, Your interesting report on Bulgaria's economic reforms (May 17) evoked in passing "a country where, in the early days of the Orient Express, nasty things happened to Western travellers. At least one turn-of-the-century Times correspondent lies buried in the hills beyond Sofia".

If, as seems likely, the reference is to James D. Bourchier, the innuendo is highly misleading. Bourchier is indeed interred in the ancient Rila monastery, but he landed there not by some dastardly Bulgarian deed but by his own wish expressed years before his death. When this tireless champion of the Bulgarian cause died on December 30, 1920, in a Sofia hotel from "a heart worn out" (to quote Sir Edward Boyle), the Bulgarian people showed unrestrained grief.

Beauchamp Heard, commercial attache to the British Legation in Sofia, who saw Bourchier shortly before his death, wrote in The Times of January 18, 1921: "In truth, he was perhaps the staunchest and most faithful friend Bulgaria has ever had . . . ".

Yours faithfully, LILIANA BRISBY. 20 Ansdell Terrace, W8.

allow Argentinian fishermen to resume fishing in the Protection Zone it would be seen as a positive and concessionary gesture towards the democratically elected government in Argentina and those maritime communities which are still suffering from the strained relations between the two nations. The Shackleton report on the Falkland Islands observed that the most effective way of developing the efficient management and conservation of the fisheries would be on the basis of "friendly collaboration between Britain and Argentina" within which the fisheries could be jointly managed.

For this state of affairs to be realised the Government would have to take the initiative in advance of more formal negotiations between the two nations. Yours faithfully. N. A. GODMAN.

House of Commons.

objectives included commitment outside the classroom.

However, unlike other pro-fessional activities, entry to teaching and the maintenance of teaching standards and discipline within the profession have never been in the hands of teachers and therefore they are in a weakened position.

The setting up of a General Council edly be a significant step achieving professional respectability for teachers,

Soviet emigrants

From Professor Armen G. Katchaturvan and others

Sir. For many years we are trying unsuccessfully to obtain permission to leave the USSR for reunification with our relatives in Israel. According to the Helsinki Accord and Madrid Conference Protocol we have all legal rights to receive such permission because none of us has ever been involved with any classified information.

The sixteenth meeting of the European Bio-Chemical Society is being held in Moscow on June 25 to 30, 1984, and gives us the oppor-tunity of addressing the participants through your newspaper and to ask them to appeal to the Organising Committee President, Professor Yu A. Ovchinnikov, Shemyakin Insti-tute of Biorganic Chemistry, USSR Academy of Sciences, U1 Vavilova 32, 117988 GSP - 1, Moscow V.334, USSR, as well as the Soviet Government, President and leadership of the USSR Academy of Sciences, to permit us to leave the country. The efforts of our colleagues from abroad will surely receive due attention and respect.

We rely on your human solidarity and thank you for your sympathy and help. Yours faithfully, ARMEN G. KATCHATURYAN.

LEV GOLDFARB, I. IRLIN, M. TARSHIS, I. USPENSKIY. Nov. Cheremushka 32A/5 Apt. 40, Moscow 113461, Signs and portents?

From Mr Philip Gordon-Marshall Sir, Ninety-seven members of the Publishers' Association signed the testimonial to the British Council which appeared in your pages today (June 13). After trying hard I could only read the names of 36 of them. I trust this in no way relates to the percentage of readability of their books. Yours faithfully. PHILIP GORDON-MARSHALL, Garden Cottage, Great House, Little Sodbury, Avon. June 13.

TIVISI

OUT

, I unit

The last

Sell of the second seco

COURT AND SOCIAL

COURT CIRCULAR

BUCKINGHAM PALACE June 16: Her Majesty was present at The Queen's Birthday Parade on the Horse Guards Parade this morning. The Queen was accompanied by The Duke of Edinburgh (Colonel, Grenadier Guards). The Prince of Wales (Colonel, Welsh Guards) and The Duke of Kent (Colonel, Scots

Her Majesty was attended by Major-General Lord Michael Fitz-alan Howard (Colonel, The Life Guards), Major-General Sir George Burns (Colonel, Coldstream Guards), Major-General J. A. C. G. Eyre (Major General Commanding the Household Division) and the Household Division Staff.
The Earl of Westmorland (Master of the Horsel, General Sir Desmond Fitzpatrick, Colonel, The Blues and Royals (Gold Stick in Waiting). Lieutenant-Colonel Sir John Miller Lieutenant-Colonel Sir John Miller (Crown Equerry), Lieutenant Colo-nel Sir John Johnston and Lieutenant-Colonel George West (Equerries in Waiting) and Colonel J. G. Hamilton Russell, The Blues and Royals (Silver Stick in Waiting)

were in attendance.
Colonel H. M. C. Havergal (Commanding Coldstream Guards), Colonel J. A. Dunsmure (Commanding, Scots Guards), Colonel J. H. Baker (Commanding, Irish Guards), and the Silver Stick Adjutant and Regimental Adjutants of Foot Guards were present.

The Troops on Parade, under the cummand of Colonel A. T. W.

The Hon James Joicey and Miss A. H. F. M. Thompson

father of the bride officiated.

bridegroom, was best man.

Sir Edward Fennessy

and Mrs L. P. Birkett

Hambleton officiated.

was best man

be spent abroad.

Mr D. B. Lancaster

and Miss L. V. Arbuthnot

carried a bouquet of carnations and

Hardman and Jenny Hacking attended her. Mr Geoffrey Lucas

The marriage took place on Saturday at Holy Trinity, ancaster, only son of the late

Major B. T. Lancaster and of Mrs Lancaster, of Rectory Hill House,

West Dean, Salisbury, and Miss Louise Victoria Arbuthnot, daughter of Sir John Arbuthnot, Bt. and Lady Arbuthnot, of Poulton Manor,

Ash. Canterbury. The Rev Sandy

marriage by her father, was attended by Tom Burns, Harry and Edward Camilla St John and Alice Hawkins.

A reception was held in Fulham Palace and the honeymoon will be spent in the Far East.

Appointments in the REAR ACMORALS: Sir John Woodward to be promoted Vice Admiral, June 7.

COMMANDERS: It Amission-Mochine, to MODIPT: with the Separal Protect Laxuitive, Dec 11: M G R Hawks, to MOD with Commodore Naval Ship Acceptance, Sept 16; D B R Hushes, to MOD with Litertor of Naval Operations and Trade, Dec 7.

Mr Glen Smith was best man.

Forces

The bride, who was given in

ompton, of Mr David Bernard

Trinity,

The bride, who was given in marriage by her mother, was attended by Richard Tulloch, Alice Cochrane, Nicola Newall. The Hon

Andrew Joicey, brother of the

A reception was held at the home of the bride.

Marriages

Duncan, Grenadier Guards (Field Wallace, and from the Tower of Officer in Brigade Waiting) received
The Queen with a Royal Salute.
Queen Elizabeth The Queen Mother, The Princess of Wales, The Princess Anne, Mrs Mark Phillips

and Captain Mark Phillips and Captain Mark Phillips. The Princess Margaret. Countess of Snowdon, Princess Alice, Duchess of Gloucester, The Duke and Duchess of Gloucester, The Duchess of Kent, Princess Michael of Name of Kent, Princess Michael of Name of State Princess Michael of Name kent, and other Members of the Royal Family, drove to the Horse Guards Parade and witnessed The Queen's Birthday Parade. On conclusion of the Parade, Her

Majesty rode back to Buckingham Palace at the head of The Queen's Guard, preceded by the Massed Mounted Bands of the Household Cavairy, a Sovereign's Escort of the Household Cavalry, under the command of Major G. H. Tweedie, The Blues and Royals, and the Massed Bands of the Guards

On arrival at Buckingham Palace, The Queen's Guards entered the The Queen's Guards entered the Forecourt and formed up opposite the Old Guard, the remaining Guards marching past Her Majesty. The King's Troop, Royal Horse Artillery, and the Household Cavalry, ranked past The Queen. Her Majesty, from Buckingham Palace, witnessed a fly-past by aircraft of Royal Air Force Strike Command, led by Wing Commander J. B. Grogan, to mark the official celebration of The Queen's Birthday.

Birthday.

Royal Salutes were fired today by
The King's Troop, Royal Horse Artillery in Hyde Park under the command of Major Malcolm

Mr A. Adie and Miss R. Lord

The marriage took place on Saturday between Mr Alistair Adic, of London, and Miss Rebekah Lord, daughter of Mr and Mrs S. Lord, of The marriage took place on Saturday at Oxnam Kirk, Jedburgh, Roxburghshire, of the Hon James Rocombe, Devon. Joicey, elder son of Lord and Lady Joicey, of Etal Manor. Berwick-upon-Tweed, to Miss Harriet Thompson, younger daughter of the Rev William and Mrs Thompson, of Oxnam Manse, Jedburgh. The futher of the bride officients.

Mr M. H. Boger and Miss J. C. Essayan The marriage took place on Saturday at The Temple Church, London, of Mr Manuel Hugo Boger, only son of Mr and Mrs Victor Boger, to Miss Joanna Essayan, only daughter of Mr and Essayan, only daughter of Mr and Mrs Michael Essayan, Canon Joseph Robinson, Master of the Temple, officiated.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attended by Miss Karena Porter. Miss Serena Hesmondhalgh and Miss Susan Bayliss. Mr Graham Stibbs was best

A reception was held at the Savoy Hotel and the honeymoon will be spent abroad.

Mr J. J. E. Brennan and Mrs C. E. Arkwright

The marriage of Sir Edward Fennessy, of Shamley Green, and Mrs Patsy Birkett, of Southsea, widow of Trevor Birkett, 100k place The marriage took place quietly in Northamptonshire, on June 16, between Mr John James Edward Brennan and Mrs Claire Elizabeth quiesly at Guildford, on Saturday. and Miss H. C. H. North The marriage took place on Saturday at St Lawrence's Weston-Arkwright (née Linnell).

Major N. C. G. Cann and Miss C. A. Marson

under-Penyard, Herefordshire, of Mr Seymour Thomas Thistlethwayte, son of Mr and Mrs Seymour Thistlethwayte, of Sheet Mill House, Petersfield, Hantpshire, to Miss Harries Condelin Hamistre The marriage took place on Saturday, at Christchurch, Blackfriars, between Major Nicholas Charles Gould Cann, The Queen's Miss Harriet Cordelia Henrietta North, younger daughter of Sir Jonathan North, Bt. and Lady Regiment, only son of Mrs Ellera Cann, of Kent Avenue, London, W13, and the late Rev Monty Cann, North, of Frogmore, Weston-under-Penyard. The Rev J. Morris-Thomas and the Rev R. D. w 13, and the late Rev Monty Cann, and Miss Claire Anne Marson, only daughter of Colonel and Mrs Anthony Marson, of Penhempen, Dolfor Powys, Canon Peter Challen officiated, assisted by Mrs Alison The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown ivory-coloured silk taffeta and

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown stephanotis. Patrick Herridge, Luke of cream silk taffeta and lace. Her Hacking Katharine and Rosanna silk veil was held in place by a pearl and diamond tiara and she carried a bouquet of roses and ivy. She was attended by Helen Law, Emilie Davis, Jennifer Wake, Rachel Phillips and Mrs Diane Law, Captain Eugene O'Kane, RM, (retd) A reception was held at the home of the bride and the honeymoon will

A reception was held at the House of Commons and the honeymoon will be spent in East Africa.

Mr G. W. K. Fenn-Smith

and Mrs A. P. Brittenden The marriage took place in London on May 19 between Mr Gay Fenn-Smith and Mrs Ann Brittenden. Mr N. J. Hornsby and Miss A. Che So Hashim The marriage took place on Friday, June 15, 1984, in Singapore, of Mr Nicholas John Hornsby to Miss Anita Che Su Hashim.

and Mrs S. Ellis

The marriage took place on Friday.

June 15, at Hastings, Sussex, between Dr Thomas King and Mrs

COMMANDERS: A M Bruce. Aug 11: P J Hills. Aug 18: J R Hutton. Aug 12: J M Lee. July 11

Royal Air Force CROUP CAPTAIN (with acting rank of Air Commodoret W R J Fewing to Director of Engineering Policy (RAP), June 22. Royal Marines

G J H Mackle. Lt.Col. to be placed on Group Captaint: A M Bowman to RAF

London Saluting Battery by the Honourable Artillery Company under the command of Major Guy

BUCKINGHAM PALACE June 17: The Queen and The Duke of Edinburgh today attended the Centenary Reception and Displays of the National Light Horse Breeding Society (H.I.S.), of which there Majorty is Batton and Her Majesty is Patron and President, the Hackney Horse Society, of which Her Majesty is President, and the Cleveland Bay Horse Society, of which Her Majesty is Patron, at Smith's Lawn, Windoor Green Book Windsor Great Park.

The Queen and The Duke of Edinburgh were received on arrival by Her Majesty's Lord-Lieutenant for the Royal County of Berkshire (Colonel the Hon Gordon Palmer). Lieutenant-Colonel Sir John Miller was in attendance.

By command of The Queen, the Baroness Trumpington (Baroness in Waiting) was present at Heathrow Airport, London this morning upon the departure of the Governor-General of Belize and bade farewell to Her Excellency on behalf of Her KENSINGTON PALACE June 17: The Duchess of Gloucester as Vice-Patron, this afternoon, visited The Queen's Club and presented the prize at the Stella Artois Lawn Tennis Championships. Mrs Howard Page was in

Mr J. Findlay and Mrs T. Cunningham-Reld

The marriage took place on Wednesday, June 13, at St Columba's Church of Scotland, Pont Street, between Mr John Findlay and Mrs Tessa Cunning-

Mr F. A. Laucher and Miss A. Leishman

The marriage took place on June 16. in Edmonton, Alberta, Canada, between Mr Frank Laucher, son of Mr and Mrs Laucher, of London, and Miss Ann Leishman, daughter of the late Mr Leishman and of Mrs Leishman, of Glasgow.

Mrs W. D. Leefe and Miss A. Heyboe

The marriage took place on June 11, at Oakham. Rutland. between William, eldest son of Mr John D. Leefe, OBE, and Mrs Leefe, of the Algoi Forest Institute, Mogadishu. Somalia, and Angela, daughter of Mr and Mrs David Heyhoe, of

Mr C. Mellows

The marriage took place on Saturday, at Holy Trinity Church, Brook Green, London, W6, of Mr Christopher Mellows and Miss Georgina Monro. Father Harry Georgina Monro. Father Harry Turner officiated.

The bride, who was given in marriage by Mr Frank d'Abreu, wore Victorian style dress of champagne silk and a long lace edged veil held in place by a tiara. She was attended by Catherine d'Abreu, Isobel le Fowne Hurt, and Abreu, Isobel le Fowne Hurt, and Abreu and Mr Rohin Alexandra Burt, and Mr Robin Goodfellow was best man.

A reception was held at the Basil Street Hotel, and the honeymoon

Mr L G. Swan and Miss F. E. Blake

The marriage took place in London on June 7 between Mr Ian Gordon Swan, of 66 Lysia Street, London SW6, and Miss Fiona Elisbeth Blake, of Harrogate, North York

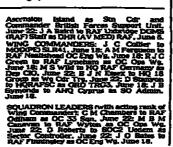

Mr M. P. C. Tindal-Carill-Worsley and Miss S. de Vere Dudgeon

The marriage took place on Saturday, June 9, 1984, at St Salutuay, June 9, 1964, at St. Kyneburgha's, Castor, of Mr Mark Tindal-Carill-Worsley, only son of Licutenant-Colonel and Mrs Peter Tindal-Carill-Worsley, of 37 Evelyn Gardens, London, SW7, and Miss Sarah de Vere Dudgeon, eldest daughter of Dr and Mrs Ian de Vere Dudgeon, of The Cedars, Castor, Peterborough. The Rev T. Adler and the Rev J. Harper officiated.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attended by Mrs Ian Wilson, Miss Deidre de Vere Dudgeon, Ann Biddle and Alastair Hogarth. Mr Richard Innes

was best man.

A reception was held at the home of the bride and the honeymoon is being spent abroad.

Seeking a solution to the 'Durham quarrel'

By Clifford Longley, Religious Affairs Correst

Probably a good half of the bishops of the Church of England would tend to agrees with Professor David Jenkins, the Bishop-elect of Durchurch believes, but it is generally neglected because no one seems to ham, in his reservations about traditional expressions of Christian know what practical consequences it

They have kept their heads down The 1981 report of the Doctrine Commission, subtitled "The Corporate Nature of Faith", received in the present controversy because of a desire to cool, rather than fuel or a desire to cool rather than their porate Nature of Faith", received the fires, not through a lack of far less attention than it deserved sympathy for the professor. But the and its central ideas have not yet point may rapidly be approaching at been digested. This concept of which they will be open to criticism "corporate faith" has no apparent or failing to give him public cash value.

The fact that he is not way out, but typical of many modern bishops is gennerally recognized by those who are gunning for him. Some are principle that contains a necessary inside the common of the primarily interested in giving the issue a good airing, for the sake of

The more political battle going The more political battle going on, however, is an attempt to gain a yard or two more of the high ground, for instance to let the Crown Appointments Commission know that it would be wise to promote a couple of good solid conservatives soon, and never to consider a candidate for the episcopal bench anyone more "advanced" than Professor Jenkins.

The various elements which give the Church of England its broad or comprehensive character spent much time trying to outvote or outmanoeuvre each other, much outhanoeuvre each other, much less trying to reconcile or persuade each other. There is a pervasive individualism in the church, individuals of various persuasions, forming like-minded groups, the better to advance the individual opinions held in common, rather than to discover and express the church's collective faith. church's collective faith

What is less apparent in practice, though certainly present in Anglican theory, is a sense of corporate beliefs dynamic process by which this belief struggles into the light

Forthcoming

marriages

Mr C. O'Donnell

Mr S. Baily Gibson and Miss N. J. Hopes

Christening

Meinertzhagen Christopher Wilson,

Mr P. J. A. Darling

amd Miss A. C. Crossley

The engagement is announced between Patrick, son of Mr Gerald Darling, QC, and Mrs Darling, of Crevanagh, Omagh, co Tyrone, and Amanda, eldest daughter of Colonel the Hon Nicholas and Mrs Crossley.

of Westfield Farm, Malton, North

The engagement is announced between Columbus, son of Mrs Josephine Bryce, of New York, and

Andrea, eldest daughter of the late Commander Axel Mortensen, and of Mrs Juliet Mortensen, of Oxton, Nottinghamshire. The marriage will take place quietly in September.

The engagement is announced between Simon, only son of Mr and

Michael Turner was christened Alexia Caroline by the Rev F. A. Piachaud at Christ Church, Chelses, Piachaud at Christ Church, Chelses, on Sunday, June 17, 1984. The godparents are Dr Michael Elliott, Mr Richard Stanton, Mrs Peter and Miss A. C. L. Mortensen

Anglicanism is no stranger to the discussed, internally and ecumenide that the fundamental Christian affirmation is "we believe what the controversial or novel ideas are

Announcing either of these things to everyman, the churches forget that everyman's first and obvious insight into the common responsi-bility of the faithful for the faith, but which is often used instead as an excuse for avoiding difficult ques-

Dispersed authority may also need gathered authority if it is not to-be unbalanced; but it is here the Church of England runs into one of extends further than this. In one of the thousands of ways that its special character is shaped by the its most profound misgivings about the Roman Catholic concept of The objection to absolute authority, which is how Rome is seen, is extended into an objection to all possible forms of focussed and identifiable authority. Yet to be true to Anglicanism's particular charac-ter, it would be enough for such a visible and central authority to be provisional rather than final. That is to say, subject to revision and development rather than an infal-lible last word.

The Church of England has disposed of both the baby and the bath water of visible doctinal authority, and the result is that it does not know how to decide whether the Bishop-elect of Durham or anyone else is orthodox or not (or even where the balance of probability lies).

The authority issue is generally found within the church. This narrow approach is not confined to Anglicanism: papal authority for example, is usually discussed in connexion with such matters as birth control or the disciplining of Professor Hans Kung.

In both churches this has led to the neglect of the idea of authority message, "Christ is risen:" or "Jesus is Lord". in the proclamation of the central response is to ask "Who is speaking?" And that is the fundamental question about authority in the church, not how deviations are handled within the church's internal life. Authority is an evangelistic difficulty before it is anything else. Anglicanism's authority problem break with Rome and the continu-ing history of that break, the Church of England tends to assert its claim to the catholic and apostolic as a rebuttal of Rome's non-recognition. or as a flag round which the high urch party can rally. If that is all it is, Rome's non-recognition may have a point.

But the Church of England has every right to use these ancient hallmarks of the Christian church in hallmarks of the Christian church in its basic evangelism, and Rome could hardly disapprove. When the Church of England proclaims that "Christ is risen" or "Jesus is Lord," and everyman inquires the authority for the message, the Church of England may answer, indisputably: "The catholic church, claiming that ultimate authority". ultimate authority".

For whether the catholic church be the Roman Catholic Church or wider than that is irrelevant when it is being cited as the authority for the truth of essential Christian teaching.

Here may lie a solution to the "Durham quarrel". A bishop (or bishop-elect) has private opinions as an individual: and he also has authority as a bishop to proclaim in the name of the catholic church, what the church believes. This takes precedence over his private opinOBITUARY

MAJOR-GEN.

W. D. BROWN

Developing

new weapons

General Sir John Hackett

At Douglas Brown's funeral

the little church of the village he lived in and loved was filled to overflowing by as many as could get there, in tribute to someone who will be much missed. He united a sharp eve and shrewd mind with unlimited kindness and a deep humility.

A distinguished and dedicated soldier, devoted to the Royal Regiment of Artillery, he was equally at home in the field and in Whitehall. As a fighting man he won a DSO in war.

Chief of Staff in the Northern ireland Command, Later as Director of Army Equipment Policy and Deputy Master

General of the Ordnance, he was the prime agent in the development of a field artillery to succeed the 25-pounder, and the mid-wife of Rapier, while his competence and diplomacy played a large part in protecting the development of what we now call "Harrier", against easily understood but ill-conceived inter-Service opposition.

He was a man of deep religious conviction, staunch and direct, "You'd have to be barmy", he would say, looking round at the wild things he loved and the peope he loved

no less for their imperfections,

"to think all this could happen administrative skill. The 15 years he spent as Director of the Duiverton Trust will have left many in his debt and the Dulverton trustees much sad-

PROFESSOR E

HAEUSSERMANN

Professor Ernst Haeusser-

mann, the distinguished Austrian theatre director, who left

Vienna after the Anschluss to ioin his countryman, Professor

Max Reinhardt, in his American exile, and became an American citizen, only to return in 1946 to take up the post of programme director and producer with Austrian Radio, has

He was the son of the celebrated Burg Theatre actor.

Reinhold Haeussermann, with whom for a few years be was to share the boards of the Burg.

debut in 1933, followed by a memorable performance as Marchbanks in Shaw's Candida

June 3, 1916, he was taken as a

Though born in Leipzig, on 7111

 $\mathcal{E}_{\mathcal{C}^{(k)}(M_{\mathcal{C}^{(k$ 4 6th 35

* 9₀₀₀

in in

-11.

Carrie

 $\mathcal{A}^{p_{i+1}}$

JA 1817

. North

5° 4.

C2 C

died in Vienna, aged 68.

He was a loyal man of high by accident".

dened by his going.

He was to be an outstanding writes:

If they cannot be reconciled to it they have to be submitted to it but until the Church of England has acquired some mechanism for deciding what private opinions are compatible with the catholic faith, bishops and everyone else must have the benefit of the doubt.

Thus, asked about the Resurrection, the Bishop must repeat the church's faith with the authority of an official mouthpiece (and it is not his place to alter it). Asked what it means however, he may express whatever personal thoughts he whatever personal industrial in-thinks would be helpful which have not been repudiated by the church's authority, making that point clear. And that is what Professor Jenkins more or less did in his famous Credo television interview.

That the church ought to repudiate certain opinions is a point others may then press, until a idement is arrived at by the church itself. And this could and should be a proper part of the church's ordinary life, not an occasion for scandal and crisis. This would need the Church of England to find a little more doctrinal self-confidence and for its various constituent schools and parties to abandon sectarian battlefield attitudes, the better to promote the partiuclar truths they wish to see included in the whole.

Those who would not trust such a process have truly lost faith in the Church of England, and are therefore not really part of it. They do not believe "what the church believes" but insist instead that the church must believe what they, as

Parliament this week

Commons. Today and Tomorrow (2.30); Debate on defence estimates. Wednesday (2.30): Roads (Scotland), progress on remaining stages. Thursday (2.30): Debate on Osposition motion on new technology. Piece Hall, Halifax (No. 2) Bill, second reading. Friday (9.30): Debate on the civil eviation Friday 9,30; Debate on the CIVI avacua-inquistry.
Select consensities. Today: Environment.
Manufactur Acid Pain Witnesses. Motor Manufactur Education. Science and Arts.
Subject Science budget Witness: Advisory Board for the Research Couped (10.15).
Wednesday: Foreign afforts. Subject Diplomatic humunibes and privileges. Witness: Foreign and Commonwealth Office (10.30). Totale and Commonwealth Child and Manufactury. Subject: Wealth of Trade and Manufactury. Witnesses: British Scrap Federation: Reclamation Association: Editsh Wasse Paper Association (10.30). Environment. Subject: Acid rain Witness.

14.15.

Emaloyment.
Subject The implications for industrial relations and employment of the introduction of the polygraph.

Witnesses: Dr. Douglas Carrell, University of Birmingham: Council of Civil Service Unions: TUC 43.50.

Foreign Afrairs.

Villegene Lacty Young, Minister of Stale, Foreign and Commonwealth Office, and officials (5).

Lorda, Today (2.50): London Regional Transport Bill, third reading, Trade Union Bill, commince, first day, Video Recording Bill report, third day.

Tomorrow (2.50): Trade Union Bill. commince, second day, Child Abduction Bill. commince.

Forum.
Thursday (3): Health and Social Security Bill. committee, third day. Data Protection Bill. Commons assembles to Data Protection Bill. Commons assembles to Data Protection (No 2) (Northern Ireland) Order.
Friday (1): Juries (Disquisification) (BBI, report. Ordence Factories and Military Service Bill. second reading. Debate on the

The engagement is announced between Mark, first son of Mr J. N. Smith, of Oxshott, Surrey, and Anne, only daughter of Mr and Mrs W. Linskill, of Nunthorpe, Cleve-Progress of legislation

A 10g1033 OH 10g1812HUH
Commons. June 12: Right of Reply Bill read a first time. Partiamentary: Pensions Ext Bill and Greater London Council Money! 040 29 Bill both read a second time. Shrawshory and Alcham Borough Council Bill of the Council Bill read a first time. Materimental and Fundly: Proceedings Sill read in the first time by 139 youts to 16. June 15: Pertiamentary Pensions Ex Bill completed the remembing stages. The following consolidation Bills all corneleted hair remaining stages: Food Mertal Health Geotgandt and Road Traffic Regulation.

Lords, June 11: Local Covernment (Materim Scottandt and Road Traffic begulation.
Larda, June 1:1 Local Covernages (Interim Provisional Bill read a second time after a reasoned amendment was relected by 237 votes to 217. June 12: Dangerons Vensias
Bill and Beiting, Gaming and Lotaries (Amendment) (No 2) Bill both read the third time and passed, London Regional Transport Bill completed the report stage.
Health mad Social Security Bill considered in committee and adjourned. Ball-both read the third limber and the Completed the report stage.
Health mad Social Security Bill considered in committee and adjourned. Ball-both read the third lime and passed, Video Recordings Bill further considered on report June 15: Health and Social Security
Bill further considered in committee.

Birthdays today

Lord Broughshane, 81; Mr Sammy Cahn, 71; Mr Ian Carmichael, 64; Professor G. M. Carstairs, 68; Lord Chesham, 68; Major Leonard Dent, 96; Mr Card de Winter, 50; Miss Patricia Hutchinson, 58; Mr Denis Johnston, 83; Mr Paul McCartney, 42; Sir Brian Marwick, 76; the Duke of Portland, 87; Mr Liewellyn Rees, 83; Miss Delia Smith, 43; Miss Marjorie Westbury, 79.

three - months - old babe to Vienna, where he studied acting and music at the State Academy and the University. From 1939 wood as Reinhardt's assistant and as assistant director on several films, including This Man Reuter, under

His first production in Vienna was Goethe's Faust, for Austrian radio, and in 1953 he became a director, producer, and consultant to the Cosmopol Film company, for whom he made an Austrian version of Porgy and Bess.

He was the obvious choice to take over the management of Reinhardt's Theater an der Josefstadt, which he did in

He brought the Burg Theatre production of Schnitzler's Liebelei to the Aldwych Theatre in 1973 as part of The World

BILL VOCE

Mr W. L. Miron writes: It may not be known that Bill Voce had in the mid-1950s and early 1960s returned to work in the coal industry, He was engaged at the headquarters of the South Notts Area, West Midlands Division of the National Coal Board, During his time there he played friendly cricket in XIs from office and other staffs.

In this makeshift, low-grade cricket he brought the same elegance, immaculate turn-out, and enthusiasm he had shown in the first-class game at the highest levels. Those of us who played with him - young men and middle-aged incompetents. none approaching his standard and experience - derived great pleasure and inspiration from joining him in these matches.

George Pope (Derbyshire and England) and Austin Matthews (Glamorgan, Northants, and England) were also employed by the NCB in the East Midlands Division at that time. This trio of international fast bowlers made a formidable attack which delighted onlookers, fellow players and opponents for many seasons. Bill was a mainspring willingly subordinating himself to captaincies by others whose knowledge of the game was limited.

He was a lovable colleague, a good companion and loyal friend. To see him greated by past Australian cricketers at Lord's during the Centenary Test celebrations was to realize that he was similarly regarded by his former opponents.

Mr James Dalton Murray, CMG, who died on June 4 at the age of 73, was British High Commissioner in Jamaica from

This week's sales

Weds, 29th: 10 nm English and Continental Furniture, Works of Art, Clocks & Bronzes Thurs, 21st: 11 nm: 18th, 19th & 20th Century kritish Psintings, English Watercolours &

Drawings 2.30 pm: Prints, 18th, 19th & 20th Century European Watercolours & Drawings, Pai Old Master Paintings

For information on all operaces sales please John Prince (01) 493 8080 Ext. 301

Dorset, Beniscoule Manor, Nr. Bridport Tel: (07982) 3831 or Broadwindsor (0308) 68612 Mon. 25th: 10.30 am: The Remaining

Chester, Chestire CH1 2NA Tel: (0244) 315531

Tues. 19th: 10,30 am: Campies & Glass Weds. 20th: 10.30 and Silver & Jewellery

Opportunities to sell at Sotheby's

If you are thinking of selling, some of our specialized sales are listed below. To allow time for the worldwide distribution of our catalogues, items should reach us before the closing dates mentioned. If you have an item that you wish to include in these or any other sales please telephone (01) 493 8080 Ext. 123 for details.

Furniture & Works of Art Paintings
Sporting Guns & Fishing Tackie
Scottish Silver

Sabject

London, 34-35 New Boad Street,

7.30 pm: Nineteenth Century European

Paintings and Drawings Weeds. 20th: 11 am & 2.30 pm: Ninetecuth

Thurs. 21st: 11 am & 2.30 pm: Important

Musical Instruments
2.30 pm: Nineteenth Century European

Tues. 19th: 10.30 am & 2.30 pm: Fine Chinese

W1A 2AA Tel: (01) 493 8080

Century European Paintings

ics and Works of Art

Venue Pulborough Gleneagles: Gieneagies Gleneagles

Closing date for entry 21st June 22nd June 22nd June

Enquiries (91) 493 8069 Spie date Jenni Clarke (07982) 3831 Michael Bing James Booth Peter Waldron

24th July 27th Angust 27th August 27th August

Mrs D. Roadnight, and the late Mr R. Roadnight, The Priory, Britwell Salome, Oxfordshire, and Marjorie, of Mr and Mrs K. Edwards, of elder daughter of Mr and Mrs A. S. Walls, 46 Watson Street, Aberdeen. Mr M. N. S. Smith and Miss A. Linskill and Miss M. Holiman The engagement is announced between Robert, only son of Mr and

Pecking order: Lady Hugh Russell greeting her macaw which flies freely with the rooks

and other birdlife on the Russell estate at Bathampton House, Wylye, Wiltshire (Photograph: Richard Wintle),

The engagement is announced between Peter, son of Mr and Mrs T. Cripps, of Ravensthorpe, Nor-

Mr P. J. Cripps and Miss S. E. J. Edwards

Mrs John Knight, of Porton, Wiltshire, and Margaret, eldest daughter of Dr and Mrs Arthur Hollman, of Pett, East Sussex.

and Dr D. Patel The engagement is announced between Devendra, younger son of Mr and Mrs N. M. Amin, of Kingston, Surrey, and Dipti, only daughter of Mr and Mrs D. C. Pauel, of Edison, New Jersey, United

Mr N. R. Purssell and Miss J. A. Dent The engagement is announced between Neville Richard, elder son of Mr and Mrs A. J. R. Purssell, of Gerrards Cross, Buckinghams

Mrs James Baily Gibson, of Fronheulog Llanfrothen, Gwynedd, and Nicola Jane, only daughter of Mr and Mrs Derek Hopes, of Peterley House, Great Missenden, Buckinghamshire. and Juliet Anne, eldest daughter of Major-General and Mrs J. H. B. Dent, of Kensington, London. The infant daughter of Dr and Mrs

Dods will be held at the Church of the Holy Sepulchre, Holborn

Viaduct, at noon today. Lady Greenock gave birth to a daughter, on June 11.

A memorial service for Signor Tito Gobbi will be held at St Paul's, Covent Garden, at noon today.

A memorial service for Mr Marcus

University news First for SDP The Oxford Union Debating Society has elected its first SDP president. Mr Roland Rudd, of Regent's Park College, beat Mr Stephen Kenny, a Conservative, of Worcester College, by six votes and will take office next and Miss M. A. Walls

The engagement is between William (Bill),

Mr I. M. Taylor-Restell and Miss C. A. Van Heiden

Mr R. M. Williams

and Miss F. E. J. Paul

The engagement is announced between lan, son of the late Mr T. M. Taylor-Restell and Mrs V. M.

Pratt, of Wateringbury, Kent, and Catherine, only daughter of Mr and Mrs. H. W. Van Helden, of Compton, Wolverhampton.

The engagement is announced between Mark, second son of Mr and Mrs J. K. Williams, of Winchester, Hampshire, and Fenella, eldest daughter of Mr and Mrs W. T. F. Paul, of Ayr.

Nature guide pinpoints a paradox

Three years ago reporters were taken to an outstanding butterfly reserve in a Porestry Commission plantation near Oxford. They were asked to publicize the fact that the lished today, offers 700 pages commission had agreed to look of data about 2,000 nature reserves throughout Great after the butterflies, but on no account to name the plantation. Butterfly collectors and casual tourists were not to be

A new directory of nature reserves includes beneath a photograph of the forest the words: "The woodland rides of Bernwood Forest on the borders of Buckinghamshire and Oxfordshire are famous for their butterflies". Visitors are still slightly handicapped by the abscence in the book of irections to the forest. But they need not be unduly discouraged since it is clearly marked on the local Ordinance Survey map.

Naturalists in the past were expected to search for their rarities. Now the rarities have been squeezed by urban sprawl and intensive farming into tight enclaves where they are catalogued, supervised and sometimes guarded against introders. The new directory, pub-

Britain. The survey took four years, and the refuges of the rarest species are left out. Oue such rarity is the Lady's Slipper Orchid, one of the most exotic of British plants of which only one survives in the wild. Some reserves, like Monks Wood somewhere in the east of England, which is the home of 1,000 types of beetle, are mentioned briefly without details of how to reach them.

Others are identified by map references, although several of those can be entered only with a permit, usually issued by the local naturalists' trust. Others can be glimpsed only from roads and public footpaths. Others again con-tain nature trails with their attractions labelled.

The directory emphasizes the dependence of some wildlife for survival on carefully-managed reserves. The reserve at Littleton Wood, Avon, has been "established to protect a colony of the very local Yellow Star of Bethlehem". Hartland Moor in Dorset, which can be entered only with a permit from the Nature Conservancy Council, positively swarms with rep-tiles. All of our three native snakes and three native lizards have been found there, including the extremely rare sand lizard and smooth snake. The directory is a tribute to the determination of enthusiasts to secure wild species against extinction. Its compilers say that directory appears when "pub-lic interest in our national heritage has never been stronger, but when paradoxically threats to its future seem to be gathering in their intensity'

1965 to 1970, and Ambassador to Romania from 1963 to 1965.

FINANCE AND INDUSTRY

Executive Editor Kenneth Fleet

Professor Lawson on the great experiment

It was John Kenneth Galbraith who so disingenuously thanked Mrs Thatcher's Government for lugging the British economy on to the Laboratory bench for a series of monetarist injections, performing drug trials for the rest of the world. It was not a notion that appealed to his British audience. Now Mr Nigel Lawson, with typical bravura, is to lecture us on "The British Experiment" a title he himself chose for this afternoon's Mais lecture at the City University.

D6,6|000

PROFESSIO

HAT SERVI

In Mr Lawson's view, no doubt, this "experiment" was of the type being carried out this month by thousands of GCE candidates sweating over a hot busen burner: the deliberate demonstration of well-established truths. But there were at least three ways in which the Thatcher Government's policies were experimental in the sense of differing from the practices of previous political examinees in Downing Street, on which it will be interesting to hear Mr Lawson verdict for posterity. It will, however, be even more interesting to learn if the Chancellor still considers Tory economic policy to be in the experimental, adventurous phase. There is still a puzzle about Mr Lawson. What exactly is his strategy for - to use his own words to the City last autumn encouraging "enterprise in the marketplace."? How much of a supply-sider is Mrs Thatcher's Second chancellor?

We need to start with the Thatcher Government's initial experiments. The first was not, of course, merely to set monetary targets as a restraint on inflation: these were inherited from the Labour Government in 1979. What was new about the Thatcher strategy was the reliance on a tight monetary belt without formal pay policy braces.

With what result? Wages shot up, and so did unemployment; but wage inflation did slow down from 1981 to 1983, and we have not suffered the pay surge that historically accompanied the breakdown of every formal pay policy. But earnings are still running well above prices (about 8 per cent compared with just over 5)

The second experiment was the publication of policy targets for a number of years ahead. The Government was soon way off its own monetary dartboard, and had to hammer a whole new series of hooks in the wall for its famous "mediumterm financial strategy". But the budgetary targets within the money numbers remained important, and the third, most critical experiment was the pursuit of these declining budgetary targets right through the economic cycle. They, too, were adjusted: the original MTFS proposed a public sector borrowing requirement of only 1.5 per cent by 1983-84, a target Mr Lawson does not now propose to reach before the end of the decade. But the Government did stick to its highly experimental view that the economy would bounce back without budgetary

Mr Lawson, never a man to resist an opportunity to hit back at the sceptical economies profession, will no doubt be reminding us this afternoon that output began to pick up just after Sir Geoffrey Howe reduced public borrowing by roughly 2 per cent of gdp in 1981.

A neat picture drawn of the Government's strategy by one international financial institution recently was that the quick-acting boost from disinflation was intended to fill in the gap before slow-acting "structural policies" could take effect. But the first-stage rocket was not enough to dent let alone reverse, Britain's huge rise in unemployment. What can we expect from the second?

For the disinflation phase of the experiment is clearly over. Although Mr Lawson is still aiming for eventual price stability, he himself told the CBI boldly last month that the Government had, "to intents and purposes", defeated inflation. Now he must demonstrate fundamental Thatcherite faith in the selfrighting properties of the economy.

How, precisely, does Mr Lawson intend to create the conditions for a natural return to fuller employment? There is a useful summary in that same speech to the CBI: "We have abolished controls on pay, prices, dividends, hire purchase, bank lending foreign exchange and industrial development. Then there is privatization; employment legislation; competition policy; the removal of subsidies and of "the distortions" created by the tax system. What government can do, we have done", the Chancellor said. "Now it is up to you."

The aspect of Mr Lawson's "supplyside" policies about which we know most is his tax strategy. He has set his face against the use of specific tax incentives to try to quick-fix a new entrepreneurial revolution: instead he wants to remove the barnacles of special tax-breaks from the British tax system. That is a liberal and laudable endeavour, but as a stimulus to enterprise it is likely to operate pretty slowly and generally. The greater the need, therefore, for the Government to push on quickly with its other attempts, or experiments, at making markets work.

The Chancellor is, for example, always lecturing us on wage flexibility, as an explanation of why American industrial production has risen exactly three times as fast as Britain's since the bottom of the recession; yet we still know very little about how the Government intends to increase flexibility here. Competition policy is still largely a title without a manuscript: Mr. Norman Tebbit has made disappointingly little of his golden political opportunity to take up the direction of second-term Thatcherism. There is a long agenda of issues on the supply side of the British economy labour mobility, British economy labour mobility, beginning of this, to inquire if published on the Stock Extraining, management education - on which there is still too little evidence of concentrated action.

There is a paradox about this second phase of policy. From structual policies, the impatient are warned, you cannot expect quick results. But that is the more reason, not less, to make haste. Mr Lawson may rejoice, this afternoon, in the outcome of his monetary drug trials; but it would be nice to hear more about the seedlings that should be growing on his laboratory windowsill.

Sarah Hogg Economics Editor

Minimum price of Enterprise Oil cut to below £400m

By Graham Searjeant and Ian Griffiths

Argentina may face

debtors' pressure

debtor

valued at a minimum of less have led to problems with than £400m in the prospectus privatization issues later in the for privatizing the oil company, which is now expected to be published tomorrow.

This compares with £425m or more that the Government and its banker, Kleinwort Benson, might have honed for only a few weeks ago when stockbroking analysis valued the company as high as £475m. But the uncertainties of the Gulf war and, more significantly, the recent falls in share prices in London and on Wall Street, have hit the prices of oil shares, which dropped by an average 6 per cent last week.
This forced the Department of Energy and the company to mum price and postponing the

Sir Clive: pitching to share

Acorn beats off

challenge for

BBC contract

By William Kay

City Editor

Acorn Computer is close to renewing its vital contract to make the BBC computer, which accounts for about 80 per cent

The present arrangemen between the two organizations expires on August 31. There had been considerable speculation that the BBC might be under pressure to award the business to another computer manufac-turer, or at least divide it amongst two or more suppliers.

in particular, Sir Clive

Sinclair lobbied strongly for the right to supplant Acorn. His Spectrum and ZX81 are two of the biggest-selling home com-

Hint last week a spokesman for Sinclair Research said: "We had a contract with the BBC at the contract for the computer was available. We subsequently met them. But we have heard nothing from them for some considerable time.

"We were not particularly pitching to be that sole supplier of the machine: there could be Acorn's representative, how-ver, was more cheerful. He negotiations for eight months.

"We have not heard of any other supplier in the running, we are on tenterhooks, but it's getting so late now that no news

must be good news."

"We have been in one, two or three machines."

puters in Britain...

of Acom's turnover.

After last minute meetings in the City, the Government seems to have decided to go ahead, but to pitch the minimum price at a sufficiently low level to ensure that it will be taken up by the City and investors. The offer for sale is being made by the tender system under which would-be subscribers set their own price choose between a lower mini-of the question.

Latin

to be discussed.

American

nations, meeting in Columbia

this week soon after the latest setback in efforts to sort out Argentina's $44 billion (£31.9 billion) foreign debt, are expected to renew calls for easier repayment terms and reductions in trade barriers. But a senior Brazilian official said that there would be no joint debt renegotiation discussions and a "debtors' cartel" was out

Senhor Roberto Abdenur.

head of the Brazilian foreign ministry's economic division, said the meeting would cover general and global issues but not individual country problems. However, the $300m loan to

Argentina from Mexico, Brazil,

Columbia and Venezuela, which is due for repayment at the end of this month, is certain

On Friday, the US Treasury, which had guaranteed to take over the loan provided Argentina reached an agreement with the International Monetary

Fund, decided not to extend its guarantee again. The US Treasury's move was designed to step up pressure on Argen-change's new tickertape when negotiated broking com-missions and a revised dealing system are introduced late next

The Stock Exchange Council is expected to decide that the size and price of deals should be disclosed on the tape experimentally for the most actively

Some prospective market

makers have argued that publication of last trade information

as well as bid and offer prices would so severely foul their pitch that it would destroy the traded stocks.

British Gas oil interests.

privatization issues later in the year, offered no guarantee that uncertainties would be removed and would have made it difficult for Enterprise's chief executive. Mr Graham Hearne, and his team to develop deals taxpayers should receive some and British Telecom. benefit from any short-term improvement in market conditions during the course of the offer, because investors would offer prices well ahead of the

for the new company, which was put together from former Although the Government will be hoping to secure more than the minimum price in to be satisfied with which would value the shares on a dividend yield around 5 per cent. The tender method reduces the risk of the Government being accused of selling the company off too cheaply and the Treasury is anxious that the issue should be well received by investors and City underwriters within the limit set by the so as to create a wecoming

tina to resolve its open dispute with the IMF over the terms of the IMF come to terms. But US

officials are now hoing that other Latin American countries, which have already undergone painful economic adjustment will put pressure on Argentina

The main stumbling block is Argentina's determination to push ahead with real increases

The propects of Argentina and the IMF reaching agreement by June 30, the deadline

by which American banks will have to classify many of their loans to Argentina as non-per-

Commercial banks had been working on plans for a $450m package which would have cleared interest arrears up to the beginning of April, thus avoiding the problem for American banks. However the package was dependent on agreement between Argentina and the lished that in actively traded stocks where competition for market making is intense, the result of last trade publication is usually to increase the amount of liquidity in the market rather

The NASDAQ, the US overthe-counter market, found this to be the case when it introduced last trade publi-cation on the top 100 stocks in the face of fierce opposition from market makers. It is now in the process of extending the service to 2,000 second line than reduce it.

to agree to IMF terms.

forming, appear slim.

in wages,

Last trade details likely to be on tickertape

Last trade information for the But a number of recent visits

The US Treasury has left open the possibility of renewing its guarantee if Argentina and an economic programme.

Enterprise Oil is likely to be issue. A Postponement might minimum reserve. That means atmosphere for issues of Jaguar Enterprise is likely to forecast profits of around £113m for 1984 against £83m for the first eight months of its operation, and to generate a cash flow of nearly £170m. The net present value of oil assets will probably be lower than stockbrokers' earlier estimates because of the recent downgrading of Enterprise's interest in the North-West Hutton field.

The Enterprise prospectus will be the first to be drawn up under new European Community harmonization rules. However, the Government and Kleinwort Benson have aimed to produce a form of prospectus

BSR set to sell off

companies

From John Lawless, Hongkong

BSR International, the British consumer goods manufac-turer based in Hongkong, is expecting to raise between £15m and £20m through the sale of buildings and what it calls non-strategic companies by the end of this year. It is understood these could include

new factories in the Far East.

Mr Brian Christopher, BSR'

The object is to have a clean

He stressed, however, that investment in new ventures means that cash raised from the sales will not be pushed through and lighting via mains wiring, was a marketing disaster when it was launched in the US more than three years ago. Coast-to-coast advertising created wide-an excess of the product that sheet going into 1985".

figure.

X10

problems are transitory and interest rates should fall gradually over the longer-term.

STOCK EXCHANGES

Rate fears

'transitory'

have to rise by ½ to 1 per cent in the next few months but the increase should be temporary.

according to the latest issue of National Westminster's econ-

Mr David Kern, chief economist, says that last month's better than expected money supply figures helped calm fear-of an imminent rise. But developments in the United States which could put the pound under pressure and the need to sell enough gilts, could lead to an increase.

However, Mr Kern says, the

omic and financial outlook.

Change on week FT-SE 100 Index: 1040.1 down FT Index: 815.8 down 15.6 FT Gifts: 78.92 up 0.02 FT All Share: 486.99 down 12.39 Bargains: 19,710
Datastream USM Leaders
Index: 102,78 down 3.44
New York: Dow Jones Industri
Average: 1086 90 down 44 35

Tokyo: Nikkei Dow Jones Index 10.057.05 down 293.88 Hongkong: Hang Seng Index 932.37 down 31.84

LONDON CLOSE Change on week Sterling $1.3780 down 160 pts Index 79.5 down 0.1 DM 3.7775 up 0.0125 FrF 11.60 up 0.0325 Yen 320.75 down 2.25 Index 131.7 up 1.2

the prestigious Swan brand The company will also INTERNATIONAL shortly announce plans for two ECU £0.591991 group chief executive, says there are buyers for the companes BOARD MEETINGS which are to be sold. "By the end of 1984 we will have sold all the companies that can be, to inflate the year-end profit One of the new projects to be announced will be a £400,000 factory in Hongkong dedicated to the relaunch of a product call X10, which is a system for controlling domestic appliances

Wedgwood. WEDNESDAY - Interims: Aaronite Group, Hawtin, Robert Horne Group, Arthur Lee & Sons, Lookers coast advertising created wide-spread demand, but the product Scottish American Investment Co. was distributed only to dealers | Finals: Ariel Industries, Bulmer &

they had to start discounting. THURSDAY - Interims: Bankers; It had been expected that X10 would be marketed through Swan. Now BSR is 10 sell it in cooperation with a leading US television manufac-BSR moved to Hongkong for ax purposes. In its British days, it dominated the world market for cheap turntables. Now the factory at Stourbridge, where 1,300 are employed, has seen investment in new product lines, particularly a linear tracking turntable, with plans to

CURRENCIES

DM 2.7400 up 0.0415 NEW YORK Sterling $1.3775 Dollar DM 2.7482

TODAY - Interims: S&W Bernsford

and West's Group International, Finals: Applied Computer Tech-niques, Chamberlain Phipps, James Cropper, Dwek Group, Platon International and Shaw Carpets.

Carpets.
TOMORROW - Interims: Arbuthnot
Sterling Fund, Countryside Properties, J H Fenner (Holdings), GT Asia
(Sterling) Fund (quarterly), Ernest Jones (Jewellers) and Watson &
Phillip, Finals: British Land, N
Brown Investments, Continental & Industrial Trust, Country & New Town Properties, Godfrey Davis
Holdings, GEI International, LRC
International, Meyer International,
Rowlinson Securities, Scantronic Holdings, Thermal Scientific and Wedgwood.

Form Design, Johnson Matthey. Oxford Instruments and Powel

Investment Trust, (second Interim) Dundee & London Investment Dundee & London Investment Trust, Raeburn Investment Trust and Superdrug Stores (quarterty).
Finals: Allied Coffoids, Aker
Perkins Holdings, British Benzol Carbonising, Dawson International,
Hampton Gold Mining Areas,
Steinberg, Thorpac Group, United Guarantee, Walker & Staff Holdings and Whittington Forginasting and Whittington Engineering. FRIDAY - Interims: Associated Fisheries and Nash Industries. Finals: John Booth & Sons (Bolton), Burnett & Hallamshire Holdings CML Microsystems and Stonehill Holdings.

THE GILT-EDGED MARKET

Double life of Conversion 3½%

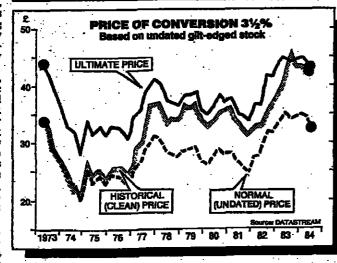

these colums that particular gilt-edged stocks have been disussed in detail. This is because, in general, gilt-edged securities are broadly similar - differing chiefly by coupon and maturity and any major price anomalies are quickly ironed out by the market.

Gilt market commets have, consequently, focused on the general level of the market and whether any single market segment possesses particular attractions. Over the past several months there has however been a stick which, because of some misconceptions as to its nature, has continued to be particularly, even ridiculously, expensive when compared to other stocks. That stock is Conversion 3½ per cent. Conversion 3½ per cent is a peculiar stock. In contrast to most other gilt-edged securities whereby the government repays the principal sum it borrowed on one day (the redemption date), the Government is required to repurchase a proportion of the outstanding stock regularly when certain conditions are met. In other words, the size of the issue falls every

The rule that the authorities must apply is as follows: Provided that the price of the stock is below £90 (for every £100 nominal), the cash equivalent of 1 per cent of the nominal outstanding value of the stock must be used to repurchase the stock every six months. With a present issue size at £169m, this means that £1.69m in cash must be used to repurchase the stock in the market over the current six months. With a price of 43% (for every £100 nominal), £3.87 of the present nominal value of the stock will be purchased, leaving £165.13 in the market. Over the next six months, £1.6513m will be used to nurchase the stock in a similar fashion - provided the price of the stock is below £90. With a present price of £43% these transactions are taking place. Some financial commenMichael Jankowski and Brian Draper tators have, however, pointed out that a single individual (or group of individuals) could operate as a monopoly holder of the stock and force the govern-ment to pay just under £90 for it. Under such circumstances, the value of the stock would be greater than if it were to be treated as just another undated issue. The question that must be answered is how much greater is

The chart above presents an answer to that question. The bottom (solid) line represents the price that Conversion 31/2 per cent would have if it were priced in line with other underted gilt-edged securities that is if it were no different.

The top (dashed) line represents the value of Conversion 3½ per cent monopoly holder who can force the Government to pay just under £90 for the stock. This is markedly less than £90 because, although the holder (monopoly) of the stock is receiving a high price for the marginal one nmeticth sales every six months, the holder suffers a distinct loss on interest

With Conversion 31/2 per cent having an interest yield of slightly more than 8 per cent while most undated stocks are yielding about 10.5 per cent the large size of the difference is

In theory, the price of the stock ought to fluctuate between the normal (lower) and ultimate (higher) price depending upon speculative interest. As can be seen on the chart, the actual price (the dotted line) has behaved largely in this fashion with the stock only being priced as an undated stock in the early period. Recently, the price has actually exceeded that "ultiprice - at which a monopoly holder of the stock would value it. Such a price level is clearly ridiculous since one is valuing the stock at a better price than one could ever hope to receive under present operating procedures. It is even doubtful whether a price close to, even though below, this "ultimate" price is justified. The authorities are presently able to buy stock in the market at existing market gilt-edged specialists at stock-brokers Simon & Coates. yield on the balance of his the market at existing market holding (the 89/90 not sold). prices while there is nothing stopping the Government from issuing some more. Conversion

More generally, the gilt-edged market is in a far better condition than it was a few weeks ago. Money supply worries proved largely unwar-ranted while a more favourable inflation picture has emerged. Longer-dated conventional prices have firmed while indexlinked securities have lan-guished. The market, however, still remains sceptical. The coal strike is taking its toll on public sector finances - calculated to cost £60m a week - while public sector pay deals are higher than planned, further using the government's reserve for unplanned spending.

Although it is far too early to sound alarm bells, uncertainties remain high in spite of the recent easings. Fundamentally, the market is attractive, but in times like these one wants to limit risk on the downside.

Looking at the shorter-dates (this side of the year 2000), United Kingdom gilt-edges securities have the edge. The gap is much less (between 120-150 basis points), indicating that United Kingdom issues could perform independently of their United States counter

Among those years, the longer dates offer the best value. Future interest rates implied by the market between 10 and 15 years are high relative to what they have been over the past year to 18 months and, given our favourable view on the economic fundamentals, ought to revert back to the lower levels. This would imply that the longer dates would outperform the mediums. The shorte dates - up to 1987 - are also good value. Recent interest rate worries generated particulalrly large price falls providing them with a more than adequate a more than adequate cushion should rates rise The authors, Michael Jankowski and Brian Draper, are

Electric heating urged for firms The Electroheat Conference

opening in Stockholm today vill try to persuade industrial users to consider switching from coal, gas and oil to electricity for their heating

The conference will also try convince industry that electricity can be used efficiently and quickly to bring down unit costs

The conference comes at a time when the British Steel industry is using its highefficiency electric-arc furnaces to meet the demand for quality steel while its coal-fired openhearth furnaces are being hampered by the miners' strike.

Initial to announce results early

Initial will make an early announcement of its prelimi-nary results for the year to March 31 this week to herald the first public discussion of the £166m takeover bid by British Electric Traction for the 60 per cent of the shares it does not already hold in the laundry and cleaning group.

The unsolicited bid by BET was announced three weeks ago as part of a deal which also involved the sale of its Rediffusion television interests to Granada. Initial's non-BET directors had not been informed of the bid and they immediately appointed N M Rothschild as

NEWS IN BRIEF

been locked in negotiations with BET's advisers. • THE FRENCH MINIS-TRY of Telecommunications has confirmed that a deal worth $35m (£242m) for the first fibre optics transatlantic cable is to go ahead. It will run from New Jersey, to Widemouth bay in Cornwall, and Penmarc'h, Brit-

● SINGAPORE has confirmed that manufacturers mainly electronics companies with growing orders Since then Rothschild has seeking workers from South

Korea, Taiwan, Hongkong and

 SPAIN'S government-controlled Iberia International Airlines lost more than 29 billion pesetas (£138m) in the year to last October. That was 5 bilion pesetas more than in the

• The US Federal Reserve's system of controlling money supply comes under attack from the stockbroker Grieveson Grant in its latest economic and fiscal review. The review says the system is one of the worst in operation and is to blame for the volatility of American

Preliminary Announcement

"Further improvement in profit, and increased dividend. An encouraging start to the current year." DAVID RHEAD, CHAIRMAN

Trading Profit Profit before tax £233m £7.3m £2.1m £277m £10.6m £4.1m £11.9m 1984 £300m £6.1m

Ner Earnings Dividend per share per share 3.5p L4p 3.6p 4.4p 5.7p 4.0p

Copies of the 1984 Annual Report can be obtained from the Group Secretars, as from 2nd July, 1984:

LCPHOLDINGS pic

The Pensnett Estate, Kingswinford, West Midlands DY67LZ

#3. #4. **

> * Tu: * Pt::

*β₀,

FT - ACTUARIES INDICES
INDUSTRIAL GROUP 483.15 (484.63&444.19)
500 SHARE INDEX 531.47 (533.91 & 491.93)
"EARNINGS YIELD 11.18% (11.12 & 9.44)
DIVIDEND YIELD 4.55% (4.82 & 4.37)
P.E. RATIO (NET) 11.06 (11.15 & 13.11)
ALL SHARE INDEX 486.99 (489.43 & 449.51)
DIVIDEND YIELD 4.87% (4.83 & 4.83%)
"estimated"

Capitalization and week's change

ACCOUNT DAYS: Dealings Begin, Today. Dealings End, June 29. 5 Contango Day, July 2. Settlement Day, July 9.

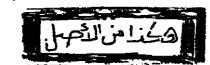

§ Forward bargains are permitted on two previous days.

(Current market price multiplied by the number of shares in issue for the stock quoted)

FT STOCK ENDICES

GOVERNMENT SECURITIES 78.92 (78.83)
FIXED INTEREST 82.80 (82.82)
INDUSTRIAL ORDINARY 815.8 (816.2)
GOLD MINES 672.0 (684.7)
ORDINARY DIVIDEND YIELD 4.24% (4.83%)
EARNINGS YIELD 11.23% (11.21%)
P.E. RATIO (NET) 10.99 (10.70)
P.E. RATIO (NIL) 10.22 (10.23)

'estimated 4.87% (4.83 & 4.63%)		(Current market price multiplied by the number		· · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·
Stockout- standing last on only Red I Stock Priday week Vield Yield BRITISH FUNDS	22.1m Angita TV 'A' 166 -4 10.0 6.0 13.0 732.2m Angio Amer Ind £16 +4 102b 6.1 8.0	Gen Mtr BDR 226 -5 18.1 8.0 34.0m Gesteiner A 74 1.9 2.6 6 021 000 Glaves Gro 118 5.4 4.5 2.6 s.i	234.2m RMC 378 -18 17.1 4.8 9.5 387.8m Reckitt & Colum 478 -9 17.7 37.14.3 IN	Price Ch'ge Gross Div last on div yid f Company Friday week pence % P/E VESTMENT TRUSTS	Capitalization Price Ch'an Grean Div Inst on div yield Ins
1050m	223.4m Argril Grp 151 -3 6.4 4.3 17.6 23.1 2.1 Ash & Lacy 508 -2 25.7 5.1 9.7 33.1 Ash & Book 276 -1 0.7 3.9 11.6 5.6 621.1 Ash & Brit Food 156 -6 7.1 4.6 7.6 1.0 3.5 11.5 M Ash Priper 158 -4 3.7 2.3 22.9 11.5 M Ash Priper 173 -12 14.9 51.2 23. 11.5 M Ash Priper 174 -3 6.4 4.3 11.0 11.0 M Art Revy 273 -12 14.9 51.2 23. 11.5 M Ash Priper 175 -2 1.5 4.1 11.0 11.0 M Art Revy 275 -1 0 3.2 1.1 11.6 M Art Revy 275 -1 0 3.2 1.1 11.6 M Art Revy 275 -1 0 3.2 1.1 11.6 M Art Revy 275 -1 0 3.2 1.1 11.6 M Art Revy 275 -1 0 3.2 1.1 11.6 M Art Revy 275 -1 0 3.2 1.1 11.6 M Art Revy 275 -1 0 3.2 1.1 11.6 M Art Revy 275 -1 0 3.2 1.1 11.6 M Art Revy 275 -1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1	115.2m Oill 5 Durius 775 -2 14.3 8.2 8.5 1.007 in Glaso Hidge 825 -10 14.5 1.877.0 2.1 8.5 1.007 in Glaso Hidge 825 -10 14.5 1.877.0 2.1 8.5 1.007 in Glaso M. 1. 180 -1 4.6 3.7 9.0 2.1 8.5 1.000 Glossop P.L. 56 -1 4.9 8.7 9.0 1.1 1.00 Glossop P.L. 56 1.00 -1 4.9 8.7 9.0 1.1 1.00 Glossop P.L. 56 1.00 1.00	$10.8m Rediand 241 419.000 Redoman Recumn 13	6.5m Alliance Trust 450 -10 19.3 4.3 Amer Trust Grd 89 -2 1.6 4.0 5.5m Angi-Amer Secs 225 -8 7.6 3.4 9.2m Angi-Amer Secs 255 -8 7.6 3.4 9.2m Angio Int Inv 55 -2 10.0 3.1 1.000 Allianta 355 -2 10.0 3.1 1.000 Allianta 355 -2 10.0 3.1 1.000 Allianta 355 -2 10.0 3.1 1.000 Allianta 4ssets 75 -3 0.4 0.5 1.000 Allianta 122 -3 4.5 1.7 1.000 Brit Am & Gen 21 -2 3.7 b 4.6 2.0m Brit Am & Gen 21 -2 3.7 b 4.6 2.0m Brit Am & Gen 21 -2 3.7 b 4.6 2.0m Brit Invest 273 -7 18.7 d 1.7 2.5m Cardinal Did 122 -3 3.5 4.7 2.5m Coot & Ind 425 -10 21.9 5.1 2.5m Coot & Ind 425 -10 21.9 5.1 2.5m Coot & Ind 425 -10 21.9 5.1 2.5m Do Carp 132 -7 12 1.9 5.1 2.5m Do Cardinal Did 122 -2 5.5 3.9 3.6m Do Cap 423 3.8m Elec & Gen 212 3.8m Elec & Gen 212 3.8m Elec & Gen 212 3.8m Elec & Callance 73 3.8m Elec & Callance 74 3.8m First Sept Am 200 4 7.4 3.7	66.9m Peachey Prup 289 43 8.9 4.3 29.5 6.5 77.4m Prup Hidgs 200 412 64 3.2 23.5 78.2m Prup Sec 126 43 3.2 23.5 24.5 78.2m Prup Sec 126 43 3.2 23.5 24.5 24.5 24.5 24.5 24.5 24.5 24.5 24
MEDIUMS Treas 11 17 1989 961 11 624 11 851 11 11 11 10 10 10 10	18.6m	1.382.000 Reclaim Sims 39	233.000 S.E.R.T. 100	1.3	L396,000 Easter Wir 3.54 E39 117.0m 50 11.8 117.0m 50 11.8 150 2.2 21.3 1248,000 Milliand Docks 40 -3 9.1 9.4 9.2 12.4 9.2 12.4 9.2 12.4 9.2 12.4 9.2 12.4 9.2 12.4 9.2 12.4 9.2 12.4 9.2 12.4 9.2 12.4 9.2 12.4 9.2 12.4 9.2 12.4 9.2 12.4 9.2 12.4 9.2 12.4 9.2 12.4 9.2
1500m Treat 134c, 1987 1087a	730.0m Brit Aerospace 365 -23 13.0 3.6 6.8 13.4 13.4 13.5 445.6m Brit Car Auctu 25 -1 4.1b 4.15.5 445.6m Brit Home Strs 214 -5 8.6 4.0 13.0 30.1m Brit Vita 167 -2 7.7 4.6 7.6 7.6 2.777.1m Broken Hill 604 -30 27.8b 4.6 7.3 22.17.9m Broken Hill 604 -30 27.8b 4.6 7.3 22.17.9m Broken Hill 604 -30 27.8b 4.6 7.3 22.17.9m Broken Bond 70 -2 6.0 8.5 9.7 26.1m Brown & Tawse 125 +1 5.5 4.4 12.8 47.5m BBK (H) 73 -3 3.6 4.9 10.8 11.4m Brown J. 24 -2 2.1 5.1 8.9 49 10.1 11.4m Brown J. 24 -2 2.1 5.1 8.9 11.4m Burnut Hidgs 62 -2 2.1 5.1 8.9 11.4 11.548.000 Burgest Prod 72 -3 2.1 3.0 13.4 m Burnut Burnut & Hidgs 62 -7 7.9 3.2 14.7 54.1m Burnut & Hidgs 62 -7 7.9 3.2 14.7 54.1m Burnut & Hidgs 62 -7 7.8 3.0 19.1 13.4 m Burnut & Hidgs 62 -7 7.8 3.0 19.1 12.5 0.0 Burterfid-Harvy 202 -7 7.8 3.0 19.1 12.2 0.0 Butterfid-Harvy 202 -7 7.8 3.0 19.1 12.2 0.0 Carbon Burton Grp 252 -7 7.8 3.0 19.1 12.3 0.0 Carbon Burnut & Hidgs 62 -4 7.6 4 9.8 1.3 13.9	88.6m Intasum Lets 133 -5 6.3 4.7 5.5 386.0m ISC 214 -3 2.1b 1.0 35.8 1.5 1.5 1.6 1.6 1.6 1.6 1.6 1.6 1.6 1.6 1.6 1.6	11.7 12.5 13.6	1000	St. Description St. Descri
100m 10m 10m	1.000 Cent & Sheer 97	5.1.4m Link House 448 -2 32 6.8 1.0 4.8 13.7 m Link House 448 -2 20.6 4.6 17.7 13.7 m Link House 448 -2 20.6 4.6 17.7 13.7 m Link House 448 -2 20.6 4.6 17.7 13.7 m Logica 25 -10 1.4 0.4 44.5 25 -10 1.4 0.4 44.5 26.0 m Lou & N'thern 7.72 -32 6.4 8.3 6.1 24.5 26.6 26.0 m Lou & N'thern 7.72 -32 6.4 8.3 6.1 24.5 26.5 26.6 5.8 3.3 4.0 m Lourbe 127 -1 12.9 10.1 2.3 34.0 m Lourbe 127 -1 12.9 10.1 2.5 34.0 m Lourbe 128 -2 2.0 3.1 3.5 13.5 m Lourbe 128 -2 7.3 5.7 8.0 3.0 m MS 10.1 22 -2 1.1 4.7 13.1 3.0 m MS 10.1 22 -2 2.1 1.1 4.7 13.1 3.0 m MS 10.1 22 -2 2.1 1.1 4.7 13.1 3.0 m MS 10.1 22 -2 2.1 1.1 4.7 13.1 3.0 m MS 10.1 22 -2 2.1 1.1 4.7 13.1 3.0 m MS 10.1 22 -2 2.1 1.1 4.7 13.1 3.0 m MS 10.1 22 -2 2.1 1.1 4.7 13.1 3.0 m MS 10.1 22 -2 2	$5.000 Tripler Found $3 -1 0.76 2.0 $43.0 \text{start fise Forte 107.} -3 5.9 5.5 16.1 $15.0 \text{start fise Forte 107.} -3 5.9 5.5 16.1 $15.0 \text{start fise Forte 107.} -3 5.9 5.5 16.1 $15.0 \text{start fise Forte 107.} -3 5.9 5.5 16.1 $15.0 \text{start fise Forte 107.} -3 5.9 5.5 16.1 $15.0 \text{start fise Forte 107.} -3 5.9 5.5 16.1 $15.0 \text{start fise Forte 108.} -2 10.0 \text{start fise Forte 108.} -2 10.0 \text{start fise Forte 108.} -2 10.0 \text{start fise Forte 108.} -3 5.3 11.4 $1.5 1.9 \text{start fise Forte 108.} -3 18.5 \text{start fise Forte 108.} -3 18.5 \text{start fise Forte 108.} -3 18.5 \text{start fise Forte 109.} -3 18.5 start fise For	Am TR Pacific Basin 202 -13 2-9h 1.4 3mt TR Property 112 -3 4.5 4.0 3mt TR Property 112 -3 4.5 4.0 3mt TR Trechnology 142 -4 4.7 3.3 7mt TR Trustiees 163 -1 4.7h 4.6 3000 Thrug Sec Cap 272 -12 8.6h 4.0 3mt Trustiees 163 -2 4.3h 3.4 5mt Tribune inv 83 -3 2.7 3.2 5mt Tribune inv 83 -2 3.3 5.9 5mt Tribune inv 83 -2 3.3 5.9 5mt Vid States Deb 158 -2 9.3h 5.9 5mt Westpool inv 66 -1 1.8 2.7 7mt Witan inv 113 -2 3.6 3.2 PPING 5mt Ass Brill Ports 230 -8 12.1 5.3 8.1 1 12.1 5.3 8.1 1 12.1 5.3 8.1 1 12.2 2.2 2 12.2 2.2 2 12.3 3.7 7.6 25.3 4.2 12.3 3.7 7.6 25.3 4.2 12.5 8.4 19.6 1 12.6 8.5 1 12.7 1 12.7 1 12.8	7.524.600 Flogus 15.7m Ployd Oil 15.3m Frankington Grp 730 15.3m Prench Conn 345 - 20 3.7 1.126.7 15.8m Preschenke Foods 92 . 1.25 1.3 14.7 15.8m Preschenke Foods 92 . 1.25 1.3 14.7 15.8m Puller Englith 315 . 6.7 2.1 18.0 15.8m Puller Englith 315 . 6.7 2.1 18.0 15.8m Geriunkels 228 - 15 3.2 1.2 14.7 15.4m Geriunkels 328 - 15 3.2 1.2 14.7 15.4m Geriunkels 320 - 6.6 3.9 2.1 19.9 2.856.000 Gibbs Hew 107 23 - 1 2.556.000 Gibbs Hew 107 23 - 1 2.556.000 Gibbs Hew 107 23 - 1 2.556.000 Godwin Warren 23 - 1 2.556.000 Godwin Warren 23 - 1 2.556.000 Godwin Warren 25 - 3 4.6 3.6 12.6 2.556.000 Godwin Warren 25 - 3 4.6 3.6 12.6 2.556.000 Godwin Warren 25 - 3 4.6 3.6 12.6 2.556.000 Godwin Warren 25 - 3 4.6 3.6 12.6 2.556.000 Godwin Warren 25 - 3 4.6 3.6 12.6 2.556.000 Godwin Warren 25 - 3 4.6 3.6 12.6 2.556.000 Godwin Warren 25 - 3 4.6 3.6 12.6 2.556.000 Godwin Warren 25 - 3 4.6 3.6 12.6 2.556.000 Godwin Warren 25 - 3 4.6 3.6 12.6 2.556.000 Godwin Warren 25 - 1 6.9 2.2 18.6 2.556.000 Godwin Warren 25 - 1 6.9 2.2 18.6 2.556.000 Godwin Warren 25 - 1 6.9 2.2 18.6 2.556.000 Godwin Warren 25 - 1 6.9 2.2 18.6 2.556.000 Godwin Warren 25 - 1 6.9 2.2 18.6 2.560.000 Gwernwey Af Sec 140 - 5 6.7 2.5 53.8 2.560.000 Gwernwey Af Sec 140 - 5 6.9 2.2 18.6 2.560.000 Hastery 24 7 7 7 7 7 7 7 7 7 7 7 7 7 7 7 7 7 7
Capitalization	18.6m Daria 18.7 -1 44.5 5.1 25.9 18.0m Dariasteram 538 1 6.2 1.2 87.8 10.7m Davies & New 168 -10 14.3 8.5 5.5 15.6m Davis G. (Hidgs) 67 -5 5.3 9.8 257.0m Debenhams 189 -12 10.7 5.7 1.1 241.7m De La Rue 6.5 -5 5.3 9.8 252.5m Dec Corp 495 -6 77.1 5.5 12.4 241.7m Dec La Rue 6.5 -3 5.7 5.5 1.4 241.7m Dec La Rue 6.5 -1 5.4 6.2 44.5m Dec Corp 495 -6 77.1 5.5 12.4 44.5m Dec Corp 495 -6 77.1 5.5 12.4 44.5m Dec Corp 495 -6 77.1 5.5 12.4 45.3m Dubson Park 70 -7 1.7 1.5 18.2 58.3m Dubson Park 70 -7 4.7 4.0 58.3m Dubson Park 70 -7 4.0 6.9 58.3m Dubson 10.6 -9 6.9 6.5 6.5 5.3m Dubson 10.6 -9 6.9 6.5 6.5 5.3m Dubson 10.5 -7 5.5 2.4 5.46m Dubson 10.5 -7 5.7 2.5 5.5m Dubson 10.7 -7 -7 5.7 2.5 5.5m Dubson 10.7 -7 -7 5.7 2.5 5.5m Dubson 10.7 -7 -7 5.7 2.5 5.7m 10.5 10.5 10.5 -7 -7 5.7 4.5 5.7m 10.5 10.5 10.5 10.5 6.80 10.5 10.5 10.5 10.5 7.7m 10.5 10.5 10.5 7.7m 10.5 10.5 10.5 7.7m 10.5 10.	1.740.000 Medminster	77,000 Wheyay Walson 7 -12 0.1 0.7	7m Directories 1274 + 1 183 5.6 5	2-19 Johnson Fluit 150 9-755,000 Johnstone Paints 95 12-8m KLP Group 260 5-3-5m Kenn & Scott 25 -1-1-8-2 7.6 13-8m KLP Group 260 5-3-5m Kenn & Scott 25 -1-1-8-2 7.6 13-8m KLP Group 260 5-3-5m Kenn & Scott 25 -1-1-8-2 7.6 1
218 5m 8k of Ireland 275	289.9m Eng Chima Clay 222 215 23.5 25.5 25.8 2819 Ericsson 256, 1.2 80.0 30 8.6 14.7m Erith & Co 7. 2 3.8 4.9 11.9 286.5m Eurotherm Int 235 24.3m Everder Hidgs 100 -2 2.0 3.0 18.7 18.9m Evode Group 119 -3 2.5b 2.9 10.2 29.7m Extel Grp 540 -30 17 1 3.2 17 3 20.7m Extel Grp 540 -30 17 1 3.2 17 3 20.7m Extel Grp 540 -30 17 1 3.2 17 3 21 16m Fairview Fat 131 -2 81 6.1 84 25.6m 26m 27 1 13 1 14 10.9 27 1 16m Fernar 5.4 122 -13.9 11.4 10.9 28 1 6.1 84 28 1 6.1 84 28 1 6.1 84 28 1 6.1 84 28 1 6.1 84 28 1 6.1 84 29 2 6.5 8.6 28 1 1.1 10.9 11.4 10.9 11.4 10.9 29 2 7 8 1 6.1 84 29 2 6.5 8.6 29 2 7 8 1 6.1 84 29 2 6.5 8.6 29 2 7 8 1 6.1 84 29 2 6.5 8.6 29 2 7 8 1 6.1 84 29 2 7 7 7 9 59 6.5 20 2 8 1 8 1 8 1 8 1 20 2 8 1 8 1 8 1 8 1 20 2 8 1 8 1 8 1 8 1 20 2 8 1 8 1 8 1 8 1 20 2 8 1 8 1 8 1 8 1 20 2 8 1 8 1 8 1 8 1 20 2 8 1 8 1 8 1 8 1 20 2 8 1 8 1 8 1 8 1 20 2 8 1 8 1 8 1 8 1 20 2 8 1 8 1 8 1 20 2 8 1 8 1 8 1 8 1 20 2 8 1	1.15.3 m	Mercandic Rec 222 12 16.1 6.1 7.0 18.8m Mills Allen 775 46 18.6 8 86 1.017.81 18.1 8.2 824 18.1 18.1 18.1 18.1 18.1 18.1 18.1 18.	See Red Triple Zinc 24 2 2 2 3 2 5 8 8 8 8 8 8 8 8 8 8 8 8 8 8 8 8 8 8	1.251.000 Mortand Sec 120 2.9 2.4
BREWERIES AND DISTILLERIES 1.024 5	DESCRIPTION STOCKS Allockly 10174, 00 99° 11.29 1130 Code Carlo C	OCKS	INTEREST RATES 1231 INTEREST RATES 286, 286, 286, 286, 286, 286, 286, 286,	min Coni Gas 288 -7 15.1 5.1 15.0 issee RCA Drilling 32 -1 4.3 1.34 5.6 issee RCA Drilling 32 -1 4.3 1.34 5.6 issee Do 0ps 420 -20 150 38.5 2.2 issee Coni 50 -15 -1	3.519.000 Sincials W. 75 -3 5.1 8.1 6.5 5.1 5.20.000 Sincials Food 75 -3 5.1 8.1 6.5 5.20.000 Sincials Food 75 -3 5.1 8.1 6.5 5.20.000 Sincials Food 75 -3 5.1 8.1 6.5 5.20.000 Sincials Metal 70 42 6.0 8.5 6.6 6.7 12.000 Sincials Metal 70 42 6.0 8.5 6.6 6.7 12.000 Sincials Metal 70 42 6.0 8.5 6.6 6.7 12.000 Sincials Metal 70 42 6.0 8.5 6.6 6.7 12.000 Sincials Flort 12 40 42 9 10.9 8.7 12.000 Sincials Flort 12 40 42 9 10.9 8.7 12.000 Sincials Flort 12 40 42 9 10.9 8.7 12.000 Sincials Flort 12 40 42 9 10.9 8.7 12.000 Technologian SA 5160 1773 11.1 11.5 11.5 12.5 12.5 12.5 12.5 12.5
A B 30.5m AAH 55.7m AB Electronics 440 -35 & 5.8 1.9 30.0 72.2m AE PLC 75°2 -25°2 2.5 1.4 14.7 101.9m AGB Research 357 -7 10.6 3.1 32.2 125.1m AMEC Grp 193 -12 14.3 7.4 6.9 90 cm APV Elden 272 -6 13.1 5.3 8.1 15.5m Assessed Bree. 56 - 3.0 5.4 11.5 7.656,000 Acrow A: 11½ -½ 8.7 25.2m Advance Serv 65 +5 1.4 6.4 12.8 46.3m Advance Serv 65 9.600,000 A.G.1. 240 +10 6.4 2.7 15.4 AKEO 250°4 Advance Serv 65 -2 8.8 6.8 9.1 9.600,000 A.G.1. 240 +10 6.4 2.7 15.4 AKEO 250°4 Advance Serv 65 -2 8.8 6.8 9.1 128.5m Amersham Int 247 +19 7.1 2.9 15.1	Imp Chem 1974 91/95 9474 11.80 12.20 544-00th Export 11.80 12.20 17.40 1	1908 102.50 14.15 Others Helman 1905 100.35 15.15 Others Helman 1906 100.35 15.15 Others Helman 1907 100.35 15.15 Others Helman 1908 15.15 Others Helman 1908 150.35 Others Helman 1908 150.35 15.15 Others Helman 1908 150.35 Others Helman 1908 150.35 150.3	Tree GOLD 10.0		Tillia Wight Colling RS 380 1 2 110.8 280.000 Wilhaire Syst 6 2 1 10.28.8 14.2m Wingate Prop 108 45 21 20.20.0 14.2m Wingate Prop 108 45 21 20.20.0 2.24,000 Woodchester Inv 160 - 2 5.6b 2.5 11.2 2.20.000 Yelverton Inv 34 - 5 10.6 2.20.000 Yelverton Inv 34 - 5 10.6 2.20.000 Yelverton Inv 34 - 5 10.6 2.20.000 Yest Mount 55 - 1 7.1 13.6 2 2 2.20.5 7.4 11.6 2.20.000 Yest Mount 55 - 1 1.0 2.20.000 Yest Mo

whose shares are temporarily

depressed as a side effect of its takeover of Martin the News-agent. Guinness has a potential for international success to a

in Britain is already a case profitability. Management and operational reorganization at Whitbread raise hopes of much better things to come, as does its hectic rate of investment in

Caterine
All the big brewers are benefiting from the resumed growth in lager. This gives them an edge over the regionals who are largely dependent on the declining ale sector, about 62 per cent of the beer market.

Most regionals now have their own genuine lagers, selling well in their own pubs. Yet to a man they brew a below average proportion of lager, partly because, with few exceptions, their brands do not sell well in the free trade against nationally advertised names. Regionals have little stake in the growing take-home market, which many of them would count as a blessing. Lager apart, the chief worry is their lack of innovation in pub retailing and generally conservative approach. Catch ing up and competing with the nationals with their greater

Regionals' profits have begun to trail the nationals and there seems little case for any will probably not survive the regionals look good value at the moment: Greenall Whitley successfully emulates the virtues of the nationals and Vaux's rating completely ignores the value and contribution of its

Colin Humphreys is a research partner at stockbroker Scrim-

The other new housebuilder

private sector housebuilders in Scotland. County Bank bas placed 2.27 million shares, or 25 per cent of the equity, at 108p.

This capitalizes the entire company at £9.8m. Dealings sites with planning permissi included and uses traditional materials rather than the cur-rent fashion for timber-framed houses. L & C has a solid quality and reliability and has seen pretax profits in the past five years chimb from £188,000 to £1,22m. In the first six months of the current year the group has made pretax profits

£1.7m for the full year to September 30, putting the shares on a prospective p/e of 9.1. L & C hopes to raise £1m from the issue, which consists

The airwaves were also buzzing last week with news of a placing of shares in Piccadilly Radio, the Greater Manchester broadcaster which boasts an audience of 1.4 million. Char-tton Seal Dimmock, the Man-

800,000 non-boting shares equal to 10.26 per cent of the non-voting equity, at 28p each.

This values the station at nearly casting Authority that contract to broadcast in Man-will be renewed.

has flopped.

The group has already received assurances in principle from the Independent Broad-

chester for another eight years

But against this is set a background of falling revenue and increased competition from television. Piccadilly estimates that pretax profits, for the current year should drop from £429,000 to £385,000 putting it

The Piccadilly board says has decided to go public to conform with the IBA's wish for

The flotation of Ennex

International, the Irish gold and base metals exploration group.

Allied hish investment Bank.

which was handling the issue,

said on Friday that not all the 24 million shares offered for

IR 50p, were seen as speculative by the market and the hoped-for support failed to materialize

Michael Clark

sale had been applied for. The shares, offered at 41p or vider local share ownership.

on a prospective p/e of 14.7.

ster stockbroker is placing of 1.07 million new shares.

£354,000 and has forecast

L & C concentrates on buying

Swallow Hotel chain.

gcour, Kemp-Gce.

decade as independent oper-ations. Two of the larger resources will be hard.

ORDINARY SHARES

Beer keeps its head high

It has been a good year for brewery shares. The sector has outperformed the British equity market by 7 per cent over the last six months and 10 per cent over the last 13 respectively, to win it seventh and third place in the league. Last year it came close to winning the wooden spoon, but it has taken a larger implement to stir it back into life - a mait shovel, or, more accurately its modern, mechanized replacement.

Quite simply, beer consumption is recovering after its carlier fears that dividend severe fall which started in growth would not match the May, 1980. Between April that year and June, 1983, the output of Britain's brewing industry fell by 13.5 per cent on an annual basis. At first with help of splendid weather last July and August but later through fair and foul, consumption has been steadily recovering. Annualized production is already 2.4 per cent up from the bottom.

The fall had two results, All the leading brewers embarked upon radical cost cutting exerciscs, revealing in the process how fat they had become, and at the same time accelerated the pace of diversification and began to work hard at changing the pub to attract a different public. Considerable stress has been placed on the latter in company statements, so it is ironic that it had been good news for beer that has got share

The first good news was the Budget, when the threat of a beer duty at the EEC's behest was permanently averted. This was soon followed by spendid Easter weather and recently a results season where every leading group has come up with profits ahead of expectations. In the ensuing pause one can in ponder where brewery share prices go from here. National brewers as a category have also left the regionals standing in termes of share price performance. Greennall Whitley excepted, the market leaders having spotted that their profits non-durables to help it. would be superior to that of their smaller competi-

The main brewers have got a sales promotions company, which joined the Unlisted strongest with the drinks companies anxious to make the most of the summer. The market is looking for an outcome to the year of £800,000 against £408,000-a figure well

spend more than £4,000m a vear on advertising and sales promotions with at least 15 per cent growth a year. KLP's share of that is between 8 per cent and 9 per cent. KLP now has about 24 blue chip companies under clients. New clients are coming within KLP's reach.

Colin Humphreys

First, there is the rating argument. All except Bass yield more than the market average, none has a premium price-earnranging up to 17 per cent, so market average were ground-

Then there are the fundalot going for them at the as the more fanciful have moment and should do rela-described the Basses and Whitbtively well in the uncertain reads of this world, will be able market conditions prevailing to increase their share of consumer's discretionary expenditure. The writer is sceptical because the variety of ways to spend money is growing so ing ratio. Most have joined the fast. Unless the pace of acquidividend party, with increases sition hots up, the big brewers seem fated to an average growth rate. Here, history is against

> The numbers in the table explain why brewers have failed to sustain premium ratings -

MAJOR PREMERS	- GROWTH IN PROFITS	& DIVIDENI
いいしゅうけい ログヤル ピレコ		O DI TIDENT

•		increase over 5 years Protex Profile	5 year compon Dividend	ed geswife rate Earngs per share
	Allied Lyons Bass Arthur Guinness Scotsh & Nostle Whitbread	73% 66% 31% 16% 75%	9% 12% 7% 6% 14%	6% 4% 3% 5% 8%
	FT-500 share index	-	, 11%	7%

USM REVIEW

mentals. Beer sales are recovering led by lager, and margins are improving as this reacts upon the reduced cost base. Brewers are almost unanimous that their massive new investment in broadening the appeal of their licensed estates, with theme pubs, branding of catering operations and the like, is now paying off. So they have to an extent succeeded in attracting new customers, experiencing a recovery in their

It appears that those employed in the C. and D. consumer groups, having missed out on last year's boom, are now better off and spending. Other activities of the diversified groups look good, especially hotels. Much of the diversification undertaken has yet to earn a full return, needing some impetus in expenditure on traditional trading base.

The snag is the long-term and the past. One can only be hopeful, but not certain, that "broadly-based leisure groups"

As a benchmark the Retait Price Index increased by 60 per cent over the period. they don't deserve to. Nor is there much likelihood of this changing in the short term unless the equity market be-comed very sick indeed. So, the upside should again be approximate yield parity with the equity market, currently yielding 4.6 per cent.

This leaves nearly all major brewers with useful headroom. None more so than Allied-Lyons, yielding more than 6 per cent. It has the furthest to go in the reviving of its beer business, but is a hard act to follow in food, where Lyons profits have been especially strong over the last two years. Bass is widely recognized to be doing well. It has gained nearly a point in market share this year, because lager more than acounts for the growth in the beer market and it holds 25 per cent of the market. It has the resources to move further into other areas and a suitable acquisition should boost its ratings.

A more immediate rerating who founded it in 1971.

Trencherwood's range of detached houses at £90,000. start today.

profits

residential houses varies from one-bedroom "startet homes"

at £25,000 to four-bedroom and by last year this had grown to £1.3m on sales of £10.6m.

For the year to October 31, the board is forecasting another healthy increase to £2.5m.

US NOTEBOOK

Bonds surge despite high money figures

The bond markets made a greater extent than most, and remarkable improvement last with only 28 per cent of profits Thursday despite money sup-ply figures for the week of June apart. Even without getting J. W. Cameron, Scottish & New-4 showing an unexpected rise of $3.1 billion (£2.2 billion). castle looks cheap ahead of preliminary results at the beginning of July and at this stage of its rebuilding of

On Friday morning, bond futures opened in Chicago up almost a full point, and a leading bond trader said there was "unbelievable strength" in the bond market. Bonds have been trying to form a bottom for about five weeks. The December 1984 Treasury-bond contract was about 61 in the week of May 11. First thing Friday morning this contract was more than 62. There are several factors behind the improvement in bonds, the leaders in the thinking of the whole of the financial markets these days. First, there is a rumour that the federal Government intends to repeal a 30 per cent witholding tax on bonds, levied on foreigners. Many New York bond dealers believe this tax is coming off and that as a result foreigners will be encouraged to buy more US bonds.

Secondly, there is strong evidence that the Federal Reserve Board has been restraining the growth of banks' reserves.
The one-year growth in adjusted Fed credit is still at a high rate. But the steady reduction in growth of Fed credit is evidence of an important change in its policy.

This could be laying the foundation for further strength premium rating for most re-gionals, even though some of the smaller and less successful

Another factor leading to an improvement in bonds is the slowdown in the growth of the American economy. Last week there was much evidence of Retail sales for May rose only 0.2 per cent, compared with a rise of 2.9 per cent in April. This continued a weakening trend in retail sales growth that first showed up in the drop of 1.1 per cent in February retail sales and of 2.0 per cent in March retail sales.

Car sales for the first 10 days of June were way down on the May average of 8.6 million units a year (domestic-seasonally adjusted). The first 10 days of June recorded an annual rate of only 7.0 million

Wholesale prices were once again unchanged in May. Industrial production in May rose 0.4 per cent, against a rise of 1.4 per cent in April and 0.5 per cent in March.

By mid-morning on Friday, to 100243, the first time this bond had been above part since its issue about a month ago. Maxwell Newton

Base Lending Rates

AIGECS
ABN Bank 9% Barclays 94,% BCCI 94,% Citibank Savings 194,% Consolidated Crds 94,% Continental Trust 9% C. Hoare & Co 99% Lloyds Bank 9% Midland Bank 94,% Nat Westminster 9% TSB 9% Williams & Glyn's 94,% Citibank NA 94,%

210,000, 6%: £10,000 up to £50,000, 6%: £50,000 and over, 76%.

COMPAGNIE ARAMAYO DE MINES EN BOLIVIE S.A.

(THE ARAMAYO MINES IN BOLIVIA COMPANY)

in pursuance of the Resolution passed at the Annual General Meeting held on the 14th of June 1984, holders of share warrants to bearer are informed that the DIVIDENO Nr. 13 for 1983 of Swift. 2.20 per share, less Swiss Taxes of Sivil, will become payable in enchange for comon Nr. 15 on agreed from June 26th, 1984, at the Society of Swift and Swisses. Consula, and at the Swisses Residence of Swisses (Consula, and at the Swisses Residence). Consula, and at the Swisses Residence Companion, 99, Gresham Street, Louidon E.C.2.

18th 1984

Money Market Deposits for Companies and Private Investors

Average Rate

Scheme offers Competitive interest rate • Short notice repayment

Quarterly interest

 Deposits £5,000 to £250,000 United Daninicas Treet

Full details from: Treasurer's Department Floor, Plantation House, 19-15 Mincing Lane
London EC3M 3AM, Tel: 01-626 4681
Member of the TSB Group

"BRITAIN IN THE 21st CENTURY"

MAJOR SEMINARS

Birmingham: 5th July Coinciding with publication of the Henley Centre's new Long-Renoe Study of key economic, social, political and technological Range Study of key economic, social, political and development: "FULL CIRCLE INTO THE FUTURE? tings (lac) copy of 350 page study) Tel: 01-353 $961 or Teles; 259817

THE HENLEY CENTRE FOR FORECASTING

RUGBY UNION

All Blacks survive French onslaught

Christchurch (Agencies) - France came within a hairsbreadth of beating the All Blacks in the first international in Saturday. The came desperately close to scoring mat-charlening points in nine minutes of injury time during which Lescar-boura missed four dropped goal hances. New Zealand won by a 113 and two penalty goals to a goal and a dropped goal, and later announced n unchanged team for the second nternational at Auckland next

> New Zealand's success arose from their superiority at the lineouts, where they won twice as much ball as the French. Lack of possession as the French. Lack of possession prevented the French from developing the flowing attacks which are their speciality. Rodriguez afterwards accused the All Blacks of pushing at the Inneouts. They never stopped cheating. They pushed us every time, "he alleged.
>
> In a scrappy match, Hewson gave New Zealand an early kead from a penalty and Lesearboura kicked a dropped goal to make the scores fropped goal to make the scores evel at half-time.

New Zealand went ahead 10 minutes after the restart from another Hewson penalty, foolwed

by Taylor, who collected a lobbed pass from Wayne Smith.

But France were far from down and out. The New Zealand forwards began to look tired, and France were rewarded when Blanco touched down with three minutes of ordinary time to go, after a daring ordinary title to go, and a taking solo raid. Lescarboura converted.

Dalton, the All Blacks captain, admitted his pack had been disappointing. He praised the Welsh referce. Winston Jones, without whose firm control, he said, the violence.

match would have exploded into

NEW ZEALAND: A Hewson. J Krivain, of Pokare, W Taylor, B Smith, W Smith, A Donald J Ashmorth, A Delton (capital), G Knight, o Hobbs, A Haden, G Whetton, M Shaw, & Mexical FRANCE: S Blanco: P Legisquer, D Cordonior P Seta. P Estave. J.P Lescarboura, Barbuser; J.P Garsat, P Dortrans (captain), Dospital: F Haget. J. Condom. J.L. Jones, Rodriguez, J.C Orso.

• Kenneth Gwilym, of Gwent, i the new president of the Welsh Rugby Union in succession to Errwyn Davies. He was confirmed in his new post at the WRU's annual meeting at Aberavon on Saturday.

ATHLETICS

Jewel without lustre

Kathy Cook's double victory in Women's AAA championships on Saturday also won her the prize for the best performance. £2,000-worth of jewelry donated by the meeting's sponsors. Trustee Savings Bank. But the performance of the Women's AAA officials in presenting yet another tedious, lacklustre championships is not going to win them any awards.

lu sponsorship terms, they are living off a reflection of the glory won for athletics by go-ahead men's administrators. The only thing that is going to make TSB take up their option of further sponsorship is for a reversal of the intransigence that efuses late entries from top Bitish athletes like Tessa Sanderson and Sonia Lannaman and refuses to invite overseas stars to draw the crowds. And that revision will be forced upon the women when they become part of a single United Kingdom governing body, the formation of which is going to be accelerated by the offer of £10m under the new television contract.

Shides Stone in coming into the

Shirley Strong is coming into the hurdles form that could win her a medal at the Olympics and Sue Hearnshaw won the long jump with another good series that could also lead to a Los Angeles medal. But it was her third place in the 100 metres and her fourth place in the 200 metres that showed where her consistency has come from this Fatima Whithread is out of the England learn for next Saturday's international in Birmingham (the Press Association reports). The competed at the WAAA champion-ships against doctors' orders and now plans to rest for two weeks. She is still recovering from two operations and was in pain every time she threw, but she successfully defended her javelin title and produced a championship best of 65.76 metres with her final effort.

Moses the unbeatable

Los Angeles (Reuter) - The two sprinter. Carl Lewis, confirmed their ability on the opening day of the American Olympic track and field trials on Saturday. Moses, the world record holder and 1976 Olympic champion, won the first heat of the 400 metre hurdles in 48.83sec. Moses, a clear

HOCKEY

Great Britain United States.

Great Britain completed a successful training weekend with their second victory over the United States yesterday in Cardiff. Two away matches against the Nether-lands at the end of this month. however, will provide a more searching test, because the teams are in the same group for the Olympic Saturday's match against the

by 4-1, though not before Britain suffered a rude shock. The American scored first through Mike Newton, but goals by Leman, Kerly (2) and Cattrall, from a short corner, restored Britain's fortunes. Catrall, who has spend four years in Australia, struck six short corners resterday without result. Then Barber took over the striking and hit the back of the boards with a tremendous bang. That was Bri-tain's third goal, obtained in the twentysixth minute of the second half. Kerly, with some help from Westcott and Batchelor scored the first goal in the thirtylifth minute, to be followed by Westcott's conver-sion of a penalty stroke eight minutes after the interval.

The British side looked al lot more composed yesterday, although they took a long time to penetrate the American defence. The three from runners, Batchelor, Kerly and Duthie had a lively spell in the last

The Americans, except for some skillul touches by lobal, Traverso and Krauss did not really get int the game. But their English coach, Gavin Featherstone, was not despondent. "We are mentally and physically weary" he said.

despsondent. "We are mentally and physically weary" he said.
GREAT BRITAIN: V Peppin: R Catinal. P Barber. J Pottar, R Dodds. W McConnel, S Basinskor (sub.) Sherveril, D G Westcool (capitall) said. M Precious). S Kerly, D Fapither (sub. R Lament.) J Duttie.

LINITED STATES: R Lincoher: A Store, D McMilcheel, G Newton, K Barrati, N Triverso, M Krauss, M Newton, P Pagen (sub.), B Spenceri, M lobel, T Fernandes.

Unpired: G D Nach and D Gats.

Fatima Whitbread: suffering for her win on Saturday

18:26.58. 100m hundles: 1, S Strong, 12:98sec; 2, S Gurnall, 13:30; 3, L Boothe, 13:31. 400m htmdles: 1, G Taylor, 56:76sec; 2, M Prendergast, 57:49; 3, M Southerden, 58:07. Long lymp. 1, S Heaveshore, 67:00; 2, 67:00. Prenciergast, 57.49; 3, M Southerden, 58.07. Long kamer. 1, S Hearnstein, 8.79m; 2, G Otadano, 6.52; 3, J Oladano, 6.40. High juespe. 1, D Elloce, 1.86m; 2, V Birowne (Ausö, 1.86; 3, L Manning, 1.83. Talecus: 1, L Whitsley, 57.25m; 2, K Pugh, 49.98; 3, J Picton, 47.20. Jeweller, 1, F Whitmead, 65.76m; 2, S Gibson, 60.58; 3, D Royle, 59.92. Shot: 1, J Oeles, 18.01m; 2, M Augoe, 17,10; 3, Y Hanson-Nortey, 13.77, 5,000m waller 1, J Barrett, 23min 51,63eec; 2, V Berch, 24:09.96; 3, H Eleker, 24:28.76.

55.76 metres with bet final effort.

RESULTS: 100m: 1, K Cook, 11.44sec; 2, J
Andrawa, 11.55; 3, S Hearnshaw, 11.95, 200m;
1, K Cook, 22.77sec; 2, B Callender, 23.18; 3, H
Barnett, 23.25, 400m; 1, T, Lawton, 52,74sec; 2,
L Koough, 53.78; 3, C Finley, 53.75, 800m; 1, H
Barnatel, (Aust), 2min 2.37sec; 2, C Boxer,
22.65; 3, A Purvis, 22.98, 1,500m; 1, C
Barning, 4min 7.27sec; 2, G Green, 47.90; 3, R
Smeeth, 4:10.78, 5,000m; 1, S Sidny, 16mn
10.1sec; 2, C Haigh, 18.21.83; 3, S Cretan,
10.1sec; 2, C Haigh, 18.21.83; 3, S Cretan, favourite to win a second Olympic gold medal, has not lost a 400 metre hundles race since August 26, 1977. Lewis recorded first places in the first and second heats of the 100 metres.

FINALS: Macr. 20km walt: 1, M Evonid. 3, P 25min 17eac; 2, J Heiring, 127:16: 3, D O'Cornor. 129:12. Women: Shet 1, L Griffin, 17.1m; 2, C Cachy, 18.95m; 3, R Pagel, 18.95m. (First time quality for the Olympics in both swants.)

More athletics, page 19 More athletics, page 19

BOXING

Hearns looks Britain recovers after getting forward to meeting Hagler a rude shock By Sydney Friskin

Las Vegas (Reuter) - Roberto Duran considered retirement on his thirty third birthday yesterday, while Thomas Hearns looked forward to his biggest payday in a multi-million dollar bont with the undisputed world middleweight manaspaten worid madateweight champion Marvin Hagler. Duran, who was stopped in two rounds in his world light-middleweight title bout with Hearns, said he was socertain whether he would continue For the 25-year-old Hearns, the future was brighter than ever. In retaining his title, he clearly demonstrated that he had not lost the vaunted punching power that had been dormant for the past two

Bob Aram, who has promoted most of Hagler's recent title bouts said that Hagler's managers had phoned him to discuss a bout with Hearns. Arum noted that Hagter was committed to a mandatory title defence this year against the Syrian, Mustofa Hamsho, whom he has those things can be worked out, "Sometimes, those things can be worked out, though", Arum said, indicating that Hamsho might be asked to step aside and then fight the winner of a Hagler-Hearns fight.

TODAY'S FIXTURES

First test match EDGBASTON: England v (11.0 to 8.0) County championship (11.0) CHELMSFORD: Essex v Northampton shire CARDIFF: Glamorgan v Lancashire SOUTHAMPTON: Hampshire v Leicestershire TRENT BRIDGE: Nottinghamshire Gloucestershire

Gloucestershire
GUILDFORD: Surrey v Sussex HARROGATE: Yorkshire v Derbyshire Other Matches (11.30 to 6.30) WORCESTER: Worcestershire v Cambridge University
THE PARKS: Oxford University v Kent Under-25 competition

GOLF Getting the swing of things in college

By Lewine Mair

Jody Rosenthal, the 21-year-old American Curtis Cup golfer, who on Saturday defeated Julie Brown, of Staffordshire, over Old Troon, by four and three to win the British Women's championship, says she owes much to college golf.

A student at Tulsa, whence Nancy Lopez, Miss Rosenthal explained how Dale McNamara, the college coach, has each of the girls marking a minimum of five medal rounds a week. Since eight of the players involved have handicaps of two or better, it goes without saving that the exercise is very competitive. With Old Troon no longer a stranger and her swing comfortingly in its groove. Miss Rosenthal made much the more confident start to the 18-hole final and was three up mounting the fourth tee Miss Brown recovered two of those holes with long putts, but missed her chance to draw level when she hit through the green at the seventh and took three more to get down. Thereafter, this able but inexperienced player never looked as if she could get back into the Miss Rosenthal now has a formight to enjoy her successful British trip - in addition to winning at Troop she was the only unheaten at 1700n she was the only unheaten American in the Curus Cup - before heading for Colorado Springs, where she will defend her title in the Broadmoor Ladies invitation

By this time next year she will be a professional and therefore unable to defend her British title

Women rise in stature

By John Hennessy

The United Friendly Insurance won by Rae Hast, of South Africa on Saturday, gave substantial evidence of the rising standards of the women's professional gold circuit in this country. Compared with only one score under 70 last year, there were 10 this time. Even allowing for the extra fourth round, this bears out the PGA's claim that the tour is growing in

Mrs Hast showed all the golfing virtues on Saturday, precision of strike over the first nine holes, covered in 31 strokes (six under par), and sturdy powers of recovery over the second nine, when the magnitude of her achievements, as she confessed later, began to make her nervous. Her nine-under-par total of 293 is a WPGA record.

LEADING FINAL SCORES: GB and ire unless stated; 283. R Hast (SA) 70, 74, 73, 56, 286, M harshall (US) 72, 75, 70, 69; 287, 5 Alison 74, 73, 74, 65. D Reid 68, 74, 74, 71; 286, J Lee Smith 72, 74, 76, 72; E Glass (Zmi) 70, 73, 72, 73, 289, B Lewis 73, 75, 74, 67; 290, A Nocholes 73, 74, 74, 69; I Fernando (Sri Lanka) 75, 72, 72; 71; M Thompson 73, 73, 71, 73, 281, L Castelo (US) 73, 79, 76, 282, B Brandewinne (US) 73, 74, 73, 72; B Hatte 76, 76, 67, 73, 74, 73, 72; B Hatte 76, 76, 67, 73, 72, 77, 71; J Fornest 77, 69, 75, 72; K Dougles 73, 70, 76, 74, 75, 74, 293, V Marwin 73, 70, 76, 76, 74, 75, 74, 293, S Moon (US) 76, 73, 74, 73; M Burton 75, 75, 72

US Open, page 18 Berkshire Trophy, page 19

Downing make it a double

By a Special Correspondent

Downing rowed away from Pembroke at the top of the men's divisions to take the headship, making the double of the Lent and Mays. In the women, New Hall held Addenbrockes bod Corpus Crinsa II; Lourney III bod Casternire III. Drylskon IV: Darwin bod Casterns III. Emmanuel III bod 1st and 3rd Tranty III; Pembroka III bod 1st and 3rd Tranty IV; LMBC VI bod King's II; LMBC VI bod St Castarne's III.

Cueens IV bod Corpus Christa III; Jesus v upo Pembroke IV.
DIVISION VI: St Catharine's IV bod Magdalene IV; Girton II bpd Selwyn IV; Downing V bpd Christ's V; LiMBC IX bpd Cueens' V; Calus IV bpd King's III; Homerion pod Frizwilliam IV; Emhrausel V bpd Sichey Susses IV.
DIVISION VII: Cusen's VI bpd Pembroke V; Jesus VI bpd Theological Colloges; Darwin III bpd Care VI; Downing VI bpd Girton III; Emmranusi VI bpd Robinson II; Calus V bpd Girton IV; Downing VII bpd Hughes Hair; Corpus Christa V bpd 1st and 3rd Trafity VI.

will be published tomorrow.

Mariow regatta results

Eightts: Effect 1, Vests; 2, Tharnes; 3, Molesey

– 2 lengths, 4min 45eec. Semior A: 1, Yaie
University (US): 2, Init; 3, Flatgers University

(US) – ½ length, 4min 42 zec. Semior R: 1,
Upper Carnese College (Cert): 2, St Paul's School; 3, Notingham University – 4 lengths, 4min Steac. Samilor C: 1, Promire School (US);
2, Crotum School (US); 3, Eton College – 1½

lengths, 5min 1sec. School/Jubior: Radiey bt Abingdon. 1½ lengths, 5min 13eac. Whithread

Sprist: 1, Leander; 2, City of Oxford: 3, Eton

1 lengths, 1min 25mic. Carnesian Ethe Spriot:
Kingdon University (US) bt Tharnes

Tradesamen, ½ length; 1min 25eac. Carnesian
Seetor B: 1, Shipblac College; 2, Kent School

(US): 3, Notingham University – ½ length, 1min 25sac.

COXCED FOURS: Sittler 1, Moleseny; 2, Visite; 3, Tharmes Tradesmen - 3 lengthe; Smir 18sec. Senior A: 1, Misriow: 2, Kingston; 3, Eton - essily, 5 min 28sec. Jamber: Eton bt Wostminster - carryes, Smir 31sec. COXCED FOURS: Elike: London bt London University, 1 length, 5 min 10sec. Senior A: Dartmouth College (US) bt University College & Hospital - easily, 5 min 22sec. Senior 8: Eton et Ster/Beddord/Pilgrim School, 1½ lengths, 5 min 28sec.

Stay/Sectord/Pigrim School, 1½ lengths, 5min 25ase, COXLESS PARS2 ESse: Cambridge University-Molessy tx Kingston, 4 lengths, 5min 37aec, DOUBLE SCRLLS: Else: Calerth bt Mildanheed, 3½ lengths, 5min 40aec, Smitcle SCRLLS: Else: T J Crooks (Kingston) bt G Pratt (Ringston), 1½ lengths, 6min 2aec, 5asier & 1, A J Ross (Thumes); 2 M Buckingham (Mariew); 3, Q Affert (Christ-hundr); 4 lengths, 5min 3aec, Seeler & 1, M Spenser-Jones (Merlow); 2, P Cowling (Mariow); 3, J R Wilson (Upper Thames) — 4 lengths, 6min 10aec.

ROWING

Mays, in the women, New Hall held off Churchill to go head with fout bumps, and so Churchill were deprived of the women's double.

DIVISION I: Emmanust bpd LMBC; Clere bpd Jasus; St Cathanne's bpd Petertouse.

DIVISION II: Permanust bpd Petertouse.

Sidney Sussax bpd Corpus Christ; Christ's II bpd Emmanuel II; Cats II bpd Ern II; Jesus III bpd Trinty II.

DIVISION III: Fitzwitiam II bpd Sethyn II; Sidney Sussax II bpd Ploterson: Gerton bpd Magdalene III; Peterhouse III bpd LMBC IV; Addenbrooks bpd Corpus Christ II; Downing III bpd St Catharne's III.

DIVISION V: Magdalene III bpd Christ's IV: Emanuel IV bpd Sidney Sussex III; LMBC VIII bpd Wolfson; Churchil IV bpd Care IV; Cueens IV bpd Corpus Christi III; Jesus V bpd Pembroke IV.

DIVISION I: Clare bod Trinty Half, Newmham II bpd Homerton, Jesus bpd Girton, Sidney Sussex topd New Half R, Fitzwilliam bpd Calux, Christ's bpd OMABC, Newmham III bpd Downing, Queens bpd Emmanuel.
DIVISION II: Churchall II bpd New Hall III, LMBC overtopd CCAY: Darwin bpd Setwyn R, Homerton II bpd Girton R, Newmham IV bpd Gorton R, Trintly Nall II bpd Neithon, Jesus III, bpd Addenbrookes, Christ's III bpd Homerton III, First and Third Trinty III bpd Sidney Sussex II.

DIVISION IN THE THE CONTROL OF THE PROPERTY OF lesus IV bpd Christ's IV, LMBC III bpd Queer

A chart showing final positions

Lucerne regatta, page 19

Last year the group sold 175 units compared with 116 the previous year. The split between commercial and resi-KLP is well placed for growth by acquisition. A full listing Mr Lloyd estimates that dential properties is substantial. manufacturers are prepared to Turnover of the residential over the next 18 months could sector amounted to £6.9m last reputation in Scotland for also be on the card. year compared with £1.79m on Meanwhile, the flow of new the commercial side. companies anxious to seek a Trencherwood's listing on the USM shows few growth has been solid, apart from one hiccup in 1982 when signs of drying up despite the nervous conditions in the the financial year was shortened to 10 months. In 1979 the group Housebuilders achieved pretax profits of prominently among last week's £307,000 on turnover of £1,34m or four weeks. Around 60 per cent of revenue comes from fees retained and the rest from the less predictable fee income. .

cent to £4.55m. The second half venture to pick up some of their of the year is traditionally the equity before too long. Mr applicants with two from opposite ends of the country looking to attract support.

Buoyant KLP widens horizons per cent – with clients, at 145p a expansion. Mr Northgate's share, valuing the company at proceeds from the placing total with that and is looking to the £13.05m. This makes it the £47,000. Securities Market less than a But Mr Lloyd is not satisfied Only last week KLP an untapped European market and largest building company ounced an increase in interim the potentially lucrative US quoted on the USM. Trencherpretax profits for the six months market. KLP already operates wood is the brainchild of Mr Clydeside, one of the biggest to March 31 of 53 per cent to in the US through a number of John Norgate, the chairman, £347,000 on sales up by 95 per affiliates, but will probably

Lloyd says. group has its eye on a specialist

its wing and boasts a further 30

The biggest was Trencher-

Mr Colin Lloyd, chief executive some success from its Mandevelopments.

of KLP Group, Britain's biggest chester office. An office is sales promotions company, planned for Edinburgh this placing 1.3 million shares – 15 capital and finance further Acquisitions are also being planned at home where the printer. With a healthy balance sheet containing little debt, in at the rate of one every three wood, a Newbury building firm, specializing in both commercial The bulk of the shares being The group is now spreading East Midland Allied Press plc

Ayearof continued

growth * Turnover a new record at £63.7 million

* Profit before tax a new record at £4.7m * Best ever dividend - increased from the equivalent of 2.0p to 2.27p per share > commented that your Directors remained confident that our growth would continue. That confidence has been fully justified by events. I can say the same this year - our excellent executive management team, now led by Robin Miller, will continue to demonstrate its talents by further profitable developments, improve-ments in efficiency and the continuing success of our current magazine and newspaper publishing.

When reporting to shareholders a year ago,

From the statement by the Chairman, Mr Frank Rogers:-

printing and retail activities. Many exciting opportunities are available for exploitation. We intend to continue to take advantage of these opportunities for the benefit of shareholders and all those associated with the Company.

The Secretary, EMAP pic, 8 Herbel Hill, LONDON EC1R 5UB.

Völler thrives as Rummenigge has his way

West German

Romania

Never write Germany, it is said, and shown to be so here yesterday when they defeated Romania. even if unconvincingly, to become firm candidates for a even place in the semi-final of the tournament they have so often dominated. Romania's spirits were lifted with an equalising goal by Coras early in the second half after Völler had given West Germany the lead. But Voller scored again to settle the issue although Romania pressed hard to draw level again for much of the last 20 minutes.

A World Cup or European Championship would hardly be normal if there were not some kind of dispute or power struggle going on between the coach of the West German team and one or more of the leading. players. For the friendly against Italy and then in the opening games here against Portugal, Jupp Derwall has been trying to persaude Rummenigge to transpose his £3m talents from attack to midfield, where West Germany have been shown to be distinctly lacking in variety. Yesterday against Romania it appeared that Rummenigge's resistance to such manipulation seemed to have succeeded, for he was back in the attack in a flexible role with Allofs and

To try and adjust the inadequacies which had been uncomfortably plain against Portugal. Derwall left out Buchwald, and brought in Matthaus and Meier, and certainly for the first half this readjustment seemed to have given the side a new lease of

Romania, having looked promising against Spain, were tull of expectation for a quarter of an hour or so, lively and fast every time they ran at the West Germans. But this mood of optimism soon disappeared, and indeed several of the team showed a marked rejuctance to stand up to even legitimate physical challenge. Rednic, at right back, began to look particularly vulnerable, and the West Germans steadily built a

Fire power: Völler scores his second goal to give West Germany victory over Romania

It was no surprise when they remaining 20 minutes of the ent ahead after 25 minutes. A first half belonged to West went ahead after 25 minutes. A winding run by Coras, Romania's heavily-built but decepti-vely skilful midfield player, came to a halt on the edge of the penalty area, and West Germany went straight to the other end. Meier worked clear on the left, and his well-judged cross was headed in by Voller, almost without opposition, from right in front of goal.

Immediately Stielike was

Germany with Meier, Brehme and Allofs all having shots either saved or fractionally booed by the French spectators, the price of a foul two years ago which will not be forgotten.

Romania, frankly, looked down and all but out, short of appetite and ideas, but the second half was only 35 seconds old when they were level. A West Germans steadily built a booked for one of his character- mistake by Matthaus allowed dominating control of the game. istic. cynical fouls, but the Klein to slip the ball to Coras, who swiftly made several yards through the middle and beat Schumacher from some 16 Littbarski. of Cologne, in place of Maier, and following a rapid move down the left and a cross through the middle and beat Schumacher from some 16

went past two defenders and had the chance to lob Schu-into the penalty area. Rummenigge, with his back to goal, cleverly shielded the ball and touched it to Völler, who shot with all the sting which had been missing in Strasbourg WEST GERMANY: H Schumacher, B-Förster, K-H Förster (sub R Falkemay-er), U Stiellike, H-P Briegel, A Brehme, N Meler (sub P Littbarski), L Matthaus, R Völler, K Allofs, K-H Rummenigge. ROMANIA: F Lung: M Flechic. C Stefaneacu, N Ungureanu, I Andronie, G Hagi, M Dragnea (sub A Ticleanu), M Coras, L Boloni, M Klein, R Camateru.

Exhilarating victory by France Denmark demand to be taken seriously

From Clive White

were to their chances of qualifying for the semi-finals.

ship, they proved that they can still be a force in the world. It is as well, though, that Arnesen and Lerby have recovered sufficiently from

Arnesen's strength was illustrated perfectly in the opening goal. Indeed, the first two goals bore the lengthy injuries this past season.

offside trap and counter-attacking style from depth in defence, were at a loss in finding Platini, lying initially so deep that he could not be Denmark Yugoslavia Denmark produced the one performance of this European marked. Playing a short passing game of supreme accuracy, France

Stadium on Saturday, to suggest, without contrariness, that the title just might go anywhere other than to France. Coming just a few hours after France's frighteningly simple dissection of a good Belgian side, it was important that Denmark quickly softened the memory of this, and their opening defeat to France. what France proved, just as Brazil and then counter-attacked have always proved, is that there is Belgium were incapal Belgium were incapable of finding a tactical alternative against a team maintaining possession with glorious dexterity. There was a time between the second and third goals when Belgium were still defending with 11 men 30 yards inside their with 11 men 30 yaros insue men own half while France strolled. Hidalgo rightly said it was the best performance in his eight years as manager. He and his extrovert players deserve the first the major into in France's history. The goals emphatic margin of victory as the French in their defeat of the typically skilful and disappointing typically skillin and disappointing Yugoslavs was, perhaps, a subconscious attempt to challenge their supremacy. The goals were as beneficial to their confidence as they title in France's history. The goals were scored by Platini (3), Giresse SELGIUM: Pfaff, De Wolf, De Greef, Lambrichis, Grun, Vercauteren, Ceuterneme, Vandereychen (sub. Coecid, Scifo (sub. Verheyen), Vandenbergh, Classen. Referee: J Valentine (Scotland).

Danish hallmark of power and pace.

Amesen accelerated hard and far past the full back, and though the space gained aided little the accuracy of his cross, the power more than compensated, and it cannoned into the goal off the chest of the unprepared lykovic in goal.

That was after just seven minutes

To their credit, Yugoslavia kept coming forward, but they always led with the chin. Arnesen could not miss it with a penalty. Neither could larsen from eight yards, and Lauridsen, a bubbling reserve, scored audaciously with a chipped what from more than 20 medians.

DENHARIC O Oviet (IGS Conenhagen); O Remissees (Arrhun) (sub, J Stvebesck, Velle); S Book (Cherni), M Olsses (Andreich), J Melses (Feyenocri), S Larby (Enyern Munich), J Bertelses (Serzing), K Berggren (Fest), M Laudry (Lozio), F Arsees (Andreich) (sub, J Laudre), Español), P Larses (Lokares).

MOTOR RACING

Porsche again rule Le Mans

Le Mans

Despite the absence of the world Despite the absence of the works Porsche team, there was a familiar look to the finishing order of the Le Mans 24 hours endurance race yesterday, with eight Porsche 956s in the first nine places, the winner being the Joest Racing entry shared by the Frenchman, Henri Pescarolo, and the Comman deliver. and the German driver, Klans Ludwig This was Pescarolo's fourth victory at Le Mans, following his three wins for Matra in 1972, 1973

The only interloper among the German cars was the surviving Ferrari-engined Lancia of Sandro Nannini and Bob Wollek, which had been an early pacesetter but slipped to eighth place after a long stop to replace a stripped fifth gear. In a fighting comeback, they were credited with the fastest race lap in Only 22 cars out of the 53 which started survived one of the most closely-fought Le Mans races for many years, characterized by constant changes in the leadership between three Porsches and two Lancias. But the contest was marred by an accident on Saturday evening which eliminated both Nimrod-Aston Martins, put John Sheldon, a 37-year-old dental surgeon from Surbiton, into hospital with severe burns to his hands, neck and chest cilled a French track marshal, and broke one of his colleague's legs.

It happened as the race moved it happened as the face moved into its second quarter, when Sheldon was followed down the Mulsanne Straight by Jonathan Palmer, in his Canon Porsche, and Drake Olson in the second Nimmd Draise Osson in the second vinitude. Sheldon's car suddenly went out of control at 200mph on the exit from the famous "kink", charged a barrier, disintegrated, and burst into

Paimer drove through the sea of lames unscathed but Olson hit part of the wreckage of Sheldon's car, slid off, abandoned his damaged car, and was treated later for shock. Sheldon was ejected from his car by the impact, and this almost certainly saved his life. It is hoped that he will be fit enough to be flown to England today for further treatment at East

Jaguar's welcome comeback to Le Mans lasted for 21 hours, and the team surprised themselves by their immediate competitiveness, earned high marks for their professionalism, and eventually retired to sympathetic applause. Their first car, shared by John Watson, Tony Adamwicz and Claude Ballot-Lena, retired during the sixteenth hour after Adamozicz spun into a barrier when a front tyre picked up a piece of accident debris and deflated. The other XJR-5, shared by Brian Redman, Bob Tullius and Doc Bundy, lost third gear, but although this was replaced, fragments of gear reeth later blocked the gear pump, and the car was withdrawn three and the car was withdrawn three hours from the end of the race.

About an hour after the start, this car had led the race for a mile or so, during a rash of pit stops. Yesterday morning the Jaguars were running strongly in fourth and fifth places and were about to be speeded up when the first of them dropped out.

John Fitznatrick's Porsches, belned to bring his far from fit car through into third place to finish as the highest-placed British driver, but the team's other car was eliminated on Saturday evening when Rupert Keegan slid off on oil and damaged the front suspension.

the front suspension.

RESULTS: 1, H Pescerolo/K Ludwig (Porache 956), 359 leps, 3,044.88 miles, 126.87 mpt; 2, J Rondesul/Paul Inri] Heren (Porache 956), 350 leps, 3, W Brun/L von Bayern/R Adn (Porache 959) 339 laps; 5, V Men/ID Schomstein/J Winter (Porache 956) 339 laps; 5, V Men/ID Schomstein/J Winter (Porache 956) 339 laps; 5, V Men/ID Schomstein/J Winter (Porache 956) 339 laps; 7, M Sigsia/O Larsuni/J Goulhier (Porache 956), 334 laps; 8, A Nennini/R Wollek (Lancle LC2) 325 laps; 9, T Medeel/J Goulhier (Porache 956), 334 laps; 8, A Nennini/R Wollek (Lancle LC2) 325 laps; 9, T Medeel/J Goulhier (Porache 955) S20 laps; 10, J O'Steen/J Morton/Y Katayama (Lofa-Mazda TB16) 319 laps; 11, J Muslen/W Bohren/J Futher (Rondesu-Ford 379) 339 laps; 12, J Busley/J Haylew (Roopo (Lofa-Mazda TB16) 294 laps; 13, J Muslen/W Bohren/J Ferris (Rondesu-Ford 482) 222 laps; 14, P de Thology/J-T Yvon/P Deporesu (BMW M1) 281 laps; 15, D Kennady/J-M Martin/P Martin (Racda 7270; 280 laps; 16, C Hadi/A Heger/J Krucker (Porache 930) 294 laps; 17, R Tourcul/V Bertzpeldy (Partin (Porache 18) 277 (Porache 930) 298 laps; 18, Y carada/T Yorino/P Deudome (Mazda 7270) 281 laps; 19, A Capel/ID Partin/G Deco (Alte-Giannin), 251 laps; 20, M Finoto/C Facetiff Varcol (Alta-Giannin) 257 laps; 21, R Bouffrend/P Renealt/S Guinand (Porache 928) 255 laps.

GOLF

Irwin's nerve holds as fame beckons

a driver and a three iron. Neither Zoeller nor Irwin could contemplate house where he is living this week. He might have dreamed of becoming only the fifth golfer to win

except that dreamers do not win this

Nick Faldo is well aware of that,

Norman, however, had tho-roughly earned his crack at the roughly earned his crack at the championship, with a confident approach leading up to it. Three weeks ago, mystified by his ailing game, he telephoned Charlie Earp, the Royal Queensland professional.

in Australia. Earp, who once sacked Norman, then an ambitious assist-ant, listened as his former pupil talked through his swing. Earp ant. Instetut as his swing. Earp suggested a minor change in the take-away, and Norman went out the following week and won the Kemper Open.

Third round scores

"Nothing ever seemed to excite intriguing third day. Midway Bobby Jones." George Low, a former American tour player, said. "You could fire a camoon between his legs and he wouldn't jump." emerged the leader, one alread of Low, now aged 71, and the author of a book on putting, was recalling tow, now aged 11, and the sinisher of a book on putting, was recalling the 12-foot putt which Jones holed on Winged Foot's 18th green in 1929. The putt, a downhill, side-frill slider, broke severely from left to right Jones made it and tied with Al Excitoral before minutes the 36-below the severely side. Norman, having rattled home a 15ft putt for a two at the 10th, demonstrated his blinding power by reducing the 535-yards 12th hole to spinosa before winning the 36-hole play-off by an incredible 23 strokes.

Thus Jones, with one of the most chronicled of putts, wrote the initial chapter in Winged Foot's US Open Thus Jones, with one of the most chronicled of putts, wrote the initial shots. Norman, however, dropped a shot at the 15th where Irwin holes from 7ft for his third birdie of the championship next returned there, day. Even then, Zoeller, chatting with the championship next returned there, and in the winter that third birdie of the championship next returned there, and in the winter that third birdie of the championship next returned there. Billy Casper won. Then, in 1974, it was Hale irwin's turn.

Yesterday, as the fourth and final round, of the 84th US. Open So Irwin returned to the private Yesterday, as the fourth and final round of the $4th US Open unfolded, Irwin was poised to write his name into the record books again. He was also well aware that, although his game has been beautifully synchronized all week, his nerve, like that of Jones 55 years ago, would be severely examined. ago, would be severely examined.

Nick Paido is well aware of that, Irwin passed the first test on but for him this particular event has Saturday. A third round of 69 kept been a nightmare. Since his opening him on top of the leader board. In 71 little has gone right, and rounds fact, the 39-year-old from Missouri, of 76 and 77 left him too far back to who played gridiron football at the highest college level when at the University of Colorado, has held that position at the end of each day.

Irwin: passed test

But to ramain in front Irwin was required to end his second round of 68 with three successive birdies.

to return

Ballesteros A third title

From Mitchell Platts his back on America and he will be returning to Europe where he hopes to compete in eight events. He officially shandoned his full-time attempt to conquer the American circuit by deciding to go home to Spain after yesterday's US Open.

It was a difficult decision, since Ballesteros has enermous pride, but clearly the correct one. With the words, "I'm going home", he brushed away mouths of despair and returned to his former, challiest self. Ballesteros has never settled into the American way of life. He is capable of surviving short-term trips, emphasized by his two wins in eight tournaments last year, but that is what he does best. This season his earnings from 12 American tourna-ments amount to little more than

He will play the US PGA championship and one other American tournament in August. After a three-week rest at his home in Perenna, he hopes to restore the sparkle missing from his game. It means that Ballesteros could.

ir means that Ballesteros could challenge once again for the leadership of the European Order of Merit. Without a win so far this year he will be eager to put that right and to start chasing Howard Clark, the money leader.

for Clayton

Clayton, of Australia, added Biarritz Open to the Tasmanian and Korean Opens, which he won cartier this year, when he scored a last-round 67 for a total of 260 here yesterday. Teravainen, of United States, were second on 263. Clayton and Torrance shot 61s, a course record, Hadfield 71, 70, 67, 58; 277, D Cooper 70, 71, 58, 68; J Willdrison 69, 71, 68, 76; 71; P Barber 65, 68, 72, 71; 278, D Lieuwellyn 58, 68, 70, 72; 280, G Turner 68, 71, 70, 71; G Rietph 70, 71, 68, 72; P Carrigil 71, 67, 70, 72; A Murray 72, 69, 69, 73, 251, C Moody 70, 70, 71, 70; 286, J C Learly (re) 70, 70, 74, 72.

252, 74

. . . .

عاضا لمستال كالتالية

EC 54

9,500

11 3 14 15

TULSA: Serior PGA tournament: 141, D Tamary, A Silverstrone, D Sikes. NESANAPOLIS: Women's tournament: 208, D Whate 67, 72, 89; 211, A Okamoto (Jap) 73, 67, 71; 212, A Hisage (Jap) 69, 72, 71, J Intestre 67, 71, 74, L Peterson 72, 71, 69, 5 Patiner 68, 73, 70; 213, D Austin 70, 72, 71, M Hagge 75, 68, 70, H Stacy 72, 71, 70, J Clark 71, 70, 72, P Rtzzo 70, 72, 71.

EQUESTRIANISM

Cup for Mrs Whitaker

By Jenny MacArthur

victory of her career when she rode the nine-year-old Jingo to victory in the Queen Elizabeth II Cup, sponsored by Everest Double Glazing, at the Royal International Horse Show in Birmingham yesterday. Sally Mapleson, from Essex, took the second place on Chinatown and last year's women's national champion. Sne Pountain, came third on the honest Ned Kelly. The Belgium-born Mrs Whitaker, who has dual nationality since her marriage three and a haif years ago, said she did not usually do well when her husband was watching: "I get nervous when he's running about" Yesterday she was thankful for his advice. Five horses reached the timed jump-off, in which the first two riders, Miss Mapleson and Miss Pountain, each had a fence down. "1 thought I'd go for a slow clear round," Mrs Whitaker said, "But Michael said, 'No you don't - go for a fast one".

Following his advice, she too had a fence down - the big wall - but finished in the fast time of 28.66sec. "But I thought I had definitely lost it with two more to go." She could hardly believe it when Just Malone, ridden by Helena Dickinson, kicked back with his hind legs and knocked down the penultimate fence, and Janet Hunter, the last to go on Lisnamarrow, knocked down the same fence. As both were slower

Veronique Whitaker, the wife of than Mrs Whitaker, their mistake-Britain's Olympic stort-listed rider, sassured her of victory and the Michael, gained the most significant victory of her career when she rode

Liz Edgar with Everest Forever Liz Edgar with Everest Forever

and the Olympic short-listed rider, Lesley McNaught, on Ona Promise were both knocked out in the first jump-off.
The new venue, at Birmingham's National Exhibition Centre has proved a turning point for the 76-year-old show, which was dying on its feet in London. Three evening performances here with capacity crowds (6,500), together with the NEC's enthusiastic reception, have assured the show's immediate

Donan Williams, the chairman, announced at the weekend that it would be held at the NEC again next year, a decision welcomed by Harvey Smith and David Broome, GUEEN ELIZABETH II CUP: 1. Jingo (Y Whitsker), U.O.4 in 28.66 secs; 2, Chinstown IS Mapleson), U.O.4 in 31.45; 3, Ned Kelly IS Pountain), U.O.4 in 31.77; RADIO RENTALS PURSSANCE: 1, Carrol's Young Diamond (P Darrath Ireland); equal 2, Cainol's Royal Lon (E Macken, Ireland) and Carlstory Gaysarda (E Wauters, Belgium). ANSHAI THERAPY REDDER ARABIAN CLASS: 1, Carrol. Crystif (I. Russell); 2, Ghezalion (L. Rothwall); 3, Kelpie (C Lodge).

TENNIS

DAVIS CUP: Second round: Zone A. Sower
Umon 3, Moseo G. Austria 5, Norway 6: Israel
5, Potend C; Suttzerland 5, Senegal 6, Zone 6;
Hungary 2, Egypt 1; Fritand 1, Ireland 3, O Rahmasto bt S Sorensen 6-3, 6-4, 6-4, L Palm lost to M Doyle 2-6, 5-7,5-7; Palm and Rahmasto lost to Doyle and Sorensen 4-6, 2-4,
1-6; Palm lost to Sorensen 8-10,9-7, 6-2, 8-4;
Bulgarla 1, Belgium 2: Nesterlands 2, Spein 1.

POWER BOATS

Seebold strikes twice

John Hill of Gloucester took over disaster on a bend during the

on the first lap, both escaped injury but were unable to take any further part. When the race restarted, Jonathan Jones of Cardigan was first into the lead but almost struck

John Hill of Gloucester took over the leadership of the formula two inshore world championship yesterday. Although beaten into third place in the Bristol Grand Prix, Hill picked up four points to give him a total of 19 in the world series, one more than the previous leader, Birtill Wik from Sweden, who did not compete yesterday as his craft was too light for the rough water churned up in the inland dock circuit.

The race began in spectacular style when two British drivers, Mick Bridge and Tony Williams, collided on the first lap. Both escaped injury but were unable to take any further part. When the race restarted, in the second of the first lap. Both escaped injury but were unable to take any further part. When the race restarted, in the second of the first lap. Both escaped injury but were unable to take any further part. When the race restarted, in the seventh lap. As he manoeuvred himself back into the race, Billy Seebold overtook him. The American held on to the lead and crossed the finishing line half a lap ahead.

Another British hopeful, Steve Kerton of Flackwell Heath, did not take part in the final after a bad crash during the heats.

Bridge and Tony Williams, collided on the first lap. Both escaped injury but were unable to take any further part. When the race restarted, in the manoeuvred himself back into the race, Billy Seebold overtook him. The American held on to the lead and crossed the finishing line half a lap ahead.

Another British hopeful, Steve Kerton of Flackwell Heath, did not take part in the finishing line half a lap ahead.

Another British hopeful, Steve Kerton of Flackwell Heath, did not take part in the finishing line half a lap ahead.

Another British hopeful, Steve Kerton of Flackwell Heath, did not take part in the finishing line half a lap ahead.

Another British hopeful, Steve Kerton of Flackwell Heath, did not take part in the finishing line half a lap ahead.

Another British hopeful, Steve Kerton of Flackwell Heath, did not take part in the finishing line half a lap ahead. Eriksson 62.52mph.
RATIONAL CATAMARANS SPORT-E CLASS.
1. A Elect 0550t; 2. K 45cCrorts 750; 3. J
Beate 622; 4. W Taylor 600; 5. R 5todden 455.

is a blow to the tacticians Ghent, said of his country's detear: This was a triumph of technique over tactics. The best thing to do with all coaches is that they should be shot!" There are few among the

1.500 journalists covering these championships, or among millions of spectators on television, who no tactical answer to individual ability, to the player who can consistently beat his opponent.

would disagree.

It is being said that the absence from the European Championships not only of all four home teams but managers other than Dave Peter Shreeves and Billy Ringham underlines Britain's isolation from the heart and pulse of the game. There is, however, another view of all coaches: that they should be abolished.

After France's exhilarating destruction of Belgium in Nantes, which in 90 minutes has done more for the game than a thousand talk-ins, Robert Despestele, an experi-enced colleague of Het Volk of

Platini (left) and Giresse: players of genius

FOR THE RECORD

BASEBALL

AMERICAN LEAGUE (Friday): Baitmore Cricles 2. New York Yarksee 1: Minnesota Tuvras 3, Karnas City Royals 0; Detroit Tigers 3. Milwaskee Brewers 2; Torroito Bass Jaya 4. Boston Red Sox 3: Cektand An 2; Cincago difficulties of the control Prizares I, rew York Mets 2, St Louis Caronale
O, Houston Astros 3. Los Angeles Dodgers 2.
San Dego Padres 3. San Francisco Glants 2.
Saturday: New York Mets 4, St Louis Cardinals
1, Philadalphile Phillies 8, Chicago Cube 2: San Francisco Glents 6, San Dego Padres 3.
Cincinnati Rods 2, Atlanta Braves 1; Montreal
Expos 3. Pittisburg Prates 2, Houston Astros 7.
Los Angeles Dodgers 5.

CRICKET Chronol Superior Control of the Massender: Women's tour match: New Zealanders 263 for 4 (A McKenna 92, N Turner De Hockey 52 not cut; Thames Valley and Middean. 44 (S Rathay 4 for 8, 5 Brown 2 for 1). New Zealanders won by 219 runs.

RIFLE SHOOTING RIFLE SHOOTING
BISLET: NatWest miter-counties meeting:
Colonal H Trophy (short range): 1, Hampshire,
1,157; 2, Surrey, 1,162; 3, West of Scotland,
1,149. NatWest Trophy (forg range): 1, Nodwighamshire, 1,869; 2, Sussex, 1,862; 3,
Surrey, 1,860. Agorapate challenge trophy;
Notinghamshire, 2,836. R Janvie metch
(mdwdust, 300 yards): 1, J D Halle
(Motthyhamshire) 75/25; 2, G A Casven (Devon)
75/24; 3, M Cosway (Hampshire) 75/23.

FÓOTBALL BERNE: Sunsa champonahio play-off: Grasahoppers Zurich I, Servetia Ganeva D. SYDNEY: Australia I, Juvernia D. HAMILTON: Torriot Bibzzario Z, Rangers Q, NORTH AMERICAN SOCCER LEAGUE: Vancourse Whitecaps I, Tuba Roughnocks D: Syn Dason A, Marcelota 3. Vancouver Wintectops 1, 1052 Houghtscale to San Diego 4, Mannesota 3. PANAMA CITY: World Cup qualifying match. Pengris 0. Nonduras 3. SPANISH LEAGUE: Cup semi-linele, Inst leg-Barcelona 1. Allético Madrid 2. Real Betis 2.

BASKETBALL TAIPEI: Women's tournement: Taiwan 48, United States 105. TOKYO: Fourneton tournement: Japan 17. Artenaes University 61; Yugoslevie 88, China

SOPIA: 400m: 1, L Martine: (Cuba), 45 97; 2. Juantorana (Cuba) 46.01.

RUGBY LEAGUE FOWNSVILLE: North Queensland 20, Great ATHLETICS

week's time, in spite of pulling a muscle in his right hand while muscle in his right hand while training on Wednesday. A final decision about whether he plays at Wimbledon will be taken today. Doctors at Vaxio hospital, in Sweden, took off the plaster on Wilander's hand on Saturday, aithough be continues to wear a metal orthogodie support. metal orthopaedic support. CYCLING: Beat Breu, of Switzer-land, took the overall lead in the

Tour of Switzerland road race after winning yesterday's furth stage, a 22.5km time trial, in 55min 5sec. Scan Kelly, of Ireland, was second and Eddy Schepers, of Belgium, BASKETBALL: Yugoslavia, the reigning Olympic champions, won the four-nation Kirin World men's tournament, in Tokyo, yesterday, finishing with a 64-50 win over the University of Arkansas, in front of 4.500 spectators. The Yogoslavs ended the six-game tournament undefeated. In another game Japan titleholder, finished fifth.

Wilander hopes to be fit

Mats Wilander, of Sweden, beat China, 84-69. Earlier, Japan expects to be fit for Wimbledon in a had beaten Arkansas, 71-61. RUGBY LEAGUE: The first round RUGBY LEAGUE: The first round draw for the Yorkshire Cup was made yesterday.

DRAW: Cesteford v Leeds; Hull v Helitax; Huddersfield v Keighiey; Yord v Hunslet; Dewabury v Bramley; Feetherstone Rovers v Berley; Concaster v Hull Kingston Rovers v Maderied Trinky v Bradford Northern.

Tes must be played the vesteand of September 15-16. Meenwhile, the new president of the Leegue is Jack Bates, a Bradford plumber.

SWIMMING: Alex Braumann set a world record of 4 min 17.53 sec in the 400 metres individual medley in a qualifying heat at the Canadian Olympic trials yesterday. Victor Davis, overcoming scialica, came within five-hundredths of a second of his Commonwealth Record when winning the 100 metres breastroke.
Peter Szmidt easily won the 200 metre freestyle in 1:51.33, while in the women's competition, the 100 metre freestyle was won by Pam Rai

RUGBY LEAGUE

Hanley too hot to handle

North Queensland Great Britain38

gave Britain the edge, both scoring twice as the visitors rattled up seven tries to North Queensland's four. Townsville, Australia (AFP) - Britain play Toowoomba on Wednesday, before moving on to Townsville, Australia (AFP)

Great Britain overcame energysapping heat to defeat North Queensland before a capacity crowd of 6,000 at the sports ground here yesterday.

Britain led 24-6 at half-time, but witted in the tropical conditions allowing the home team back into the game. Several North Queensland moves were halted only inches from line by last-ditch British tackling.

The attacking flair of Hanley, at centre and Drummond, the wing. An American in Belgium is a favourite for the Tour de France

LeMond heads for the heights in the Old World

Bussels (Reuter) - Leading one wing of the anglophon assault on the sacred citadel of European cycling, the Tour de France, is an American with a French name, Greg LeMond.

At 22, LeMond already has an impressive collection of wins under his belt, including last year's road race world championship, but he has never before completed in the Tour.

Previously he has steered clear of the world's classic cycling test. Now he is confident that he can compete with the very best and the very with the very best and the very experienced. "I'm thinking of finishing in the top five," he says.

Good luck and good form are prerequisites for any tour winner and the Californian is just a little apprehensive about his ability to strike form at the appropriate time, "One of the reasons that a cyclist does best in his late 20s is that it's only then he has mastered the art of preparation" he said. "I will be 23 the week before I ride the Tour. I hanve't yet learned to get myself into top condition for specific races."

LeMond arrived in Europe three years ago with a big reputation and was persuaded to join team director Cyrille Guimard's squad. He now lives in Belgium with his wife and child. He could have survived well enough in California without the severity of the European cycling circuit. So why did be come? "For two reasons - to make a very good living and to achieve glory," LeMond said. "From the earliest stages I decided that if I could not be one of the very best then I would return home, continue my education and carre out a career for myself back home," he said. "Average pro-fessionals are badly paid and there

The state of the s

In his first year with Guinard's won the Tour de l'Avenir, a long stage race for young professionals and the top amateurs, and did so with embarrassing case. Lemon went back to the United States for the Coors Classic, a stage race which takes its participants through the high peaks of the Rockies in Colorado. He took on a strong team of Soviet amateurs on his own, and won. his own, and won.

The following year, 1982, Lemond went to the world championships in Goodwood and finished second to Ginseppe Saronni. A year later he was champion of the world, winning in glorious isolation in Alterrhein, Suitzerland.

For those first three years with Guinard, Lemond sidestepped the Tour de France. It is not a race for 20-year-olds and Guinard has the great Bernard Hinault in his team. About a month before last year's About a month never last year's Tour it became obvious that Himault would be ruled out buy tendonits.

Most expected Guinard to pash Lemond into riding, but the

did not insist. It turned out superbly an not insist. It turned out superory for Guimard, as Laurent Fignon emerged the surprise victor. Guimard later fell out with Hinault. The team sponsors sided with the director, confident that he Confident and lively, LeMond does seem to mind being many people's favourite for the tour at his first attempt. He picks put two Irishmen, Sean Kelly and Stephen Rocke, and two Frenchmen, Hinault and People Singer on his form more Riche, and two remains, and pascal Simon, as his four most obvious rivals. Fignor and Phil Anderson of Australia cannot be dismissed either, he says.

Despite the doubts raised about the lrishman's ability to climb the Alpine peaks in the mid-summer heat, it is Kelly who most warries LeMond. "This guy is incredible. All season I have had to continually to congratulate thin. No human could keep up what Kelly is currently doing, but with him you never know", he said.

Donbts have been raised, how-ever, about Kelly's ability to climb the Alpine peaks in the mid-summer

KARLSKICHAL Tour of Sweden: Fourth stage (176.7km). 1, O Steeth (Blanchi, hy) 4 hrs 11 nin 30 asc; 2, S Brytz (Gwe, A) a 3 asc behind; 3, P. Jonsson (Swe A) 20 asc Overalt 1, Brytz (160.00). 2, S Liftott (Den) 15 asc behind; 3, Pelper et 24. (Charampese: Tour of Swezerland (Fourth Stage (25.5km): 1, B Breu (Switz) 55 min 5 asc; 2, S Keby (Ireland) 1:09.50 behind; 3, E Shopers (Be) 1:32 Both (1:09.11). Breu 14 hrs 34 min 49 acc; 2, U Zimmermann (Switz) same time, 3, S Keby 1:39 behind, 57 ESTEYE: Mod Liver accs Fourth stage (167km). 1, R editor (38) 5:02-49; 2, G Mas (Pr) 5:0354; 3, B Himself (Ps) 5:02-49; 2, G Mas (Pr) 5:0354; 3, B Himself (Ps) 5:02-49; 2, G Mas (Pr) 5:0355; 12:3545; Find overall positions: 1, D Gerde (Pr) 21:25:02; 2, M Durant (Pr) 21:25:22; 3, A Vigneron (Pr) 21:25:24; 4, R Miller (38) 21:38:35; ISE OF Malk Mountain Time Trial (374-milles): 1, D Webster (Manchestar Wineslers) 1 in 28mins 22:202;

tinued to make the running, but wide. Schumacher was roundly now once again they were in a state of some anxiety. Just after the hour Romania might have gone ahead. Coras macher from close range, but Two minutes later West Germany were in front again. They had just brought on a contest, was anaesthetized by the storming run and subtle dummy of Larsen, who brings a new dimension to front running. His cross was delicately booked over the goalkeeper's head by Laudrup, emerging from an insecure season, and shot from more than 20 yards. Saturday's victory indicated the enviable extent of Denmark's quality. Without Simonsen, possibly for ever, and Jesper Olsen, possibly for the duration of this champion-

VUGOSLAVA: T hetoric (Red Star Beigrade):

B Miljun (Hejduk: Spill), N Stejlovic (Pertzun
Beigrade), S Kataniso (PC Olympia) (sub., S Heillovic, Dynamo Vinkovch.). L Badenovic (Partzun Beigrade), V Zadec (Dynamo Zegrab), I Gudelj (Hejduk Spill), M Bazzdarevic
(Zeljeznicar) (sub., D Stejlovic, Radnicki), E Crettovic (Dynamo Zegrab), S Suaic (Paris Seine-Germain), Z Vujenic (Hejduk Spill).

Referent Al proc. Zewitte (Strein)

Per Beri Meri Mer Meri Meri Meri Meri

£7,000 + CAR

CDR

La crème de la crème

. its appreciation

of the sterling efforts

during the year of especially that nice temporary typist we took on for a week

Bernadette

of Bond St.

No.55, (next door to Fenuricks)

01-629 1204

FOR EXEMPLARY

TEMPORARIES

The Finsbury Secretariat Ltd.

Business Centre, 40 Bowlin

MARKETING IN

KNIGHTSBRIDGE

Some one saif motivated interested in fabric promotions. To work Sec/Assist SHT for Group of Marketing Executives. Ability to deal with well known retailers on the phone & take pressure, must be outprobe. Review & Review.

be outgoing, friendly & flexible. Aged mid 20's. Sal, up to £8,000 + boruses & fabulous perks.

PHONE MRS BYZANTINE

NORMA SKEMP

222 5091

40 Bowling

Green Lane

SENIOR

28,000

our loyal staff,

last June ...

Fellow the sun as Secretary/

Companion This semi-retired businessman now spends most of his time in the supplier parts of the world. He needs a companion aged 40-55 to help with the day-to-day running of his life - everything from arranging the next trip in his private plane or yacht. Costa Rica, Florida, Spain and his castle in traiand will be amongst your homes, shorthand/typing. Must be able to drive and Spanish speaker is desirable. The

International Secretaries

MAYFAR PA TO NO Oil experience. 30s - 40s. £10,500 pe ++ WI FILM CO . RECEPTIONIST MAYFAR TEL/REC/TYPIST 20lsh. Luxury property co. c £7,500 pa

BELGRAVIA -PA/SEC/ADMIN PR experience. Top skills, c £10,000 pa These and many more +, Top Temps at top rates! Welcome - coffee's ready!

JOYCE GUINESS BUREAU 21 Brompton Arcade, Kreightsbridge, S.W.3. (Brompton Arcade is just a tew stape from Kreightsbridge Tube Station—Sigane street exit **

Recruitment Consultants

- Timig

MARKETING PA £8,500 A rapidly expanding firm of Com-puter Consultants sank a very capable PA for two Directors special-Ising to Marketing and New Ven-tures. Flexibility and the potential to

SALES SECRETARY £7,008

A sound consinerial background will stand you in good stead for this key position as Austract/Securitry to the dynamic sales team of this successful shipping company. There is great scope to develop and take on more responsibility as you team more about the company. 80/50 skills are required.

OI-236 3712 Gly 01-499 8070 West End Elizabeth.Hunt RECRUITMENT CONSULTANTS

FASHION DIRECTOR'S SEC Arrange clothes fairs and exhibitions, talk to clients and suppliers workstide; pound the typewriter only 30% of the time! Se the best dressed person. In Will with 50% discount on clothes and

£7,500+ skills 90/55 wom -RING D1 408 0424 LOVE & TATE CHAIRMAN'S PERSONAL ASSISTANT c £13,000

This is-a totally absorbing position for a well educated, energetic PA/Secretary who is used to responsibility, able to work under pressure (often 8.30 - 6.30) and will enjoy making a vital contribution supporting the dynamic Chairman of a major City group.

The Chairman has a hactic work schedule, is involved in

Crone Corkill

Crone Corkill

Candidates who have already worked at MD level, with excellent Cvs and, preferably, financial City experience. Good secretarial skills (129/60) and a knowledge of Franch will be useful. Age range 28-40. Ring 434 4512

MCYPIC UP £10,000 + bonus

Reporting to the two senior partners of this progressive investment bank your role will be largely administrative; you will be organising conferences and social occasions, faising with the States and assisting with personnel matters. with personnel matters. The pace is hectic and the demands are high. If you have senior level City experience, excellent secretarial skills and enjoy a challenge, this could be the career move for you. Age 25-35. Speaks 100/60. City Office

Tel 726 8491 -

ANGELA MORTIMER

Shorthand Secretary Age 22+ c £8,000 A major international Company needs a numerate and accurate shorthend secretary to assist the Company

SYNERCY

RECRUITMENT CONSULTANT £12,000 plus As exciting apportunity egists for a Re-critisment Committeet with, Meetly, experi-ence to the accretated field to join this social butyany dynamic connellment. small but very dynamic consultancy.

Our reputation reflects the high level of service which we provide in both citiests and applicants. If you would neigh providing a service or which you would be trippered, we would very much fire in hear man and in the providence of the consultance of the consu

SYNERGY

We are not asking We'll expert it!

Salary 27.000 Phone Jerry Harri 242 0540

+ 000,012-000,82

La Crème SECRETARIAL RECRUSTMENT

assist the Company Treasurer at Corporate HQ is London. This is not a figure typing role but a busy secretarist one where you have the opportunity to take responsibility for your own actions and run the office in the Treasurer's absence.

ad venture (25)

ADVERTISING

& PUBLIC RELATIONS

For these and loads of other jobs in PR and adver-tising his oil Cowley at the stances

ADVENTURE PERSONNEL LIMITED

Telephone 01-499-8992

INTERIOR DESIGN

£8,900+SW1

Lots of acope here to work for the leading Designer and Contract Controller. Excellent skills (min 100/80) fleable attitude and high level of numeracy. Good voice and presentation and the panacte to deal with entirent clients. For the right person the job cen develop. Call 408 1621.

PECPLITAENT UTO

499 9192

New Horizons

IDDLETON

W.1 Ad Agency requires PA/Sec (rusty s/hand ok) to work for Director and Co-ordinator of European subsidiary 27,500. PR Consultancy Bright PA/Sec to work on fashion accounts 100/80 £7,500. Ad Agency 2nd Jobber to work on account handling. S/hand helpful 26,500.

D1-637.9533

Progressiya Coyant Garden design con-nalizancy asala PA for its 2 overwarked Directors. Good predestation countries and the fleshfilty: to hapelle all con-retarial duties. Proven experience would be accountry to introduce and espacies fool-pass? vacting, system to its luny more studies in Reaft yand.

Young Secretary CT1,000 pe at 23
Busy Strange department offers entary? LUS borner at Jume.

 Good Shorthand*

499 9274 (Rec.Cons)

Warts and ell" reports poster overnight on many Sec/PA vacancies - West End, City, lelington, Blackfriers, St Johns Cast PSL (Rec Cons) 486 2667 et 486 7877

ARE YOU AN OFFICE MANAGER WITH GREEN FINGERS?

Interested in the Arts and able to organise everything from conferences to coffee powder? You would be the key person in looking after our community of small businesses. Salary £8,000. Ring Deborah on 377 9262

· A Career Opportunity £10,000+

A major T.V. company re-quires a PA for the Sales and Marketing Director of their commercial division. Based in knowlous West End Based in Rounious West End offices you should be of graduate level, willing to travel, able to cope with deadlines and working under pressure as well as dealing with the public.

Excellent presentation is assertial as are good secretarial sidis of 100/80, although an assistant will be provided to help with the workload.

Telephone 529 9586 West End Office ANGELA MORTIMER

Advertising PA Your business acumen, Savoir-faire, charisma and sound scholestic background are the main criteria sought. This chairman is truly unique as his approach and will not sopact you to spend time providing a secretarial service but will serourage you to participate fully in his business activities. Career position. Age 28-61.

If you are currently earning in ex-cess of £9,000 telephone 569 5081 or send CV (with day Tel No) to: Imperial House contrion Street, EC2

MIDDLETON THE PLANT OF THE PARTY OF THE P

JULY/AUGUST (Est) 6-Week Assignment Shorthand/typing with IBM

Display/Rank Xarox, Circa £8,000 - £8,500+, plus other weil paid assignments. For more details phone Ann on 01-283 2104.

ALFRED MARKS . RECRUITMENT CONSULTANTS

SECRETARY/PA With excellent audio for Partner of well-established firm of Chartered Accountants.

Salary £7,500 Phone Gita Ravai 01-491 3986 (No Agencies)

Experience with word processor an advantage.

Tet 01-406 2437

in your 40's and still going strong? We need a couple of intelligent SAH Sees with couplent speech and lots of couldence to work for our client in the West End. SECRETARY Young and enthusiastic You must be good at working under passe-uce and supervise others. If you tidals you can headle first ring. Sezumie Ingurus for small West End

TO £8,520 a.e.e. mid 25s, so aborthmi, for director. Spot Co. Knightshridge. Chaptel argument administrator appreciated. TO £7,320 a.a.e. P.R.

Sec. /Astistant 28+, no shorthand. Gegaries confinences and martings, zeries in all matters of a lump PR dept. Excellent Co. Kaladeshridan. Phone 437 5476 w 734 3798 135 037810 STREET, IEE, CORS, Miller/McNish

SABIC MARKETING SERVICES LTD

PA/Secretary

19,000 + Benefits
riceing Services Ltd. an attitute of Sauch Bease Industries Corporation, 1 PA/Secretary (25-35) with excellent secretarist and office gidls, good on, poles and britishes. Knowledge of Arabic desirable, Petrochemirimarketing experience an adventinge.
Please forward detailed Co.

Sabic Marketing Services Ltd. Portikted House, Stag Pinos, Lendon SW1E SDA, Tet $25 6965 (No agencies, please)

Administrative Assistant

The Government of Alberta requires a person with administrative experience to assist the office manager in the day-to-day running of prestigious offices in Maylar. Practical knowledge of computerised accounts, budgeting, payroll and property management assential as well as staff supervision and ability to arrange and stage small in-house exhibitions.

Salary £9,000 per annum + benefits CV's to Mrs H. Noble Alberta House, 1 Mount Street, W1.

A FANTASTIC OPPORTUNITY TO GET INTO THE TRAVEL BUSINESS

Travel orientated Knightsbridge based travel company, specialising in Tour Operating, requires a bright experienced secretary to work on their own initiative for young MD who is frequently abroad. They will also be required to sell holidays to our clients, therefore ability to deal with people important, and they could eventually be in charge of their own programme. Previous experience in travel an advantage – non smoker preferred. Excellent salary and travel perics. This is a fantastic opportunity to join a smell friendly office and get into the travel business.

Country Lover

NOT a Crossword cloe, but the type busy, vaned job in the export Department of one of the Cognac house. You will need at least 2 years secretarial experience, decent English shorthand, and French shorthand if possible. Location is in a delightful but distinctly rural part of France and the environment is

Multilingual Services

recraitment consultants 22 Charing Cross Rd, WC2 01-836 379415

International Chairman 28,500+ densarding interesting role for PA/Sec. Frenchmental. Personnal Plus 27,500 help control busy personnel dept. Sec advertis-tion seasors.

busy personnel dept. Sec advertising agency.
Join the Professionals 27,500 PA to workshold board director deal with international clients.
Sensithing special EP(000 say startes SEC/PA help expanding ad agency climb to more success.
Cell Lindy Jacobs.

828 3775

Vision Appointments Limited

Apply to: Mrs Jane Fulton, CV Travel, 43 Cheval Place, London SW7. 01-S81 0851. FRANCOPHILE

SECRÉTARY SECRETARY/PA TO ARCHITECTS IN KENSINGTON - 28,000 isle of Dogs To work for a new Partner in an Engineering Consultancy, You's need good ehorthand and sudio skills and a knowledge of W.P. (will cross train). This is a varied job within a team set up. Interested? Then cgill Tricks Young on 01-278 0333.

The charming Senior Partner of this thriving architect's practice in Kensington seeks special Secretary. You'll have a very varied work schedule, so masses of initiative is necessary, as are top secretarial skills. Aged 22+.

Bernadette of Bond St. No 55, (next door to Femericks) 01-629 1204

AUDIO SECRETARY

For Chartered Accountants I typing required and an ability to work under pressure. You will be acting as support to small team consisting of partner/ manager. Previous experience in working for accountants an advantage. Would suit 25 to 35 For more details please ring

Maureen Betchley 81-353 1577 No Agencies

£9,000 SPANISH Bilingual Secretary, fluent in both Spanish and English and with shorthand in English and if possible Spanish, for the Director of a large insurance group. Age mid 20's +. Excelent benefits.

377 8600 (City) 439 7001 (West End)

ocretaries Plus

MD OIL CO - SW1 needs first-class PA/Sh Sec with relevant experience, outgoing personality and initiative. Salary £10,500 neg + perks. Ring Sally Owens or Heather Myers on 235 8427, 4 Pont St, SW1.

K GONEDAY

Receptionist

PART-TIME

LIBRARY

D1-831 9222

This is a permanent position with a difference! We are an Executive Search Consultancy in Mayfair, looking for a bright, lively lady (25-40) to meet our somewhat unusual requirements. You would run the office full-time during holidays or when our PA is off sick, and help out when our workload is heavy and at special annual functions (hostess ability essential). Flexibility is vital as you might be needed at very short notice sometimes. Good skills (100/60), impeccable telephone manner, a flair for dealing with people at Chairman/MD level, plus a real interest in the histiness world needed. £ obviously very negotiable!

PART-TIME PA/SEC

A public school aducated and polsed young Secretary is needed for the owner of London's most prestigious club. You

ESTATE AGENTS - KNIGHTSBRIDGE E8.500

A quick witted PA/Secretary is needed for the dynamic partner of this well known firm. Speeds 100/80. Aged 22-25.

We have vacancies in design, estate agents and managel consultants for good audio secretaries. Speeds 65+.

We have vecancies in computers, estate agents, design suitants and notels for well educated college leavers.

COLLEGE LEAVERS - AUDIO/SHORTHAND

COBBOLD AND DAVIS RECRUITMENT LTD.

35 Braton Place W1. 01-493 7789

AUDIO SECRETARIES

intelligent and well groomed and enjoy working as a er of a small team, Speeds 90/60.

Please telephone Sarah on 01-629 7337

Receptionist -Property Development Company We are looking for a Receptionist/Telephonist with an attractive persons/by to work in our small Georgian building in Victoria, if you wish to operate a Kingsman switchboard, are able to type and wish to earn a selery of $7,000 pa.

Please apply to Sue Bennetl Miller Buckley Developments 630 5252

P.R. Sec SMALL, LIVELY HARDWORKING Media independent in lucury of-fices in London W2 arise seeks brittent Secretary/PA with initial-les, intolligence and total job commitment. Fast and accurate typing (some fligus work) rusty shorthents, planny siglio, and WP experience, or burning desire to learn. Salery recordable.

Acc Handler A major PR Consultancy offer an opportunity to gain experience of Account Handling with specific presigious clarks. Chip 50% secretarist, the position will be busy, demanding and obviously very interesting. An exceptionally good secretary (80/50 wpm), ideally with "A levels, you should be suited to fit into a synamic, sophisticated, senvironment. Age 22-25. Satury to $5,000 environment. Age 22-20. Smart to 58,000 Contact Barry Englastone on 01-631 1005 (Recruitment Consultants)

Price Jamieson

COMMON SENSE REQUIRED Well educated shorthand typist with good speeds and organising ability required for small Political research centre, Victoria. Salary range 27,000 to 28,000 pa

PROMOTIONS

Bi-lingual Exec. Sec. 000,81

ARIELA RICHARDSON

Senior Secretary

For executive of Mayfair

public property company.

Small, friendly but busy office. Sh/wpc and telex

Exi salary and benefits.

A new position is the successful Design Co. for someone highly experienced at director level, fluent in French and totally professional. Fast eth and totally professional. Fast eth and typing

Masterlack Recoglament on 01-938 1846/1718

Super Secs

Junior Secretary for PR

SEC PA £9.500

ERNARD DELFORT LTD requires a secretary for task production department. Applicants should have an interest in and ideally previous experience of theairs. Excellent shorthand and typing skills are peckeary and abolity to work efficiently and caimly under pressure. Salary Circa. Sc.500 + 2.00 per week tunchess vouchers. Please spoul in welling to the control of the UI 439 7001 West End.

POLYTICOT AGENCY.
Good lateral thinking by those bitinguist secretaries who seek a post of the secretaries are secretaries.

Bithougale, ECZ.

Pile a waste Bishosspale, EC2
THEATRICAL PUBLISHERS 67,800 require bright and adaptable sec, with 2 years' experience to loin young hun
co. Covent Carden Area, Age 22-30
sh/ty 100/60, Please telephone 01
493 579 Gordon Vales Consultants.
MAYPAIR 28,000. Supers apportantly for experienced Secremy/PA for new up-market PR/Professional Committances. Typing 58-wpre and 5 H recentled, Call Maxime Smith on 493 5349.

3 3349.

SERTION GERMAN BPK PA/SEC, Top-cellere b-lingual Sec. (Eng. M/+standard) to G.M. of City Samk to £10,000 A.A.E. + etc., behafts. Merrow Erns Agy (Language Specialisms), 626 1 1467.

DESIGN COMPANY Requires Receptionist/ Telephonist/Typist for their interior design & architectural studio. Good typing & pleasant telephone manner important, also shortband & andio an asset. Must be prepared to work hard & sometimes lafe. Salary £5,000

RECEP/SEC 26.000 MASTERLOCK RECRUITMENT on 01-938 1846/1718

SALES PROMOTIONAL COMPANY, W1, 12 looking for a live-wire short-hand secretary to work at Director level — a real chance to get knowled — as sessed of the business. Advertising or miss accomplion of the business. Advertising of miss accompliance is not a particle 439 2305. Histogramide Rac Coms 64/62 Regent & W1.

with an awarenam of current affairs is needed by the Risearch Director of this dynamic company working on a wide range of concentration of all the state of communication and enfounties in the 100/60 acids are required for this retainer media position. Please, interphone 499 877 Chy effice. Elizabeth Runt, Recruitment Consultation.

RECEPTIONS ! TELEPHONEST - 26,000

of Bond St. No. 55, legal door to Personicisi 01-629 1204

WELL SPOKEN receptionlet require for young progressive set sizelio is W.I. Some System. Salary £5,000. Tat: Sally 495 2007.

ECPERIENCED RECEPTIONIST, 57.800. As intermedical firm of enscrible recruitment consultants are currently seeking a meture, experienced receptionist / eministrator. Good typing and oxymnisational strills are a must. Plaste blephone 499 8070 West End office or 226 3712 CBy office, Elizabeth Hunt Recruitment Consultants.

3712 City Office. Elizabeth Hunt Recruitment Consultants.

LIGUID GOLD EREGO. The General Council of this international Consultants.

Council of this international Consultants seem to experience the Council of the Co busy Reception Area. Duties in-clude typing, switchboard, sorting post, meeting and greeting clients and more. Salary up to 56,500.

Bright young al-counter needed for new publishing company. You will be looking after the Marketing Director and his been of three. Good organizational eithe required to run office amouthly, including setting up filing system, dealing well tyred requirements, potty cash, select with press, priviers ett. 50/401. Vary nice offices near South Kentrally in the Station. Floothie, astractly friendly environment. Unusual ports.

EGAL SECRETARIES. We have variety of positions in ell areas of laving and the second s

EBIGII. Great job for sometime with rusty SH but encellent typing to look after really nice private consultants. Super opension studio, lobs of var-tety. 29.4. £7000. 01-730. 5148 Januar Careara (Bloome Square) Ltd.

MITTERESTED in PERECONNEL 2

£2500. A leading firm of Charlered Accountants seek a manure Secretary to Combine two important roles. As well as being one of the top Particular level Secretaries, you will also seeks Departmental Secretaries and Excessive with any problems they may have. 100/60 sight who Ancilo ability are assemble. Please talephone 499 3070 West End Office of 256
5712 City Office. Eigzabeth Hunt Recruitment Country and 100/100 GOLD FERSON. The General

Garden, London WCSE, SAA, Tel.: 379 788C. CE.200 at 22 (review July), 400 administration is assured when you assist this charming young parable passes are seen the Strand, security seeds a seen the Strand, accurate angle addless (600 pm) and accurate angle addless of the fall, For forther information conduct Ann Crower. 0.1-631, 1000, Price
Jemisson (Recruitment Constituent).
COLLEGE LEAVER SECS with or without first LEAVER SECS with or without first LEAVER SECS with or without hard a bright and committee personality these the informational City based Co can effer you excellent working consistents, tristing linci WFD, prospects and a very friendly annoishare. Call

Advertising and Publishing Co to W11 RECEPTIONIST

Phone Mia Dickson on 243 8501 HOTELI HOTELI LIMMY Intil Hotel with superty reputation invite the superty reputation invite P.A.I.SEC. with 8/14 224 to enjoy a constantly changing menu of meetings. Beausait preparation, client liminon atc. Positive personality essential and sense of excitement. Free hunch. To $7,800, Covent Carden Buream. SS Fleet St ECA, $83,7696.

RITERIOR DESIGNER in hotels.

£3.000 + excl peris. Here is a chance to come the control of the c

2500 Methrestipe Rec Cons.

COLLEGE LLAVER for small friendly
co. 5101 area. You med accurate typing and authorite with typing and authorite with typing and authorite with typing and authorite with typing and authority reason and typing and authority responsible office. 25.500-25.000 and tree inschieviery day. Please tlepshone Gordon Yatra Committency 01-493 5787.

POPPHE NOMERIAN Producer requires Sacretary/Amistant, Must be Highten munerate, verbal, accurate organised and mobile. Interest to record and them the Recognition of the plant Lendon WS. (No spenders).

APPOINTMENTS

SCM PRESS

Experienced Negotiator Wanted urgently by West End flat letting and sales agency. Lively personetty and experi-ence essential. Would suit exemp/recruitment interviewer.
Please call:
Patace Properties

ARSISTANT MANAGER CR.000 ~ E10,000 for exclusive New Bond Street since company. Previous exc. necessary. Cantage Carol French Recruitment 629 6152. PERSON required for a long term Wes Asian venture. Start mid-July. Penys cal stamma & intelligence required $28,3082.

NON-SECRETARIAL APPOINTMENTS

BOOK KEEPER

Crone Corkill

TRAINEE ADVISER. Highly respected Educational Consultants: needed Education Consultants of Consultants and Salaing which mathematical education educational Educational Consultants and Salaing which consultants are supported to the consultants of the Consultants of Consultants and Consultants and Consultants of C

GRADUATED 1980-1982 with 1 GRADUATED 1980-1982 with two or more years boginess or industrial experience? JCR are currently handsome respective of the currently handbolds are Research. Advertising, and Admin. For further details, helephone Tayma Pesse on Di591 2977 or write with CV to Jame Crostiturative Recruitment. 21
Beaucharps Piece. SW3.
BHOP ASSISTANT required for West End previous of small friendly compainy. Must be well presented, of chearthd disposition, have "A levels or sating experience and be numerste. Very varied poellom, Age 20-25, ES.COO, 5 weeks holiday. Please telephone 01-495 5767. Cortion Yatas Consultancy.

telephone 01.493 5787. Gordon
Yatas Consultancy.
YOUNG GRADHATE. Must be able to use a micro computer. De nutrierate and type at 404. Quantification excential.
Lively outgoing personality to work
celling of a month of a year casculat.
Lively outgoing personality to work
deships with a constant arms on the constant people. Please Call Jurily Feronthamous 0.4-83 5824.
ADMENISTRATOR - Total responsability for office systems, recruitment.
https://www.sc.computer.ifor/prof.co.
Finchley/Swiss Cottings 304. End.
Editory 250,000 sep. Handle Ene.
Comp 01-493 1184.
ENERGETIC Intelligent Sales Assistant DEERGETIC Intelligent Sales Am required for exclusive Balgrav shop, Saturdays only. 9em-2pn 236-7179/7828. 236-71.79/1828.
ADVERTSING AGENCY. Receptions with 46 wars. 26,800. Call Lindy Vision Aprils. 228 3776.
CARRIES. Cock/Sprwardes. Lincor, charter yacht, etts. 66. Reddington Road. London, NWS.

The Times

Phone Miss Knight 01-493 2191 according to age and ex-perience. perience.
Please contact Mrs Brooke 01-828 1176

PA/Administrator

Top Salary Tel: 01-402 1275

skille toe required plus a men attitude. Phone:

IMMEDIATE TEMPORARY BOOKINGS

IMMEDIATELY AVAILABLE AES, Wordpler - 2 weeks Wordpler - 3 weeks Wang with shorthand - 2 weeks Philips 5520 - kong term Philips 5520 with audio - long

call Tricia Malcolm TEMP TO PERM Admin assistant (part-time). Book-keeping experience preferred - FILM COMPANY Call Nanetta Owen PA TO DIRECTOR

(Top level educational establishment) Experienced shorthend secretary required (M/F) to replace "right-hand" while she takes her 01-629 9863 KINGSWAY

Duke Street House, 415/417 Oxford Street London WIR 1FH 01 629 9863 AUDIO - COVENT GARDEN

66 w.p.m., typing required. Ring 434 4512

CRONE CORKILL REC CONS

PACTION & CHILDRENS BOOKS! A exciting and estimateline combinate for Adrian See with Self Uppers 2 with salary package to $7,000. Fr thinch and plenty of involvement Covent Garden Bureau. 83 Fleet (ECA. 363 7696.

TOP SECRETARY

For an exciting 2 week assumment. We are looking assignment. We are looking for a well groomed temporary secretary 25-35 for the general manager of this famous top London hotel. 21st June – 9th July inclusive. You must be able to smoothly take over, and excellent shorthand and typing is of course essential. Top rates paid. Phone us now for more details.

immediately Phone now for details 499 9175 MacBlain NASH Temporary Secretaries Ltd. 16 Hanover Square London WI

MDEFINATE BOOKINGS for IBM 66/20 operator, r. 65.60 pm. 01-730 2212. Tayper Carreys (Siona Geure) Ltd.

OF TEMP SECRETARIES required for breation W! Con. Top rates - long and short term. Rice now if you are available on a require begin. West End Staff Bureau 01-629 0538. also on page 22

Access or Visa Card when placing your advertising

EMP IN ADVENTISHING, Production and PR bookings in the West End Experience in the Industry not needed, but Cheerfulness, a willing aptitude and completence are Pricing phone Barbare on Ol-203 6501 City Sect Octo Cons).

You may now use your

We are looking for an enthusiastic junior to join our beay PR Consultancy team off Pacasility Circia. The right candidate will have lots of energy, fast at h lyping and also able to work under pressage. This is as ideal first job for some-ness leaving college. Salary £5,000 pa and holidays honoured. For unmediate intersier please telephone: GILLY WIGFALL on 930 6711

Ring 01 723 8035

EGRETARY without plots friendly but approximately but busy beam. Lots of administration and cleant contact. This position would identify suit someone why is booking for betraccomed tols. Telephone Summer Reynolds on 355 9272. Kingway remperiety Staff Consultants.

COLLEGE LEAVERE/Receptioniste.

Just finished Secretarial College and ready to start wour first job. JCR is a small. It remails and protessinal receptions as season of the season of th Describator Piaco, SWS.

INSEARCH SECRETARY, 62,500.

As saids, well educated secretary with an awareness of current affairs in received by the Releasersh Director of this dynamic company working on a secretary and a secretary and a secretary secretary.

An oil company in W1 with smart offices and aqually smart triandly young people needs a bright, well presented young Receptionist who can handle a simple PABX switchboard. Benefits include 21 per day LVs.

Bernadette

HEADHINTERS: Feat growing Wi-consultancy heefs a sparking per-sonality with excellent trying to look after 5 consultants. The atmosphers is excited, and very bray, 21+. A7800, 01-750 5148 Jayger Careers (Stomm Septemblish.

ADVENTISHED With good and in typing and WP experience you will be include the properties of the small dy-namic agency. Partisette accept as they are agency to the capture of the c_05000. Of 700 5149 Jaygar Ca-rest (5000). Of 700 5149 July are rest (5000).

ment Consultants.

MIGHT 2nd JOSEE: 27500. An outstanding opportunity for a young Starthard Tyrist, with a minimum on one year separation to become a valuable member of this bluey beam within a well established Bank. 100/20 sadds required. Please technique 495-6070 West End office or 256-5712 City office, Elizabeth.

Juni Revulstant Consultants.

bonits can be more man £10,000+.
ciociliant peries. Agest 22-30. htm
Byzantine. Norme Skemp Personnel Services. 222 8091: in a stmmy, creafrice environment. Two Directors med your Audio skills, enfinesisms and initiative to authorithem in an expanding Design Consultancy. Norsmoker, 524, Salary to £2,000. Call.
Juntile 01-499 0017. Ann Penrie, Rec.
DESIGN COMSBILTAMECY in superb editors in Holland Park need a bright young capable secretary with initiative. 80 shorthand, 60 trying & goodorganizational skills, 1, year's experience. Age 20/21. selary £7,000.
Please inlephone 01-495 5767.
Gordon Yates Consultancy.
CHELSEA Carpering available.
Young admissionation assistant with secretaries actile who erdony paper pusiting. desimg with intermenen.
Martines secretary with designamu both. Selating the Very nice designamu both. One Consultancy.
Farettimaron Lid. Gee Consultance.

MATURE SECRETARY No director of Farquinarson LM. (Rec Cons) MATURE SECRETARY to director of Executive Sentch Consultancy to West End. Ability to hate to belon responsibility and dead with clients at a high level Ability by the 254-west at CLES.COD plant sensibilists densities. Age
25-46. Please: highware Di 493
2797. Uprofen Yates Consultancy.

PUBLISHING £7,000 neg.

reusely retensive entertainment. Un-usual partie. Please contact Annabel Cottrell on 01-851 4748 or send CV for inte-grated Media Publishing Ltd., 18 Thurlos Place, London SW7. No agencies.

ESIGN (rieslated shortherd sec for hisrosting position in Seigravia, Would selt makure person are 35+, £6,500-£7,000. Pizzo Pizzoes OV Selection (Temp Agy) 828 8348.

needs an Assistant for its Mail Order Department. The successful candidate will have some knowledge of meetogy, typing sidls, numeracy and an ability to learn to use a computer. He or sine will size be worked very hard indeed. Salary neoclisible. Apply in writing with CV to The Messaging Director, SCM Press Ltd., 28-36 Tottschare Road, Londes, N1 4872.

OUNG AND ARTICLE ATE team to sail adverti ing space for Cornaid Publications. Extrators between £180.£516 pw. Londoners. Call Jack Durkin du 01.240 1518.

£10,000

Worldwide Brecutive Search Consultant in St James's require an experienced book keeper. Duties include books to trial balance, purchasing and credit control, cashbook and credit control, cashbook analysis, salarles, PAYE, VAT, and with plenty of scope to progress. If you are highly numerate, well spoken have a logical mind and are keen to join a very successful company with super offices.

Please Call 434 4512

LEGAL EXEC. - Asset Co. Resid/comm convey. £10,000. Personnel Appe To advertise in

The Sunday Times please telephone 01-837 3311 or 3333 Monday - Friday 9 a.m. to 5.30 p.m.

PART TIME VACANCIES Tempting Times Telephonist/

For 4 months to help out. Well spoken with experience of a Herald system to take all calls for small friendly busy office. Should be able to work under pressure. Good salary, Ring: Diana 631 1944 (No agencies) WP BOOKING

ASSISTANT Leading City Solicitors require someone with a good general aducation preferably to 'A' Level standard to work in their busy library. term Wang with shorthand - 1 week FREE TRAINING AND CROSS TRAINING FOR SKILLED SECRETARIES! Varied duties will include filling and PITELLIGENT and Alert Typist needed to ordenite Research Materials and Transcribe Indexviews. Interesting subject. Foul time or part time. Work at the programmer of the progr Temporary Staff Consultants 2796.

SOLICTORS E.C.1 Partner requircapable Secretary, Priday, Mooding and J. Offer day, Salary nepolition Tak 01-851 7721 (Mr Martin).
PERSON with caperisons of entertaining and people required par time, 01-854 0276. LEGAL APPOINTMENTS

starting Thursday 21st of June, for SHORTHARD SECRETARIES are ursenilly needed for long and short form bookings in Krushibirdige and the West End. Top raise. 01 750 2212. Juyeur Chreers Sioure Square LTP. three weeks, at £4.40 p.h., in Covent Garden. Two years experience. Small expension and പ്രവസ്ത്രപ്രവസ്ത്ര Top S/H Sec reg'd to pain this targe let? Organisation. To assist a Sur Director in a very busy and interesting post, wrothing Messings, Lunchecure, Travel and lots of Admin. Must be capable of dealing with people at all levels, Good or Perics and Free Lunch. Mrs Hayes, Acme Augis 158 Biologopata, 862 61-247 9781 CVs welcomed

FULL TRAINING GIVEM. EE.OOO nae. Charming partner of old established Legal Practice weeks an Admin Secretary. He will consider a graduals. college leaver with excellent statis for second jobber. He handles large family ruses and needs sometone agit motivated and confident he look after his clients. Medi ag 224- Pissae contact Auture Dictor. 304 4933 (24 hours). Fleet Pentonal Rife Copes.

ECRETABLES FOR ARCHITECTS and Determine Permanent/ temporary positions. AMSA Special-sists Agency 01-734 GB32. VCLUSIVE holidays to Crete for $135. Four Seasons Holidays. 01-631 6044

St Augustine, Trinidad, WI Applications are invited for the following vacan

LIBRARY: Librarian II (Senior Lecturer level) mobile for Systems Management and Computer Applications to Eibrary functions. A good first or higher degree in science and professional qualifications in library/information science with relevant experience required. AGRICULTURAL ECONOMICS AND FARM MANAGEMENT: Lecturer/Assistant Lecturer

CHEMICAL ENGINEERING: Lecturer/Assistant Lecturer

in Food Technology with first degree or equivalent in Food Science, Food Technology or Microbiology and postgraduate qualifications, preferably Pa.D. in Food Microbiology

CIVIL ENGINEERING: Senior Lecturer/Lecturer

GOVERNMENT: Lecturer/Assistant Lecturer qualified to each introductory Course in Public Administration and Comparative Publics of the developing areas.

Salary Scales per assume (£1 = TT33,3624 on 5.6.84): Librarian II/Senior Lectures: TT369,180 x 1,908 - 86.352 (Bar) x 1,908 - 90,168; Lectures: TT3545,480 x 1,908 - 66,156 (Bar) x 1,908 - 77,604; Assistant Lectures: TT345,480 x 1,908 - 49,296. FSSU. Unformatical accommodation if available at 10% or furnished at 12½% or housing allowance of 20% of pensionable salary. Up to five full economy pusages on appointment and on normal termination. Study and Travel Grant.

Detailed applications, giving qualifications and experience and naming three (3) referees, to Secretary, University of the West Indies. St Augustine, Timidad, WL

Details of posts sent to all applicants, but also obtainable on request to the Secretary General, Association of Common Universities (Applis), 36 Gordon Square, London, WC1H OPF.

MRC/ESRC SOCIAL AND APPLIED PSYCHOLOGY UNIT THE UNIVERSITY OF SHEFFIELD

Research into Human Factors and Information Technology

Applications are invited for a long-term research position to initiate a new project within the Unit. The successful candidate will appoint and lead a team of researchers conducting cognitive and ergonomic investigations into human factors associated with information technology in manufacturing and other work settings. Established Unit research is examining social and organizational aspects of information technology, and links between projects will be encouraged.

The post is available up to retirement age from early 1985. Initial salary will be on scales analogous to the University Lecturer and Senior Lecturer scales. Good qualifications and research experience in psychology, ergonomics or a related discipline are required.

Further details of the area to be developed and of the Unit are available from:

Professor Peter Warr, MRC/ESRC SAPU, University of Sheffield, Sheffield S10 2TN.

Closing date 27 July 1984. Quote ref: R110/A.

University of Oxford DIRECTOR OF THE ASHMOLEAN MUSEUM OF ART AND ARCHAEOLOGY

Applications are invited for appointment to the Directorship of the Ashmolean Museum which will fall vacant on 30 September 1985

The stipend of the Director is £21,635 per annum, subject to review from 1 April 1984 Further particulars may be obtained from the Deputy Reputyar (Administration). University Offices, Wellington Square, Oxford OX1 2JD, by whom applications (two copies) naming three referres

University of Reading

DEPARTMENT OF ECONOMICS Applications are invited for a 3 rear (Died term Lectureship (rom 1 er 1984 Candida should have interests in the area of Regional and Urban Economics and be prepared to leach some to £8.530 p.a. plus USS/USDP6 benefits. Further particulars and upplication forms (2 copies) are available from the Personnel Officer. University of Reading michia, Reading, RO6 2AH. Tel: (0734) 875123 ext 220. Please quote Ref AC. 841¢. Closing date

The University of Manchester LECTURER IN LAW

Applications are invited for this post lenable from October 1st 1984 from graduales and persons of greater experience Belary range pa £7.190-£14,125.

Particulars and application forms (returnable by July 13th) from the Registrar, The University, Manchester M139PL Quote ref: 147/84/T.

University of Nottingham BIOLOGIST Applications are invited for the position of EXPERIMENTAL OFFICER to ican the research group developing monocional antibodies. The person appointed will be expected to supervise technical staff engaged by hybridoma research and should have relevant experience in cell biology and preferably immunology.

Applications including curriculum vitae and the and addresses of two ahould be sent to Professor R. W. Baldwin. Cancer Research Campaign (Aboratories,

University of No

Tempting Times

Temporary WP/Secretaries £5.40 per hour to start immediately We have high calibre bookings for SH secretaries who are competent to operate any of the following word

IBM DISPLAY WRITER WANG, AES, OLIVETTI Phone now for details 499 9176 MacBlain NASH

Temporary Secretaries Ltd. 16 Hanover Square London W1 (3 margines (Jahord Certus)

JOIN THE KINGSWAY TEMPORARY TEAM

and receive the folkering package Top rates of pay Free training (for secretaries with Sh or Audio) Constant work *

> LONG TERM AND all over London Telephone 01-836 9272

KINGSWAY Temporary Staff Consultants

TOP HOUR RATES!

We have just increased our rates to our team of seven level secretaries. If you expry being busy, and are flexible goods to work in the West End and Cay, ring us now. You need speeds of 100/60 and at least 2 yes senior secretarial expensions in central Lon-tion to be able to join our term.

Call 434 4512 (West End) or 588 3535 (City) Crone Corkil URGENT! URGENT! URGENT! TEMPS!!

Temp Legal W/P Secs to £5.50 ph.
Temp Legal Secs, s/h and audio, to £5.20 ph.
Temp s/h Secs urgently required for media positions required for media positions to £4 50 ph.
Temp Typists, copy/audio, up to £4.30 ph.

We pay top rates + holiday and bank holiday pay for immediate start in City and West End, long or short term bookings. Ring Mary, Personnel Appointments, 242 0785.

GCR WE CHOSTHWAITE TEMPS TEMP during the Summer with J.C.H. We have lots of interesting jobs. Some are permanent vecancies in the £8,000 to £10,000 bracket. We need to build up a well known and successful teem of bright temps with excellent skills who genuinely enjoy helping out in busy offices.

For further details please

For further details please contact Sereh Metion on 581 2977/2947. 21 Beauchamp Place SW3 Tel:015812977

TOP SUMMER RATES Secretaries Receptionists Word Proc Ops

Enormous selection of assignments available in 'TV. Birns, music, advertising - call us on 629 3132 and we'll sell you more. Specialists to the and Entertain-tries since 1969" Pathfinders

POSC OPS. £5+ per hour with or without sherthand. Call Sue pow for excellent lemporary audigments in Mayfair. 01-493 3061, Kefly Girl. 163 New Bonn 8.

INSTITUTE OF

OF LONDON

Department of Psychology leations are invited for a LECTURESHIP

in the Department of Psychology.
The successful candidate will be required to provide a servic to the requiremental unit and to the Epileysy Ward of the Bethicm Royal and Maudeley Hospital. Applicable will also be expected to participate will also be expected to participate in the traciting of the Department on the M.Phil Clinical Psychology Course and in the suspervision of rainces. They must be capable of taking an indicative in developing the clinical and research services of psychologists in this new unit. Applications should possess supropriate peel graduate qualification in clinical psychology and relevant experience is destrable.

Satisfy in accompany, with the Stary in accordance with the University of London Lecturer Scale £7,190-£14,125 pics London Weighting allowance. weighing showard.

Application forms and fuller job description obtainable from Anne Stevens. Department of Payschology, De Crespigny Park, London, SES SAF and should be returned by Friday 25th June 1984. (Tel: 703 8411 Ex 321).

University of Bristol LECTURER IN EDUCATION Applications are invited for the above post, the appointment to commune on 1st January, 1985 or as soon thereafter as possible.

anove appointment, which will be for one year only commencing 1st October, 1984. se soon marasery as posgow.

Applicants should be qualified to inach courses concerned with the Curriculum and its development in Primary Education, and preferably should also be able to participate in the beaching of Psychology and/or in Management with special reference to primary schools. Applicants should have a good general command of Franch isoguage and literature, and a special interest in the seventeenth century would be an advantage.

qualifications and experience.

The University does not insue application forms. Applications should be made by letter and specially applications should be made by letter and addresses of three referees. The letter should be accompanied by a curriculum vitae estine out date of birth and, in cirromological order, details of education and subsequent career with qualifications and present salary, and previous appointments, typications should be sent not linker then 20th July, 1994 to the Registrer and Secretary, University of Pariol.

Sensity Here Typications from the Registrer and BSS Typications are the properties of the Pariole Avenue JPB, from wheat further particulars may be obtained.

Applications (two copies), giving cetals of qualifications and experience, logether with the names and addresses of three referees, should be sent of Mrs. M. E. Macdonaid, Administrative Assistant, University College of North Wales, Bangor, Gwynedd, L1.57 2DG. Ciosing date for applications 20th July, 1984,

NORTH WALES

BANGOR

TEMPORARY LECTURESHIP

IN FRENCH

Salary range: £7.190-£8.530 cp. e Universitée Lecturer Scale

University of Bradford ent of Extra-Mural Studio SENIOR ASSISTANT STAFF TUTORSHIP IN REGISTRAR (PERSONNEL) REGISTRAR (PERSONNEL)
Applications are invited for the above post from graduates or holders of equivalent professional qualifications (graduates) professional qualifications (graduates) professional qualifications in universities or other large employing bodies is essential as is familiarity with current employment faw and the conduct of industrial relations. An awareness of sound personnel practices and procedures is a further important job requirement. This is a chellenging and important post which includes responsibility for the whole range of personnel and establishment work and for some more genral containties and other activities Salary will be at an appropriate point on the scale £13,515-£16,925 y.a. (under proview) according to qualifications and experience.

LEGAL STUDIES The University proposes to expected a Staff Tutor in Legal Studies within the Department of Extra-Mural Studies and invites applications from persons with good academic qualifications in the studiest and condensity with a with the condensity of the condensity with the condensity of the condensity with the condensity with the condensity of the condensity with the condensity of the condens subject, and preferably

The post carries the salary and status of University Lecturer. The present salary scale is £7.190-£14.125 (under review).

three referes) should be sent not later than August 10th, 1984. to the Registrer and Secretary. University of Bristol, Senate House, Bristel BSS 1TH, from whom further particulars may be

University of Nottingham DEPARTMENT OF

Applications are invited for a one-year termorary lectureship which has become available as a result of the Department'a new Teaching Company programme with ERF Plastica Lu. Company prog Plastics Ltd.

The Lecturer will be expected to track aspects of industrial engineerment's needs, to enable a present staff member to undertake his du-ties under the Teaching Company scheme. Opportunities for research will be available.

Informal discussions with Profe Informal discussions with Professor
M. J. Owen would be welcomed.
Application forms and further particulars may be obtained from the Staff Appointments Officer. University of Nottingham, NG7 22RD and must be returned by 2md Juty 1984. Ref. No 982.

Applications are invited for a LECTURESHIP IN NUMERICAL ANALYSIS. Applicants should have a good research record and be likely to interact with present results yetle for Lecturers is £7.190 as £4.125 (under review) and 14.125 (under review) and consideration of the properties of the

UNIVERSITY OF ST ANDREWS

in 20th century British history, tenable for Suree years from October 1984.

cancer. The University. College Cate. St Andrews. Fife, KY16 9AJ. to whom applications tiwe copies areferably in typescript) with the names of times referres, should be sent to arrive not later than 10 July 1984.

Chair and Headship of the Depart-ment of Physical Education and Pharmacology vacant. Applicants should have active academic interests in at least Cations are invited for a TEMPORARY one of the Department's areas of LECTURESHIP In Physiology and Pharmacology, lenable for three years from 1st October 1984. Preference will be tiven to candidates with an interest in the fields of Mander Physiology. Neurobiology or Membrane Physi-dison. further performers may be obtained from the Entschildments Officers. The University, College Gate. St. Andrews, Fife, KY16 9AJ. to whom applications (two cooless preferably in typescript) with the names of three referees should be sent to arrive not take the Vice-Chancetion. Lintversity of Birmingham, PO Box 363, Birminches: B16 2TT. to whom spoilcations (15 coptex 1 from overteas applicants) should be sent by 1st

AUSTRALIAN INSTITUTE OF MARINE SCIENCE

DIRECTOR

The Australian institute of Marine Science is a Statutory Body established by Act of Parliament in 1972. The main functions of the lostifute are;

• to carry out research in marine science;
• to arrange for the carrying out of research in marine science by any other institution or person;
• to co-operate with the other institutions and persons in carrying not research in marine science.

out research in marine science; to provide any other institution or person with tacilities for carrying out research in marine science or otherwise assist any other institution or person in carrying out research in marine

to collect and disseminate information relating to marine science, and in particular to publish reports, periodicals and other papers and in particular to publish reports, periodicals and other papers relating to manne science.

Under the general direction of a Council, the institute is managed by a Director who holds office for a period not exceeding seven years, althoughts or site is eligible for re-appointment. The present director will complete his seventh year in office on August 22, 1985, and expressions of interest in appointment to that position are now sought.

The institute's headquarters are in a modern and well-equipped laboratory complex in pristine waterhood surroundings 55 km by road from the city of Townsville in North Queensland. The complex itself occupies a floor area of 10,000m² on several levels and incorporates a major ibrary, computer largity, electronic and mechanical workshops and extensive aboratory space with comprehensive scientific instrumentation. In its position lacing the Coral Sea, the Institute also has docting for its research vessels which include the 24.4 m RV Lady Basten, the 13.66 m RV Situs, the 21 m RV Harry Nessel, on long term charter, and a number of smaller craft. A fully-equipped dive locker and recompression chamber service the needs of research anderwater. The present staff is 104 full time and 10 part time appointness inclosing 20 research scientists. There are at present five multi-disciplinary programs addressed to coastal wellands, nearshore physical processes and productive, coral research is in the environment of the Australia and indigical processes associated with the shelf and adjacent seas, particularly but not entirely of the Great Barrier Reef. The major thrust of current research is in the environment of the Australia marine tropics.

tropies.

Considerable emphasis is placed on interaction and collaboration with includuals and research organizations with complementary interests, both within Australia and oversees. The institute has close and formal attliations in research with James Cook University in Townsellia. For interection with collaborators further afield, the institute maintains six fully self-contained cottages and six bachelor apartments, all on site. The accommodations also enable the institute to host frequent workshops and symposts.

The Institute is fully committed to research. Although its functions do not include tracing. It regularly provides facilities for research by graduate students and it operates its own post-doctoral award scheme to augment in-house research activities.

Qualifications

Qualifications

The office of the Director is one of considerable seniority and responsibility. The successful appointer must have well-recognized academic qualifications and a demonstrable, and firmly established and active international reputation in some field or fields of marine science. Candidates must also have a broad grasp of marine research; and understanding of and entitivisiant for multidisciplinary activity and a depth of understanding and experience in research management in all its aspects including interaction with the agencies of Government. Enquiries in the first instance may be made by writing in confidence to the address given below. Formal applications should include eccumentation of professional experience and achievement (c.v.) and the names of not more than 5 referees. Applications must be dispatched no later than September 1, 1984.

Dr John L. Farrands, CB, FTS or John C. Parlands, CB. F15 Chairman Australian institute of Manne Science P.M.B. No. 3 Townsville Mail Cantre Queensland 4810

OPTICAL FIBRE RESEARCH

The well-known Optical Fibre Group at Southempton University is about to undergo a major expansion in optical electronics. If you wish to engage in exciting new research on topics such as novel optical circuits, high-speed fibre devices, optical switching, special fibres, opto-electronic sensors, non-linear effects, polymer fibres then come and join us.

The following posts are available:

1. LECTURERS (IT RESEARCH) RESEARCH FELLOWS

EXPERIMENTAL OFFICER RESEARCH ASSISTANTS

RESEARCH STUDENTS TECHNICIANS

While appropriate qualifications in Physics, Electronics, Polymer Chemistry, Glass Technology, Materials or Mechanical Engineering are desirable, the main requirement is an interest in fundamental or applied research in a wide range of topics relating to opticel, laser and fibre techniques and information technology. Most of the work involves collaboration with industry and other universities.

Further details from Professor W A Gambling, FRS, Departm Electronics, The University, Southempton, SO9 5MH. Please

MONASH UNIVERSITY Melbourne, Australia

National Research Fellowship

National Research Fellow in the Departments of Psychology at Monash University and the University of Melbourne to work in the area of Experimental Psychologuesistics under joint supervision of Or K I Forster and Dr R J Wales. Dr R J Waies.

Applicants should have a PhD with research experience in psychologoustics. Some formal training in finguistics desirable. Preference to candidates with interests in one or more of the following fields: Lexical access, speech perception, syntax, because a preduction of languages accessions.

runowing fields: Lexical access, speech perception, synkar, language production or language acquisition.

Selary: SA18,000 per annum.
Fellowship tenable for up to 3 years. No provision for travel costs. Starting date negotiable.

Enquiries to Dr K I Forster. Applications, including Ref No 31261, curriculum vitae and 3 referees, to the Registrar, Monash University. Clayton, Victoria, Australia, 3168, by 31.7.84.

An equal opportunity employer

The University of Leeds SCHOOL OF GEOGRAPHY

Applications are invited for the above post allocated under the UGC's "New Blood" scheme and available from a date to be arranged with the successful candidate. Applicants should have training in Geography, Civil Engineering, Soil Science or Applied Mathematics and a commitment to Environmental Science. The initial research commitment will be in the area of Hydrology and in particular will involve the medium scale modelling of near-surface water interactions. The upper age limit is 35.

Salary on the academic scale for Lecturers (£7.190 –

Salary on the academic scale for Lecturers (£7,190 – £14.125; under review) according to age, qulaifications and

Application forms and further particulars may be obtained from the Registrar. The University, Leeds, LS2 9JT, quoting Reference No 32/19/A. Closing date for applications: 29 June, 1984. (88201)

Polytechnics

Teesside Polytechnic DEPARTMENT OF

DIPLOMA IN PERSONNEL MANAGEMENT

FULL-TIME IPM EXEMPT COURSE Applications are invited for this one year full-time course at Teesistic Polytechnic which will provide the necessary innovingle and stills foundation for those wish into the entry or to further, a groups in presence.

Teesside Polytechnic

Department of Management Studies Flatts Lane Centre, Normanby, Middlesbrough, Cleveland, TS6 OQS. Tel: (0542) 469611

Educational

PREP. AND PUBLIC SCHOOLS

SANDLE MANOR, FORDINGBRIDGE, HANTS worth 25% fees plus free instrumental teitiem for children aged between 9 and 12 at Jamany In. 1985, at Coed IAPS Prep School in the New Forest-Andrium: June 30th, 1984.
Full details from The Heatmanter, Sandle Monte. Fordingstrage, Hants. Tel. 0425 53181.

EDUCATIONAL COURSES

Your Guide to 90 HOME STUDY courses '

Write today for a free copy NEC-

Dept 80, FREEPOST Cambridge CB2 2HN (0223-316644)

SELWYN SCHOOL Computer Camps at Harrow

Two and four week residential courses for young people at Harrow School commencing July 21st. Study plus trips including Wales. Stratified, Liverpool, Oxford and New Porest, Also riding or saling instruction.

Contact 61-622 2196 (ask far-Schyn School). Write: 77 West Street. Horrow-on-the-Hill, Mildex, HAI 3EL.

MONTESSORI TEACHER TRAINING DIPLOMA COURSES

Internationally accepted I year Full Time (start April), Evening & listor guided Correspondence Courses.
Full-Time courses carry 'credits'
towards a university degree.
File, write or call for Prospectus.
THE LONDON IMPRI Registrar's Dept 17 18 Belderton Street, London W1Y 1 01-498 0165 24 hour Answerphor nW1Y1TG

French Institute SUMMER COURSE 2-week Intensive Course in Oral French all levels, 60 hours' tuition (25 June – 6 July) Immediate application Details: 14 Cromwell Place, London SW7 2.IR Tet: 01-589 6211 est. 42

ANNE GODDEN SECRETARIAL COLLEGE Octobre in ministe Speederfling Shorthard Secretarial course, also one year and 8 sounds? Pitters Diplome Courses. World processor. Adhesiate courses. Der/residen-tal training bugies September, January, And.

Apri. Prospectus: KESWICK ROAD LONDON SW1 5 2JL Telephone: 01-874 5489 Quality as a Socretary in one inco us noe lann Intensive typevariting. Grego & Pitzum, shaffward and word processing. Next course Link September. Tops spannored for refreshers.

Francis King Secretarial School 185 Kausington High Street Lunden WS, Tet: 01–837 2243 KING 8 COLLEGE LONDON (KQC)

LECTURESHIP IN NEW TESTAMENT STUDIES

Selary on the scale £7.190 to £14.126 per armum plus £1.186 per armum London Allowance, (it is likely that the appointment will be made in the lower helf of the acate.) USS would be payable. Candidates for the recently-advartised new blood post in Caristian Origins and Early Judaism who would also like to be considered for this Lectureship are asted to make a fresh application.

Application forms and further particulars are available from the Assistant Registrar. King's College London, Strand. London, WCZ 2LS (Tel 01-836 5454, aut 2669). Applications should be submitted in duplicate with the names of two referess as soon as possible, and not later than 13 July 1984.

University of London KING'S COLLEGE

Centre of Medical Law and Ethics POSTGRADUATE DIPLOMA

MEDICAL ETHICS AND LAW

Applications are tavited for this new one-year Diploma course, consensing in October 1984. The course aims to further the understanding of those whose work brings them into contact with medical ethics and law and those who wish to emberk on further study or research. The course is open to all those who laws a first degree in a relevant discipline, a medicine, law, philosophy and theology.

Further details from the Pust-graduate Secretary. Faculty of Laws. King's College London, Strand. London WCZR 28,8, YOUR PEN CAN PAY FOR YOUR HOLDAY Learn article or stary writing from the only journalistic School founded under the putrousge of the Press. Highest quality correspondence coaching.

Free book from The London School of Journalism (T). 19 Hert-ford Street, London, W.1Y 888. 01-499 8260. Accredited by the C.A.C.C.

LANGHAM SECRETARIAL COLLEGE
Full Secretaria Training Courses with Word Processes broad based, Busteen Studies and Management of the Secretaria Studies and Management of the Secretaria Course Course, Secretaria
Oi-629-2904 or write to the principal ret Thé-18. Duraven St. Park Line. London, WI YEFE.

BEDFORD TUTORIAL COLLEGE A and O Level Dar year and resits. Residential. Prospectus: 36 Lanadowne Road, Bedford. 0234 46187

COUNTENT'S SECRETARIAL COLLEGE Pull Secretarial Training commess with Word Processing begin September. Two ham courses for graduates. Appointments Bureau.
Please apply for prospectits to the College Secretary. 22,224
Queentherry Place. London, SW7
2DS. Tel: Cl-G89 8085. PECRETARIAI, COURSES, Intensive bysing, etc. Pinnan enzem, Green's Secretariai College, 157 Brent St. Junion, NWA, Tel: 01-203 1424 or 01-202 9650. ST JAMES'S Secretarial College, Prospectus Mrs Day, 4 Wetherby Gins, SWS, 01-373 3852 HOTEL RECEPTIONIST Courses Of-379 7510, Belair, 10 Denmark St. London WC2.

Prep & Public Schools

EASTBOURNE COLLEGE, H.M.C.

invite applications for the post of

CHAPLAIN

for January 1985

The College is an Independent Boarding and Day School of 490 boys aged 13-18 and 50 Sixth Form girls. The present Headmaster is a member of the Headmasters' Conference.

Further particulars may be obtained from: The Headmaster, Eastbourne College, Eastbourne, Sussex. BN21 4JX

EDINBURGH MERCHANT COMPANY SCHOOLS GEORGE WATSON'S COLLEGE

PRINCIPAL

The Merchant Company Education Board Invites applications for the post of Principal of George Watson's College following the retiral of Sir Roger Young in June 1985. The new Principal will take up the post at the beginning of Session 1985/86, or as soon as possible thereafter. George Watson's College is a leading independent school with a roll of 2,055 pupils (830 primary and 1,225 secondary) including 80 boarders. The School is fully co-educational and enjoys an excellent academic reputation. It has attractive facilities and offers a wide range of extra-curricular activities. The Principal is a member of the Headmasters' Conference.

The closing date for the receipt of applications is 17th September 1984. Application forms and further particulars may be obtained from: William McDonald, CA Secretary of the Merchant Company

CRANLEIGH SCHOOL

gante bian

4.4

Walter Ca

- - -

400

COI

95027 - 21

J. 3 %

Maria .

The contract of

The street of Strategic .

10 m

25 m

ADESSE.

Berthaman .

KING SAUE

Riyadh, s

ENG

22 Hanover Street, Edinburgh EH2 2EP

HEAD OF PHYSICS required January 1985

Physics is taught to all boys in the School up to O Level, either as Nuffield Physics or as part of Combined Science. In the Sixth Form there are some 70 boys and girls preparing for the Nuffield A Level in Physics, of whom 30% will be alming at Oxbridge examinations; five Open Awards were gained last year. The Department occupies a modern laboratory block which offers excellent facilities for project work, and there are close links with the Departments of Engineering Electronics and Computing.

Cranleigh salary scale. Accommodation provided.

Applications with names of two referees, to: The Headmaster, Cranleigh School, Surrey GU6 8QQ.

BRYANSTON SCHOOL Blandford, Dorset

GRADUATE required from September for I year for residential post in girls' Boarding House (13-18). Duties primarily pastoral allowing time for some teaching or research.

The successful applicant would be a full member of Common Room duties. Salary and other terms available at inter-

Please apply to the Headmaster, enclosing full Curriculum Vitae and names of 2 referees.

Educational courses PITMAN

Wimbledon College ★ Three- term course in secretarial skills, business rannes-term course in secretarial skills, pusiness administration and microcomputing-for secretaries who wish to progress to managerial work. Suitable for A Level standard applicants.

15 and 24 week intensive secretarial training

also provided throughout the year Reasonably priced accommodation is available within a short distance of the College.

Pitman Colleges also in Central London, We abley, Oxford, Cambridge and Mrs Janette Malempre Pitman Wimbledon College Alwyne Road Wimbledon SW19 7 QQ Wimbledon SW19 7QQ Tel: 01-946 1706

Prestal*211212# Dilman =

ST JOSEPH'S, HALL, OXFORD A & O LEVEL SPECIALISTS

A & O LEVEL SPECIALISTS

abblished cotlegs

Prienchy collegists atmosphere

Exert beed tracking

Excellent laboratory

Computing facilities

Ex Arts specifies

Ex St. doseph's Hall, Junction Road,

4 2UJ. Tel: 0865 711829 (24hrs) A well-established college with a record of success
 Sand 1 term courses
 Sand proup and incividual suston College hall of residence exaliable as

Prospectus: St Joseph's Half, Junction Road, Oxford OX4 2UJ, Tel: 0865 711829 (24hrs) Brown & Brown and Tutors, Oxford Principal: C. H. Brown, M.A. (Oxon)

> ous are invited for the Autumn term. One term and one year Rends Individual mition in all subjects, with emphasis on written presentation. Prospectus: 20 Warnborough Rd., Oxford Tel: (0865) 56311 and 513738

G.C.E. and OXBRIDGE

CHIROPODY AS A PROFESSION

The demand for the trained man or woman chiropodist in the private sector is increasing. Most of the training necessary to quality for a Diplome in Chiropody may be taken at home by very specialised correspondence lessons. Full practical facilities are also provided, You are invited to write for the free booklet from: The Secretary of the School of Chiropody, The Same institute (established 1919), The New Hall, Maidenhead, Berichhre, SLS 4LA. Tel: Maidenhead (0626) 32440 (or 21100-24 hrs) (7631)H

Which school for your child?

Our expert counselling covers every aspect of education, from preparatory to finishing schools, rom inance to educational psychologists. We counsel parents on a xersonal basis - our advice is free and objective. Truman & Knightley THE TRUMAN & KNAIGHTLEY EDUCATIONAL YREST.

POSTDOCTORAL RESEARCH ASSISTANTSHIP on a collaborative project between Professor W. Sonfield (QMC) and Dr J Bowman (Brunel University) concerned with the development or novel blodegradable composites for an application as bose-fracture The project forms part of an extensive research programme on the biomechanics of bone and bone-replacement materials. A Ph.D in Materials Science or a relevant discipline is essential and experience in polymer or composite processing and characterisation techniques is destrained.

and experience.

Purther particulars may be obtained from the Personnel Secretary. University of Bradford, West Yorishine. BD7 1DP to whom applications. Including three referees, should be sent by 13 July 1984.

Oueen Mary College

UNIVERSITY OF LONDON

Materials Departm

It is intended that the Research Assistant be mainly besed at Brunel. Appointment for 2 years in first instance at initial salary in rappe (under review) £7,190-£5,530 plus £1,186 London Allowance.

University of Birmingham DEPARTMENT OF MEDIEVAL HISTORY RESEARCH FELLOW

Applications are invited for a Research Fellowship for one year to work on a project on wage labour in the later middle ages, under the history, preferably in the fields of supervision of Dr Cheed

Dyer, as part of the wider E.S.R.C. study of the History of Prices and Incomes Candidates should have research experience in medieval social and economic history. Salary on the scale: £7190-£8530. three referees. by 11 July 1984 to Assistant Registrar (Arts), Univer Birminghem. B15 2TT. from

University of St Andrews TEMPORARY LECTURESHIP Applications are swreet for a Temporary Lectureship in Politics to the Downtowst of Economics, braishe for fares years from 1 October 1984. Applications will be welcomed from any area of international Relations, although prefurence may be given to specialists in other international Political Theory or Aspects of North-South relations.

Porties particulars may be obtained from the Establishment Officer. The University, College Cate, St Andrews, Fife, KY16 9AJ, to whom applications: should be sent in arrive not leter than 29th June 1984 "thee copies preferably in typescript with the names of three tailores.

University of St Andrews Department of Physiology &

FACULTY OF ARTS CHAIR AND HEADSHIP OF THE DEPARTMENT OF PHYSICAL EDUCATION AND SPORTS cations are invited for the Salary in the professional relige.

MANAGEMENT STUDIES

which will provide the necessary knowledge and skills knundation for those wishing to enter, or to further, a career in personnel.

The course catters for a wide vertery of ages and backgrounds. Applications will be considered with particular reference to scademic career and/or reference work experience.

The course is approved by the institute of Personnel Management and gives exemption from their Stage-1 and 2 examinations. Successful completion will lead to the award of the Diploma and to Graduatelip of the Institute.

Tel. 01-727 1242. Telex 288141 (refer T.K.)

The state of the s

Applications (with the pames of

MECHANICAL ENGINEERING TEMPORARY LECTURESHIP

Salary within the range £7.190-£9.875 per annua.

University of Bristol DEPARTMENT OF MATHMATICS

Purther particulars should be obtained from the Registrer and Secretary. University of Bristol. Bensie House, Bristol Bas 1711. hywhem applications should be received before 25th August 1984, quoting retreases JG.

TEMPORARY LECTURESHIP

Starting salary within range £7.190 to £8.630 per annua. (onder review), plus USS. Further particulars may be obtained from the Establishments Officer. The University, College

University of Birmingham

to strengthen or establish links with LECTURER

BASIC PROGRAMMING COURSES for absolute beginners, 01-579 7510. Belair, 10 Denmark St. London WCZ. SRITISH ARWAYS. Travel courses 01-836 1316. Belair, 10 Denmark St. London WC2

SCHILLER INTERNATIONAL ENIVERSITY

The American University in Barope

Accredited Member, AICS, Washington DC, USA.

Associate, Barchylar and Mester degree courses in Business Administration, Hotel Manness, Computer Station, Hotel Manness, Computer Station, Pro-Englinessrung and Pre-Medicine, Franch, Spatish or Carmen in the propriate country, Internave English: College Preparatory Courses grades to 12 at Schiller Assdemy, BBA, and MBA programmes also available as evening classes in London and Farsa.

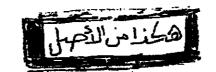

SCIPILI ER SCRILLER
INTERNATIONAL UNIVERSITY
Dept. D2, 51 Waterlee Read.
Lendon SE1 ST3. Tel (0)1 828 8484

 $\mu_{\mathcal{S}}\,C^{q_1 L_2 \ell \sigma_1'}$ King Sauces 29 Bolgraun london Sv.

415

. .

w.

The Times guide to career choice

The greater chances for girls

"My mother says you are trying to steer me into a traditional female job." an A level student said to me recently. I was so staggered -colleagues who know me were amused to hear me accused of sexism

RAL COLLEG

Section of the second

COCC MARKET

SAS COTTE

2012/11/2

ar garan er filser

PITEL

H M.C.

that I failed to think of the obvious reply. "then she should have made you choose O level physics four years ago." We were discussing medical careers, for several of which this subject is a prerequisite.

Many of us in the careers business are worried by the number of girls still opting for the so-called female jobs, many of which are in decline in our increasingly technological age. University statistics from 1980 show that of the total number of students in the Contract of the contrac enrolled on science courses, 68 per cent are men. In engineering faculties only 7 per cent of students are female. Yet when it comes to arts subjects almost 60 per cent are girls - and we all know that arts graduates have a higher unemployment rate. Further down the education system DES statistics show that of the total number of A level science passes awarded in 1980. 67 per cent were to bovs, who also gained 74 per cent of the passes given in maths, and 80 per cent of those in computer science.

Girls had the higher pass rates in languages, arts and domestic subjects. In the social sciences twice as many boys as girls passed economics. In the same year 64 per cent of O level science passes went to boys, with only 25 per cent of the physics passes being gained by girls 61 per cent of the maths passes were gained by boys and 73 per cent of those in computer science. Given these figures, the number or gars currently science A levels is unlikely to have number of girls currently taking increased.

Girls do, in theory, have more career choice these days. It is some time since I regularly met with the comment. "My daughter doesn't need a career." Marriage and motherhood need no longer he a bar to success at work; two-thirds of the country's married women are now working. Indeed, with the number of oneparent families increasing many women have to support a family willingly or not.

Who is to blame when the damage has been done earlier?

But many of these women are in either the dwindling sector, in manual work or in the unskilled areas of expanding industries - alarming when one reads the Institute of Employ-ment Research forecast that the next decade will see a 12.9 per cent reduction in the number of manual jobs and a decrease of 20 per cent in the numbers engaged in craft level and operative work in engineering. (Only 2 per cent of engineering technicians are women — and a 12.5 per cent increase in this area of employment is expected in the same ien year period.)

Berly Dixon looks at a tradition taking a long time to die: that of different jobs for the sexes

Who is to blame for this state of affairs? Careers officers are often accused of directing girls into traditional jobs, but by and large they meet young people when the damage has already been done. To quote Alan Hallmark, an experienced distict careers officer in Cheshire, "Careers officers are dealing with young people approaching school-leaving age whose qualifications are already chosen and whose attitudes are already fixed. Both boys and girls must be encouraged to view their situation realistically, and the careers officer may therefore be criticized for perpetuating traditional views of male/female emloyment roles. The same careers officer may well be involved over a period of time in trying to change the situation, but time is what the client does not have."

The British education system forces pupils to choose their CSE and O level subjects at the early age of 13 or 14. In England and Wales, the brightest are then compelled to specialize still further by reducing the number of subjects studied for A-level to three, or, exceptionally, four. Arguments in favour of this system surely the most specialized in the world - stress the fact that our higher education institutions prefer depth to breadth and that our degree courses are thus able to be shorter than those of most other countries. The system also makes pupils take vital career decisions at an age when they are largely unaware of the implications of subject choice.

A long list of careers, from agriculture to speech therapy, from building to nutrition and from geology to medicine require that particular combinations of science subjects are taken at the crucial CSE and O level share.

Most schools hold sessions during the last two terms of the pupils' third year to explain the subject options and timetable combinations. Many also hold parents' evenings at this time, and most, but by no means all, invite along a representative of the local careers service to explain the implications of choice. Parents who take seriously the career prospects of both sons and daughters should seek informed advice at this time. Left to themselves, pupils may choose subjects for the wrong reasons; they frequently choose or avoid areas taught by particular teachers; often too they are influenced by friends. Girls in particular may turn away from what they regard as boys' subjects. Parental influence at this point can be very strong and it is The author of Mounting an attack on the often here that their own attitudes to job market last Monday was Marjorie male and female roles emerge, as Harris.

Adviser for

COMPUTER EDUCATION

Grade: Soulbury H.T. Group 9

£15,027 - £16,281 per annum plus £987 London Allowance plus Car Allowance

Applications are invited from qualified and experienced teachers for the above post. Relevant experience

A good base of provision has already been established in primary and secondary schools whilst the

The Authority will be looking for applicants who can show evidence of involvement in developing computer education at both primary and secondary school level, and who can expand and develop Application forms and job descriptions from the Personnel Division, Room 1, Brent Town Hall Annexe, Kings Drive, Wembley, Middlesex HA9 9BR returnable by 9th July. Telephone 01-903 0371 (24 hour shows only too well.

In Luton, a pilot area for the Technical and Vocational Education Initiative, it was decided to mount a campaign in one school to encourage girls very strongly to choose technical options. Every girl and boy had already sampled technical subjects during the normal curriculum and during the third year all were given talks on the importance of technology. Two weeks before the deadline for option choice many girls had chosen technical and scientific subjects. When the option forms were returned, signed by parents, many of the girls' forms had had home economics and needlework substituted for technology and physics!

Even at the age of fourteen, however, pupils' own attitudes are fixed. They may have already conceived ideas of girls' and boys' jobs, at an early age porticularly if jobs at an early age, particularly if their primary schools used a reading scheme which although revised as recently as 1980 opens with Simon playing with "a car like Daddy's" and Elizabeth washing her doll's clothes.

Some individuals are better at arts than science jobs

The country needs more engineers and scientists of either sex. But it is with the aim of attracting some from the female half of the population that several remedial measures have been undertaken. 1984 is WISE year. (Women into Science and Engineer-ing.) Organized by the Equal Oppor-tunities Commission and the Engineering Council, a series of events has been launched, including lectures and exhibitions in both secondary and primary schools, all schools have received WISE publicity material including a booklet by GEC describing the careers of its women engineers and scientists; and the Women's Engineering Society has compiled a list of members willing to talk in schools. Several universities and polytechnics have developed conversion courses to allow students to switch from arts A-levels to science and technology degree courses.

This article is not intended to persuade every youngster to specialize in science. Many are better at arts subjects and it would be extreme to suggest that they will not find jobs. Since many career openings in the future however will be in science and currently demand some science background it is only fair to encourage this year's crop of fourteen year olds to keep these options open by choosing appropriate subjects now. Even if they have already completed option forms at school it may not be too late to change.

Cricklade College, Hampshire.

technology and since many careers

Beryl Dixon is careers adviser at

Educational

Posts overseas

Botswana

Secondary Teaching Opportunities for Recently Qualified BEd and PGCE Teachers for January 1985

On behalf of the Botswana Ministry of Education The British Council is recruiting up to 80 recently qualified teachers for Community Junior Secondary Schools and

English Woodwork and Technical Drawing

Qualifications: Candidates should be single men or women, or married teaching couples without children, who have recently qualified as teachers, with a degree plus PGCE, Teaching Certificate or BEd. They must be UK citizens with a British educational background, Preferred age range 21 to 30. Conditions of Service: Successful applicants will be posted to secondary schools in January 1985 under contract to the Unified Teaching Service of Botswens for a minimum period of two years. Benefits include outward and return passages, subsidised housing with herd furnishings, car lean scheme, medical insurance, installation grant and residential briefing

Salary: Single starting salaries: (£1=P1,645). BEd/BA with Cert Ed P10,171; BA with PGCE or BSc with Cert Ed P10,654; BSc with PGCE P11,138. Extre increments given for teaching experience; local income tax approximately 11% single, 6% married; tax free gratuity of 25% of salary paid on completion of Interviews will be held in London at the beginning of August.

interested persons should apply to: Teachers for Botswana Recruit: Overseas Educational Appointments Department, The British Council, 90-91 Tottenham Court Road, London W1P

Reference: 84 A 96 S

Saudi Arabia

Post 1: 3 instructors of English Jeddah Oil Refinery Company

staff of 7, recruited by the British Council, it designs and runs its own ESP courses for technical and professional staff of the Duties: Will include the teaching of English to Saudi Arabian males aged 18-22 for twenty 50-minute periods per week, the writing and preparation of materials, and other duties as required.

Qualifications: Candidates should be single or married unaccompanied males aged etween 25-45 with a degree, a good TEFL qualification and a minimum of three years' teaching experience. Preference will be given to those who have had expanience of needs analysis work, adult literacy, materials production for technical English, testing, and the teaching of reading. Salary: From SR86,366-SR94,228 pa commensurate with qualifications and perience. (£1=SR4.9 approx). Allowances and Repolits' Superance pensation Allowance at 10% of salery: free furnished accommodation; personal rance SR6,000 pa; transport allowance SR8,500 pa; medical insurance allowance; 30 days' leave and international travel grant; baggage allowance £1,000 and outfit vance of £200 on first appointment. Contract: A one-year single status renewable contract with the British Council in Jeddah starting 1 September 1984 or as soon as possible after that date. Closing data for applications: 27 June 1984.

Reference: 84 A 97-99 S

Post 2: 2 English Language Instructors The English Language

Teaching Centre Petromin Refinery Riyadh The English Language Teaching Centre was started in September 1982 and is repidly

Durties: Teaching 22 contact hours per week plus standby duries and routine class and Language Unit administration and sliffications: All candidates, married or single, must be male, 25-50, and should hold a driving Scence. Candidates should have a degree, a TEFL/TESL qualifica and a minimum of six years' relevant commensurate with qualification experience (£1=5R4.9 approx). Allowances and Benefits: Superannuation Compensation Allowance at 10% of salery; free furnished accommodation; personal allowance of SR5,000 pa; married allowance; transport allowance of SR5,500 pa; medical insurance allowance; 30 days' fully paid leave and international travel grant and a baggage allowance of £1,000 on first appointment.

Salary: SR86,366-SR99,470 ps,

Contract: One year renewable contract with the British Council in Riyadh sterong 1 September 1984.

Reference: 84 A 100-101 S.

Kev English Language Teaching Scheme

The KELT Scheme is part of Britain's Aid programme to developing countries

Jordan

Adviser on Teacher Training to The Language Centre. University of Jordan

Duties: The purpose of the post is to assist TEPL Teacher Training. Duties will include advising on the structure and content of the Centre's new postgraduse TEPL Diptoms programme, teaching a selected range of programme courses, staff training, development and production of training and course materials, and running a basic TEFL methodology course for undergraduate English majors. Special Qualifications: MA in TEFL/Applied Linguistics essential, PHD desirable. Also essential is a minimum of ive years' involvement with TEFL teacher training and management of ELT Setary: £11,061-£15,311 per annum.

Overseas Allowances: Nil-£4,495 subject Reference: 84 K 39 S.

Thailand

ELT Adviser, Supervisory Unit, Department of General Education, Bangkok

Duties: To develop and revise the teachers' guide for set textbooks; to implement the new curriculum; to develop a "Learning Kit" for upper secondary classes; to run short ince teacher training courses for key teaching personnel; to organise language ent courses; to select textb for the courses and evaluate their use; to coordinate and participate in courses run by visiting specialists from the UK; to coordinate scholarships and training awards to Britain; to set up teachers' resource centres; to coordinate and cooperate with other ELT advisers on teaching-learning methodology. Special Qualif

textbook or materials development and experience of pre-service or in-service teacher training and curriculum develo is essential; experience of organising ELT in a difficult institutional environment is Salary: £11,061-£15,311 per annum. Oversess Allowances: Ni-£3,145 depending on salary level and marital status.

For both posts: General Qualifications: All candidates must be UK citizens, preferably aged 35-45 with a British aducational background; a dagree or equivalent, teaching qualification including TEFL or educational qualifications plus a postgraduate qualification in TEFL or Applied Linguistics is essential; at least 5 years experience, of which at least 3 should

Benefits: Salary free of UK mooms tax; variable overseas allowence; free femily passages; children's education allowence and holiday visits; free furnished accommodation; outfit allowance; medical scheme; baggage allowance; ped leave; employer's contribution to a recognised

Contracts: Will be for 2 years initially with the British Council. Closing data for applications: 2 July 1984,

The following posts are also funded under Britain's programme of Aid to developing countries:

Uganda

Head of Physics and Head of Chemistry, National Teachers College, Kakoba

Duties: The Head of Department will in each case be responsible for the academic, professional and administrative work of the department including teaching methods, curriculum development, examinations, teaching practice assessments, the departmental budget and in Eason with the Director of the College the selection of students and appointment of staff: to laise as appropriate with the Ministry of Education, the National Curriculum Development Centre, the Faculty of Education at Makerere and the National Teachers College at Kyambogo in order to influence reform and change in his subject through the National Teachers College system: to participate in the training of a counterpart and to play a full part in College government and administration, student welfare and recreation, residential control and committee and academic and examination board work.

Qualifications: Candidates, preferably single or married without children at post and aged 35-55, must be UK critzens with British educational background. They must have a degree in an appropriate subject, a professional teaching qualification, 5 years' experience of secondary school teaching (preferably in Africa), and at least 2 years' teacher training experience. A Masters degree, second teaching subject desirable.

Salary: £11,061-£15,311 per annum.

Overseas Allowances: £714-£4,347 pa depending on salary level and markal status.

nefits: Salary free of UK income tax: variable overseas allowances according to marital status and salary level; free family nassaces: children's education allowance ion: outfit allowance: m scheme; baggage allowance; paid leave; employer's contribution to a recognised superannuation scheme or an allowance of 11% of salary in lieu.

stracts; Will be for 2 years with the British Council.

Closing date for applications: 4 July 1984. erence: 84 K 36-37 S.

form, please write, quoting the post The British Council, 90-91 Tottenham

KING SAUD UNIVERSITY

Riyadh, Saudi Arabia

Reference number E/813 must be quoted.

Ansatone service).

existing provision for the benefit of all schools.

in the field of Computer Education and its application is essential.

two F.E. Colleges make a substantial input to progress in this specialism.

ENGLISH LANGUAGE TEACHERS

The Centre for European Languages and Translations (CELT) in the College of Arts, King Saud University. requires male and female ESL/EFL teachers on annually commencing 17 August 1984. renewable contracts, for the academic year 1984/5, Applicants should hold one of the following:

- MA in TEFL/TESL. MA in English, with no less than one year's experience at university level or two years' experience at other levels. - BA and one-year Diploma in EFL, with no less than one year's TEFL experience at university level or two years' experience at other levels. BA in English with no less than three years' TEFL experience at university level or six years' experience at other levels.

Benefits include:

Free medical and dental care. Free furnished accommodation.

Substantial contributions to children's educational fees. 60 days prepaid annual leave.

- Yearly return air-tickets for incumbent and family. Freight allowance.

Monthly transport allowance. End of service gratuity.

Two copies of your curriculum vitae, which should give a day-time telephone number and names addresses of three referees, should be sent together with non-returnable copies of scademic/experience certificates, to:

Ms Carmel Donnachie King Saud University Office 29 Belgrave Square London SW1X 8QB

Only successful candidates will be notified

SOUTHERN EXAMINING GROUP

Brent is an Equal Opportunity Employer. Job sharers welcome.

London Borough of

16+ EXAMINATIONS RESEARCH PROJECT

Research Officer

Based at the Offices of The Associated Examining Board (Re-Advertisement) Applications are invited for a new fixed term post in the Asso

Examining Board's Research Unit. A Research Officer is required to work on this major project studying the operation of examinations which make use of different papers for candidates of differing abilities. The main aim of the research is to identify success procedures for the setting and grading of such examinat Applicants should have either a higher degree in, or work experience of, a field releted to the measurement of human attributes such as ational achievement. A sound knowledge of the statistical methods commonly used in educational measurement is required together with some familiarity with computing techniques. Experience of teaching and public examinat The project is jointly funded by the Secondary Examinations coun and the southern Examining Group and is scheduled to run from June, 1984, to the end of December, 1987; the appointment is f the duration of the project. The salary is aligned with those of academic University starf. The current Research Officer scale is $\pm 9.875 \times$ nine annual increments to £14,125 per annum. The starting point on the scale will depend on qua

The project will be based at the A.E.B.'s offices, currently in Aldershot. However, the Soard is scheduled to move late in 1985, to purpose-built premises about ten miles away at Stag Hill in Guildford Further information, together with an application form, may be obtained from the Personnel Manager, The Associated Examining Board, Wellington House, Aldershot, Hampahire Glill 189 (Tel.: Aldershot 25551), to whom completed forms of application must be returned within two weeks of the appearance of this advertisement. Previous applications will automatically be re-

BIDANCE FOR ALL AGES!

90 Galcetter Place, to 01-935 5452 (24 lets)

SMALL PRIVATE COLLEGE IN CENTRAL LONDON requires Graduates in ENGLISH/ECONOMICS/BUSINESS STUDIES as Teachers/Partners due to expansion. Excellent prospects. Write in confidence to:

P.A.S.S., 10/11 Bishops Court, EC4M 7EL

Educational Courses

MSc Course in AEROSPACE VEHICLE DESIGN

A small number of places are available on the two year MSc course in Aerospace Vehicle Design commencing in October 1984. The course is intended to provide the application of knowledge and experience needed for a career in aeronautical engineering with specialisation in overall aerospace vehicle concepts, airmane structures and systems. It is particularly appropriate for those wishing to convert from mathematics, physics or other engineering disciplines. Candidates who already possess aeronautical qualification may be considered for direct entry to the final year of the course. Previous acronautical expenience is not required for entry to the course but applicable must possess a first or second class honours degree in a relevant subject.

Granffeld

Figencial assistance is available for sultable candidates. For further details and an application form contact Prof. D. House, Cranfield institute of Technology, Bedford MK43 GAL (Telephone 0234

Cranfield the College of Aeronaulics

Cranfield for Tomorrow's High Fliers

MID-KENT COLLEGE OF HIGHER & FURTHER EDUCATION

Head of Department of Business Studies (Grade V)

Applications are invited for the above appointment from 1 January 1985. The Department offers full-time and parttime courses for the examinations of related professional itutions and for the Business Education Council.

Applicants must have appropriate qualifications and experience and must have the ability and enthusiasm to run a thriving Department.

Further details and application form are available from the Principal, Mid-Kent College of Higher and Further Education, Horsted, Maidstone Road, Chatham, Kent, telephone Medway (0634) 41001. Completed applications must reach the College by 20 July 1984.

Salary Scale: £15,390-£17,091

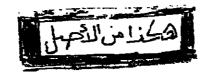

WOODBRIDGE SCHOOL

Applications are invited for the post of HEAD OF WOODBRIDGE SCHOOL Co-educational, day and boarding school of 630 publis.

The present Head, Mr A. F. Vyvyr-Robinson, who is a member of Headmasters' Conference, will relinquish his appointment on 31st August, 1985. Applications required by 8th July, 1984. It is hoped that an appointment will be made in October 1984. Further details and an application form obtainable from the Bursar, Woodbridge School, Woodbridge, Suffolk, IP12 4JH.

Tel: 039 43 5547

Today's television and radio programmes

Summaries: Peter Dear and Peter Davalle

Trio.t

BBC 1

015018

MARLET ST.

. es 141

 $\mathsf{w}_{\mathcal{V}_{i}^{2}(k_{1})}$

"tigge

5.00 Ceefax AM. 6.30 Breakfast Time, with Frank Bough and Fern Britton, News from Debbie Rix at 6.30, 7.00, 7.30, 8.00 and 8.30 with headlines on the quarter hours; sport at 6.40 and 7.40; regional news, weather and traffic at 6.55; review of the morning newspapers at 7.45 and 8.00; horoscopes at 8.33 gardening advice and cookery hints between 8.30 and 9.00. 9.00 Gardeners' World from

Doreen Roberts's two-yer old garden in Lower Lydbrook. shire (shown last Friday), 9.25 Praise Bell presented by Thora Hird (shown yesterday) (Coefax titles page 170), 10.00 Ceefax, 10.30 Play School, presented by Ben Thomas (r). 10.55 Cricket: First Test. The fourth day's play in the game at Edgbaston between England

And the state of t and the West Indies. News After Noon with Richard hitmore and Frances Coverdale. The weather prospects come from Michael Fish. 1.22 Regional news (London and SE only: Financial report followed by news headlines with subtities). 1.25 Hokey Cokey. (r).

Cricket: First Test. Further live coverage of the fourth day's play at Edgbaston in the game between England and the between England and the West Indies. 4.18 Regional news (not London).

4.20 Play School, presented by

Sheelagh Glibey. 4.45 Blue Peter Double. Part one of a programme to celebrate Peter Duncan's four years as one of the presenters. This first half features the feats of Peter, including his fight with a 24 stone Sumo wreatier; forest fire-fighting in Canada; and conducting a full symphony

5.05 John Craven's Newsround.
5.10 Size Peter Double. Part two follows the trials and tribulations of Simon Groom 5.10 Blue Peter Double. Part two follows the trials and tribulations of Simon Groom to B Married St. Ann. 17 (sec. and Peter Duncan as they trained with the Devonport Field Gunners for this year's Royal Navy Fleid Gun Race.

Sixty Minutes begins with news from Moira Stuart at 5.40 and ends with news headlines at 6.38.

6.40 Rolf Harris Cartoon Time. ~ 7.10 Manimal. Another case for the CASSOL STATES adopt the guise of any animal he wishes. Tonight, Jonathan Chase investigates the death of a Nassau businessman. FORM CONT. Was it caused by a spider's deadly sting? Starring Simon MacCorlondale. (Ceefax titles Sales of the Party page 1701.

(Wolld e-电影 "我们我 access to be

and the second second

.

"12 7.55 Points of View, Barry Took. takes another dip into the BBC's postbag. 8.10 Panorama: Turning the Mersey Tide? Philip Tibenham reports from Liverpool on what has been achieved in the city since the riots of three years 1.00 News with Sue Lawley.

3.25 Film: Dirty Mary, Crazy Larry (1974) starring Peter Fonda and Susan George: Car chase comedy drama with Fonda as a racing driver who robs a the woman who comes with away. Directed by John programme in the series on the Youth Training Scheme in action (r).

1.20 Mavericks. A profile of Alan Bloom, a horticulturist and founder of one of the biggest BEQUENCIES: Radio 1: 1063kHz/285nr; 1869kHz/275nr; Radio 2: 693kHz/433mr; 909kHz/330m; Radio 3: 1215kHz/247nr; VHF -90-92.5; Radio 4: 00kHz 1500m; VHF -92-95; LBC 1152kHz/281m; VHF 97-3; Capital: 1548kHz/194m; VHF 95.8; BBC Radio London 1458kHz/206m; VHF 94.9; World Lervice MF 648kHz/483m.

ms-vT 6.25 Good Morning Britain presented by Anne Diamond and John Stapiston, News with Jayne Irving at $.30, 7.00, 7.30, 8.00, 8.30 and 9.00; sport at 6.35 and 7.33; Jani . Barnett's postbag at 6.40; moneytalk at 5.45 and 2.45; exercises at 6.50 and 9.15; the day's anniversaries at 7.05 and 5.13: Popeye cartoon at 7,23; guests of the day Sammy Calan and Les Decnis at 7,40 and 8.15; Paul McCartney's new video single at 7.55; astrology at 8.20; television highlights at 8.34; TV-am doctor discusses allergies at 9.25 Thames news headlines, 9.30 For Schools: Cartoon version of James Thurber's story, Many Moons. 8,47 Learning to read with Basil Brush, 9.59 Well-dressing in Derbyshire 10.11 Basic maths: surfaces 10.31 Using poetry to express love. 11.00 Documentary: A Desert Island. 11.22 Copenhagen's history and culture. 11.41 The Yeoman Warder and the Ravens of the 12.00 Gammon and Spinach, Valeris Pitts reads Goldie, a story about a goat. 12.10 Let's Pretend to the tale of the Seaside Special, 12,30 Homework. Advice on safety in the home and anti-burglary

1.00 News, 1.20 Thames news. 1.30 Vintage Quiz. 2.00 Film: Sink the Blamarck! (1960) starring Kermeth More. Second World War drama Second World War crams about the attempts by the Royal Navy to sink the German battleship Bismarck. Directed by Lewis Gilbert.

3.50 Cartoon Time. Early to Bet. (r). 4.00 Gammon and Spinach. A repeat of the programme shown at noon. 4.15 Dangermouse (r) 4.20 The Incredible Hulk 4.45 e: Stelemete

5.15 Gambit, Outz game for married couples. 5.45 News 6.00 Thames news 6.25 Help! Viv Taylor Gee with news of the gypsy encampment on the Westway

site in Hammersmith and Fulham. 6.35 Crossroads. Jill Chance is advised by husband Adam to keep her nose out of the affair tween David Hunter and Sarah Alexander. 7:00 What's My Line? Emis Wise Jilly Cooper, Jeffrey Archer, Barbara Kelly and George Gale try to guess people's occupations from a brief piece of mime. Earnonn Andrews is 7.30 Coronation Street Linda Chevesid's lover finds out where she lives (Oracle titles page 170). 8.00 Brass. Bradley Hardacre is still head-over-heels in love with the prim and pretty schoolmistress, Prudence Makepeace (Oracle titles page 8.30. World in Action: Your Starter how first-time home buyers, hoping to get a foothold on the housing ladder, are finding their home ownership dreams unfutified.

9.00 The Sweeney: Trap. Inspector Regan is the target for revenge, five years after a big robbery (r).

10.00 News 10.30 Film: Where Does it Hurt? (1971) starring Peter Sellers. Black comedy about the money-mad administrator of a hospital that specializes in milking the patients of their money-Directed by Rod

Paul Copley: Ends and Means (Channel 4, 10.45 pm)

BBC 2

6.30 Open University: Who's Who in the Oceans 6.55 Up to the Mark 7.20 Geothermal Energy

8.15 Daytime on Two: Preparing

7.45 Recycling Scrap Copper. Ends at 8.10.

children for the outside world.

9.38 Starting a new job. 10.00 You and me. 10.15 Children perform the Karaja dance. 10.38 How the lives of Salford women have changed over the past half century, 11,00 Children on their first Youth

Hostel holiday. 11,23 The final episode of the children's serial, Capricom Game. 11,42

Statistics: regression, 12.04

Pictures. 2.18 Selling agricultural equipment made in Britain to Jamaica. 2.40 Office

word processors; and booking an airline ticket by computer.

workers in a jeans factory:

4.15 Cricket: First Test. Coverage

6.10 News summary with subtitles

8.55 Tibet: The Lost Mystery. A

Highlights from yesterday's

Men's Singles final of the Stella Artois Championship.

programme, first shown on the World About Us series, that examines old Tibet as seen by early travellers using primitive home movie equipment (r).

7.45 Vegetarian Kitchen. The third programme of Sarah Brown's series deals with bread and instruction on how to make cinnamon and carrot cake.

Plus a visit to a Hertfordshire wholewheat bread and a school which is totally

8.10 The Two Ronnies. Messrs Corbett and Barker in comic sketches and a song from Barbara Dickson. Plus the chilling tale of The Bogle of Bog Fell. (r)

Lynsey de Paul and Robin Balley in Twitty word game with Frank Muir, Clare Francis and Patrick Lighfield. (r).

Squandering of Riches. A revised repeat of a film shown just after the military coup in Nigeria six months ago. It was made in the weeks before the coup by Nigerian television journalist Onyeka Onwenu who went the length and breadth of the country talking street traders and farmers.

Travelling with Dignity. Ends at to bankers, industrial

10.20 Cricket: First Test. Highlights of the tourth day's play.

11.35 Open University: Thomas Hardy and Wessex. 12.00 Optional Decisions. 12.25

10.50 Newsnight.

9.00 Call My Bluff. Arthur Marshall,

9.30 Third Eye. Nigeria: A baking and includes

West Indies.

6.15 International Tennis.

of the fourth day's play at

Edgbaston in the game between England and the Mindstretchere

3.00 Ceefax.

12.09 Ceefax 2.01 Words and

 ENDS AND MEANS (Channel 4, 10.45 pm), Stewart Mackimon's debate about power and wealth and the social divide is an extraordinary sandwich of a film. The "filling" is some ancient black-and-white footage from a silent movie version of Robinson Crusce, resting between a slice of 16th century Italian philosophizing and a slice of 20th century Tyneside desolation. It must be said of Mr MacKinnon's film that it is not easy to digest, especially late at night, possibly at the end of a trying day. And you will not find much in the way of spicy flavouring to help get your juices flowing. But I commend it to you, and enthusiastically, if you happen to be one of those who believe that foods are being served up on the small screen these days. The Robinson Crusoe bit might puzzle

CHANNEL 4

preliminary rounds finds the 5.30 Jeopardy. General knowledge reigning champion Philip Alder challenged by Leeds student, Ian Golightiy.

quiz with a difference - Derek Hobson, the presenter, gives the contestants the enswer Championship. Part two of the BMX team challenge comes from the Three Sisters

Recreation Centre in Wigan. 6.30 Numbers at Work, Fred Harris

presents another programme in his series dealing with everyday mathematical problems, His subjects this

7.00 Channel Four News includes evening are metres, kilometres and kilograms (r).

reports on the miners' strike

as seen through the eyes of Mr MacGregor and Mr

Scargill. Each has been given the facilities of Channel Four

News to research and present his case without any editorial importance is Tom Burns, director of the Roman Catholic

7.50 Comment. With his thoughts

riodical, The Tablet.

programme in Alan Bieasdaie's comedy series

about the Liverpool urchin,

Morgan's dreams have come true - she has a night out with young women and a man who share a flat. Tonight, Robin finds himself lumbered with a because the keeping of pets is forbidden in the terms of the puppy - much to Chrissy's disgust and to his despair

9.00 Africa. Part seven of Basil Davidson's eight-programme series on the history of Africa examines the continent's independence, beginning with Ghana and Kwame Nkrumah and ending with thoughts on how long the Republic of presents highlights of the tournament played at the

Winded Foot Golf Club near

New York over the past four

Machiavelli's ideas of political theory and their relevance to the history of capitalism. Paul shows a 16th century merchant (Philip McGough) a history of capitalist industry

10.45 Film: Ends and Means (1984).

allegorical tale explores

Copley is the modern day

River Type boatman who along the river bank. (see

Stewart Mackinnon's

major struggles for

10.00 US Open Golf. Steve Rider

ranny Scully, and Marie

Scully. Will it be as she imagined?

Cornedy series about two

8.30 Man About the House on a matter of topical

8.00 Scully. The penultimate and they have to supply the

6.00 The Kellog's BMX

5.00 Countdown. The last of the

you if you think Defoe was more interested in telling a cracking tale of survival than making a point about capitalism (le Crusoe) and the exploitation of colonialist labour (le Man Friday). My advice is that you should enjoy the entertainment offered by the desert letered. offered by the desert island interlude while you can, because you are going to have to concentrate very had indeed when you come to the nitty-gritty of Ends and Means which is to do with political philosophy, social morality, and economics, and whether we might have been better off had we listened more to Machiavelli and less to Big Business.

● THE MANCHESTER ENTHUSIASTS (Radio 4, 8.15 pm), the Monday Play, is heavily political, too, though much more conventionally tashloned than Ends and Means. Actually, it is the Monday Half-Play; we shall have to wait until next Monday night to hear the rest of it. John Arden wrote it, with his wife, Margaretta D'Arcy, and there is no mistaking the fact that this is the same John Arden who perined Sargeant Musgrave's Dance, now revived at the Old Vic. There is the same treewheeling approach to industrial history, with the Old sport through its tory, with the odd song thrown in to help jolly things along. The play is an account of the rise (lonight) and the fall (next Monday night) of a revolutionary kind of agricultural commune in Ireland in 1831. If you think that this does not sound much like the stuff of Radio 4 Monday night drama, you are in for a pleasant surprise when

Peter Davalle

parts (11). The reader is David McAlister.
5.00 PM: News Magazine, 5.50
Stipping Forecast, 5.55 Weether;
Programme News.
5.00 The Six O'Clock News, Financial Report.

6.30 Just A Minute. A new series with Nicholas Parsons, Kenneth Williams, Clement Freud, Peter Jones and Tim Rice.
7.00 News.

and added harder error the scory of the Raishine Co-operative which was, in some ways, one of the precursors of the modern Labour Party. The commune was founded in 1831. The second part of the production can be heard at the same time on Monday, June 25.

a.45 Nationoscope.

10.15 A Book at Bedtime: "Far Away and Long Ago" – A History of My Early Life by W. H. Hudson. Abridged in 10 parts. (6) The Head of a Decayed House. The reader is lan Holm.

10.30 The World Tonight, including Nawa Hastilines.

News Headines. 11.15 The Financial World Tonight.

11.15 The Financial World Tonight.
11.30 Today in Parliament.
12.03 News.
12.10 Weather.
12.15 Shipping Forecast.
England: VHF as above except:
6.25-6.30 Weather; Travel. 10.4512.00 For Schools: 18.45 Qué
Tai? 11.00 Music Makers. 11.20
Let's Movel 11.40 Science
Games. 11.50 Poetry Corner.
1.55-2.00pm Listening Corner.
2.00-3.00 For Schools: 2.00
Playtims. 2.15 Introducing Science. 2.35 Notice Board. 2.40
Listening to Music. 11.00 Study

Listening to Music. 11,00 Study on 4: Dead Men Do Tell Tales (3). 11.30-12,10 Open University: 11.30 The Genesis of Britain Beat

7.05 The Archers.
7.20 Science Now, Peter Evans weekly review of discoveries and developments from the world of Snapost. A leature about Rabble Danny Snith and his family as they celebrate "Shabbat" in prayer, song and conversation. The Monday Play: "The Manchester Enthusiaste". Two markinstor crimissages (two plays for radio by John Arden and his wife Margaretta D'Arcy, A cast of 25 English and hish actors headed by Stephen Res.

Christian Rodska, Alan Rickman and Judith Barker eract the story of the Relebble Conception.

becomes aware that his presence

Engasii um ya—gara Crystal. 4.48 Story Time: "Laughing Gas" by P G Wodehouse, Abridged in 13

BBC 1 Wales: 1.22pm-1.25 News of Wales headlines. 4.18-4.20 News of Wales headlines. 5.55 Wales Today. 6.40-7.10 Cast Away. 11.50 News and wasther. Scotland: 1.20pm-1.25 The Scotlish News. 5.55 Scotland: Skyty Minutes. 6.40-7.10 Fanfare. 11.50 News and weather. Northern Ireland News. 5.55 Scotle Around Str. 6.40-7.10 Minding Your Own Business. 11.50 News and weather. England: 5.55 pm News and weather. England: 5.55pm Regional news magazines. 6.40-7.10

East - Sheridan Moreley
Meets . . . Malcolm Arnold, Midlands Be A Sporti North - Speleogenesis.
North East - North Country, North West
- "I Run a Model Mill", South Southsport, South West - Three in the Mild West - Country I here 14 EE Wild. West - Country Living. 11.55

SAC Starts 2.00pm Yn eu Cynefin.
2.20 Chwedlau Aesop. 2.35
Interval. 3.36 Firm: Time Gentiemen
Please. 5.00 Pictiwrs Bach. 5.06 Heita
Drysov. 5.36 Barniers. 6.00 Bewitched.
6.30 Babble. 7.00 Newyddon Sath. 7.30
Puw sv. parthur? 8.01 Insain. Pwy sy perthyn? 8.00 Upsairs, Downstairs. 9.00 Fe sgrifennais I hon. 9.30 Y Byd ar Bedwar. 10.00 Agony. 10.30 Sex Matters. 11.15 Visions. 12.15am Closedown.

GRANADA As London except:
1.29pm Granada. 1.30
Film: Pumpkin Eater (Anne Bancroft).
3.30-4.00 Glenroe. 9.00-10.00 Guincy.
10.30 Sweetty. 11.30 Something Going on. 12.30am Closedown.

Radio 4

5.00 News Briefing: Weather.
5.16 Farming Week from Scotland.
5.25 Shipping Forecast.
5.30 Today, including 5.30, 7.30, 8.30
News. 6.45 Prayer for the Day.
5.55, 7.55 Weather, 7.00, 8.06
Today's News. 7.25, 8.25 Sport.
7.45 Thought for the Day.
8.35 The Week On 4. A look shead.
With Robert Booth.
8.43 Angus McDermid in the BBC
Sound Archives. 8.57 Weather; Travel.

Travel 9.00 News. 9.05 Start the Week with Richard

9.05 Start the Week with Richard Baker and studio guests, f
16.08 News; Money Box. With Louise Botting.
10.30 Moming Story: "Innocent Pleasures" by Offvia Marwing.
Read by Elizabeth Proud.
16.45 Dally Service.
11.00 News; Travel; Down Your Way.
11.48 Poetry Please! The readers are Christopher Scott and Isabel
Dean, Introduced by Alan Brownjohn. Brownlohn, 12.00 News; European Election

12.00 News; European Election
Special. Brian Redhead brings us up to date with this morning's news and results. Also analysing the results: Hugo Young and David Butler.

12.27 It Makes Me Laugh. A selection by Janemy Nicholas, who talks to John Durin. 12.55 Weather;
Programme News.

3.00 The Mortif of Coas Mayer.

Programme News.
1.00 The World at One: News.
1.40 The Archers, 1.55 Shipping

Forecast.

2.00 News; Woman's Hour. Today's edition includes a discussion by travel writers Wilfred Thesiger, Norman Lewis and Jonathan Raban. There is also the fourth spisode of Little Sister.

3.00 Afternoon Theatre: Incorporated, By William Ast. Political thriller, cantring on the activities of a large corporation. It stars Kim Durham as the young executive employed ostensibly to look into labour relations. He soon becomes aware that his presence has a more subtle motive and that ha is a pawn in someone's game (rit English Now. A weekly look at the English language, by David Crystel

REGIONAL TELEVISION VARIATIONS HTV WEST As London except: 1.20pm News, 1.30
Film: Scared Stiff (Dean Martin), 3.20-4.00 Glenroe, 5.15-5.45 Vintage Cuiz: 6.00-7.00 News, 9.00-10.00 Cuircy, 10.30 Hill Street Blues, 11.30 Rock of the Seventies, 12.05em Closedown.

HTV WALES AS HTV Wast except at Sbr. 10.30 Body & Soul, 11.30 Hill Street Blues, 12.30sm Closedown.

GRAMPIAN As London except: 1.20pm News. 1.30
That's Hollywood. 2.00-4.00 Film: Pumpkin Eater (Anne Bancroff). 6.00
North Tonight. 6.30-7.00 Database. 9.00-10.00 Outney. 10.30 Film: Aggression (Jean Louis Trintignand). 12.38am (Jean Louis Trintignand). 12.38am (Jean Louis Trintignand).

TVS As London except 1.20pm News. 1.30 Film: Three Hats for Lisa (Joe Brown). 3.30-4.00 Cop and the Kid. 5.15-5.45 Young Doctors. 6.00 Coast to Coast, 6.46-7.00 Airmail. 10.30 Hij Street Blues. 11.30 Preview. 12.00

BORDER As London except:
1.20pm News, 1.30 Film:
Mirage (Gregory Peck), 3.30-4.00
Glercos, 5.15-6.45 Pivate Benjamin, 6.00 Lockeround, 8.15 Canon in the 16chen, 6.30-7.09 Gambit, 9.00-18,00
Quincy, 10.30 Best of Three, 11.00 v. 12.00 News, Closedown

(1). 11.50 The Genesis of British Best (2). 12.30-1.18 Schools Night-Time Broadcasting: Multicultural Resources From the Carbbean (1 & 2).

Radio 3

6.55 Weather. 7.00 News.
7.05 Morning Concert: Kodaly's
Hungarian Rondo; Elgar's
Mazurica; Huristone's Plano Concerto in 0 (Parkin/London Philharmonic); Berlioz's overture
Rob Roy, 1 8.00 News. 8.05 Morning Congert: part two.
Boyce's Symphony No 2:
Mendelesoth's Capnosio Op 81
No 3; Brich's Congerto for two paros and orchestra (Barkolsky/Twining/LSO): Haydn's Symphony No 39 † 9.00

9.05 This Week's Composer: Milhaud. Tre Sute provencale: Movements from La muse
Menagère (Milhaud, pieno);
Soring Quartet No 7; and the Cello Concarto No 1 (Apolin/Brno State Philharmonic Orchestra).1
18.00 Ruth Geger: the planist plays Mozart's Sonata in C, K 545; and Schubert's Sonata in A, D 959.1 18.55 Coptand The LSO play the Ballet in Savan Sarchope.

in Seven Sections 11.25 Songs of Love and Lamont: 11.55 BBC Scottish SO with Peter Franki (piano). Mordecai Seter's Mediations; Mendelssohn's Piano Concerto No 1; and Schubert's Symphony No 5.11.00

News. 1.05 BBC Lunchime Concert. 2.00 Music Weekly. Includes Derek Hudson on the enigme of Elgar's "Enigme Variations", and memones of Mikhaud and friends by Madelerie Mikhaud (r) 2.50 New Records.

by Madeleine Milmaud (f)
2.50 New Records.
4.55 News
5.00 Martly for Pleasure: another of Jack Brymer's selections.
6.30 Musc for Organ: Graham Barber, in the Royal Festival Hall, plays Gordon Crossa's Passacaglis (Artemis): and Reger's Symphonic Fantasia and Fugue: Op 57 (inferno): f
7.00 Thunder from the Right: Richard Grenier, him ortic of the American monthly Commentary talks to Philip French about US famigoers, New York's liberal film critics, and the failings of Hollywood.
7.30 Aldeburgh Festival 1984: Simon Rattle conducts the City of Birmingham Sol in the Snape Maitings concert, relayed live. Part one. With Jean-Philippe Coffard (piano). Britten's An American Overture: Takemitsu's A footel descendence the Miles.

American Overture: Takemitsu s A flock descends into the Pentagonal Garden; and Ravel's Piano Concerto in G.† Pleasure, Voyages and the Mad Doctor of Canton: First of three 8.25 programmes compiled from the memoirs of the 18th century 8.45

two, Brahms's (orch Schoenberg)
Plano Quartet in G minor, Op 25.1 2.35 Mad as the Mist and Snow: A sequence of poems, compiled by Joan Hart.
9.55 St Magnus Trio: Spedding's
Three Old English Songs; Peter Maxwell Davies's Sea Eagle for solo horn: Two prayers: Britten's St Nicholas; Peter Maxwell
Davies's St Magnus; and

CHANNEL As London except:
1.20pm News. 1.30
FBm: Tiger Bay*. 3.30-4.00 Animals In Action. 5.15-5.45 Whose Baby* 6.00
Chamnel Report. 6.30-7.00 Spice of Life
9.00-10.00 Irish R.M. 10.34 Cartoon.

ULSTER As London except 1.20pm Lunchtime. 1.30 Film: Diamonds (Robert Shaw). 3.30-4.00 Whose Baby? 5.15-5.45 Survival. 8.00 Good Evening Ulster. 6.30-7.00 Spice of Life. 9.00-10.00 Hotel. 10.30 Church Report. 11.00 Hill Street Blues. 11.55 News. Closedown, ends

YORKSHIRE As London except: 1.20pm News. 1.30
Film: She (Ursula Andress). 2.30-4.00
Gierroe. 5.15-5.45 Sälver Spoons. 6.00
Calendar. 6.30-7.00 it's a Vet's Life. 9.00-10.00 Culncy. 10.30 Calendar Commentary. 11.00 Jackson Route. 12.00 Closedown.

ANGLIA As London except: 1,20pm News, 1,30 Film: She (Ursula Andress): 3,30-4,00 Whose Baby? 8,00 About Angla, 5,30-7,50 Diffrent Strokes, 10,39 Angla Reports, 11,00 Hill Street Blues, 12,00 All Kinds of Country, 12,30am Personal View, Closedown.

CURZON, CHITON St. W1. 499 STST. Curlos Saura's CARMEN (15), Film at 2.00, 4.10, 6.20, 8.40. "Not to be paissed" Odn, LAST WESK, From Pri THE RETURN OF MARTIN GLARRE (15).

19.40 Film: Deadly Trap. 12.25am

Davies's St Magnus; and Britten's Canticle III,†

Trio.1 11.15 News. Until 11.18.
VHF only: Open University.
8.15am Rome Engagering: 6.35
Florantine Renaissance Art;
11.20pm Music of Christiansty. 11.40-12.00 Recycling. 11.40-12.00 Recycling. Medium only: 10.56-6.30pm Fourth day of the First Test between England and the West Indias

10.30 Jazz Today, with the Evan Parker

Radio 2

News on the hour. Major bulletins: 7.90am, 8.00, 100pm, 5.00 and 12.00 midnight. Headlines: 5.30am, 6.30, 7.30, -8.30 (MF/MW). 4.00am Colin Berry, 1 5.36 Ray Mooreting 6.15 Pauss for Thought. 7.30 Tarry Wonghied 8 of Region Bulletin

Moorefind 6.15 Pause for Thought, 7.30 Terry Woganfind 8.31 Racing Bulletin. 8.45 Pause for Thought, 10.00 Jimmy Young, 112.00 Kan Brutefind 1.85; 2.02 Sports Desk, 2.05 Gloria Humintendinct 3.02 Sports Desk, 2.30 Music All The Wayland 4.02 Sports Desk, 4.65 Dawd Hamiltoninct 5.05; 6.02 Sports Desk, 6.45 Sport and Classified Results (mf only) 7.30 Circket Scores, 8.00 Alan Del with Dance Band Desk end Bin Rand only) 7.30 Cricket Scores. 8.00 Alan De with Dance Bend Days and Big Band Ers.! 9.00 Humphrey Lyttleton with The Best of Jazz. 19.55 Sports Desk. 10.00 Cast, in Order of Disappearance Sixpart thriller series starring Francis Matthews and Fiona Hendley. (5) Stapstock Scene. 10.30 Star Sound with Nick Jackson and soundtrack requests 11.00 Brian Matthew presents Round michight (stereo from midnight, 1.00am. Patrick Lunt presents Nightride.? 3.00-4.00 Folk on 2 with Jen Lloyd.?

Radio 1

News on the half-hour from 8.30am until 9.30pm and at 12.00 midwight (MF/MW). 6.00am Bruno Brookes 7.00 Mike Read. 9.00 Smoon Bates 11.30 Gary Davies, including 12.30 Newsbeat 2.00 Stave Wright. 4.38 Jance Long, including 5.30 Newsbeat 7.00 David Jensen. 10.00-12.00 John Pest. VHF Radios 1 and 2: 4.00em With Radio 2: 10.00pm With Radio 1.12.00-4.00 With Radio 2.

WORLD SERVICE

5.00am Newsdeek. 6.30 Baker's Hart Dozen.
7.00 World News. 7.08 Twenty-Four Hours
7.30 Serah and Company 8.00 World News
8.09 Reflections 8.15 Visiette. 8.30 Anything Gose 8.00 World News 8.09 Review of the British Press 9.15 Waveguide 9.25 Good
10.15 The Future of Work 11.00 World News
11.09 News About Britain 19.54 nice Cream
War 11.30 Omnibis 12.00 Racio Newsreat
12.15 Bran of Britain 1984 12.45 Sports
Round-up. 1.00 World News. 1.05 Twenty-ForHours. 1.30 The Cambridge Buskers. 1.45
Instinate Voices 2.30 Pagagent of the Past 3.00
Radio Newsreat. 3.15 Outlook. 4.00 World
News. 4.08 Commentary 4.15 Resins, Iberia.
4.30 The Future of Work. 8.00 World News
4.09 Twenty-Four Hours. 8.30 Sports
International 8.00 London Royat. 8.15 An IcyCream War. 8.30 Coustaepont. 10.00 World
News. 10.00 The World Today 19.25 Book
Choice. 10.30 Intravide. 10.40 Reflections.
19.45 Sports Rounday. 11.90 World News
1.05 Gritish 1994, 12.00 World News
1.20 Commentary. 11.15 Iberia, Iberia. 11.30
Brain of British 1994, 12.00 World News
1.2.30 Intraview 10.40 11.50 Book
News About British. 12.15 Radio Newsreal.
12.20 Intraview Voices. 1.15 Outlook. 1.45 SuchSweet Harmony. 2.00 World News. 2.09
Review of the British Press. 2.15 Condon. WORLD SERVICE

adventurer William Hickey. Aldeburgh Festival 1984: Part two. Brahms's (orch Schoenb 12.30 Intimate Volces. 1.15 Outdook. 1.45 Such-Sweet Harmony, 2.00 World News. 2.09 Review of the British Press. 2.15 London Royal. 2.30 Sports International, 3.00 World News. 3.09 News About British. 3.15 The World Today, 3.39 John Peel. 4.45 Interlude. 4.55 Reflections. 8.00 World News. 8.09 Twanty-Four Hours. 5.45 The World Today: (All times in GMT)

TYNE TEES As London except 1.20pm News and Lookeround. 1.30 Look Who's Talking.
2.00 Film: Bleck Fox. 3.30-4.00
Definition. 5.15-5.45 Just Our Luck. 6.00
News. 6.02 Rage and Riches. 6.30-7.00
Northern Life. 3.00-10.00 Quincy. 10.32
Briefling. 11.00 Film: Sign it Death. 12.00
River Tees Festival, Closedown.

CENTRAL As London except: 1,20pm News, 1,30 Firm. Tiger Bay (Hayley Mills), 3,30-4,00 Young Doctors, 5.15-5.45 Newshound, 6.00 News, 6.30-7.00 Take 30, 9.89-19.00 Quincy, 10.35 Contrasts, 11.05 Derkroom, 12.05am Contact, 12.20 Closedown,

SCOTTISH As London except:
1.20pm News. 1.30
Film: The Stick-up (David Sout). 3.304.00 Glenroe. 5.15-5.45 Amazing Years of the Cinema. 6.00 Scotland Today
8.30 Hear Here. 6.45-7.00 Crime Deck.
10.35 Ways and Means. 11.05 Late Cad.
11.10 Mysteries of Edgar Wallace*.
12.10am Closedown.

TSW As London except: 1.20pm News. 1.30 Film: Tiger Bay' (Hayley Milts). 3.30-4.00 Animals in Action. 5.15-5.45 Whose Baby? 5.00 Today South West. 6.30 Sportsweek. 9.00-10.00 Irish RM. 10.35 Postscript. 19.40 Film: Deadly Trap (Faye Dunaway), 12.28am Closedow

WHAT THE SYMBOLS MEAN.

† Stereo.  Black and white. [r) Repeat.

WI. 629 6176, THE MEROIC AGE important British Landscapes an Portraits 1650-1850, Unit! 3 August Mon-Fri 9.30-5.30; Thurs unit! 7.

TITEATHE	St. Cov Cdn. 379 6665. Tom's 11pm:	ł
THEATRES	POPPIE NONGENA	l
HURCHILL THEATRE, Brombey (18	Mon. Sat Spin. Stirring T. Out. Stumming Obs. Triumphani C. Limits.	ł
THE VICTOR AND ASSOCIATION OF THE PARTY OF T		l
CRAIG, GAYLE HUMMICUT,	DRURY LANE THEATRE ROYAL O: 836 8108 07-240 9060 07-240 9060 07-240 9067 PAVID REPORTS Award Williams Broadway Mapical	l
DOCTORS DILEMMA Mon-Fri 7.45	DAVID MERRICK'S	ı
Set 8 0 Mat June 21 & July 5 2.30 June 23 & July 7 4.30pm.	Award Winning Broadway Montoni 42ND STREET	ı
OLIGHIEM 634 3141 or 2405258	Drawlessed Street July 04 Charles Ave 2	l
The incomparable CHINESE ACRO- BATS direct from Chungians 2 wis.	Circum States C1-930 6123 Box Office Open Booking until July '85.	l
ordy from Mon. next 25 June until	\ 	ı
only from Mon. next 25 June until Set 7 July Nily 7.30 Mais Wed & Set. 2.30. 60 Fantastic Acrobats.	BEST MUSICAL*	ł
Cymnasis, Dancers, Magicians & Trick Cyclists, This. £3,30 to £12,50.	The Observer	ł
OMEDY 01-930 2578, CC 859 1438	SNOOPY	ı
Eves 8. Fri & Sat 6 and 8.45	NOW POOLENE THE BUSICAL OF THE POOLENE THE SUBJECT THE ARLE OF T	ı
BEST MUSICAL	OVER 300 HARMAN THE MALE	ŀ
Standard Drame award. BEST MUSICAL N.Y. Drame Critics. BEST MUSICAL N.Y. Drame Desk.	CC 631 1101, Group Balles 530 6123 Tax. Wat, Ther 8.00. Fit & Std 6.00 and 8.30 SURDAY'S AT 1.00 "With Sunday croup! Cate' had better seeded est. 13, Mitror.	١.
BEST MUSICAL N.Y. ONLY CRISICS. THE INTERNATIONAL SMASH HIT	Fit & Sat 6.00 and 8.30	ŀ
MUSICAL COMEDY.	"With Second ground 'Cate' had	ľ
LITTLE SHOP	better seelek out." D. Mirror	l
OF HORAGRE LLOSSON OF MADE TO DING.	FORTUNE One Gds 836 2236, CC 741	ł
LOVED IT - HOPE IT RUNS FOR A 1,000 YEARS TIME OF EATS AT SOME PERFS PROMES	9999/379 6453, Oras 930 6123, Evas 8.0. Mais Thur 3.0, Gat 4.30, LIONEL BLANK	l
SEATS AT SOME PERPS PROM SE Group Sales Box Office 930 6123
	MR CINDERS
OTTESLOS 928 2252 cc 928 5933 S' (National Theodry's small andi- torium – low price listo, Todoy 2,30 & 7,30, Mon 7,30 & June 19 & June	In there starthing more unsetud in Lossow Comments & starth Charles to the Charles of the Post Charles of the POST UNIT OF THE CHARLES OF THE
& 7.30, Mon 7.30 & June 19 & June	FORTUNE do you have that?" D. Tele.
22 & 25 the Politer Price winning GLENGARRY GLEN ROSS. by	is a delightyou wonder why
David Memet	is a delight. You wonder why British developed in inve of the Broadway powice! "F. Times. "Aft CHECERS	ľ
RITERION, 5 930 3216 or 379 6866	"Affi CHEVER'S an absolute winner — a total delight"
11 9999/379 6433, Cirp blags. 836 862. Mon to Fri 8.0. Thurs. Mist 2.30. Set 8.30 & 8.30	SECOND YEAR	i
US 1 USERS OF CONSTANT COMPANY IN		1
"A PERFECT EXAMPLE OF	GARRICK CC S 01-836-4601. Even 8.00. Wed Mat 3.00. Set 5.00 5 8.00.	1
DESCRIPTION AT THE .	8.00 Wed Mai 3.00 Sat 5.00 & 8.00, 14th MYSTERICAL VEAR, LONGEST RUMNING COMEDY IN THE WORLD	,
BESI Datis Mail	NO SEX. PLEASE -	1
ASKWITH LAVENDER SERVARD BRESSLAW IS	WE'RE BRITISH	Ì
DIN FOR YOUR WIFE	2 HOURS OF NON-STOP LAUGISTER	ì

RUN FOR YOUR WIFE WITTEN & MITTER SECONEY OW HITTEN SECONEY SPLITTING YEAR "OUTRAGEOUSLY FUNNY" UNIX OF YORKS O1-856 812

1 806 907/379 6433 O-048 648

30 6123 Evgs Corly Mon-Set 8-8ps

GLENDA JACKSON

BRILAN COX. EDWARD

BRILAN COX. EDWARD

HATELDINE & JOHN FHILLIPS

HAZELDINE & JOHN FHILLIPS STRANGE INTERLUDE STRANGE INTERCLUDE
by Eugene O'Helli
Directed by Keith Heri
Ne excluse theatre eyest sen effect in the E. Com. These Jackmen relations to one of her greatest
I. An undergatrable therefore stimus T. Thron. Ergeddes more stimus T. Thron. Ergeddes more relating T. Taronariable shows a refer to setup T. Out.

FROM TICKETMASTER

RRICK CC S 01-826 4601. Even D West Mar 3.00. Ref 5.00 3 8.00 IN MYSTERICAL VEAR, LONGEST RINING COMEDY IN THE WORLD NO SEX. PLEASE -WE'RE BRITISH
2 HOURS OF NON-STOP LAUGHTER
DIVISION BY Allen Davis
CC 579 6453. Quoy name 01-50 6123
OVER 8,000 FARTASTIC PERFS. COMMENT OF THE YEAR
Bodony of West End Tuesdre Award
DAISY PULLS IT OFF
by Decine Despan
Dryched by Javid Chinory
"Full MARKE FOR DARRY" and
"I'd be surprised if a more estepable creation than the came up the year
F.T. Even S.CO. Men. West S.CO. Ser S.CO.
COMP Sales 906 5125.
"THE HE AND ASSOCIATE MOOT AND A SCREEN STREET.
SECOND SHART YEAR TREE CONTROL THEATRE CI. Set 1754 Eventupe at 7.45, 145 Set 4.00. HTMATE SECTION ASS. Avcidence. To modern dramatic is more adopt stranging Guerdan, patricip well openwed and very funny. THIES, HARPETTEAD THEATTHE 722 SCOT Sylvestra La Touget, Tymoger Sylvestra La Touget, Tymoger Sylvestra La The WAR AT HOUSE, A tow play by James Dark Lya 6.00 de 1824 4.00. HAYMARKIT THEATHE BOYAL 9832 Crosp Sides 930 6123, Red p proviews tonight and memorrow. Op CLAUDETTE RKX COLBERT DORRIGE WARRYOUSE, Earlies B. Cav Cat. 379 6565. Tell 1 Sent Cat. 379 6565. Tell 1 Sent Cat. 379 6565. Tell 1 Sent Cat. 370 6565. Group Sales Sto 6128.

POPPIE NONGENA
Mon. Sal Sen. Starting T. Out. WEST SIDE STORY
Stammard One. 371 April 1 Sent Cat. 1 Sent Cat. 371 658 6565. WEST SIDE STORY
"THE BEST MUSICAL EVER
WHITEN GO ON THRELI YOURSELF" CBY LIMBS, TENGER
CLICKING GOOD SENDERS
VIETANT DANCING, MARVELLOUS
SONGS Maid on Sen, Moo-F1 ever
7.20, Set 5.0 & 2.0, Main Wed 2.50,
From July 5 as Sec Main 4.45. PARIS AFTER DARK Pasturing Enroppi's most beautiful Patulous Specialities, Smuttona structions star success artist from the world of showbushness. COCST ALLS CARAFET, DANCING, Dinner available throughout the eventure, Open 7.20-36za. OMBOM PALLADRIM 01-437 7873 Evel 7.30, Mais Wed & Set 2.45 FIRST EVER STAGE PRODUCTION PREST EVER STACE PRODUCTION
TOMMY STRELL IN SINGIN' IN THE RAIN
WES BRY CASTLE
SENGING IN THE RAIN HAS BROUGHT THE ROIN HAS BROUGHT THE SEG LAVEST
WITH A VENCEANCE, LAVEST END
WITH A VENCEANCE, LAVEST END
COSTUMES, CLITTERING BUSINES
"A TREINING FOR FOLLY SOOD
"A TREINING FOR STEELL" S. Tol.
Credit Carl Hottman CL-43; 7875 TO 1-457 2066, NOW BOOMER'S TO FERRICATY 1998.

VERC HARMSTEEDSHITH S. CC. 749. YES HANNIERSMITH 5 CC 743. 1311. Left week Even 7.48, Mar Tour 1.30. Sat 4.0. BLACK BALL GAME A Comedy by Don Webb. "Very Funny Settre" Times. "A cleaver and most amosting contacts" Std. 1 YRC STUDIO: Evps 8.0 75 REVOL-UTIONS by Michael Wilcox.

YNEC THEATER Shathesbury Ave Oi-AST 3686 S OC 434 1080, Orp Salan SOC 6123. Even 7.30, Wed Main 3.0, Salan 6.0 & 8.15 "PACK OF LESS" IS THE WEST END AT ITS BEST Specimen MICHAEL MARY WILLIAMS MILLER BARBARA LEICH-HUNT PACKOF CHES Description of the control of the co YTTELTON 928 2282 or 928 5983 S (National Theatr's procession state), Ton't 7.48, Tomor 3.00 (low or to make 7.48, Tomor 3.00 (low o RICHARD TODD ENIC LANDER, VIRGINIA STI ERIC LANDER, VIRGINIA STRIDE IN
THE BUSINESS OF MURDER
The best thriller for year," 2 Adr.
"As unabsolved winner" 2 Emp "A driller find achieves it all Settsetternal Times. The most inquition mystery to have appeared in a dende.
A play in he sup " 1969 Mag.

OVER 1250 PERFORMANCES

KINGS HEAD. 226 1916. End Jomes PICCAPILLY. Open from Tom to 2am COUNT ALLS - SUPPLY - DANCING COUNT MIDMIGHT CARARET DATE BYTERLUDES by Stewart Street Warm, teader and very may D. Yel Dar 7 Show 8. NATIONAL THEATRE South Bank NATIONAL THEATRE COMPANY COTTESLOR

Consider these make day of perAll 3 Divestme from 10em.

RESTAURANT (952 2033) EASY
CAR PAIR. ARE COMBITTONING.
TOURS OF THE BUILDING (no backstage) £1.75. Inc. 633 0880. EW LONDON OF Drury Lane WC2 n-406 0072 or 02-404 A079. Even A65 type 6 Set 3.0 6 7.45. THE ANDREW LLOYD WEBSIEN T. S. ELOT BYTEMATIONAL AWARD WINNING MUSICAL AWARD WINNING MUDICAL CATS Group, Bookings (1.408-1567 or 01930 6122 (Apply 48by to Ben Office for WINTED LAT COMMISS AND 166
WINTED AND ARREST PROTOSE IS IN WOM BOOKING TO 2 MARCH 1988.
THE LONGER YOU WAIT
THE LONGER YOU'L WAIT OLD VIC. 988 7616. CC 261 1821 Even 7.30. Wed Index 2.30. Sebs. 4.00 A 7.45. ALBERT FUNRY, SELECE ATRICO, MAX WALL, GRAHAM CROWDER, ALUM ARMOTEOMS SERJEANT MUSGRAVE'S, VIC 928 7618 CC 621 THE BOYFRIEND ROOKING NOW OPER

DANCE

A GREAT STOCKHOOL A

START LINE PRINCIPLE OF THE CALL HERE OF THE C Low price previews from 12 July, sens 18 July for thouad 4 week DPEN AIR REGENT'S PARK 5 456
2431 CC 377 6433 CC HOUNG 486
1933 A MIDSURMER NIGHT'S 1933. A MEDGURIMER MIGHT'S DREAM red sicke seve tonight. Opens Their Eves 7.45. Main Wed, Thurs & Sat 2.50. PALACE THEATRE 457 6834 ct 457 8327/379 6433. Group Gains Box Office 830 6123 NATALIA MAKAROVA RODGERS AND HART'S

OLIVIER 928 2282 or 928 5933 'S' (National Theolite's open state), Ton')
(7.16. Degr. May 2 to 4
MANDRAGOLA by Machiavam, Pernase not sumane) for children),
Tonar 7.15, they well to June 27 & July 5 to 9 50175 b DOLLS, (New booking until end Aug). ON YOUR TORS

"Run to see this show". Daily Man

"ON YOUR TORS of the London

"ON YOUR TORS contains more low

"Increase the London

"Increase the London PHOSPINX (8) 01-536 2284 (8611 Groups $50 61-51 Ct. 761 9898 SIAN PHILLIPS and MORRISON IS PEG The "PEG OF MY HEART" Maining "GONGEOUS", DELIGHTFUL" god. "PEG MI THE GIRL FOR ME" JOCK TRIEST, DUTY MAIN DWS, MAIN THEY SEE 64-8-30

Starting Arturn Breakerti
Dr. Jess Mario Blefare
"INFEST/OURD RY GOOD-RATURED
EXOTIC PAST NOVIME
THERE TO ASTONIE TIME OUT
"A HEROLOGICAL TIME OUT
"A HEROLOGICAL TIME OUT
"A HEROLOGICAL TIME OUT
"A HEROLOGICAL TIMESENDOUS SPECTACLE TIMESENDOUS
AN EVENING FROM C2.80
Resorvetions 457 4506. Credit cards
579 6565/379 6433/741 9999. Grps.
556 3966. PEINCÉ ÉDWARD, Tel 01-457 6877 8 Tim Rice and Andrew Lloyd Webber's EVITA
THE WORLD'S MOST
MUSICAL Dir. by Hal Prince, Evgs. 8.0. Main Thurs & Set at 3.0. Evg. perfs end 10.15, C.C. Hottine 439 8499; 37. 6433 Grp Sules 930 6123 or Box Off. PRINCE OF WALES THEATRE OF 950 8681 /4 or Hother 01-930 0844// Group rates 930 6128 Group sales 950 6125

RUSS ARBOT

SHEELA WHITE

"AMONG THE SHEELT BLOCK."

"AMONG THE SHEELA BLOCK."

TIME JEROLUS SPOOF.

THE FURNISH HUSSCAL OF GUE

THE FURNISH HUSSCAL

NEW YORK EVER SENT US

EVILETIANT SCORE SPANISHS

PRECISION OF MR FORDE'S DANICH

FRECISION OF MR FORDE'S DANICH

SPANKLES D. T.L. FOSTITYELY

SPANKLES D. T.L. FOSTITYELY

SPANKLES SCORE SPANISHS

MERTI SCOREDAL SPLENDED D.

MERTI SCOREDAL SPLENDED D.

MERTI SCOREDAL SPLENDED D.

METOL Mirror. Evgs 7.50. Mats Thurs & Sale at 3.00 Special reto for GAP a students, children (azi, Sat ave). Redused price Thurs Mats.

PRICE THE MAKE.

GUESNS THEATRE THE DI-734 1166,
01-734 0261, 01-734 0120, OP SAME
930 6123. A MAGNIFICENT PERPORMANCE BY LED DIRECTORY THEA OUT.

A PLAY OF GREAT THEATRICAL CURRENC SHARPLY
ELIGANTLY AND THICALLY
COMMEND IT SIM, THEM
COMMEND IT SIM, THEM
LY ALL THEM
L LEO McKERN NUMBER ONE NUMBER UNE
The brillant new comedy by JEAN AMOURLY
Adapted by MICHAEL FRAVN
Directed by RUSERT CHETWYN Eyes 8.00, Male Weds 3.00
hts 8.00 & 2.12, WID MATRIES 9
PRICE. PRICE.

RAYMOND REVUERAR CC 734
1593, Mon-Sat 7 pm. 9 pm. 11 pm.
Pari Raymond Property The FESTIVAL OF ENGINEE. Now
More new acce. Hore new thribs.
More new scenations. The world's centre of crotic entertainment. 27th great year.

RIVENEEDE STUDIOS 742 3354. THE BLACK THEATRE COOPERATIVE present REDEMENTION SONG by Edger Willia. Ends Sun. Eves 8.00
(cottagt Mens). Starting Vision
Beamers Ryens, Melassian Frederick, Beamers R

THREE SUPERS SHOWS HIRE PHAFORE "The function stickes missical in town," F.Tms. ", where," F.Tms. "Excellent" 1 True, gweeneralenes "Excellent" F.
Third. SijiAALSI EARS COMPANY in Third SijiAADO "Should not be missed" D. Eig.
MikADO. Opens 7.30.
Tomor 7462
MikADO. Opens 7.30.
Tomor 7462
MikADO. Opens 7.30.
MikADO. Opens 7.30.
MikADO. Opens 7.30.
Tomor 7462
MikADO. Opens 7.30.
MikADO. Opens 7.30

NOVAL COUNT THEATRE UPSTAIRS 750 2554 COMPLICATIONS by Best. Eyes 7.20, SAVOY. Box Office 01-836 9888 Credit Cards 01-379 6219/836 0479 Evgs 7.45, Wed 3.00, Sat 8.00 & 8.30 THE AWARD WINNING WEST END & BROADWAY COMEDY HIT HARRIS PLEATING CHIRT PLEATING CHIRT TOPHER GODWIN HERMAND HOLLY NOISES OFF Directed by Michael Harris Inc. 1902. Directed by Michael Blakemor har two years Michael Pro-medy is still wildly funny. The OVER 200 PERFORMANCE EMAPTERBURY 236 6596/4255 CC 741 5999 Crp Sales 980 6125 Type 8.0 Wed rests 5.00 Sale 8.00 & 8.50 THEA THE OF COMEDOY COMPARTY PTIES OT TOOLE "A Stay Pariformanios from a Stay Pariformanios from a Sales Autor 1.00 "Splendid Doolithe" D. Tvi JACK 1.00

JACKIE SMITH-WOOD PYGMALION Directed by RAY COONEY PHAFTEEBURY 836 6595/4255 CC
41 9999. Group mass 930-6128.
Hodood price preve July 10. 11 (mass)
July 12. Mee-Taur 82.80 is 360. Wed mus 61.80. 10.55.80. Fri &
361 82.80 is 89.00.

THEATTE F COMMENT COMPANY MARKED MOORA LESTER

GOLETTE GERESON

A FUTENCY STILLED. A FRIEND INDEED
by WILLIAM DOUGLAS HOME
Directed by JAN BUTTLIN
FOR S WEEKE GMLY
MOX OFFICE NOW OPEN ST GEORGP'S THEATRE, 607 1128 Turnell Park Road, Islington N7 ELVI HALE HALE HUPTCHIL

THE TAKING OF THE SHREW.
Every Fr. & Sat 7.30
TWELFTH RIGHT
Every Thure 7.30 TRAND WC2 01-036 2660/4143/ 190 Evg. 7.30, Matthews Wet 2.30 Saturdays 5.0 & 8.30, SERVICE S.O. 4.8.30.
BEST PLAY OF THE YEAR
NEW YORK TONY AWARD
NEW YORK DRAMA CRITICS AWARD
NEW YORK DRAMA CRITICS AWARD
LONDONST AND ARD AWARD 1982
LONDONST AND ARD AWARD 1982
LONDON PLAY BAYERS
PAIR SHELLEY LERBY OULAYLE
D TOMETOPPARD'S THEREALTHING STRATFORD-UPON-AVON Royal Shakespeare Theatre (0789) 295623. ROYAL SHAKESPEARE

ROYAL COURT S. CC 730 1745.

OPERA FACTORY LONDON MINISTRA COURT S. COVERN LONDON MINISTRA VAUDEVELE 01.436 9968/836 8648 Ewe 7.45, Wal 2.30, Set 8.0 & 2.30. PATRICIA OLIVER HOSSE COTTON BERTON PAGOT-SMITH SERRINA MICHAEL FRANCE NEW PROVIDED MICHAEL FRANCE NEW PROVIDED BEGHASL FRAYN'S New Play BENEFACTORS
DEVELOP TORS
DEVELOP BEST ACTED
HEW FLAY BETTOWN PURCH.
"A PROPOUNDLY OF DEBISH ACTED
HEW FLAY BETTOWN PURCH.
"A PROPOUNDLY OF DEBISHAL FLAY
"THE BEST AND OBSERT CHAPTERS.
AND FAST TOWN AND EXALTED BY ITT GRANGERY. AND THE THE ATTER SAN THE ATTER SAN THE SAN TH FATTY COOK THE A TO SEE Ophorn's Award-Y Broadway Comedy MORNING'S AT SEVEN Diverted by Wylen Mutalon
WYNDHAME'S & 836 3020 OC 37
6060/741 9999/379 6453. Gree 836
3965. Even 8, Wed main 3, Sat 5 4
8,30

20.
A Thesity of Comedy Presentation
CHONGNOL Y FUNNY S Temes
RAMPY FOR TER
LUCY PARTYT
LU PASSION PLAY "MAGNIFICENT CURRENTLY HAS NO EQUAL Obs.
re-show dinner Tourseent d'Amour
Stalls or Circle seets £14.40. TOURS VIC 928 6563. Props 5 July 57-488 AND HENS by Willy Russell FTUDO: Eve 7-46, Suf may 2.16 The JAR. DIARY OF ALBUM $4,654. DIARY OF ALBUM $4,654. DIARY DE STORY CINEMAS DENY 1. 437 2061. Federico Dell's AND THE SHEP SAILS ON 2 et 1.15 (not Sun). 3.36. 4.00. TADEMY 2, 437 5129, Victor Drice's THE SOUTH (U): At 2,30 (not Sun). 4,30, 6,40, 2,80.

CADEMY 2. 437 8819. Parviz SPANN Prize-witching THE BESION (PG). Prop. 4.10, 6.20, 2.30. SANDEN PLAZA 485 2443. Maurice Pinight Prinswinning Sim TO OUR LOVES (10) Flan at 2.05 4.15 6.50 3.60 Delty. SEU JERGY.
SPEZ CHREMA 381, 3742, Komp.
Stend, SWZ. (Sherrer Tube Stenne Sa.) Englan Paley.
Gim organ Marcindae Mill Walling
Gim organ Marcindae Mill Walling
Gim Greek Sherry, Alexy (PG).
Eng. Statistics. Fing at 1.58, 4.10.
628, 2.45.

LEICESTER SQUARE THEATHE (NO 50250 CHARLES BRONSON IN THE EVIL THAT MEE DO (16). SAY PROSE 1.46. 4.05. 4.25. 8.50. ADVANCE BOOKING EVENINGS & WEEK ENDS. TELEPHONE BOOKINGS WITH ACCESS AND VISA WELCOME. WELCOME.

LIMIERE CONTRIAL $36 D691.

MOTHIN'S LIME. WC2 Descret T.

Lecester St.) JEREMY RONS

SWAMM IN LOVE (18). "DEMAN

TO BE SEEN" Observer. "Simple sent of a film." S Telegraph. For 1,48. 4.00. 6.20. g.45. ADVAN

BOOKING for 6.20 & 8.45 perfe or Accomp./Van. ACCEST / VIB.

INFEMA 45. YEMINGHT SERREDGE 7el
235 4225/5. British Premiur & Osca
Prize Winner for Bed Forvier
Lancauge Firm. 70 Bedge
ASIAIM (PG). (Volver a Temperar)
Chantish dialogue-Ere, substitled
Dailyr 3.0, 5.0, 7.0, 9.0. Eve. Prog.
Bocksable in sevance WE COME.

DEEDN EDCESTER SOLIARE (230 61/1) lafe, 330 4260/4259. THE MAKED FACE (18) Sep prosp. Doors open 1.15 4.30 7.44. ADVANCE
BOOKING FOR LAST PERFORMANCE DISLY BY DOST OR AT BOX OFFICE.
CHOCKES AND YEAR
SCOKENG ONLY. DOGON MARRIE ARCH (723 2011)
BREAKDANCE (PC). Seb props.
Doors open 1.45. 4.00, 6.16, 8.30, DOOR SPEN LAS. 4.00, 6.16, 8.30.

PREMISSEE CHREMA CS Shaftestur
Ave. 734 5414. Stobel Insurance
ALLAD OF BARRAVAMA (12) (see ERICH). Grand Prix women Cames
S. See parts 2.00 (not Sun). 5.00
2.16. Seebs EX. All perts Mon an Hall. These Princ I 2.0, Seeded corcustion for students C2.00. Last perts bath. The Cames (Vinn. for Sevence Description Prop Info Tell-EDATA O
2010 6200. 200 G2DO.

CREATE ON BASKIN ST. Tel:
CREATE ON BASKIN ST. Tel:
705 2772.

(1) William Hart in the counsty his of the year Thick had Crist. (15) 2.65.
5.00, 7.00, 9.00.

(2) 1.4 RALAMECZ (1sp. 2.46, 4.66,
7.06, 9.16.

(71/5st 11.16) Chub show hat.

Weunds. Tichets booksbie. Lic. Bar.

CREAN ON THE HALL 435 536 Award winning MAN OF PLOWIN (181 5.16 5.16 7.16 9.15 Lie be Club show and memb. THE BLECTRIC SCREEN 229 3094
James Stavent & Dorte Day is HTCHOOCK THE MAN WHA
GREEN TOO SHUCK! (PGS 2.00, 4.20
6.40, 9.00, Chap plow - put Merab. ART GALLERIES Will 629 6176 Pre-Raphaelin Will 629 6176 Pre-Raphaelin Druwings and 19th Century Schiphure, Unit 27 July. Mon-Pri 9.20-6.30: Thurs until 7. 9 NG-6.30: There used 7.

BROWER & DARRY, 15 Cock & W. 1.

OL-705 FRM. PAIRICK GEORGE
Frend pointing.

CRAME GALLENY, for the best in English, Natve at and Americana.
Residea. golds. weather value.
decays furniture. 1716 Score
MAYMARD CALLENY (Arts Coursell).
Booth Brow. London Ed.,
1004: DOLLEN ROBANESSCUE ARY
Until 8 July. Mon-West 10-8. Thursday
10-6. Sun 12-6. Recorded him 01
261 0127.

METTER LEGRARY, C. RUSSEL S WCI. RENAISSANCE PAINTING I MANISCRIPTE RALEIGH AN ROANGKE: THE PERST ENGLIS COLONY IN AMERICA 1584-9 WARRY 10-5.BUD 2.50-6. AUT ITS. EDICI GALLERY, 7 Crafton St. Bo St. W1. Recent maintings by Char JULE R. HEAVE Retrespective Exhibition 11th June - 6th July Open Galleries 43s Date Street, St Jume's, 01-930 7744/6. EFFEVRE GALLERY, 30 British Sirvet, W1, 01-493 1872. XIX & XX century warter of art on view, Mon-Fri 10-8. FT 10-8.

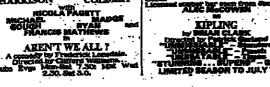

INGER, 13 CM Bornd St. POMPNEY AS ARMYTER OF CHILDREN. Loss Schildren to Bernelli NEPCE. Monthly 19-30-6-30 Set 10-1.

LEMETER FINE ART 9. Herstord Rd. London W2. 01-229 9966. BEN SHAMM, Selective Lightgraphs from Rible Fello. Mon-Set by appointment only. Closed Friday. enth. Closed Friday, mary GALLERY, st Martin's Place, London WC2, 01-450 1682, John Placer Portrait Award 1984, Unitl 2 Sept. New 20th Cen-tury Calleries now open. Adm free Man-Fri 10-8, Sai 10-6, Sun 2-6. Pre-Rephaelitas and Symbolist Surre-Jones, Levy-Onistmer, J. V Waterboom, April Moore Sandys, etc. PSTER RABILIM, Ryder Street, SW. 01-920 408/ Monday-Friday 10.00as9-5.30pm. ROYAL ACADEMY OF ARTS Burlington House, Piccedelly Open 10-6 daily THE SUMMER EXHIBITION Admission: 52, £1.40 congressionary rate and until 1.45 on Sundays (closed 2.5 and 4 July).

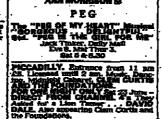

PAINTINGS FROM THE ROYAL ACADEMY on their return them a U.S. tour Admission there. Adminion free

CHILERY (Arthur China) Kensington Cardens, WZ
HANS COPER 1920-1981, peter.
Undi 18 July. Mon-Fri 10-6, Sal-Sun
10-7, Fres. 107-718.
SPHMK, 5 King Street, St. James's,
SW1. Twesscarth Casting Belgish
Vasors of English Sfreet, 12761807 and Teaches or Select. Until 4th July, Mon-Fri 9-30-6-50. TATE GALLERY, Milhank, SWI.
Beckmann's CAGNIVAL, Linii of Joby, SCULPTURE ON THE LANYE Until 15 July Adm free Wadners 10
5.50. State 2 - 6.50. Recorded info VICTORIAN MASTER PAINTINGS
UNTIL 20th JUNE
PAINT DE ARMA-Tade
W-Sones, Ladghion, Tagot etc. OWEN EDGAR CALLERY 9 West Halkin St. Balgravia, SW1 9 West Halkin St. Belgravia, SW1 Tel: 235 8989, Mon-Fri. 10am-5.30pm. Catalog

HARRISON

Decline in full-time jobs worsens

MONDAY JUNE 18 1984

By Barrie Clement abour Reporter

More than a million people have been out of work for more than a year and now account for nearly 40 per cent of the unemployed, a report by the Manpower Services Commission discloses today.

Half of those have been out of work for more than two years and 30 per cent for more than three years or more.

The MSC's quarterly labour report also reveals that the employment increase last year. the first since 1979, was entirely made up of part-time jobs done hy women. Full-time employment continues to fall.

But the report adds that while manufacturing jobs have con-tinued to decline, the service sector sustained its growth. Further encouraging signs came from production figures which showed that output was 3 per cent higher in the last quarter of 1983 than a year earlier - and apparently no longer confined to the consumer goods sector. There were also indications that the recent fall in job vacancy figures has been arrested. However skill shortages in some key occupations appear to be on the increase

The report draws attention to the apparent return of a longterm trend in 1983 of an increase in part-time jobs - which halted temporarily in the depths of the recession - and a decline in full-time jobs. This phenomenon, along with the growth in the population of working age, helps to explain why last year both employment and unemployment figures rose. Most of the extra part-time women workers will have been those who were not entitled to unemployment benefit and therefore not counted as unemployed since the Government changed the rules in 1982. According to the MSC figures the number of full-time jobs, done mainly by men, fell by 2,300,000 between 1971 and 1983, while the number of parttime jobs, occupied mainly by 1.300,000.

Queen starts Ascot week on informal note

The Duke of Edinburgh drives the Queen and Zara Phillips, Right: the Queen arrives at Smith's Lawn with Zara and Peter Phillips.

Ministers block NHS efficiency report

By Nicholas Timmins, Social Services Correspondent

pressed a report on efficiency in refused to publish it as abolish-the National Health Service ing the system would cost the that recommends scrapping the fees authorities can charge for treating victims of road acci-

"detracts from the major task of accident reports to hospitals. patient care" and should be

Derek Rayner when he was with Health ministers have sup- October 1982. They have so far ing the system would cost the health service £2.9m in 1981

The authors of the report. ents, however, argue that while The fees are "anachronistic, abolishing the system would discriminatory, anomalous and cost the service money, it would wasteful of scarce staff and also save health authorities management resources, the almost £1m in management report, one of the Rayner costs, and would save the police scrutinies, says. The system £250,000 spent in submitting It would also save the time of often quite senior managers The report, which is believed who are diverted from more to have had the support of Sir important tasks into dealing discretionary head of the scrutiny unit, has answering complaints and pur-heen with health ministers since suing bad debts.

Under legislation originally almost £90m designed to protect voluntary hospitals before the National Health Service was founded. health authorities can charge the user of any motor vehicle involved in an accident £10.90

for treating anyone injured, whether or not the vehicle user was at fault In addition, up to £1,525 for in-patient and £152.50 for outpatient treatment can be charged to the insurer, but only where a third-party payment is made for the death or injury of the accident victim. In 1981, £3.8m out of a potential £7.6m was collected, when the total cost to the cases, service of treating road accident charges victims was estimated to be

The report argues that the system for collecting the fees, involving victims, vehicle users, insurance companies and the police is so laborious that it can easily take 12 months, and in some cases much longer,

Only motorists are faced with such charges. There is no similar provision for accidents at home work or in sport which produce a much larger workload and cost the NHS

If the charges are retained, the scrutiny suggests the use of a standard form, the pursuit of all cases, and a review of the strange property of causing blisters-if touched in bright sunlight. Wild strawberries have both flowers and

The Portsmouth election result

The Portsmouth election result was bad for the Government, terrible for the Labour Party, and not quite the watershed Alliance would have us believe, according to The Sunday Trases, but Mrs. Thatcher is lucky in that she count on both Labour and the Alliance rejecting the logic of appeals to form a "popular front" against the Tories. The Government may not be secure enough to shrug off a major economic setback, defeat by the miners, or a scandal. "As long as the Government faces a bifurcated opposition, there will always be a opposition, there will always be a temptation shrug off setbacks like last Thursday's".

The Sunday Mirror commends the Portsmouth voters for having "seen through the image" of the Prime Minister, a year after the election "the unemployed are even the like like the side that side the side that the see like to get layer.

less likely to get jobs, the sick less likely to get quick treatment and the gap between rich and poor has fruit on their dainty stems.

The papers

The Queen yesterday began Royal Ascot week on an informal note. It was a day of pure relaxation for her. The Duke of Edinburgh drove her in the Royal car to Smith's Lawn in Windsor Great Park, where they enjoyed pre-lunch drinks and chats with a few dozen people with one thing in common - an interest in horses. Three British horse breeding societies of which the Queen is President were celebrating their centenaries at the Guards Polo Club ground.

After lunch at Windson Castle, the Queen and Duke saw displays by horses from the societies, the National Light Horse Breeding Society, the Hackney Horse Society and the Cleveland Bay Horse Society. Several of the Queen's own horses took part. Growing ap down the line, page 11

Letter from Wakefield A passable Hamlet without the prince

The White Rose is one of the and bitter dispute until we win most common rattoos for victory."

"women against pit closures" Tshirts. It was a further sign of the times that the Coal Queen beauty competition was cantwo hours, yet several thousand celled because of lack of entries.

The speeches took more than two hours, yet several thousand celled because of lack of entries.

to do, it was explained The absence of Mr Arthur was as crowded. chosen months in advance.

play without the Prince.

made clear, this was no ordinary gala. It was "the year

"Mrs Thatcher" won fourth Never mind that he is a prize of £15 in a fancy dress Derbyshire man. He had parade. Mrs Janet Corker, of touched the sacred hem of Normanton, dressed up as a Yorkshire nationalism and they witch for her entry in the approved loudly. contest, and drew roars of The front page of the local applause when she snatched the paper correctly predicted a presenter's microphone to massive turnout even without screech: I can assure you that I Mr Scargill, There was another

Mexborough, who entered as a

Mexborough, who entered as a dustbin "to put scabs in"

The gala, held on Saturday, is also formally a trade union occasion. The area president of the National Union of Mineworkers, Mr Jack Taylor, must officially move a resolution to those who want to listen to that kind of thing. This year, it kind of thing. This year, it began: "The Yorkshire miners are resolved to pursue this long miners and it was much in Speaking passionately to his evidence among the young "own", he made perhaps the colliers, shirts off in the heat at best speech of his career, the Yorkshire Miners' Gala at unencumbered by Mr Scargill's the weekend. It was a reminder presence. The Coal Board, he that this is a young man's strike, argued, wanted to go back to the but many of their wives, old times when it was two days girffriends and mothers wore on and two days off, and touch

The women have better things stood as close as they could to listen. Not even the beer tent

Scargill (and hence of the media circus that attends his every for punishment but they had appearance) was widely re- some rewards. Mr Ray Buckton, marked upon. He was in South the train drivers' leader and this Wales, addressing a rather year's Chairman of the Trade modest rally because he had not Union Congress, went as far as been invited to speak in propriety allowed to castigate Wakefield. The speakers are his fellow members of the TUC General Council for undermi-But Gala Day demonstrated that Hamlet can be a passable that Hamlet can be a passable that the beautiful tha As the official programme tade clear, this was no rdinary sale I was no rdinary sale I was no reserved.

of the organization he repordinary gala. It was not the organization of the strike to save pits and resents went down very well, as jobs." Not that you could miss the message. It was on the lips Skinner, the ex-miner MP for their skinner, the call the said their 20,000 miners and their Bolsover, when he said: This is of 20,000 miners and their Bolsover, when he said: a nis is families, down to toddlers a fight to the finish, and it is nor learning to sing the strike song. "Here we go, here we go, here we go, here we go, here we go."

White Rose."

have never intervened in the interesting item at the foot of the same page: a £2m order to a The winner of the first prize of £50 was Mrs Iris Hill of Burnley pages a £2m order to a local engineering firm for coal-fired boilers to replace gas at a Maybon was a first Hill of Burnley pages will Burnley paper mill.

The boilers will take 20,000

Around Britain

Paul Routledge

. . . . J

હિલામ

Salat N

2.20%

Midge

31. . . .

3 m. . . .

5 1 T

3 Bu ... garrier -

₩ Sided

g Carried Land

Carling. 'Wald on the

That was a

198 a May 120's

≥1

liban pui

W 1941. Zanda: 1 . Salt de la

De P

balink st

Market 15

landen Programme

 $\gamma_{\rm total} \gamma_{\rm tot}$

tions,

Zit^{Vit}

교고

Today's events

Royal engagements

The Queen visits the Royal Highland Show at I ington, 11.45. The Duke of Edinburgh visits Rannoch School, Perthshire, 12.30. New exhibitions Clay on Walls: an architectural approach to ceramics. Collins. Gallery, University of Strathelyde, Richmond Street, Glasgow; Mon to Fr. 10 to 5, Sat 12 to 4, (from today Cathays Park, Cardiff, Mon to Sat 10 to 5, Sun 2.30 to 5; (from today intil Aug 30). New Art: from the Studios, Mappin Art Gallery, Weston Park, Sheffield: Mon to Sat 10 to 8, Sun 2 lo 5; (until July 22).

Paintings and drawings by Sylbert Bolton, E.M. Flint Gallery, Museum and Art Gallery, Lichfield Street, Walsall, Mon to Fri 10 to 6, Sat 10 to 4.45, closed Sun; (until July 14).

Questions about Sculpture, Library Exhibition Gallery, Silbury Boul-evard, Milton Keynes: Mon to Wed

3 Mark my words. Sir. as he did doctors understood in Holy

Hide Roman, but outside the

in comedy he's too generous to

The Solution of Saturday's

Prize Puzzle

No. 16,458

will appear next Saturday

Andrews's creator? (7).

parts of Ushant (7).

hog the limelight (6).

once! (12).

game (5).

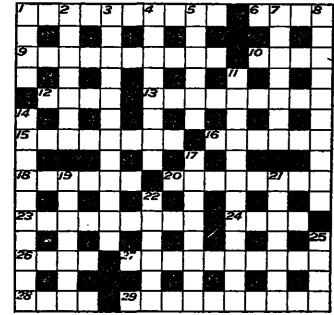

Writ (10).

island (8).

benevolence (6).

ing this monkey? (7).

National Museum of Wales, 9.30 to 6. Thurs and Fri 9.30 to 8. The Times Crossword Puzzle No 16.459

ACROSS

1 Calamitous change to Russia's old penny (10).

6 Article about present compiler is the last word (4). 9 it's no great shakes. Reynard may hope? (10). 10 Tax business concern in a small 12 Beach identified with very cheap

13 European accepts strange quest 11 Course provider of rare statues 15 Always the first 26? Right,

14 See London, perhaps (10). Hannah (8). in the cold (6). 18 Such rubbish for a sports 19 Sportsman occupied like Joseph supervisor to employ! (6). 20 Asks for engineers to imitiate 21 lt's waterught, though cold, in 23 Puccini's first modern alterna- 22

24 Architectural name for a barrier 25 Excursion just before the fall? 26 She's not easy to hunt down in the pack . . . (4), tive to a leader of singing (9).

. . . and her true son could be from Florida (10). 28 Bellman's quarry loses direction in the Channel Islands (4).

29 Command of French in nonsense writer's joint (10).

1 Charge to student provokes fight 2 Stone fish (7).

CONCISE CROSSWORD PAGE 10

The pound

Work by Michael Fell, Patricia Work by Michael Fell, Patricia Regnart, and Christopher Poulton, Halesworth Gallery, Steeple End, Halesworth, Suffolk: Mon to Sat 11 to 5, Sun 3 to 6; (until June 29), 100 Years of Art at Uppingham, Uppingham Art School, Uppingham, Leicestershire; Mon to Sat 11 to 1 and 2 to 8, closed Sun; (from today until July 13)

today until July 13). Exhibitions in progress to 5; (until Sept 26).

Sculpture by F. E. McWilliam,
Gordon Gallery, 36 Ferryquay Street, Londonderry: Mon to Wed and Fri 11 to 5.30. Sat 11 to 1; (until lune 30). Acquisitions of the Year, City Art Gallery, Leeds; Mon to Fri 10 to 6, Wed 10 to 9, Sat 10 to 4, Sun 2 to 5;

Light Years Ahead: The Best of British Holography, City Art Gallery, Exhibition Square, York, Mon to Sat 10 to 5, Sun 2.30 to 5; (until July 22).

Music

Parliament today

nons (2.30): Debate Union Bill, committee, first day.

when exhibitions, fairs and mee ings will be held throughout Britai to celebrate 80 years in which picture postcards have been collected. Details are obtainable from

The week's walks

Tomorrow: Inns of Court, meet Holborn Underground, 11. West-minster and Parliament Square, meet Westminster Underground, 2. Along Regent's Canal to Padding

Sat 10 to 5, closed Sun; (until July

I'd Like A Map - past present National Library of Scotland, George IV Bridge, Edinburgh; Mon to Fri 9.30 to 5. Sat 9.30 to 1, Sun 2

Recital by Arnold Mahon on the Schulze Organ, with Simon Bailey (trumpet). St Bartholomew's Church, Armley, Leeds, 8. Concert by City of Birmingham Symphony Orchestra, Snape Maltings, Aldeburgh, Suffolk, 7.30.

Talks, lectures First Abercromble Lecture: Architecture, Town Planning and Civic Design, by Prof Gordon
Stephenson, Lecture Theatre B, Lecture Rooms Building, Liverpool

defence estimates, first day.

Lords (2.30): London Regional

Transport Bill, third reading, Trade

Postcard Week

Mr Alan Bower, at 21 School Lane. Walton, Wakefield, W Yorks (0924

Today: Charles Dickens' London meet Holborn Underground, 10.30. London's Palaces, meet Embank-ment Underground, 2. Westminster meet Westminster Underground, 2. Chelsea, meet Sloane Square Underground, 7.30.

Nature notes

THE TIMES INFORMATION SERVICE

Nightingales are still singing but will not be heard for much longer. They sing by day as much as by night, but in the daytime their song Australia $ Austria Sch Belgium Fr Canada $ Deumark Kr Finland Mkk 76.50 can be lost in the daytime their song 76.50 can be lost in the powerful chorus of blackbirds, blackcaps and wrens 13.63 that frequent the same overgrown woods. Whitethroats will go on 11.43 singing till the end of July: 3.71 sometimes they deliver their scratchy song from the top of a 10.65 hedge, sometimes they throw the rest the street was the street th France Fr Germany DM Greece Dr sing, then dive down vertically again. At other times they skulk in the nettles. Merlins are hunting for Italy Lira 2410.00 2310.00 335.00 319.00 Japan Yen Netherlands Gld 4.19 10.62 441

Norway Kr food for their young, on moors and nountainsides: they are the smallest Portugal Esc South Africa Rd 190.00 2.02 mountainstoics they are the smallest British hawk, not much bigger than a thrush, but swooping low across the ground they will often kill a bird as big as a redshank. Mainly they Spain Pta Sweden Kr 216.25 205.25 11.53 3.26 witzerland Fr 3.09 USA$ feed on meadow pipits. ugoslavia Dar 186.00 176.00 On the guelder roses, the outer ring of flowers on the white rosettes white flower-bads among the purple, curling leaves of dogwood. Hogweed is out, and giant hogweed is already eight foot tall - it has the Retail Price Index: 351.0. n: The FT Index closed down 0.4 on Friday at 815.8. New York: The Dow industrial average closed 10.71 on Friday at 1086.90.

Roads

London and South-east: A5: londworks on Edgware Road, West Road. A4: Piccadilly: resurfacing of bus lanes causing various restric-tions. A40(M): Resurfacing work or White City flyover, westbo carriageway closed; diversion roundabout.

Midlands and East Anglia: Al: Single lane traffic southbound N of Alconbury at Glatton, Cambridge-shire. As: Contraflow on Derby to Leicester road at Hathern. M5: Contraflow between junctions 3 (Birmingham) and 4 (Bromsgrove). North: A66: Roadworks E of Bowes, between Northbitts and Greta Bridge, Co Durham. A536: Roadworks in Macclesfield from Park Green to St George's Street; diversion. A19: Contraflow near Thirsk by-pass; bridge painting in progress over 10 miles exercise.

progress over 10 mile stretch.
Wales and the West: A338:
Rosdworks on northbound carriageway on spur road (Bournemonth) M4: Contraflow between junction 16 (Swindon) and 17 (Chippen-ham) M5: Lane closures between nami, M.S. Lane cognies between junctions 16 (A38, Filton) and 17; diversion via A38 to junction 16. Scotland: A88: Temporary lights and single lane traffic in Lochane village, Argyll. A977: Single lane traffic between Powmill and Rumbling Bridge, Kinross.

Information supplied by the AA. Anniversaries

Deaths: William Cobbett, Lonion, 1835; Samuel Butler, author of Erewhon, London, 1902; Roald Amandsen, Polar explorer, lost over the Arctic ocean, 1928, Battle of Waterloo, 1815.

Bond winners

vion, meet Camden Town Underground, 6.15. Hannied London, meet Covem Garden Underground, 11. Winning numbers in the weekly draw for Premium Bond prizes are: £100,000: 15PP 054741 (winner lives in Bolton); £50,000: 9LT 260989 (overseas); £25,000: 6KW 247394 (East Sussex).

and Northern Ireland. 6 am to midnight day: generally similar, rather cloudy with occasional rain in NW; very warm with Lighting-up time

Gnerose Inverses Jersey Londos Menches

Pollen forecast TODAY

DJM

Weather forecast

ridge of high pressure will persist over S Britain, whilst frontal troughs cross Scotland

London, SE, central S, E, SW, central N, NE England, East Anglie, Midlands, Channel Islands: Malnly dry, bright or surny periods; wind variable, light; max temp 22 to 25C (72 to 77F). Weles, NW England, Leite District, iste of Man, SW Scotland, Glassjow: Rather cloudy, a few bright intervals in sheltend places: wind SW, light: to deen, Moray Firth: Matriy dry, some bright Intervals, wind SW, moderate; max temp 18 to 20C (64 to 68F). Central Highlands, NE, NW Scotland, Orkney, Shefland, Northern Ireland: Mostly cloudy, outbreaks of rain and Irizzle, hill and coastal log; wind SW, fresh, locally strong; max temp 15 to 17C (59 to 63F). Outlook for tomorrow and Wednes-summy periods in SE. SEA PASSAGES: North Sea, Strait of SEA PASSALES: North Sea, Statt of Dover, English Chemnel (E): Wind variable, light, sea smooth. St George's Chemnel: Wind variable light, sea smooth, Irish Sea: Wind SW light or moderate; sea smooth, becoming slight.

Moon rise 12.35 am Last querter: June 21.

Yesterday

High tides

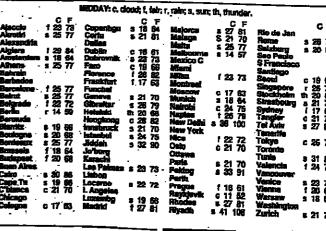

London

Vacalerday: Tempr stax 6 am to 6 pm, 25C (79F): win 6 pm to 6 am, 16C (61F). Humiday: 6 xm, 72 per cent. Reit: 24 fr to 6 pm, 0.02h. Sun: 24 fr to 6 pm, 8.0 fr. Ber, mean sea level. 1 pm, 1022.0 military stands. Seturday: Temp: next 8 am to 8 pm, 25C (77% min 8 pm to 8 am, 14C (57%). Hamidily: 8 pm, 56 per cent. Rein: 24 hr to 6 pm, nil. Sur; 24 hr to 6 pm, 6.9 hr. Ber, mean see level; 8 pm, 1022.5 millioen, fellico.

10.3 10.0 12.6 12.5 12.7 12.4 10.0 11.4 11.1 10.1 12.3 12.5 14.5 14.5

Abroad

C TIMES NEWSPAPERS LIMITED, 1934. Printed and published by Times Newspapers Limited, P.O. Box 7, 200 Gray's fan Road, London, WCIX 882, England, Telephonic 01-837 1234, Telex 244971. Monday June 18 1984 Registered as a newspaper at the Post Office.

EACHER'S. A WELCOME AWAITING.

